Wednesday, the 18th day of September, 1776.

The House met according to adjournment.

Mr. Speaker having issued Writs, dated the 1st day of August, for electing Members of this House to fill the seats that had been vacated by acceptance of places and otherwise, the following Returns were now made of the election—

Mr. Speaker acquainted the House that he had received a Letter from Peter Timothy, requesting leave to resign the place of Clerk of this House; which Letter Mr. Speaker read to the House in the words following:

"HONOURABLE SIR: As I engaged and took an active part in the present struggle of America to preserve its rights from principle, and even without a distant view to advance my private interest, so I accepted the unsolicited and unexpected honour conferred upon me by the unanimous voice of the present General Assembly in their appointment of me for their Clerk, as a publick acknowledgment that my former conduct in the station of Secretary to the several Congresses had at least been irreproachable; and I have endeavoured to discharge the last duty to which I was appointed with equal fidelity, so far as my circumscribed abilities would allow. But having since received the most honourable testimony from my fellow-citizens, also, of their approbation of my conduct as a member, by reëlecting me one of the representatives of this metropolis, notwithstanding my having been appointed to a place of emolument, and as it may be impossible for me to discharge with propriety and satisfaction the duties both of a member and Clerk, I think it incumbent on me to give a preference to the last election, and obey the summons I have seen affixed at the church door. I do therefore beg leave to request that my resignation of the place of Clerk to the General Assembly may be accepted, and that your Honour will do me the favour to deliver my most grateful thanks to the House, as well for the favourable opinion they have been pleased to entertain of me as for the indulgences they have shown to my imperfections.

"I have the honour to be, sir, with great respect, your most obedient and most humble servant,

"PETER TIMOTHY.

"Charles-Town, 17th September, 1776."

Whereas it was moved and Ordered, That Mr. Timothy be sent for, and acquainted by the Speaker, that as the House had experience of his integrity and ability, so they did not incline to accept of his resignation, but desired and expected that he would continue to act as their Clerk, at least during the present session, as the time would be but short.

Mr. Timothy attending, and being informed accordingly, he declared his obligation to the House for the favourable opinion they were pleased to have of him, and that, in compliance with the expectations of the House, whose commands he was always ready to obey, he would continue to execute, to the best of his power, the duty of Clerk, provided it was not expected that his continuance in that office should prevent his qualifying and taking his seat as a member.

Which the House acquiescing in, Mr. Timothy took his place as Clerk, and afterwards qualified as a member.

On motion, Resolved, That the admission of the present Clerk of this House to act in that capacity, and at the same to sit as a Member, shall not be drawn into precedent.

Ordered, That Colonel Horry and Mr. William Skirving do wait on the President, and acquaint his Excellency that the House is met.

Ordered, That all the Committees who were appointed during the last sitting of the General Assembly, and have not yet reported, be revived.

Colonel Horry reported, that Mr. Skirving and himself had attended the President with the Message they had in charge, and that his Excellency was pleased to say the House should hear from him.

A Petition of William Scott, Jun., was presented to the House and read, in the words following, viz:

"That the petitioner, together with Jonathan Scott, Clement Lamprier, Hugh Rutledge, Levi Durand, and Joshua Toomer, Esqs., were candidates at the election lately held in the Parish of Christ Church, for the choosing of two members to sit in the General Assembly, in the room of his Excellency the President and Captain Lamprier; that at the close of the poll at the said election and examining the votes, there appeared to be thirty votes for Joshua Toomer; twenty-seven votes, part whereof were for William Scott and part for William Scott, Jun.; and twenty-five votes for Levi Durand; and thereupon the petitioner (who was at the election) and Joshua Toomer were declared duly elected, and complimented thereupon by several of the electors; that after such declaration a scrutiny was demanded, and the votes severally again looked over, and some of them which were given in for the petitioner appearing without the word Junior thereto, the Church-wardens were thereupon pleased to declare Levi Durand, Esq., with Joshua Toomer, Esq., duly elected, and have returned the said gentlemen accordingly; that the petitioner conceives himself injured by such return, as he presumes he was duly elected, by having more votes than Levi Durand, Esq., although the word Junior was omitted in some of them, there being no other person of his name who had offered himself as a candidate, or any of his name in this country to his knowledge, but his uncle, William Scott, Esq., who is already a member of this honourable House; and as the electors who voted for the petitioner are ready to testify, that although they left out the word Junior, they meant to vote for him, your petitioner therefore humbly prays this honourable House to take his case into consideration, and grant him such relief therein as may appear just."

Ordered, That the said Petition be referred to a Committee on Privileges and Elections.

Ordered, That the following gentlemen be a Committee on Privileges and Elections, viz: Colonel Pinckney, Mr. Justice Matthews, Reverend Mr. Tennent, Captain Vanderhorst, Mr. De Saussure, Honourable Mr. Edwards, Colonel Horry, Mr. Young, and Mr. Williamson.

The House being informed that the Honourable Thomas Bee and the Honourable David Oliphant, Esquires, had been appointed to places of emolument, whereby their seats in the Legislative Council were vacated; Therefore

Resolved, That this House will to-morrow morning proceed to ballot for two members of the Legislative Council, in the room of the Honourable Mr. Bee and the Honourable Mr. Oliphant.

Mr. Speaker informed the House that he had received a Letter addressed to them, which he had not opened.

And the said Letter being received, opened, and read, was from Joseph Turpin, Commander of the armed brigantine Comet, belonging to this State, dated Charles-Town, 16th September, 1776.

Ordered, That the said Letter do lie on the table for the perusal of the members.

A Memorial of Richard Pearis was presented to the House and read, in the words following:

"That the memorialist some time past was released from confinement, took the test oath, also the oath of fidelity, as appear by a certificate signed by his Excellency, recommending him to all good people: That the memorialist set out on his journey towards home, but to his great surprise found himself ruined by means of Colonel Thomas and his party, who burnt and destroyed his houses, mills, grain, and furniture, his negroes and stocks of cattle sold, and the spoil distributed amongst him and his men, whose cruelty extended so far as to strip Mrs. Pearis and family, leaving them with only part of their apparel and then to shift for themselves: That the memorialist, having furnished himself with vouchers, and testimonial proofs respecting his grievance, therefore most humbly prays that order might be made for vesting his negroes and stocks of cattle; and with regard to all other damage, the memorialist submits to your serious consideration, praying such relief in the premises as you in your wisdom shall deem meet."

Ordered, That the said Memorial be referred to the following Committee, viz: Colonel Gervais, Mr. Robinson, and Mr. Collins.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow morning, nine of the clock.

The House, according to their resolve of yesterday, proceeded to ballot for two members of the Legislative Council, in the room of the Honourable Mr. Bee and the Honourable Mr. Oliphant, the former having been elected a Judge, and the latter appointed Director-General of the Hospitals. And the ballots being cast up, Mr. Speaker reported, that Thomas Fuller and Daniel Horry, Esquires, were duly elected by majority of votes.

The Honourable Rawlins Lowndes, Esquire, attending, took the oath prescribed by the Constitution, and his seat as a member of this House, declining to take the seat to which he had been elected in the Legislative Council.

And the Messenger withdrew.

Mr. Speaker, with the House, waited upon his Excellency accordingly.

And being returned, Mr. Speaker reported, that this House having waited upon the President in the Council Chamber, his Excellency had been pleased to make a Speech, of which he had obtained a copy, in the following words:

"Honourable Gentlemen of the Legislative Council.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

"I think it my duty to pay this tribute of applause to those brave troops who, in repelling the formidable British armament which attacked them on Sullivant's Island, vainly flattering themselves with an assurance of easy conquest, displayed a firmness and intrepidity that would have reflected honour on Roman veterans; and I most heartily congratulate you on their heroick behaviour. It is an auspicious presage of what may be expected from the valour of our other troops when theirs shall be the post of danger, as it demonstrates that men, animated by an ardent zeal for the sacred liberties of their country, and trusting in the Divine support, are capable of the most glorious achievements.

The Cherokee Indians having committed such barbarous acts of hostility as threatened desolation to the frontier settlements at a time when the enemy lay in view of this town, and an attack on it was daily expected, a considerable force was immediately sent into that nation, to obtain satisfaction for their cruel outrages, by acting with the greatest vigour. Our people have behaved with much spirit. It has pleased God to grant very signal success to their operations; and I hope, by His blessing on our arms and those of North-Carolina and Virginia, from whom I have promises of aid, an end may soon be put to this war. Since your last meeting, the Continental Congress have declared the United Colonies free and independent States, absolved from allegiance to the British Crown, and the political connection between them and Great Britain totally dissolved, an event which necessity had rendered not only justifiable, but unavoidable. This Declaration and several Resolves of that honourable body, received during your recess, shall be laid before you. I doubt not you will take such measures as may be necessary in consequence of them.

"A well-regulated Militia being essential to the preservation of our freedom, I am persuaded you will think with me that your time cannot be better employed than in framing a law for making such improvements in the Militia as may produce the most beneficial consequences. It is not improbable that at the season appointed for the meeting of the next Assembly the business of legislation must yield to that of a different nature; and it behoves us to employ this time of the enemy's absence in making the best preparations for defence, and enacting such laws as the present exigencies demand. I have, therefore, thought it for the publick service to call you together now, that you may deliberate on those matters which tend to the interest and security of the State. I shall propose what, in the course of your session, appears so to me, and be happy in receiving your advice on, and concurring with you in, any that may effect those important objects.

"JOHN RUTLEDGE.

"September 19th, 1776."

Message from the President by the Master in Chancery:

"Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

"I send you the resolves of Congress which I promised to lay before you. Also, a letter from the Delegates of this State relative to the East-India tea in the cellars under the Exchange. And I recommend it to you to consider whether it will not be expedient to dispose of this tea, and apply the money arising from the sale of it towards defraying the publick expenses.

"JOHN RUTLEDGE.

"September 19, 1776."

The papers accompanying the foregoing Message were: Letter from the Delegates of this State in the Continental Congress, dated Philadelphia, 9th July, 1776, enclosing Resolves of Congress of 26th December, 1775, 17th February, 14th March, 23d and 25th March, 6th April, Order of the Continental Board of Treasury of 7th May, Resolves of Congress of 18th, 19th, 24th, and 26th June, the Declaration of Independence, 4th July, and Resolves of Congress of 4th and 5th July, 1776. Mr. Pegues informed the House that the small-pox having broke out among the drivers or passengers in some wagons from Philadelphia, in the service of Mr. John Mitchell, of Meldrum, arrived in the frontier of this State, some Committees had thought it necessary to take measures for preventing that infection being brought or spread in this country, but were desirous of being indemnified in what they had done, and to be authorized by the General Assembly to pursue any further measures that might be necessary.

Ordered, That the information laid before this House by Mr. Pegues be referred to the following Committee, viz: Mr. Loocock, Major Hick, Mr. Josiah Smith, Junior, Mr. Withers, and Mr. Young; and that they do report thereon as soon as may be.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow morning, nine of the clock.

Friday, the 20th day of September, 1776.

The House met according to adjournment. Read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

John Waring, Keating Simons, Charles Cantey, and John Caldwell, of St. Matthew's Parish, Esqrs., took the oath prescribed by the Constitution and their seats as members of this House for the Parishes they respectively were elected to represent.

Mr. Young reported, from the Committee to whom was referred the information given to the House yesterday by Mr. Pegues respecting a number of wagons laden with woolens and other merchandise, said to be the property of Mr. John Mitchell, now on their way from Philadelphia to this State, some of the drivers or passengers of which having the infection of the small-pox; and he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That it is the opinion of your Committee that the District Committee of St. David's Parish be authorized and empowered to take every necessary precaution, and use every means in their power, to prevent the infection spreading, by causing the persons and merchandise so infected to be carried to some distant place from the settlement, and place a proper guard thereon till such time as they shall be fully satisfied that no infection remains, or to pursue any other mode that they shall think most proper. That the goods during such detention shall be and remain at the risk of the owner or owners thereof. That the expense accruing thereon be advanced by the publick; and that the Chairman of the said District Committee be empowered to draw upon the Treasury for the same, to be refunded by Mr. Mitchell. Your Committee are further of opinion that the said District Committee should be indemnified for any necessary step already and hereafter to be taken by them to prevent the said infection from spreading in this State."

Resolved, That the said Report be taken into consideration immediately.

And the same being taken into consideration accordingly, was amended and agreed to by the House, and is as followeth:

"That it is the opinion of the Committee that the District Committee of St. David's Parish be authorized and required to take every necessary precaution, and use every means in their power, to prevent the infection spreading, by causing the persons and merchandise so infected to be carried to some distant place from the settlements, and place a proper guard thereon till such time as they are satisfied no infection remains, or to pursue any other mode that they shall think most proper. That the goods during such detention shall be and remain at the risk of the owner or owners thereof. That the expenses accruing thereon be advanced by the publick, and that the Chairman of said District Committee be empowered to draw on the Treasury for the same, to be refunded by Mr. Mitchell, if the General Assembly shall hereafter think proper. Your Committee are further of opinion that the said District Committee should be indemnified for any necessary steps already and hereafter to be taken by them in order to prevent the said infection from spreading in this State."

Ordered, That a Message be sent to the President, with a copy of the foregoing Report.

The Honourable Mr. Lowndes reported, from the Committee to whom the President's Speech, delivered to both Houses yesterday was referred, an Address in answer to the said Speech; and he read the Address in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY: We, the Representatives of the State of South-Carolina, convened and met in General Assembly, beg leave most heartily to join your Excellency with our tribute of applause to those brave troops who lately signalized themselves by their firmness and intrepidity in repelling the formidable British armament which attacked them on Sullivant's Island, and thereby disappointing the vain and flattering expectation of our cruel and unnatural foes; a tribute we deemed justly due from an injured country for such heroick behaviour, and as a grateful testimony of the early and auspicious presage of the future valour and heroism of men animated by the noblest of all incentives—an ardent zeal for the sacred liberties of their country and a confidence in Divine justice. We are happy to find the barbarous and ungrateful attempt of the Cherokee Indians on our frontier settlements are checked by the spirit and activity of our brave countrymen in those parts; and from their past success, as well as the zeal and activity of our friends of North-Carolina and Virginia, hope a speedy end will soon be put to the outrages of those detestable savages. It is with the most unspeakable pleasure we embrace this opportunity of expressing our joy and satisfaction in the declaration of the Continental Congress declaring the United Colonies free and independent States, absolved from allegiance to the British Crown, and totally dissolving all political union between them and Great Britain; an event unsought for, and now produced by unavoidable necessity, and which every friend to justice and humanity must not only hold justifiable, as the natural effects of unmerited persecution, but equally rejoice in as the only effectual security against injuries and oppressions, and the most promising source of future liberty and safety. The Declaration of Independence and the Resolves of the honourable the Continental Congress, now laid before us, shall be the principal object of our attention in our deliberations for the publick good. We are fully persuaded how essential it is to the freedom and support of a free State to have a well-regulated Militia, and more especially to this State in the present circumstances of affairs in America. We shall therefore think it our duty, while the business of legislation is not interrupted by the din of arms, to employ every moment necessary to effect a purpose so essential and so beneficial, in making the best preparations for defence and enacting such laws as are necessary for the safety and security of the State."

Resolved, That the said Address be taken into immediate consideration.

The first and second clauses thereof being read, were amended and agreed to by the House.

Upon reading the third clause, it was moved to amend the same by striking out the words "unspeakable pleasure." A debate ensued, and the question being put, it passed in the negative.

The third, fourth, and fifth clauses being then read and amended, were agreed to; and the said Address, as agreed to is in the words following:

"To his Excellency JOHN RUTLEDGE, President and Commander-in-Chief of the State of SOUTH-CAROLINA:

"The Address of the General Assembly of the said State:

"MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY: We, the Representatives of the State of South-Carolina, met in General Assembly, beg leave most heartily to join your Excellency with our tribute of applause to those brave troops who lately signalized themselves by their firmness and intrepidity in repelling the formidable British armament which attacked them on Sullivant's Island, and thereby disappointing the vain and flattering expectations of our cruel and unnatural foes; a tribute we deemed justly due from an injured country for such heroick behaviour, and as a grateful testimony of the early and auspicious presage of the future valour and heroism of men animated by the noblest of all incentives—an ardent zeal for the sacred liberties of their country, and a confidence in Divine justice. We are happy to find the barbarous and ungrateful attempts of the Cherokee Indians, instigated by our British enemies on our frontier settlements, are checked by the spirit and activity of our brave countrymen in those parts; and from their past success, as well as the zeal and activity of our friends of North-Carolina and Virginia, hope a speedy end will be put to the outrages of those detestable savages. It is with unspeakable pleasure we embrace this opportunity of expressing our satisfaction in the Declaration of the Continental Congress, constituting the United Colonies free and independent States, absolved from allegiance to the British Crown, and totally dissolving all political union between them and Great Britain; an event unsought for, and now produced by unavoidable necessity, and which every friend to justice and humanity must not only hold justifiable, as the natural effect of unmerited persecution, but equally rejoice in as the only effectual security against injuries and oppressions, and the most promising source of future liberty and safety. The Declaration of Independence and the Resolves of the honourable the Continental Congress, now laid before us, shall be the principal object of our attention in our deliberations for the publick good. We are fully persuaded that it is essential to the liberties and support of a free State to have a well-regulated Militia, and more especially to this State, in the present circumstances of affairs in America. We shall therefore think it our duty, while the business of legislation is not interrupted by the din of arms, to employ every opportunity to effect a purpose so beneficial in making the best preparations for defence and in framing such laws as are necessary for the safety and security of the State."

Ordered, That the Address be engrossed.

Ordered, That Colonel Gervais and Mr. Ralph Izard do wait on the President, and acquaint him the House have an Address to present to his Excellency, and desire to know when he will please to be attended for that purpose.

Colonel Pinckney reported from the Committee on Privileges and Elections, to whom was referred the Petition of William Scott, Junior, of Charles-Town, merchant, the matter as it appeared to them touching the Election for the Parish of Christ Church, with their opinion thereupon. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That they have considered the said Petition, and have examined witnesses concerning the truth of the allegations therein contained, and find, that at the election for two members for the Parish of Christ Church, at the close of the ballot, there appeared to be thirty votes for Joshua Toomer, twenty votes for Levi Durand, twelve for William Scott, and fifteen for William Scott, Junior; that the petitioner, William Scott, Junior, was the only candidate of the name of William Scott; that it did not appear to your Committee that there was any other person of that name in the country but William Scott, Esq., already a member of this House, and uncle of the petitioner; and that even by the admission of Mr. Durand, the sitting member, it appeared that the votes which were given for William Scott were meant and intended for the petitioner, William Scott, Junior. Your Committee further report, that on its being suggested by Mr. Durand, the sitting member, that several persons who had voted at the said election had not the qualifications required by law, they examined the list of the electors, and found that only one person had balloted who was not duly qualified, whereby a majority of votes still appeared to be for the petitioner. Your Committee, therefore, are of opinion that William Scott, the petitioner, should have been returned duly elected, and not Mr. Durand, the sitting member, and recommend it to the House that the returning officer be ordered to strike out the name of Levi Durand, on the return of the writ of election, and insert the name of William Scott, Junior, in its stead."

Resolved, That the said Report be taken into consideration immediately.

And the same being taken into consideration accordingly,

Resolved, That this House do agree with the Report of the Committee.

Ordered, That Jonathan Scott, the returning officer, do attend this House immediately, to amend the Return for the Parish of Christ Church, by erasing out the name of Levi Durand, Esq., and inserting the name of William Scott, Junior, Esq., instead thereof.

Ordered, That the several Papers which accompanied the President's Message of yesterday be now read.

And they were read accordingly; and are as follow:

Letter from the Delegates of this State in the Continental Congress to his Excellency the President:

"Philadelphia, 9th July, 1776.

"SIR: Enclosed are the resolutions of Congress respecting our Provincial forces. We wish they may be agreeable to your Excellency, to our Assembly, and to the officers of our Army; if they are not, there is nothing compulsory in them. Congress would not strictly comply with the request we were ordered to make on this subject, lest they should establish a precedent which might be injurious to the general interest of America. We have, therefore, been obliged to vary our application, and to adopt such resolutions as seemed most conformable to the intentions of our Congress, and most likely to give satisfaction to the officers of our Army.

"Enclosed, also, are some other occasional resolutions of Congress, and a very important Declaration, which the King of Great Britain has at last reduced us to the necessity of making. All the Colonies were united upon this great subject, except New-York, whose Delegates were restrained by an instruction given several months ago. Their Convention is to meet in a few days, when it is expected that instruction will be immediately withdrawn, and the Declaration unanimously agreed to by the thirteen United States of America.

"We have procured an order from Congress for three hundred thousand dollars, for the payment and disbursements of our troops; which will be forwarded to you as soon as possible. Congress have also given directions to the commanding officer in Virginia, about a fortnight ago, to send forward five thousand pounds of gunpowder to our Colony. Every day now is likely to produce something important. We have heard of Clinton's arrival off Charles-Town bar, and most anxiously wait to know the event. General Howe's Army from Halifax, said to contain ten thousand men, are arrived at Sandy-Hook. A part of them are landed upon Staten-Island. It is said he is waiting to be joined by twenty thousand more, who are coming from England, in the fleet under Lord Howe; when it is expected that New-York will become the scene of action. The Army under General Washington are in high spirits, and the Militia have taken the field with an alacrity that does them honour. From these circumstances we still hope for a Providential interposition, and that the virtuous efforts of America will be crowned with deserved success.

"With the greatest respect, we are your Excellency's most obedient servants,

"Thomas Lynch, Thomas Heyward, Jun.,
"Edward Rutledge, Thomas Lynch, Jun."
"Arthur Middleton,

"P. S. The express is to be paid for every day that he is detained in Carolina.

"His Excellency John Rutledge, Esq."

"In Congress, December 26th, 1775.—Resolved, That it be recommended to the several Assemblies, Conventions, and Councils or Committees of Safety of the respective Colonies, to ascertain, by the most impartial and effectual means in their power, the number of Inhabitants in each respective Colony, taking care that the lists be authenticated by the oaths of the several persons who shall be intrusted with this service, and that the said Assemblies, Conventions, and Councils or Committees of Safety, do respectively lay before this Congress a return of the number of Inhabitants of their respective Colonies as soon as the same shall be procured.

"Extract from the Minutes:
"Charles Thomson, Secretary."

"In Congress, February 17th, 1776.—1st. Resolved, That a Standing Committee of five be appointed for superintending the Treasury. 5th Article. That it shall be the business of this Committee to obtain from the different Assemblies and Conventions of the United Colonies, accounts of the number of Inhabitants in each Colony, according to a resolution of Congress on that subject.

"Extract from the Minutes:
"Charles Thomson, Secretary."

"At a Treasury Board, held at the Treasury Office, in Philadelphia, the 7th day of May, Anno Domini 1776, present James Duane, Chairman, Thomas Willing, Elbridge Gerry, John Gibson, Auditor-General, William Webb, Assistant, Esquires, Superintendents:

"Ordered, That Letters be written pursuant to the Resolution of Congress of the seventeenth day of February, to the different Assemblies and Conventions of the United Colonies, requesting them to furnish accounts of the number of the Inhabitants in each Colony respectively, according to resolution of Congress on that subject, and that a copy of the last-mentioned resolution be forwarded to each of them.

"Extract from the Minutes of the Treasury Board:
"John Gibson, Auditor General."

"In Congress, 14th March, 1776.—Resolved, That it be recommended to the several Assemblies, Conventions, and Councils or Committees of Safety of the United Colonies, immediately to cause all persons to be disarmed within their respective Colonies who are notoriously disaffected to the cause of America, or who have not associated, and shall refuse to associate, to defend by arms these United Colonies against the hostile attempts of the British Fleets and Armies; and to apply the arms taken from such persons in each respective Colony in the first place to the arming the Continental troops raised in said Colony; in the next, to the arming such troops as are raised by such Colony for its own defence; and the residue to be applied to the arming the Associators. That such arms when taken be appraised by indifferent persons, and such as are applied to the arming Continental troops, be paid for by the Congress, and the residue by the respective Assemblies, Conventions, or Councils or Committees of Safety.

"Extract from the Minutes:
"Charles Thomson, Secretary."

"In Congress, 23d March, 1776.—Whereas the Petitions of these United Colonies to the King, for the redress of great and manifest grievances, have not only been rejected, but treated with scorn and contempt, and the opposition to designs evidently formed to reduce them to a state of servile subjection, and their necessary defence against the hostile forces actually employed to subdue them, declared rebellion: And whereas an unjust war hath been commenced against them, which the commanders of the British Fleets and Armies have prosecuted, and still continue to prosecute with their utmost vigour, and in a cruel manner, wasting, spoiling, and destroying the country, burning houses and defenceless towns, and exposing the helpless inhabitants to every misery from the inclemency of the winter, and not only urging savages to invade the country but instigating negroes to murder their masters: And whereas the Parliament of Great Britain hath lately passed an act affirming these Colonies to be in open rebellion, forbidding all trade and commerce with the inhabitants thereof, until they shall accept pardon and submit to despotick rule, declaring their property wherever found upon the water liable to seizure and confiscation, and enacting that what had been done there, by virtue of the royal authority, were just and lawful acts, and shall be so deemed; from all which it is manifest that the iniquitous scheme concerted to deprive them of the liberty they have a right to by the laws of nature and the English Constitution, will be pertinaciously pursued: It being therefore necessary to provide for their defence and security, and justifiable to make reprisals upon their enemies, and otherwise to annoy them according to the laws and usages of nations, the Congress, trusting that such of their friends in Great Britain (of whom it is confessed there are many entitled to applause and gratitude for their patriotism and benevolence, and in whose favour a discrimination of property cannot be made) as shall suffer by captures, will impute it to the authors of our common calamities, do declare and resolve as followeth, to wit:

"Resolved, That the inhabitants of these Colonies be permitted to fit out Armed Vessels to cruise on the enemies of these United Colonies.

"Resolved, That all Ships and other Vessels, their tackle, apparel, and furniture, and all goods, wares, and merchandises, belonging to any inhabitant or inhabitants of Great Britain, taken on the high seas, or between high and low water mark, by any armed vessel fitted out by any private person or persons to whom commissions shall be granted, and being libelled and prosecuted in any court erected for the trial of maritime affairs, in any of these Colonies, shall be deemed and adjudged to be lawful prize, and after deducting and paying the wages the seamen and mariners on board of such captures as are merchants ships and vessels shall be entitled to, according to the terms of their contracts, until the time of the adjudication, shall be condemned to and for the use of the owner or owners, and the officers, marines, and mariners of such armed vessel, according to such rules and proportions as they shall agree on: Provided always, That this resolution shall not extend, or be construed to extend, to any vessel bringing settlers, arms, ammunition, or warlike stores, to and for the use of these Colonies, or any of the inhabitants thereof, who are friends to the American cause, or to such warlike stores, or to the effects of such settlers.

"Resolved, That all Ships or Vessels, with their tackle, apparel, and furniture, goods, wares, and merchandises, belonging to any inhabitant of Great Britain as aforesaid, which shall be taken by any of the vessels of war of these United Colonies, shall be deemed forfeited, one-third after deducting and paying the wages of seamen and mariners, as aforesaid, to the officers and men on board, and two-thirds to the use of the United Colonies.

"Resolved, That all Ships or Vessels, with their tackle, apparel, and furniture, goods, wares, and merchandises, belonging to any inhabitants of Great Britain, as aforesaid, which shall be taken by any vessel of war fitted out by and at the expense of any of the United Colonies, shall be deemed forfeited, and divided, after deducting and paying the wages of seamen and mariners, as aforesaid, in such manner and proportions as the Assembly or Convention of such Colony shall direct.

"Resolved, That all vessels, their tackle, apparel, and furniture, and cargoes, belonging to inhabitants of Great Britain, as aforesaid, and all vessels which may be employed in carrying supplies to the Ministerial Armies, which shall happen to be taken near the shores of any of these Colonies, by the people of the country or detachments from the Army, shall be deemed lawful prize, and the Court of Admiralty within the said Colony is required, on condemnation thereof, to adjudge that all charges and expenses which may attend the capture and trial, be first paid out of the moneys arising from the sales of the prize, and the remainder equally divided among all those who shall have been actually engaged and employed in taking the said prize: Provided, That where any detachments of the Army shall have been employed, as aforesaid, their part of the prize-money shall be distributed among them in proportion to the pay of the officers and soldiers so employed.

"Extract from the Minutes:

"CHARLES THOMSON, Secretary."

"IN CONGRESS, March 25th, 1776.—Resolved, That the Convention or Council of Safety of South-Carolina be permitted to raise and imbody two other Battalions, and that they be on the pay and at the expense of the Continent as soon as they shall be armed fit for service and accordingly mustered.

"Extract from the Minutes:

"CHARLES THOMSON, Secretary."

"IN CONGRESS, April 6th, 1776.—Resolved, That any Goods, Wares, and Merchandises, except Staves and empty Casks, other than shaken or knocked down Casks for Molasses, may be exported from the thirteen United Colonies by the inhabitants thereof, and by the people of all such countries as are not subject to the King of Great Britain, to any parts of the world which are not under the dominion of the said King: Provided, That no vessel be permitted to export any greater number of shaken or knocked down Molasses Casks than the same vessel is capable of carrying when they shall be filled with Molasses.

"Resolved, That any Goods, Wares, and Merchandises, except such as are of the growth, production, or manufacture of, or brought from, any country under the dominion of the King of Great Britain, and except East-India Tea, may be imported from any other parts of the world to the thirteen United Colonies by the inhabitants thereof, and by the people of all such countries as are not subject to the said King, liable, however, to all such duties and impositions as now are, or may hereafter be, laid by any of the said Colonies.

"Resolved, That nothing herein contained shall be understood to prevent such future commercial regulations as shall be thought just and necessary by these United Colonies or their respective Legislatures.

"Resolved, That no Slaves be imported into any of the thirteen United Colonies.

"Resolved, That it be recommended to the Assemblies and Conventions in the several Colonies to appoint proper officers, at convenient places in their respective Colonies, to take bonds in adequate penalties for observing the regulations made by the Congress, or Assemblies or Conventions concerning Trade, and for securing the observation of such parts of the Association as are not inconsistent therewith, and that the obligator shall, within eighteen months after the departure of the vessel, produce to such officers a certificate, under the hands and seals of three or more reputable merchants residing at the port or place where the cargo shall be delivered, that the same was there unladed, and take manifests, upon oath, of the cargoes exported and imported, and keep fair accounts and entries thereof; give bills of health when desired; grant registers showing the property of the vessels cleared out; and sign certificates that the requisites for qualifying vessels to trade have been complied with; and that the fees of the said officers be stated by the respective Assemblies or Conventions: Provided always, That no prosecution upon any of the said bonds shall be commenced but within three years after the date thereof.

"Resolved, That all Goods, Wares, and Merchandise, except such as are made prize of, which shall be imported directly or indirectly from Great Britain and Ireland into any of these United Colonies, contrary to the regulations established by Congress, shall be forfeited and disposed of agreeable to such rules as shall be made by the several Assemblies or Conventions, and shall be liable to prosecution and condemnation in any court erected, or to be erected, for the determination of maritime affairs in the Colony where the seizure shall be made.

"Extract from the Minutes:

"CHARLES THOMSON, Secretary."

"IN CONGRESS, 11th April, 1776.—Resolved, That it be recommended to the several Assemblies, Conventions, and Committees or Councils of Safety of the United Colonies, to use their best endeavours in communicating to foreign nations the Resolutions of Congress relative to Trade.

"By order of Congress:

"JOHN HANCOCK, President."

"IN CONGRESS, June 18th, 1776.—Whereas the Congress, on the fourth day of November last, resolved that, for the defence of South-Carolina, there be kept up in that Colony, at the Continental expense, three Battalions of Foot, each Battalion to consist of the same number of men and officers, to be upon the same pay and under the same regulations as the Continental Army; and on the 25th day of March last, resolved, that the Convention or Council of Safety of South-Carolina be permitted to raise and imbody two other Battalions, and they be on the pay and at the expense of the Continent as soon as they shall be armed fit for service and accordingly mustered: And whereas the Provincial Congress or Convention of South-Carolina, on the twenty-second day of February last, ordered that their Council of Safety return the thanks of that Colony to the Continental Congress for their attention to its security; that they state the peculiar circumstances, and the heavy expenses which have been, and will be, incurred by that Colony in the measures necessary for their defence, and that they request the Continental Congress to allow that Colony so much money as the expenses of three Battalions upon the Continental establishment would amount to for one year, and to give Continental rank to the officers of the three Regiments raised in June, and of the Regiment of Artillery raised in November, from the date of their respective commissions, or at least from the first day of November, when they resolved to allow that Colony three Battalions: And whereas the Delegates of that Colony in Congress have represented the peculiar circumstances and heavy expenses of that Colony, and that the troops in it were inlisted for three years upon a different establishment of pay, and under different articles of war, so as to render it inconvenient to place them in all respects upon the Continental establishment thereof:

"Resolved, That the Battalion of Artillery and the two other Battalions of Foot, raised in South-Carolina and kept up in that Colony for the defence of the same, be considered as Continental forces, and allowed the same pay, rations, and disbursements, as other forces on the Continental establishment; that the two Battalions under the command of the Colonels Gadsden and Moultrie be allowed all the advantages of the Continental establishment from the fourth day of November last, and the Regiment of Artillery from the time when the same was ordered to be raised by the Provincial Congress or Convention of South-Carolina; that the two Battalions of Riflemen raised in, and for the defence of, the said Colony, be considered as Continental troops from the 25th day of March last, and be entitled to all the advantages of the same; that all the above-mentioned troops be liable to the articles for the government of the forces in the said Colony; that the said forces be continued on the Continental establishment until the expiration of their inlistment, unless they shall be sooner disbanded by Congress; that not more than one-third of the effective men of the above-mentioned forces be ordered out of the said Colony without the express order of Congress or the consent of the President of that Colony.

"Extracts from the Minutes:

"IN CONGRESS, June 19th, 1776.—Whereas it is indispensably necessary for the good of the service that the Soldiers of the United Colonies should be well provided with Blankets and Clothing: Therefore,

"JUNE 24.—Resolved, That all persons abiding within any of the United Colonies, and deriving protection from the laws of the same, owe allegiance to the said laws, and are members of said Colony; and that all persons passing through, visiting, or making a temporary stay in any of the said Colonies, being entitled to the protection of the laws during the time of such passage, visitation, or temporary stay, owe, during the same time, allegiance thereto; that all persons members of, or owing allegiance to, any of the United Colonies, as before described, who shall levy war against any of the said Colonies, within the same, or be adherent to the King of Great Britain, or others the enemies of the said Colonies, or any of them, within the same, giving to him or them aid and comfort, are guilty of treason against such Colony; that it be recommended to the Legislatures of the several United Colonies to pass laws for punishing, in such manner as to them shall seem fit, such persons, before described, as shall be provable attainted of open deed, by people of their condition, of any of the treasons before described; that it be recommended to the Legislatures of the several United Colonies to pass laws for punishing, in such manner as they shall think fit, persons who shall counterfeit, or aid or abet in counterfeiting, the Continental bills of credit, or who shall pass any such bills in payment, knowing the same to be counterfeit."

"CHARLES THOMSON, Secretary."

"In Congress, July 4th, 1776.

"A Declaration by the Representatives of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in General Congress assembled:

"When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the Powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

"We hold these truths to be self-evident: that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate, that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and, accordingly, all experience hath shown, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having, in direct object, the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

"He has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the publick good.

"He has forbidden his Governours to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them. He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

"He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the repository of their publick records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

"He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing, with manly firmness, his invasions on the rights of the people.

"He has refused, for a long time after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected, whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise, the State remaining, in the mean time, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

"He has endeavoured to prevent the population of these States, for that purpose obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners, refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of land.

"He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

"He has made judges dependent on his will alone for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

"He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers, to harass our people and eat out their substance.

"He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our Legislatures.

"He has affected to render the military independent of, and superiour to, the civil power.

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution and unacknowledged by our laws, giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

"For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

"For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States:

"For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world:

"For imposing taxes on us without our consent:

"For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury:

"For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offences:

"For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an arbitrary government and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:

"For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering, fundamentally, the forms of our Governments:

"For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

"He has abdicated Government here by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us.

"He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

"He is at this time transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

"He has constrained our fellow-citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

"He has excited domestick insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

"In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms: our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury.

"A Prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

"Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts by their Legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them, by the ties of our common kindred, to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace, friends.

"We, therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name and by the authority of the good people of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, that these United Colonies are, and of right out to be, FREE AND INDEPENDENT STATES; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that, as free and independent States, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honour.

"Signed by order and in behalf of the Congress:

"Attest: JOHN HANCOCK, President.

"CHARLES THOMSON, Secretary."

"IN CONGRESS, July 4th, 1776.—Ordered, That the Declaration be authenticated and printed.

"That the Committee who brought in the Declaration be ordered to correct the press.

"That copies of the Declaration be sent to the several Assemblies, Conventions, and Councils of Safety, and to the several Commanding Officers of the Continental troops, that it be proclaimed in each of the United States and at the head of the Army."

"July 5.—Resolved, That a Chaplain be appointed to each Regiment in the Continental Army, and that their allowance be increased to thirty-three Dollars and one-third of a Dollar a month.

Letter from the Delegates of this State in the Continental Congress to his Excellency the President, dated

"Philadelphia, 25th July, 1776.

"SIR: Immediately upon the receipt of your letter we applied to Congress for permission to order the East-India tea now in your stores to be sold, and to direct the produce thereof to be carried into the Colony Treasury, to be appropriated in such manner as your Assembly should judge right. In consequence of this application, a debate of some length ensued, in which the House indicated a strong inclination to lay their hands upon the profits which should arise from the sale, either for the use of the Continent at large, or to be carried into a fund to reimburse those Colonies whose property should be seized in England. There appeared neither reason nor justice in these measures, and we endeavoured to obviate the objections which were made to the application, and to answer the arguments which had been advanced against it. We observed that this property should be looked upon as belonging to the King of Great Britain, and not to the East-India Company, as the latter had been divested of it both by the seizure which the custom-house officers had made of it and by the indemnification of the Parliament; that the Congress had therefore no more right to apply this tea to the use of the Continent at large, than they had to dispose of the cannon in our forts or the Crown lands within the limits of the Colony; but that if it was the East-India Company's property, they had occasioned such an expense to the State of Carolina as to justify them fully in the seizures; that it would be repugnant to the principles of justice to insist that this tea should be sold for the benefit of those whose property had been or might be seized in England, in exclusion of those whose property had been seized in America, and that it would be impracticable to bring every species of loss into one common account; that the seizure of property had been a common misfortune, of which, as well as of publick expenses, we have had our full proportion, and that, therefore, it would be injurious to our State not to be permitted to make use of the advantage in this instance which the possession of the tea had given. It was confessed that we had a right to sell it if we chose, and apply the profits as we pleased; but as we had asked the opinion of the House upon the subject, we should now be governed by the disposition which they should think proper to make, and that they should take time to consider of it. The Delegates being by this time fully convinced that there were many in the House who wished to dispose of it in a manner injurious to the interest and the right of our State, agreed to withdraw the motion, for which they obtained the leave of Congress; and we now, with one voice, advise you to recommend to your Assembly immediately to sell the same and apply the profits thereof to Colonial purposes. Indeed, we were not a little surprised at your requesting us to lay the same before Congress, and we hope that you will determine for yourselves in future in all cases where the concern is of a Provincial and not of a Continental nature.

"We are, with regard, your Excellency's most obedient, humble servants,

"THOMAS LYNCH, THOMAS HEYWARD, Jun.,
"EDWARD RUTLEDGE, THOMAS LYNCH, Jun."
"ARTHUR MIDDLETON,

"Philadelphia, 24th July, 1776.

"SIR: The Congress being of opinion that the service of the United States will be promoted by taking into pay a number of troops in the State of South-Carolina, who are to act either as Infantry or Light-Horse, as occasion may require, have come to the enclosed resolves, which I do myself the honour of transmitting in obedience to their commands. In consideration that these troops will go through more than ordinary duty and be put to greater expense than others, the Congress have augmented their pay in proportion. I have delivered blank commissions to the Delegates of your State.

"With most hearty and sincere wishes for your health and happiness and the prosperity of the State over which you preside, I have the honour to be, with great respect, your most obedient and very humble servant,

"JOHN HANCOCK, President.

"The Honourable John Rutledge, Esq., Governour of South-Carolina."

"IN CONGRESS, July 24th, 1776.—Resolved, That the Regiment of Rangers now in the pay of the State of South-Carolina be placed upon Continental establishment, and that it consist of a Lieutenant-Colonel Commandant, a Major, ten Captains, twenty Lieutenants, a Surgeon, a Paymaster, twenty Sergeants, and five hundred Privates.

"That the pay of the Lieutenant-Colonel Commandant be the same as a Colonel of foot; a Major, that of a Lieutenant-Colonel; a Captain, that of a Major; and the Lieutenants, that of a Captain; and Sergeants, that of Ensigns of foot of the Continental forces; that the Surgeon be allowed thirty-three and one-third dollars per month; the Paymaster, twenty-six and two-thirds; and the Privates, twelve and an half dollars per month, to provide themselves with horses, guns, and provisions for themselves and horses.

"That the said Rangers be liable to act on horseback or foot as occasion may require.

"That the like number of Rangers be raised in the State of Georgia, and put upon Continental establishment.

"That these be entitled to the same pay and subject to the same duties as the Carolina Rangers.

"That the Rangers raised in the State of South-Carolina be subject to the articles formed by the Convention of that State for the government of the forces raised therein.

"By order of Congress:

"JOHN HANCOCK, President."

"IN CONGRESS, July 24th, 1776.—Resolved, That all the Resolutions of this Congress passed on the 23d day of April last, relating to Ships and other Vessels, their tackle, apparel, and furniture, and all goods, wares, and merchandise, belonging to any inhabitant or inhabitants of Great Britain, taken on the high seas, or between high and low water mark, be extended to all ships and other vessels, their tackle, apparel, and furniture, and all goods, wares, and merchandise, belonging to any subject or subjects of the said King, except the inhabitants of the Bermudas and Providence or Bahama Islands.

"By order of Congress:

"JOHN HANCOCK, President."

The House thereupon came to the following Resolutions, to wit:

Resolved, That this House do acquiesce in the Resolves of the Continental Congress, of the 18th of June and 24th of July, 1776, relating to the putting the two Regiments of Infantry, the Regiment of Rangers, the Regiment of Artillery, and the two Regiments of Riflemen, in the service of this State on the Continental establishment.

Resolved, That this House will defray the expense between the Continental bounty, clothing, and pay, and the bounty, clothing, and pay allowed to those regiments respectively by the acts of this State.

Ordered, That a copy of the above Resolves be sent to the Legislative Council for their concurrence, and to the President for his assent.

Ordered, That Colonel Pinckney and Mr. Thomas Middleton, Jun., do attend the Legislative Council with the said message.

Ordered, That an Ordinance be brought in for making the provisions aforesaid, and for settling the manner of ordering General Courts-Martial; and that Colonel Pinckney, Colonel Motte, and Captain Scott, do prepare and bring in the same.

Ordered, That leave be given to bring in an Ordinance for appointing Commissioners to sell the Tea now in the cellars under the Exchange, and to lodge the money arising from such sale in the Treasury of the State; and that Colonel Pinckney, Mr. Attorney-General, and Mr. Ward, do prepare and bring in the same.

Ordered, That leave be given to bring in a Bill pursuant to the Resolution and recommendation of the Continental Congress, of the 14th of March, 1776, for disarming all persons notoriously disaffected to the cause of America, or who have not associated, and shall refuse to associate, to defend by arms these United Colonies against the hostile attempts of the British Fleets and Armies, and to dispose of such arms; and that Mr. Ward, Mr. Stobo, and Mr. Ralph Izard, do prepare and bring in the same.

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to revise the present Militia Law, and to bring in a Bill for the better regulation of the Militia.

Ordered, That Colonel Gervais, Major Hicks, Colonel Pinckney, Mr. Attorney-General, Captain Vanderhorst, Captain Roger Smith, Captain Forgartie, Captain Stone, Captain Benjamin Waring, Captain Withers, Captain William Skirving, Captain Eveleigh, Captain Leger, Captain De Saussure, Honourable Mr. Justice Matthews, Mr. Philip Smith, and Mr. Cantey, be a Committee for the above purpose.

Colonel Gervais reported, that Mr. Izard and himself had waited on the President, and delivered the Message they had in charge, and that his Excellency was pleased to say he would receive this House to present their Address in the Council-Chamber to-morrow morning, ten of the clock.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow morning, nine of the clock.

Saturday, the 21st day of September, 1776.

The House met according to adjournment. Read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

Colonel Garden, Mr. William Moore, Mr. John Williams, and Mr. Anthony White, took the oath prescribed by the Constitution, and their seats as Members of this House.

A Petition of Edward Fenwick, Esq., was presented to the House, and read in the words following:

"That John Stuart, Esq., late of this State, by letter dated the 23d day of December, 1775, did direct his attorney, Robert Balingall, to remove twenty of such negroes from his plantation at Maple Cane, to plant on your petitioner's lands at Ashepoo, as he, the said Mr. Balingall, should judge best, and did also direct Mr. Charles Shaw, by a letter of the same date, to put your petitioner in possession of ten more negroes from the plantation on Lady's Island; that the said Mr. Stuart, by a letter at the same time to your petitioner, acquainting him therewith, and that he intended them as a part of the portion he meant to give your petitioner with his daughter; that these letters lay a considerable time in the post-office at Georgia, and never came to hand till some time in May last, previous to which the then Colonial Congress had appointed certain Committees to possess themselves of all the said Mr. Stuart's estate, who had accordingly done it, and removed Messrs. Balingall and Shaw from the possession thereof, so that they have been hitherto unable to comply with Mr. Stuart's orders. Your petitioner, therefore, humbly hopes that your honourable House will be pleased to take his case into your consideration, and issue your order to those Committees, commanding them to permit the said Mr. Balingall to put your petitioner in possession of twenty negroes from the Maple Cane plantation, and Mr. Shaw to deliver to your petitioner ten negroes from the plantation on Lady's Island. Your petitioner further shows unto your honourable House, that the several attachments have been sued against the said Mr. Stuart's estate, and many of his negroes seized and sold by the Sheriff of Charles-Town District in consequence thereof; that your petitioner is advised that the crops of the said Mr. Stuart are legally as much liable to be attached and sold as any other part of his estate, and as they are of a perishable nature, your petitioner therefore also prays that your honourable House would be pleased to issue your further orders to the respective Committees commanding them to restore the said crops to your petitioner, in order that they in the first instance may be sold for payment of the debts already sued for."

Ordered, That the said Petition be referred to the consideration of a Committee; and that they do examine the matter thereof, and report the same, as it shall appear to them, to the House.

And it is referred to the Honourable Mr. Lowndes, Mr. Cantey, and Captain Trapier.

Message from the President by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. Speaker: The President is now in the Council Chamber, ready to receive the House with their Address."

And then the Messenger withdrew.

Ordered, That Mr. Speaker do sign the engrossed Address to be presented to the President.

Then Mr. Speaker, with the House, attended his Excellency in the Council Chamber; and being returned, Mr. Speaker reported that he, with the House, having attended the President in the Council Chamber with their Address in answer to his Speech, his Excellency had been pleased to reply in the following words:

"Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen: This most honourable reward cannot fail to make the deepest impression upon generous minds. It will increase the laudable ambition of those on whom it is conferred, and excite others to emulate that fame which they have acquired. May the happiest consequences be derived to the United States from the independence of America, who could not obtain even peace, liberty, and safety by any other means. Your disposition and assurances afford a confident expectation that this session will be usefully employed. "John Rutledge.

"21st September, 1776."

Ordered, That his Excellency's Speech, delivered to both Houses, the Address of this House in answer thereto, and his Excellency's Reply, be forthwith printed and made publick.

Message to the President:

"May it please your Excellency: This House being informed that a number of wagons, laden with woolens and other merchandise, the property of John Mitchell, of Meldrum, in the Parish of St. David, are now on their way from Philadelphia to this State, having the infection of the small-pox among some of the drivers or passengers, request that your Excellency will be pleased to give immediate directions to the District Committee of the said Parish to take every necessary precaution and use every means in their power to prevent the infection from spreading, by causing all persons and merchandise infected therewith to be carried to some distant place from the settlements, and to place a proper guard thereon till such time as they shall be fully satisfied that no infection remains, or to pursue any other mode that they shall think most proper. That your Excellency may see the necessity for pursuing the above measures, we herewith send you a copy of the report, as agreed to by the House, in consequence of the foregoing information."

Ordered, That the Message be engrossed, and that Mr. Speaker do sign the same.

Ordered, That Mr. Pegues and Major Hicks do carry the Message to the President.

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen: On considering Captain Lampriere's letter herewith sent, and other representations respecting the ship Prosper, it was thought expedient at the time of the late invasion to apply her guns to the use of some of the batteries, and put her out of the way of danger. In my opinion it will be most for the publick advantage to sell her or employ her in trade; but I think myself not authorized to do so. You will therefore judge in what manner it will be best to dispose of her. The appointing Commissioners to superintend the naval affairs of this State would, I hope, place them upon a better footing than the present. I therefore recommend it as a matter worthy of your attention. "John Rutledge.

"21st September, 1776."

Read Captain Lampriere's Letter, which accompanied the Message, dated the 28th May last; which Letter is preserved among the papers of the present session.

Upon motion, Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to examine the publick Treasury Accounts, and report to the House an exact and circumstantial account of the state of the Treasury, what sums have been issued, and for what particular services, arranging under distinct heads the particular services for which the moneys have been expended.

Ordered, That Mr. Neufville, the Honourable Mr. Edwards, Mr. Josiah Smith, Junior, Captain Roger Smith, Mr. Corbett, Mr. Jones, and Mr. Webb, be a Committee for the above purpose.

Colonel Pinckney presented to the House, according to order, an Ordinance for appointing Commissioners for selling certain East-India Teas imported into this State from Great Britain, and for applying the moneys arising therefrom to the use of the said State.

And the same was received and read the first time.

Resolved, That the Ordinance be read a second time.

And the same being read accordingly,

Ordered, That the Ordinance be sent to the Legislative Council.

Ordered, That the Honourable Mr. Justice Matthews and Mr. Middleton do carry the same to the Legislative Council.

The House being informed that Captain Joseph Turpin, commander of the armed Brigantine Comet, belonging to this State, is absent and gone to Georgia without leave,

Ordered, That Captain Turpin's Letter of the 16th instant, addressed to this House, laid before them on the 17th instant, and then ordered to lie on the table, be now read.

And the same being read accordingly, is as followeth:

"Honourable Gentlemen: Having had the honour to serve in your Navy with some reputation, think it my duty to acquaint you before I quit that service, with my reasons for so doing. The Navy of England have ever been invincible, and from no other cause than the great encouragement they give their officers and people, and the wise and honourable footing they are set on. All prizes taken from their enemies are divided into eighths in the following manner: Three-eighths to the Captain, one to the Lieutenants, Master and officer of marines, if a Captain; one to the warranted officers; one to the petty officers; and two to the men before the mast. One of these two-eighths George the Second gave to the seamen in the year 'forty, as an encouragement. All ships of war, either King's ships or privateers, taken from the enemy or destroyed, the King allows ten pounds for each man and ten pounds for each gun the enemy had on board. Captains of the Navy serving under an Admiral gives up one of his three-eighths to that officer. No other deductions are made whatever. As to rank, all Post-Captains rank with Colonels of horse or foot in the land service; Commanders who have not taken post, with Majors; and the Lieutenants of the fleet with Captains of the Army.

"To conclude, I humbly offer this plan for your perusal, and on those terms shall be ready and proud of the honour to serve you; and am, honourable gentlemen, your most obedient and most humble servant,

"Joseph Turpin.

"Charles-Town, South-Carolina, 16th September, 1776."

Resolved, That this House will, on Monday next, ballot for another commander of the Brigantine Comet.

Upon motion, Resolved, That the armed Ship Prosper, belonging to this State, be sold, and that the moneys to arise from such sale be deposited in the publick Treasury.

Ordered, That a copy of the above Resolve be sent to the Legislative Council for their concurrence.

Ordered, That the Honourable Mr. Justice Matthews and Mr. Middleton do carry the Resolve to the Legislative Council.

Ordered, That a Message be sent to the President, requesting that his Excellency will be pleased to give directions for the sale of the Ship Prosper, her apparel and furniture.

Message to the President:

"May it please your Excellency: This House having resolved that the armed ship Prosper, belonging to this State, with her apparel and furniture, be sold, and the money arising by such sale lodged in the Treasury, request that your Excellency will be pleased to give directions accordingly."

Ordered, That the Message be engrossed, and that Mr. Speaker do sign the same.

Ordered, That the Honourable Mr. Edwards and Mr. Chiffelle do wait on his Excellency with the said Message.

Mr. Pegues reported that Major Hicks and himself had delivered the Message they had in charge to the President.

Mr. Dupont reported from the Commissioners appointed by an Ordinance passed 9th of April last to take a state of the Treasury, and to settle the Accounts of the late Powder Receiver; and he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read.

Upon a doubt expressed by the said Commissioners in respect to settling with the late Powder Receiver:

Ordered, That the Report be recommitted; and that the Commissioners be authorized to select and accept from the late Powder Receiver such bonds as they shall approve of for the balance of moneys due from him to the publick of this State, and to procure from the obligors in such bonds in lieu thereof bonds payable to the present Commissioners of the Treasury for the use of the State; and that they do report their proceedings thereon additional to the report recommitted to this House.

The Honourable Mr. Edwards reported that Mr. Middleton and himself had delivered the Message they had in charge to the President.

Resolved, That the Commissioners of the Treasury be authorized and required to receive payment of the Bonds payable to the King, and notes payable to the late Joint Publick Treasurers mentioned in the foregoing Report, or in lieu thereof to take new bonds, payable to the said Commissioners for the use of this State.

Ordered, That the Commissioners of the Treasury be immediately served with a copy of the above Resolve.

Ordered, That leave be given to bring in a bill for appointing Commissioners to superintend and direct the Naval affairs of this State, and that the Honourable Mr. Edwards, Captain Roger Smith, Mr. Corbett, Mr. Neufville, and Mr. Ward, be a Committee to prepare and bring in the same.

And the House adjourned till Monday morning, nine of the clock.

Monday, the 23d day of September, 1776.

The Honourable Mr. Mathews reported, that Mr. Middleton and himself had delivered the Ordinance, and also the Message they had in charge, to the Legislative Council.

Ordered, That the order of the day, to ballot for another commander of the Brigantine Comet, be discharged.

Ordered, That a Committee be appointed to receive the names of persons desirous or proper to be appointed to the command of the Brigantine Comet; that they do sit forthwith for that purpose, and give publick notice thereof.

Ordered, That the Honourable Mr. Edwards, Mr. Corbett, Mr. Hall, Mr. Chiffelle, and Mr. Ward, be a Committee for the above purpose.

Ordered, That Colonel Garden, Mr. Harrington, Captain Singleton, Captain White, and Captain Maham, be added to the Committee for revising the present Militia Law, and to bring in a bill for the better regulation of the Militia.

Message from the Legislative Council, by their Clerk:

"Mr. Speaker: The Legislative Council have read twice the Ordinance for appointing Commissioners for selling certain East-India teas, imported from Great Britain into this State, and for applying the moneys arising therefrom to the use of the said State."

And then the Messenger withdrew.

Resolved, That the said Ordinance be now read a third time; and the same being read accordingly,

Resolved, That the Ordinance do pass.

Ordered, That Mr. Ward and Captain McQueen do carry the Ordinance to the Legislative Council.

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen: Colonel Powel having represented the necessity of a stockade fort at the Cheraw Hill, I gave him directions some time ago (by advice of the Privy Council) to have one built there; but on receiving from him the petitions and estimate herewith laid before you, some of which petitions prayed that it might be built at that place, and others at Long-Bluff; and being informed by several inhabitants of St. David's Parish, that a fort at either of those places was altogether unnecessary, I thought it proper (the time of your meeting being then not very distant) to suspend the matter till I could have your opinion respecting it, and I now refer this subject to your consideration.

"John Rutledge.

"23d September, 1776."

And then the Messenger withdrew.

Read the Petitions referred to in the Message, which, with the estimate, are preserved among the other papers of the present sessions.

Ordered, That the Message, with the papers accompanying the same, be referred to a Committee.

And they are referred to Mr. Harrington, Major Hicks, Mr. Pegues, Captain Withers, Captain White, Mr. Young, and Captain Trapier.

Ordered, That Captain Tucker have leave of absence from the service of this House.

Upon motion, Resolved, That Mr. Speaker be desired to write to the Delegates of this State in the Continental Congress, that they will cause this House to be furnished with a complete copy of the Journals of the Proceedings of the said Congress, for the use of this State.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow morning, nine of the clock.

Tuesday, the 24th day of September, 1776.

The House met according to adjournment. Read the Journal of yesterday's proceeding.

Mr. Joseph Palmer, Captain Samuel Wise, and Mr. Daniel Ravenell, took the oath prescribed by the Constitution, and their seats as members of this House.

Mr. Jonathan Scott, the returning officer of the election for the Parish of Christ Church, attended according to order, and being called in, amended the Return, by rasing the name of Levi Durant, Esq., and inserting, instead thereof, the name of William Scott, Jun., Esquire.

The Honourable Mr. Lowndes reported from the Committee to whom the Petition of Edward Fenwick, Esquire, was referred; and he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That in September last, as Mr. Fenwick informed your Committee, he received a letter from Mr. Stuart, informing him that he had sent for an inventory of his slaves, in order to enable him the better to judge what part he would allot to Mr. Fenwick, in part of his lady's portion; which letter is mislaid. That Mr. Fenwick produced a letter, dated 23d December, from Mr. Stuart, directed to Mr. Balingall, wherein he tells Mr. Balingall, that if it is agreeable to him, he leaves it to him to move twenty of his hands from Maple Cane to Mr. Fenwick's plantation at Ashepoo; and that he (Mr. Stuart) proposed, also, to give orders to Mr. Charles Shaw to remove ten more from Lady's Island, so as to be at Mr. Fenwick's in February following. That Mr. Fenwick informed the Committee that Mr. Shaw did, in consequence, receive such directions from Mr. Stuart concerning the ten negroes to be removed from Lady's Island; that Mr. Shaw is now in town, and although he has not the letter to produce, he is willing to make oath to the purport of it as above. (Mr. Shaw appearing before the Committee, confirmed this article.) That Mr. Fenwick informed the Committee, that he also had received a letter from Mr. Stuart, acquainting him that he had wrote letters to Mr. Balingall and Shaw, to the above purpose. That the letter was detained in the post-office at Georgia a considerable time, and taken up (opened) by Mr. Rose, who brought it to Mr. Fenwick in May last; that Mr. Fenwick, in consequence, went up to Mr. Balingall, who acknowledged the receipt of Mr. Stuart's letters, but informed Mr. Fenwick that the effects of Mr. Stuart were taken out of his hands by order of the Congress, otherwise he would have complied with Mr. Stuart's directions. Shaw also declared to Mr. Fenwick, that he would have delivered up the ten negroes mentioned in his letter, had Mr. Stuart's effects remained in his custody. That Mr. Fenwick has no bill of sale, or other instrument of writing, transferring the said slaves to him, but is assured, from the letter received from Mr. Stuart, first referred to, that it was Mr. Stuart's intention to have given him those slaves as part of his wife's portion, and that the orders given to Mr. Balingall, he considers as an evidence of such his intention. That Mr. Fenwick informed the Committee that there are now brought to Charles-Town, seized on attachment, ten of the slaves belonging to Mr. Stuart, from Maple Cane, besides a considerable number already sold. That the crop now on the ground must be lost for want of negroes to harvest the crop. That if the crop of the last year, lying on hand, together with the indico made the present year, were put into his hands, he could, by the proceeds thereof, pay off the attachments on which the negroes were seized, and redeem the negroes now in the custody of the Sheriff, which would afford them the means of saving some part of the crop on the ground, which must now inevitably be lost. That he will give security to apply the effects put into his hands solely to the payment of the just debts of Mr. Stuart, and account with any person the House will appoint, for the residue of the sales. That on the above state of facts, which Mr. Fenwick is ready to attest upon oath, the Committee are of opinion, that it appears to have been the intention of Mr. Stuart to have given to Mr. Fenwick, his son-in-law, thirty negroes, in part of his wife's portion. But inasmuch as there is no deed or regular transfer for that purpose from Mr. Stuart, obligatory upon him, the Committee are of opinion that the presumption arising from the letters wrote by Mr. Stuart, is not sufficient in law to vest the property of the said slaves absolutely in Mr. Fenwick. But as it is clear and evident, by the directions given to Balingall and Shaw, that Mr. Stuart intended at least to give to Mr. Fenwick the temporary use and service of thirty slaves, to work on his plantation at Ashepoo, and that those persons would have put Mr. Fenwick into the quiet possession of them if they had not been prevented by the orders of the Congress, which dispossessed them of the power over Mr. Stuart's effects, the Committee recommend that Mr. Fenwick may now take the liberty of availing himself of the temporary use of the said slaves, and that Mr. Balingall and Mr. Shaw may be permitted to deliver over to him the said negroes, or such part thereof as are in their power, agreeable to Mr. Stuart's directions, Mr. Fenwick holding himself answerable for the said negroes, and obliged to deliver them whenever thereunto required by the resolution of this House. That the Committee are of opinion it would be detrimental and grievous to sell the negroes of Mr. Stuart for the payment of his debts, while there is a sufficient value in perishable commodity for that purpose on hand, the more especially as this present crop in the ground would thereby be totally lost. The Committee, therefore, further recommend, that Mr. Fenwick be permitted to take in his possession the rice and indico belonging to Mr. Stuart, dispose of the same, and apply the proceeds to the payment of the just and legal debts of Mr. Stuart, holding the residue, if any there is, in his hands, subject to the disposal of this House, and that Mr. Fenwick lodge in the hands of the Commissioners of the Treasury a faithful and exact account, attested on oath, of such sale and payments."

Ordered, That the said Report be taken into consideration on to-morrow.

William Scott, Jun., Esquire, took the oath prescribed by the Constitution, and his seat as a member for the Parish of Christ Church.

A Petition of William Hart, Esq., was presented to the House and read, in the words following:

"That a part of the land on which the troops lately encamped at Haddrel's Point is the property of your petitioner. That they had while there totally destroyed a field of corn and other provisions, a large garden with a great number of choice fruit-trees, and burnt and destroyed all his fences, and otherwise injured him. Your petitioner humbly hopes that you will take his case into consideration, and grant him such relief as to you in your wisdom shall seem meet."

Ordered, That the Petition be referred to the consideration of a Committee.

And it is referred to Mr. Capers, Captain Vanderhorst, Mr. Benjamin Elliott, Mr. John Boone, and Mr. William Scott, Junior.

Mr. Corbett reported from the Commissioners appointed by the late Congress to purchase materials for, and superintend the making of Gunpowder. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That they did employ William Bartey, a man skilled in the art of making gunpowder. That they have allowed him twenty shillings currency per pound for all the gunpowder that he produced out of the materials with which the Commissioners furnished him with, charging him with those materials. That they have worked up into gunpowder all the nitre they have received or could procure, which is as follows: two hundred pounds from Mr. John Neufville, paid for by the Treasury; one hundred and forty-eight and a half from Mr. Daniel De Saussure, paid for by the Treasury;—three hundred and forty-eight and a half; one hundred and thirty, the Commissioners bought in Charles-Town and paid for—in all, four hundred and seventy-eight and a half pounds of nitre; from which they have made, and delivered to the Gunpowder Receiver and officers of the Army, (per receipt for the same,) six hundred and twenty-five pounds weight of gunpowder. That the Commissioners have also received a cask of brimstone from Mr. Neufville, and two casks from Mr. De Saussure, paid for by the Commissioners of the Treasury, and two thousand nine hundred and five pounds of brimstone which the Commissioners for Gunpowder bought and have paid for in Charles-Town, out of which they have used only seventy pounds, Mr. Bartey having brimstone of his own, which he furnished in the making of gunpowder. Part of the brimstone is lodged in the publick magazine, by order of the late Council of Safety, the rest Mr. Calvert is ordered to put into the Arsenal.

"The expenses attending this business are charged in an account delivered herewith, on which there is a balance due to the Commissioners of one hundred and eighteen pounds thirteen shillings and four pence currency."

The Accounts referred to, being likewise read,

Ordered, That the Commissioners of the Treasury do pay to Mr. Thomas Corbett and the Reverend Mr. William Tennent, Commissioners for purchasing materials for and to superintend the making of Gunpowder, a balance of one hundred and eighteen pounds thirteen shillings and four pence, which appears to be due to them on that account.

Mr. Loocock reported from the Committee to consider of and report proper places of Election, and proper persons to receive the vote of Electors, and make returns thereof, in such Districts where they are not already appointed. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That the election for the District between Savannah river and the north fork of Edisto should be held at Kelley's old Cowpen, and the Commissioners be George Robinson, John Collins, John Sally, Esquires, Messrs. Henry Peoples and William Robinson, or any one or more of them. That the Committee find the places already fixed in every Parish and District within this State, except the above, and also Church Wardens or Commissioners accommodated to each place of election; and that the Committee, apprehending all or most of the Commissioners for the Spartan or Upper District may be absent at the time of the next election, recommend that Lieutenant-Colonel Wofford and Mr. John Nuccols may be added to the same."

Resolved, That the Report be taken into consideration immediately.

And the same being taken into consideration accordingly,

Resolved, That this House do agree with the Report of the Committee.

Upon motion, Resolved, That in all such Districts throughout this State where Commissioners are appointed to attend and receive votes for electing members of the General Assembly, and to make returns of such elections, any one or more of the said Commissioners shall be sufficient for those purposes.

Ordered, That the Resolves of this House, of the 11th of April last, on the above subject, together with the foregoing, be forthwith printed and sent to the several Districts.

Captain McQueen reported that Mr. Ward and himself had delivered the Ordinance they had in charge to the Legislative Council.

The Clerk of the Legislative Council brought from that House an Ordinance for appointing Commissioners for selling certain East-India Teas, imported from Great Britain into this State, and for applying the moneys arising therefrom to the use of the said State, and read a third time in the Legislative Council.

Ordered, That the Ordinance be engrossed.

Mr. Ward presented to the House, according to order, an Ordinance for disarming persons notoriously disaffected to the cause of America, or who shall not associate and shall refuse to associate to defend by arms the United States of America, and the State of South-Carolina in particular, against the hostile attempts of the British Fleets and Armies. And the same was received and read the first time.

Resolved, That the Ordinance be read a second time to-morrow.

A copy of the Presentments of the Grand Jurors at a Court of Oyer and Terminer, Assize and General Delivery, begun and holden at Ninety-Six, for the District of Ninety-Six, on Thursday, the 30th of May, 1776, was presented to the House and read, with the orders of the Court thereupon, directing the following to be laid before the Legislature, viz: First, the want of places of publick worship and for schools. Second, the want of a proper vagrant law. Third, that writs are issuable from and returnable to Charles-Town only, and that the records are not kept in the different Districts. Fourth, the want of provision for many poor and indigent persons; and recommend that the Committees in the different Districts where there are no Parishes be empowered to assess for that purpose. Fifth, the want of publick roads through the Province in general, and the bad repair in which several are kept, and particularly the want of a road to lead from the upper parts of Savannah River, Rocky River, and Little River, heading the south fork of Edisto, and Saltcatchee or Salcatchee Rivers, to Hort's Ferry on Edisto River, and from thence to Slann's Bridge.

Ordered, That the said Presentments do lie on the table for the perusal of the members.

Ordered, That Mr. Bacot and Mr. Theodore Gaillard, Jun., be added to the Committee appointed on the 21st instant to examine the publick Treasury Accounts, and report to the House an exact and circumstantial account of the state of the Treasury, what sums have been issued, and for what particular services, arranging under distinct heads the particular services for which the moneys have been expended.

Resolved, That the House will proceed to the choice of a Captain and commander of the Brigantine Comet to-morrow morning, ten of the clock.

Ordered, That Colonel Pinckney and the Honourable Mr. Justice Matthews do wait on the Legislative Council to request their attendance in this House to-morrow morning, ten of the clock, to join in balloting for a Captain and commander of the Brigantine Comet.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow morning, nine of the clock.

Wednesday, the 25th of September, 1776.

The House met according to adjournment. Read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

Jacob Richman, Henry Patrick, and Benjamin Screven, Esquires, took the oath prescribed by the Constitution, and their seats as members.

Ordered, That Mr. Richman, Mr. Singleton, Mr. Moore, Mr. Williams, Mr. Caldwell, Mr. Harrington, Mr. Robinson, Colonel Gervais, and Mr. Ward, be a Committee to revise the list of Magistrates, and report the names of persons proper to be added thereto.

The order of the day being read, to take into consideration the Report of the Committee to whom the Petition of Edward Fenwick, Esquire, was referred; and the Petition of Edward Fenwick, Esquire, being also read, a Petition of John Berwick, Esquire, was presented to the House and read, in the words following:

"That on or about the night of the 16th of July last, while your petitioner was called from the cares of his private concerns and bearing arms in Charles-Town, in defence of this State against the cruel invaders of its just rights and privileges, an armed vessel, supposed to be that commanded by Captain Osborn, commissioned by the Province of East-Florida to cruise against the United States of America, landed his men, and carried off by violence eight of his most valuable slaves, compelling the overseer's wife to conduct them to those houses where the best of his negroes were known to reside, to the great injury of the estate of your petitioner,—said slaves, together with a loss sustained in his crop, being, in the opinion of your petitioner, to the value of seven thousand pounds currency, at a moderate computation. Your petitioner also begs leave to represent to the House, that he is well informed that John Moultrie, Esquire, Lieutenant-Governour of East-Florida, from whence the said piratical cruiser was commissioned, and John Stuart, Esquire, late Superintendent of Indian Affairs, are possessed of certain estates or other property within this State, and the said John Moultrie and John Stuart, Esquires, having taken an active part with our enemies against these United States, your petitioner therefore, encouraged by some recent precedents in which individuals have been permitted to make reprisals, and to indemnify themselves for their losses, by seizing upon the property of the enemy within this State, prays that the House would take the premises into consideration, and enable your petitioner to attack and convert to his own use so much of the property or effects of the said John Moultrie or John Stuart, Esquires, or any other known enemy of this State and of the liberties of America in general, found within this State, as shall fully indemnify him for his great losses, or that the House would be pleased to grant your petitioner such other mode of redress as to their wisdom may seem more fit and proper."

Ordered, That the Petition be referred to a Committee.

And it is referred to the Honourable Mr. Lowndes, Captain Joiner, Mr. Benjamin Elliott, Mr. De Saussure, Mr. Stobo, and Mr. Young.

Ordered, That the order of the day be discharged.

Ordered, That the consideration of the Report on Mr. Fenwick's Petition be postponed till the Committee appointed to consider Mr. Berwick's Petition shall have reported thereupon.

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen: I send you some other Petitions, which have been lately presented to me, relative to a Fort at the Cheraw-Hill.

"John Rutledge.

"25th September, 1776."

Read the Petitions referred to, which are preserved among the other papers of the session.

Ordered, That the Petitions be referred to the same Committee to whom the President's Message of the 23d instant, and other Petitions upon the same subject, were referred.

It appearing to the House that Thomas Farr, Jun., Esquire, Clerk to the late Commons House of Assembly, had, in pursuance of an order of the Council of Safety dated 24th of October last, removed the Journals, Books and other Papers belonging to the said House, to Dorchester, and there delivered them to the Commissioners appointed for that purpose, and taken their receipt for the same, which receipt was produced to the House:

Ordered, That Mr. Farr be discharged from any further charge of the said Journals, Books and Papers, and that the same be taken into the care of the Clerk of this House.

A member presented to the House a Certificate of an Election for the District of Saxe-Gotha. And he read the Certificate in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as follows:

"South-Carolina, Saxe-Gotha District:

"In pursuance of a letter from the Honourable William Henry Drayton, informing the Committee for this District that a writ of election was issued and sent up for a member in the House of General Assembly, (though the said writ never came to hand,) the electors of Saxe-Gotha District were duly summoned to meet at Congarees, on Friday, the 13th instant, for the purpose of electing a member for the said District; and the said election having been held, it appeared that the Honourable William Henry Drayton was duly and unanimously elected to represent the said District in the present General Assembly: Which proceedings are hereby certified and returned by us, the Commissioners for the District.

"Signed the 22d day of September, 1776.

"WILLIAM ARTHUR,
"JACOB FRIDAY,
"RALPH HUMPHREYS.

"To the Speaker of the General House of Assembly for South-Carolina."

After some debate, a motion was made that Mr. Drayton be called in to qualify.

And the question being put, the House divided: the yeas went forth. Teller for the yeas, Mr. Attorney General—32. Teller for the noes, Honourable Mr. Lowndes—52.

So it passed in the negative.

Hopson Pinckney, Esquire, took the oath prescribed by the Constitution, and his seat in the House as a member for the Parish of St. Thomas and St. Dennis.

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN: Colonel Williamson lately desired my instructions with respect to telling the men engaged in the expedition against the Cherokees, that such of those Indians as should be taken prisoners would become slaves, and the property of the captors; which notion I find prevailed in his camp, insomuch that an Indian woman who had been taken prisoner was sold as a slave. I send you an extract of my letter in answer to his on this subject; and, agreeable to my promise to him, recommend the giving suitable encouragement to those who shall distinguish themselves in the war against the Cherokees, which I doubt not you will. I wish to be enabled to assure Colonel Williamson soon with certainty what they may expect.

"JOHN RUTLEDGE.

"25th September, 1776."

Read the paper referred to, entitled "Extract of a Letter, 3d September, in answer to Colonel Williamson, of August 25th."

Ordered, That the Message and Extract accompanying the same, be referred to a Committee.

And it is referred to the Honourable Mr. Lowndes, the Honourable Mr. Edwards, Colonel Gervais, Colonel Pinckney, Mr. Neufville, Mr. Cantey, and Mr. John Waring.

Colonel Pinckney reported that the Honourable Mr. Justice Matthews and himself had, according to order, waited upon the Legislative Council, to desire their attendance in this House, in order to join in balloting for a Captain and commander-in-chief of the Brigantine Comet.

The members of the honourable the Legislative Council being introduced into this House accordingly, the members of both Houses proceeded to ballot; and the ballots being reckoned, Mr. Speaker reported, that James Dogharty, Esquire, was duly elected Captain and commander of the Brigantine Comet.

Ordered, That the Honourable Mr. Edwards and Captain Joiner do wait on the President, to acquaint him that this House and the honourable the Legislative Council have jointly, by ballot, duly elected James Dogharty, Esquire, Captain and commander of the armed Brigantine Comet, belonging to this State, and to request that his Excellency will be pleased to cause him to be sent for express, and to commissionate him accordingly.

A Memorial of the Vestry of Saint Philip's, Charles-Town, was presented to the House, and read, in the following words:

"That many difficulties occurred which rendered it altogether impossible for memorialists to make a just and equitable assessment for a poor-tax on the inhabitants of Charles-Town according to the directions of the act of Assembly, but more particularly the removal from town for several months past of great numbers of those inhabitants who were liable by law to be taxed for that purpose; and though some of them have lately returned, it is, nevertheless, now out of the power of memorialists to make an assessment, because the time limited by law for doing it is expired. That memorialists were obliged some time since to borrow a large sum of money, (exclusive of what hath been already lent by your honourable House,) in order to defray the expense of supporting the poor of this town and transient poor from the different parts of the country, and also from our sister States, who are daily applying for an increase of their monthly allowance because of the exorbitant prices that are demanded for all the necessaries of life. Memorialists therefore pray that your honourable House will take the case into your most serious consideration, and accordingly make provision for the subsistence of said poor until a tax can be legally assessed, or memorialists will be reduced to the unavoidable necessity of yielding up their trust, and leaving the poor altogether to the care of Heaven, or begging their daily bread from door to door."

Ordered, That the Memorial be referred to a Committee.

And it is referred to Mr. Hall, Mr. John Berwick, Mr. Verree, Mr. Brown, Mr. Toomer, Mr. Josiah Smith, Jun., and Mr. Eveleigh.

Upon motion, Resolved, That Mr. Speaker do forthwith issue Writs for electing members of the present General Assembly for the following Parishes and Districts, where vacancies have happened, viz: One member for the Parishes of St. Philip and St. Michael, Charles-Town, in the room of Cato Ash, Esquire, deceased; one member for the Parish of St. Andrew, in the room of the Honourable Thomas Fuller, elected into the Legislative Council; one member for the Parish of St. James, Goose-Creek, in the room of the Honourable John Parker, elected into the Legislative Council; two members for the Parish of St. James, Santee, in the room of the Honourable Daniel Horry, elected into the Legislative Council, and of Levi Durand, Esquire, who having been returned for Christ Church, and also for St. James, Santee, had made his election for the former; one member for the Parish of St. Helena, in the room of the Honourable William Moultrie, elected into the Legislative Council; and one member for the District of Saxe-Gotha, in the room of the Honourable William Henry Drayton, elected Chief Justice of this State.

Ordered, That the election days for filling up the said vacancies be Monday and Tuesday, the seventh and eighth days of October next, and that the Writs be made returnable the ninth day of the same month.

It being suggested to the House that the Writ which had been issued in August last for the election of a member for the Parish of St. Bartholomew had been founded on a mistake,

Ordered, That the said Writ, and all the proceedings had thereon, be quashed.

The order of the day being read, for reading a second time an Ordinance for disarming persons notoriously disaffected to the cause of America, or who shall not associate, and shall refuse to associate, to defend by arms the United States of America, and the State of South-Carolina in particular, against the hostile attempts of the British Fleets and Armies,

Ordered, That the said order be discharged, and that the second reading of the Ordinance be postponed.

The Honourable Mr. Edwards reported, that Captain Joiner and himself had delivered the Message they had in charge to the President, and that his Excellency was pleased to say the request of the House should be complied with.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow morning, ten of the clock.

Thursday, the 26th day of September, 1776.

The House met according to adjournment. Read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

Joseph Howe, Francis Adams, Thomas Jones, John Jones, and Lachlan McIntosh, Esquires, took the oath prescribed by the Constitution, and their seats as members of the House.

The Honourable Mr. Lowndes reported from the Committee to whom the Petition of John Berwick, Esquire, was referred. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That inasmuch as there are several of the inhabitants of this State who have received the like injuries with Mr. Berwick by the depredations of the enemy, and many more may probably have the same cause of complaint during the present struggle with Great Britain, your Committee are of opinion that it will be most eligible and equitable to fix one general rule of retribution, that may comprehend equally all the sufferers, that the same measure of justice may be extended to all; that partial and particular remedies to individuals before a general account can be obtained and stated, would probably exclude many sufferers from the means of satisfaction, and occasion murmurings and complaints; that as the grievance complained of must necessarily be felt throughout the Continent, it is presumable the honourable the Continental Congress may make some order thereupon respecting the measures to be taken by the different States respectively, which will establish a uniformity of proceedings among them. Your Committee, to avoid any embezzlement or diminution of the estates of any persons absent from this State who are known to hold principles inimical to the liberties of America, recommend that this House take proper steps to secure such estates from being alienated, embezzled, or diminished, to serve as a fund hereafter, if the House think proper to make compensation in equal degree to all persons who have or shall sustain losses by the British forces; and that leave be given to bring in a bill for those purposes."

Resolved, That the Report be taken into consideration immediately.

And the said Report being read a second time, was agreed to by the House.

Ordered, That leave be given to bring in a Bill for the purposes mentioned in the last clause of the said Report; and that Colonel Pinckney, Mr. Attorney-General, Mr. Loocock, Mr. John Berwick, and Mr. Ward, do prepare and bring in the same.

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen: With the advice and consent of the Privy Council, I appointed John Colcock, Esquire, Secretary, and John Calvert and Benjamin Lord, Messengers, to that Board, and Thomas Farr, Esquire, Paymaster of the Militia. I therefore desire that you will provide such allowances or salaries for them as may be reasonable and adequate to their respective services.

"John Rutledge.

Ordered, That the Message be referred to the following Committee, viz: Mr. Attorney-General, Mr. Ward, Mr. McQueen, Colonel Garden, and Ralph Izard.

Then the House proceeded to take into consideration the Report of the Committee to whom Mr. Fenwick's Petition had been referred. The first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh paragraphs being read, were agreed to by the House. The eighth paragraph being read, and a debate arising thereon, a motion was made that the House disagree to the recommendatory clause; and the question being put, resolved in the affirmative. And then the last clause of the Report was read; and after several amendments made thereto, agreed to by the House. And the Report is as followeth:

"That in September last, as Mr. Fenwick informed the Committee, he received a letter from Mr. Stuart, informing him that he had sent for an inventory of his slaves, in order to enable him to judge what part he would allot to Mr. Fenwick, in part of his lady's portion, which letter is mislaid; that Mr. Fenwick produced a letter, dated 23d December, from Mr. Stuart, directed to Mr. Balingall, wherein he tells Mr. Balingall that if it is agreeable to him he leaves it to him to move twenty of his hands from Maple Cane to Mr. Fenwick's plantation at Ashepoo; and that he (Mr. Stuart) proposed also to give orders to Mr. Charles Shaw to remove ten more from Lady's Island, so as to be at Mr. Fenwick's in February following; that Mr. Fenwick informed the Committee that he also had received a letter from Mr. Stuart, acquainting him that he had wrote letters to Mr. Balingall and Mr. Shaw, to the above purpose; that the letter was detained in the post-office at Georgia a considerable time, and taken up (opened) by Mr Rose, who brought it to Mr. Fenwick in May last; that Mr. Fenwick, in consequence, went up to Mr. Balingall, who acknowledged the receipt of Mr. Stuart's letter, but informed Mr. Fenwick that the effects of Mr. Stuart were taken out of his hands by order of the Congress, otherwise he would have complied with Mr. Stuart's direction. Shaw also declared to Mr. Fenwick that he would have delivered up the ten negroes mentioned in his letter, had Mr. Stuart's effects remained in his custody; that Mr. Fenwick had no bill of sale or other instrument of writing transferring the said slaves to him, but is assured from the letter received from Mr. Stuart, first referred to, that it was Mr. Stuart's intention to have given him those slaves as part of his wife's portion, and the orders given to Mr. Balingall he considers as an evidence of such his intention; that Mr. Fenwick informed the Committee that there are now brought to Charlestown, seized on attachment, ten of the slaves belonging to Mr. Stuart, from Maple Cane, besides a considerable number already sold; that the crop now on the ground must be lost for want of negroes to harvest it; that if the crop of the last year lying on hand, together with the indico made the present year, were put into his hands, he could by the proceeds thereof pay off the attachments on which the negroes were seized, and redeem the negroes now in the custody of the Sheriff, which would afford them the means of saving some part of the crop on the ground, which must otherwise inevitably be lost; that he will give security to apply the effects put into his hands solely to the payment of the just debts of Mr. Stuart, and account with any person the House will appoint for the residue of the sales. That on the above state of facts, which Mr. Fenwick is ready to attest upon oath, the Committee are of opinion that it appears to have been the intention of Mr. Stuart to have given to Mr. Fenwick (his son-in-law) thirty negroes in part of his wife's portion. But inasmuch as there is no deed or regular transfer for that purpose from Mr. Stuart, obligatory upon him, the Committee are of opinion that the presumption arising from the letters wrote by Mr. Stuart is not sufficient in law to vest the property of the said slaves absolutely in Mr. Fenwick. But as it is clear and evident, by the directions given to Balingall and Shaw, that Mr. Stuart intended at least to give to Mr. Fenwick the temporary use and service of thirty slaves to work on his plantation at Ashepoo, and that those persons would have put Mr. Fenwick into the quiet possession of them if they had not been prevented by the orders of the Congress, which dispossessed them of the power over Mr. Stuart's effects, that the Committee are of opinion it would be detrimental and grievous to sell the negroes of Mr. Stuart for the payment of his debts while there is a sufficient value in perishable commodities for that purpose on hand, the more especially as the present crop on the ground would thereby be totally lost. The Committee therefore recommend that the Parochial Committees, who are in possession of the rice and indico belonging to Mr. Stuart, be directed to dispose of the same, and apply the proceeds to the payment of the just and legal debts of Mr. Stuart, holding the residue, if any there is, in their hands, subject to the disposal of this House; and that they lodge in the hands of the Commissioners of the Treasury a faithful and exact account of such sale and payments."

Ordered, That leave be given to bring in an Ordinance for providing Juries for Beaufort District at the next November Courts.

Mr. Attorney-General presented to the House, according to order, an Ordinance for providing Juries for Beaufort District, at the next November Courts. And the same was received and read the first time.

Ordered, That the Ordinance be read a second time.

Ordered, That Colonel Pinckney and Mr. Ralph Izard, together with some member of the Legislative Council, examine and compare the engrossed Ordinance for appointing Commissioners for selling certain East-India Teas, imported from Great Britain into this State, and for applying the moneys arising therefrom to the use of the said State.

An Ordinance for providing Juries for Beaufort District, at the next November Courts, was read a second time.

Ordered, That the Ordinance be sent to the Legislative Council.

Ordered, That the Honourable Mr. Justice Matthews and Colonel Garden do carry the Ordinance to the Legislative Council.

Ordered, That Colonel Pinckney and Mr. Attorney-General be added to the Committee appointed to bring in a Bill appointing Commissioners to superintend the Naval affairs of this State.

Colonel Pinckney reported, that Mr. Izard and himself, with two members of the honourable the Legislative Council, had examined and compared the engrossed Ordinance they had in charge, and that they found it exact.

Ordered, That the Honourable Mr. Edwards and Mr. Ralph Izard do wait upon the President with the engrossed Ordinance, in order to have the seal affixed, and to desire to know when his Excellency will be pleased to be attended by the House, to present the said Ordinance for his assent.

Mr. Harrington reported from the Committee to whom the President's Message of the 23d instant and papers relative to erecting a Fort at Cheraw Hill, were referred; and he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That they, having examined the petition for and against building a stockade fort at the Cheraws, are of opinion that a fort in that secure part of the country is entirely useless; and are further of opinion that the keeping of guard of three hundred men in June and July last, and of fifty men in August and the present month, at the said place, was a measure not only unnecessary and expensive to the State, but detrimental and destructive to the crops of many of the poor inhabitants. They therefore recommend that the said guard of fifty men be immediately discharged. And whereas a quantity of gunpowder and lead was, by order of Congress, lodged in the hands of the Committee for St. David's Parish, for the use of the Militia, part of which powder and lead has been drawn out of their hands by orders of the commanding officer, your Committee therefore recommend that orders be given to the said commanding officer to return the said powder and lead to the aforesaid Committee."

Ordered, That the Report be taken into consideration to-morrow.

The Honourable Mr. Edwards reported, that Mr. Izard and himself had, according to order, waited on the President with the engrossed Ordinance and Message they had in charge; and that his Excellency was pleased to say the House should hear from him.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow morning, eleven of the clock.

Friday, the 27th day of September, 1776.

The House met according to adjournment. Read the Journals of yesterday's proceedings.

The House being informed by a member that a cargo of Salt had arrived in this harbour yesterday, and that the time limited for the purchase of that article by certain Commissioners had expired the day before:

Resolved, That Messrs. John Dawson, Edward Lightwood, John Poaug, Joseph Atkinson, William Ancrum, James Fisher, and Alexander Chisolme, be, and they are hereby, appointed Commissioners to purchase the Salt now in this harbour, on board the Sloop Margaret; and that they have authority to allow such a liberal price for the same as may encourage the further importation thereof, and to draw upon the publick Treasury for the amount of the said purchase.

Ordered, That Colonel McIntosh, Mr. Howe, Mr. Moore, Mr. Robinson, Captain Townsend, Captain Leger, and Mr. Young, be a Committee to consider and report to the House the most equitable way of disposing and distributing of Salt amongst the inhabitants of this State.

Resolved, That if any Salt Works shall hereafter be set up or established on any part of the sea-coast of this State at the expense and risk of individuals, and the same shall be destroyed or damaged by any enemy of this State, this House will indemnify the sufferer or sufferers one-half of his or their loss or damage so sustained: Provided, He or they shall not have sold any Salt made at such works for more than twenty-five shillings per bushel.

Ordered, That the foregoing Resolution be printed and made publick.

A Petition of John Vauchier, of the Town of Purrysburg, was presented to the House and read, in the following words:

"That for the term of twelve years and upwards the petitioner hath kept, at his own expense, a Ferry, with proper boats and hands for the purpose of conveying and transporting passengers, with their horses and carriages, from Purrysburg aforesaid to Abercorn and the town of Savannah in Georgia; that as far as the same hath been in the power of the petitioner he hath used every despatch and given every necessary attendance that could be expected from a man in his slender circumstances, and for the same received certain rates of ferriage as have been paid and given for a number of years; that from the great advantage that would arise by a quick communication between the two States of South-Carolina and Georgia, the petitioner is emboldened to state the same to the honourable House: and therefore humbly prays that the House will be pleased to take the same into consideration, and by some necessary law to be passed for that purpose, to vest the said ferry in the petitioner and his assigns for a term of years, so that the same be considered as a publick ferry from Purrysburg as aforesaid to Abercorn or Savannah, as may be most convenient to travellers, and that he by law be entitled to receive such rates of ferriage as may be regulated by the House, so that the same be equivalent to the expense he may be at; and further, that the House will be pleased to take his case fully into consideration, and grant him such relief as the same may require."

Read, also, a certificate, with thirteen names subscribed thereto, annexed to the Petition, that a publick Ferry from the Town of Purrysburg would be a great service to South-Carolina and Georgia; and a Letter, dated the 17th instant, subscribed by thirty-five inhabitants of the Parish of St. Peter, and addressed to Phibotheos Chiffelle, against Mr. Vauchier's Petition.

Ordered, That the said Petition and Letter be referred to the following Committee, viz: Major Catlett, Mr. Brisbane, Mr. McPherson, Colonel Garden, and Colonel McIntosh.

The Honourable Mr. Lowndes reported from the Committee to whom the President's Message of the 25th instant was referred; and he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That subjecting prisoners of war to a state of slavery, independent of any consideration of the illegality of such a measure, would involve this State in many difficulties, obstruct and impede a future peace, give the Indians a precedent that may be fatal to those of our own people who may unfortunately fall into their hands, and prevent a mutual exchange of prisoners—an object of too much consequence to be put out of our power. That, in the opinion of the Committee, it is not advisable or proper to give any encouragement to the forces now acting against the Cherokee Indians to expect that the property of such Indians as may be taken prisoners should be vested in the captors, and be made slaves; but, on the contrary, that publick declarations should be made to prevent any such expectation. Your Committee, as an encouragement to those who shall distinguish themselves in the war against the Cherokees, recommended the following rewards: For every Indian man killed, and certificate thereof given by the commanding officer, and the scalp produced as an evidence thereof in Charles-Town, by the forces in the pay of this State, one hundred pounds currency; for every Indian man prisoner, one hundred and twenty-five pounds; for every other prisoner, one hundred and ten pounds."

Resolved, That the Report be taken into consideration immediately.

The first and second clauses of the Report being read, were severally agreed to by the House.

The third clause being read, and a debate arising thereon, a motion was made that the reward for Indian men's scalps should be seventy-five pounds. And, the question being put, the House divided—teller for the yeas, Colonel Pinckney, 48; teller for the nays, Major Cattell, 29. So it was resolved in the affirmative.

A motion was made that the reward for taking Indian men prisoners should be one hundred pounds. And, the question being put, resolved in the affirmative.

A motion was then made that the reward for every other prisoner should be one hundred pounds. And, the question being put, it passed in the negative.

A motion was made that the said reward should be ninety pounds. And, the question being put, that also passed in the negative.

A motion was then made that the said reward should be eighty pounds. And, the question being put, resolved in the affirmative.

And the Report, as amended and agreed to, is as followeth:

"That subjecting prisoners of war to a state of slavery, independent of any considerations of the illegality of such a measure, would involve this State in many difficulties, obstruct and impede a future peace, give the Indians a precedent that may be fatal to those of our own people who may unfortunately fall into their hands, and prevent a mutual exchange of prisoners—an object of too much consequence to be put out of our power. That, in the opinion of your Committee, it is not advisable or proper to give any encouragement to the forces now acting against the Cherokee Indians, to expect that the property of such Indians as may be taken prisoners should be vested in the captors, and be made slaves; but, on the contrary, that publick declarations should be made to prevent such expectations. Your Committee, as an encouragement to those who shall distinguish themselves in the war against the Cherokees, recommend the following rewards, to wit: For every Indian man killed, upon certificate thereupon given by the commanding officer, and the scalp produced as an evidence thereof in Charles-Town, by the forces in the pay of this State, seventy-five pounds currency; for every Indian man prisoner, one hundred pounds like money; for every other prisoner, eighty pounds like money."

Ordered, That a Message be sent to the President, with a copy of the above Report, as agreed to by the House.

Message to the President:

"May it please your Excellency: This House having referred your Excellency's message of the 25th instant, recommending that suitable encouragement should be given to those who shall distinguish themselves in the war against the Cherokees, to the consideration of a Committee, who reported thereon, do herewith send your Excellency a copy of the said report as agreed to by the House."

Ordered, That the Message be engrossed, and that Mr. Speaker do sign the same.

Ordered, That Colonel Pinckney and Colonel Gervais do wait on his Excellency with the said Message.

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. Speaker: His Excellency the President is now in the Council Chamber, ready to receive this House with the Ordinance they have to present."

And then the Messenger withdrew.

The House accordingly attended the President in the Council Chamber. And, being returned, Mr. Speaker reported, that this House having attended the President in the Council Chamber, his Excellency had been pleased to give his assent to "An Ordinance for appointing Commissioners for selling certain East-India Teas, imported from Great Britain into this State, and for applying the moneys arising therefrom to the use of the said State."

The Clerk of the Legislative Council brought from that House "An Ordinance for providing Juries for Beaufort District at next November Court." Read twice in the Legislative Council.

Resolved, That the Ordinance be read a third time.

And the same being read accordingly,

Resolved, That the Ordinance do pass.

Ordered, That the Honourable Mr. Justice Matthews and Colonel Garden do carry the Ordinance to the Legislative Council for their concurrence.

Mr. Hall reported from the Committee to whom the Memorial of the Vestry of St. Philip's Parish was referred. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That by inquiring, they find the annual expense of maintaining the poor of Charles-Town to be about fourteen thousand pounds currency; that the Vestry of St. Philip's Parish, who have that trust reposed in them, have been under the necessity of borrowing the sum of six thousand pounds towards supporting the said poor of Charles-Town, exclusive of what this House have already lent them, both which sums are expended and many accounts now unpaid; that it is at present impracticable to assess the inhabitants of Charles-Town for a poor-tax, the time limited by law being expired, and the removal of so many of them from town would, if it were practicable, make the tax so heavy upon those who had virtue enough to remain in town during the time of trial and danger, as to render the burthen intolerable, and by no means equitable. Your Committee, therefore, recommend that this House do lend the Vestry of St. Philip's a sum not exceeding fourteen thousand pounds currency, whereby they may be enabled to pay off the debt they have contracted, and to support the poor until a just and equitable tax may be levied by order of this House."

Ordered, That the Report be taken into consideration to-morrow.

Ordered, That the order of the day, for considering the Report on the Message and Papers relative to a fort at Cheraw Hill, be discharged; and that the consideration of the said Report be postponed.

Ordered, That Mr. Joseph Howe, Mr. Caldwell, Mr. Williams, and Mr. Robinson, be added to the Committee on the Militia law.

The Honourable Mr. Edwards presented to the House, according to order, a Bill for establishing a Board of Commissioners to superintend and direct the Naval affairs of the State of South-Carolina; and the same was received, and read the first time.

Ordered, That the Bill be read a second time.

Mr. Attorney-General reported from the Committee to whom was referred the President's Message respecting the Salaries of the Secretary and Messenger of the Privy Council and a Paymaster of the Militia; and he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, in the words following:

"That they are of opinion the following salaries or allowances to the said persons in manner hereinafter mentioned are reasonable and adequate to the respective services of such persons, that is to say: To the Secretary of the Privy Council, two thousand pounds currency, to be allowed him annually by the State for the services of that office; to the two Messengers of the Privy Council, the sum of three hundred and fifty pounds currency each, to be allowed annually by the State; and to the Paymaster of the Militia, the sum or allowance of three pounds and ten shillings, and two rations, for each day during the continuance of that office."

Ordered, That the Report be taken into consideration to-morrow.

It being moved and seconded, that a Message be sent to the President, requesting that his Excellency would lay before this House such Letters and Papers as he may have received relative to burning the houses and seizing and selling the goods of Richard Pearis,

Ordered, That a Message be prepared to be sent to his Excellency accordingly.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow morning, half-past ten of the clock.

Saturday, the 28th day of September, 1776.

The House met according to adjournment. Read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

Ralph Humphries, Thomas Taylor, and William Stroth, Esquires, took the oath required by the Constitution, and their seats as members of the House.

Colonel Pinckney reported, that Colonel Gervais and himself had delivered the Message they had in charge to the President.

Message to the President:

"MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY: This House request that your Excellency will be pleased to lay before them such letters and papers as your Excellency may have received relative to burning the houses and seizing and selling the property of Richard Pearis."

Ordered, That the Message be engrossed, and that Mr. Speaker do sign the same.

Ordered, That Colonel Pinckney and Mr. De Saussure do attend his Excellency with the said Message.

Ordered, That the second reading of the Bill for establishing a Board of Commissioners to superintend and direct the Naval affairs of the State of South-Carolina, be postponed till Thursday next.

The House then proceeded on the order of the day, to take into consideration the Report of the Committee to whom the President's Message of the 23d instant, and Papers accompanying the same, relative to a Fort at Cheraw Hill, were referred; and the first clause of the Report being read, was agreed to by the House.

A motion was made and seconded, that the further consideration of the Report be postponed; and that a Message be sent to the President, requesting that his Excellency will be pleased to lay before the House the reasons for ordering and keeping a Guard of three hundred men at the Cheraws in June and July last, and of fifty men in August and the present month, at the same place.

Message to the President:

"MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY: It appearing to this House, from the report of a Committee, that a guard of three hundred men had been kept at the Cheraws in June and July last, and of fifty men in August and the present month, this House requires that your Excellency will be pleased to lay before them the reasons for ordering and keeping up the said guard."

Ordered, That the Message be engrossed, and that Mr. Speaker do sign the same.

Ordered, That Colonel Pinckney and Colonel Gervais do carry the said Message to the President.

A motion being made, that a person now about to depart this State for Philadelphia be authorized to purchase a proper Vessel there, and load the same with Flour, Ship-Bread, Iron, and Steel, upon account of the State, a debate ensued; and the question being put whether Flour should be one of the articles to be so imported, it passed in the negative.

Ordered, That Mr. Loocock, Mr. Corbett, and Mr. Hall, be a Committee to consider and report the quantity and different articles necessary to be imported from Philadelphia, under the direction of the Delegates of this State in the Continental Congress.

It being suggested to the House that the property of Colonel Christopher Gadsden, of the north end of Charles-Town, had been much injured by the Salt Works erecting thereon, and by the Stores upon the Wharf having been turned into Barracks for soldiers: Therefore,

Resolved, That the Commissioner for erecting Salt Works in Charles-Town be forthwith directed to desist from erecting such Works, and to cause the banks there to be immediately put into as good condition as they were when taken possession of for the publick service; and that a Message be sent to the President, requesting that his Excellency will be pleased to give directions that the stores upon the said Wharf, and which have been turned into Barracks, be forthwith evacuated and restored to their former state.

Ordered, That the consideration of the Reports on the Memorial of the Vestry of St. Philip's Parish, and the President's Message respecting Salaries for the Officers of the Privy Council, be postponed.

Ordered, That the Resolve of yesterday, appointing Commissioners to purchase a cargo of Salt brought in the Sloop Margaret, be amended by inserting the words "receive and store" after the word "purchase," in the beginning thereof, and the words "and charges," at the end.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow morning, ten of the clock.

Monday, the 30th day of September, 1776.

The House met according to adjournment. Read the Journal of last Saturday's proceedings.

Michael Leitner, Esq., took the oath prescribed by the Constitution, and his seat as a member.

Colonel Pinckney reported that Colonel Gervais and himself had waited upon the President, and delivered the Message they had in charge.

Mr. Loocock reported from the Committee to consider and report the quantities and different articles necessary to be imported from Philadelphia, under the direction of the Delegates of this State; and he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, in the following words:

"That it is their opinion application should be made to our Delegates at Philadelphia, to endeavour to procure two frigates in the Continental establishment, to be stationed at this port, particularly during the winter, when they can be of little service to the northward, which, with our own armed vessels, may in a great measure secure our trade, by obliging the enemy to keep so many cruisers as will soon tire them out. That if our Delegates think proper to make this application, your Committee would recommend that the said frigates take in as ballast one hundred tons of bar iron, besides the following articles. But if the frigates cannot be spared of this State, then your Committee recommend that a staunch brigantine, of about one hundred and fifty tons, be procured, to mount twelve to sixteen carriage guns, be properly manned, and to bring as many supernumerary seamen as can possibly be procured, in which the said articles may be shipped, viz: thirty tons of small flat bar-iron for wagon tire; ten tons broad thick flat ditto, for axes; six tons small square iron; four tons thick square ditto, for machine or mill work; forty fagots square steel; two fagots German flat ditto; ten tons ploughshare moulds, half with a thick land-side, and a half for shovel ploughs; one gross mill-saw files; four gross whip and crosscut saw ditto; six gross handsaw ditto; twelve dozen Philadelphia made club-axes; one hundred and fifty barrels of well-baked ship-bread; (amounting to about nine thousand and five hundred pounds currency, exclusive of the brigantine.) If cotton or wool cards can be procured, a gross of each; if broad hoes to be had reasonable, twelve gross."

Resolved, That the Report be taken into immediate consideration.

And the same being taken into consideration accordingly, the first and second clauses were read to the House, and severally amended and agreed to.

While the House was in debate upon the third clause of the Report, a motion was made and seconded, that the sense of the House should be taken whether the members of the late Congress, who had been appointed to the places of emolument before the Constitution was established, have a right to sit and vote in the present General Assembly without being reelected; and the sense of the House, without a question thereon, was, that such members had an undoubted right.

The House then proceed in the consideration of the third clause of the Report. And the same being read, after several amendments made thereto, was agreed to; and the Report, as amended and agreed to, is as followeth:

"That it is their opinion application should be made to our Delegates at Philadelphia, to endeavour to procure two or more frigates on the Continental establishment, to be stationed at this port, particularly during the winter, when they can be of little service to the northward, which, with our armed vessels, may, in a great measure, secure our trade and protect our coasts. That if our Delegates succeed in this application, your Committee would recommend that the said frigate take in as ballast one hundred tons of bar iron, besides the articles under mentioned. But if the frigates cannot be obtained, or if they should not be allowed to bring those articles, then your Committee recommend that proper small vessels be procured to bring the said articles, of a light draught of water, armed with carriage or swivel-guns, properly manned, and with as many supernumerary seamen as can be procured; or that the Delegates do take such other steps as they think expedient, to procure the said articles, to be sent to this State as soon as possible; and that Mr. Archibald Gambell be recommended to the Delegates as a proper person to assist them, and that he be desired to follow their directions in procuring the said articles and forwarding the vessel or vessels in which the same are to be brought, viz: sixty tons of small flat bar iron, for wagon tire; twenty tons broad flat thick ditto, for axes; twelve tons small square iron; eight tons thick square ditto, fit for machine or mill work; eight fagots square steel; four fagots German flat steel; twenty tons ploughshare moulds, half with a thick land-side, and half for shovel ploughs; twenty-four dozen Philadelphia made club-axes; as many millsaw, crosscut, and whipsaw, and handsaw files, and as many wool and cotton cards, as can be procured; three hundred barrels of well-baked ship-bread; and five hundred reams of printing paper."

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen: According to your desire, I send herewith extracts of such parts of Colonel Williamson's, Thomas's, and Neel's letters to me as relate to burning the house and seizing and selling the property of Richard Pearis, which are all the papers I have received on that subject, except a petition from him complaining of those acts, and praying for redress.

"John Rutledge.

"30th September, 1776."

Read the extracts referred to in the Message from Colonel Williamson's Letter, dated 29th July, 1776; from Colonel Thomas's, dated August 25th; and from Colonel Neel's, dated August 27th.

Ordered, That the said Message and extracts be referred to the Committee upon Mr. Pearis's Petition, and that Mr. Joseph Howe, Mr. Jeans, Mr. Willians, and Mr. Adams, be added to the said Committee.

The Honourable Mr. Justice Matthews reported, that Colonel Garden and himself had delivered the Ordinance they had in charge to the Legislative Council.

The Clerk of the Legislative Council brought from that House an Ordinance for providing Juries for Beaufort District at the next November Courts. Read a third time in the said House.

Ordered, That the Ordinance be engrossed.

It being suggested to the House, that upon a supposition that the seat of the Honourable Thomas Heyward became vacant in consequence of his being absent from this State as a Delegate at the Continental Congress, a new Representative for Charles-Town was elected in his room, and that such proceeding was irregular and invalid,

It was, therefore, moved and seconded, that the House do resolve that Mr. Heyward has a right to take his seat, notwithstanding the said election.

And it was resolved accordingly.

It was then debated, whether the member who had been elected in the room of Mr. Heyward had a right to continue sitting as a member of the House. And after some time spent in debate,

Ordered, That the further discussion of this subject be postponed till to-morrow morning.

Mr. Speaker laid before the House a Letter which he had received from George Gabriel Powell, Esquire; and the same being read, is as follows:

"Sir: I understand there are charges of an extraordinary nature against me, laid before your honourable House. I humbly request, therefore, that I may be heard in my defence by a Committee, before any resolution is taken thereupon, trusting that I shall be able so to acquit myself as to stand fair in the opinion of my country, which is above all things desirable to, honourable sir, your most obedient humble servant,

"G. G. Powell.

"Charlestown, 30th September, 1776."

Ordered, That the consideration of the said Letter be postponed.

Upon motion, Resolved, That all members absent from the service of this House, who reside within fifty miles of Charles-Town, and are able to attend, be sent for at their own expense.

Ordered, That the Clerk do write Letters to such members accordingly.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow morning, nine of the clock.

Tuesday, the 1st day of October, 1776.

The House met according to adjournment. Read the Journals of yesterday's proceedings.

Major Cattell reported from the Committee to whom the Petition of John Vauchier was referred. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That they have considered the Petition of said Vauchier, and it appears to your Committee that a quick communication between the two States of Georgia and South-Carolina will be of great utility to both countries; and as a ferry fixed at Purysburg, from thence to Savannah and Abercorn, in Georgia, may be one means to procure despatch to travellers, are of opinion that a publick ferry should be established at Purrysburg, from thence to Savannah and Abercorn, in Georgia. And as Mr. Vauchier has been at some expense in purchasing boats to accommodate travellers, recommend that the ferry be vested in him and his assigns for a term not exceeding seven years. And they further recommend that a law may be brought in for those purposes."

Resolved, That the Report be taken into consideration immediately.

And the said Report being read a second time, was agreed to by the House.

Ordered, That leave be given to bring in a Bill accordingly.

Ordered, That Mr. De Saussure, Mr. Williamson, Colonel Garden, Major Huger, and Mr. Josiah Smith, Jun., be a Committee to consider and report the best way of procuring and keeping a Guard upon Bloody-Point.

Message to the President:

"May it Please your Excellency: This House having appointed a Committee to consider and report what articles were necessary to be imported from Philadelphia, for the use of this State, the said Committee accordingly reported; a copy of which report, as amended and agreed to by the House, we take leave to send you herewith, and to request that your Excellency will transmit the same, and write to the Delegates for this State, to cause the several articles, and the vessels therein mentioned, to be procured and sent hither as soon as may be, and to apply to the Congress to advance the money that may be necessary upon the occasion, for which proper credit will be given by this State, in the pay of the troops' money advanced to the Indian Commissioner, and otherwise in the general cause of the United Colonies."

Ordered, That the Message be engrossed, and that Mr. Speaker do sign the same.

Ordered, That Mr. Williamson and Dr. Haig do carry the Message to the President.

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen: On the 7th of May I was informed by a letter from the Committee of Secrecy, War and Intelligence, in North-Carolina, of their having received advice that the enemy, who then lay in Cape Fear river, had planned a descent at the mouth of Little River, near the borders of this Colony, in order to attempt a passage into the back country of that, by the Lake of Waccamaw. Having occasion to confer with the Honourable Colonel Powell on this subject, he urged very strongly the absolute necessity of building a stockade fort, and keeping a garrison at the Cheraw Hill, as a security against incursions of the disaffected about Cross Creeks, and for preventing or suppressing insurrections which they might occasion amongst our own people near the North-Carolina line—events which might be feared, especially if the intended junction between the British forces and the malecontents in that Province had taken place. I thought so much attention and respect due to the representation of a gentleman in his station, who was well acquainted with that part of the country, and had the command of a large regiment there, as to lay it before the Council for their advice, which I did. He attended them; and on considering what he offered on this head, they were unanimously of opinion that it was necessary to erect such a fort, and keep such a garrison. In consequence of which I gave orders for that purpose.

"JOHN RUTLEDGE.

"30th September, 1776."

A Petition of Philip Will was presented to the House, and read, in the following words:

Ordered, That the Petition be referred to the same Committee to whom the President's Message of the 26th past, respecting the Salaries to the Secretary and Messengers to the Privy Council and Paymaster to the Militia, was referred; and that Colonel McIntosh, Major Catlett, and Major Huger be added to the said Committee.

Then the House proceeded to take into consideration the Report of the Committee to whom the Memorial of the Vestry of the Parish of St. Philip was referred.

And the said Report being read, was agreed to by the House.

Ordered, That the Commissioners of the Treasury do advance upon loan to the Vestry of St. Philip's Parish a sum not exceeding fourteen thousand Pounds currency, to enable them to pay off the debt they have contracted, and to support the poor until a just and equitable tax may be levied by law.

Resolved, That this House will ballot for Commissioners to superintend and direct the Naval affairs of the State of South-Carolina.

And the House having proceeded to ballot accordingly, it appeared that Edward Blake, Thomas Savage, Josiah Smith, Jun., Thomas Corbett, Roger Smith, George Abbot Hall, and the Honourable Thomas Shubrick, Esquires, had the majority of votes.

A Bill for establishing a Board of Commissioners to superintend and direct the Naval affairs of the State of South-Carolina, was read a second time. And the names of the Commissioners being inserted, and several amendments made to the bill,

Ordered, That the Bill be sent to the Legislative Council.

"That the injuries complained of by the memorialist would be matter more proper for the inquiry of the courts below, than for the consideration of this House in the ordinary course of affairs. But inasmuch as prosecutions against the parties complained of and their attendance to answer might at this juncture prove detrimental to the publick service, your Committee recommend that Colonel Thomas be required immediately to transmit, and lay before this or the next House, a true state of the case; and, also, that he will immediately lodge in the publick Treasury such money, bonds, or other securities, as he may have taken for the sale of Mr. Pearis's goods; and that the sum of seven hundred pounds be advanced by this House to the memorialist upon the security of such money, bonds, &c., to serve for his occasions until the matter can be more fully considered."

And the first clause of the Report being read, was agreed to by the House.

And whereas a quantity of gunpowder and lead was by order of Congress lodged in the hands of the Committee of St. David's, for the use of the Militia, part of which powder and lead has been drawn out of their hands by orders of the commanding officer, the Committee do therefore recommend that orders be given to the said commanding officers to return such part of the said powder and lead as remains unused, to the aforesaid Committee."

The other petitioner, whose fine is one hundred pounds sterling, appears to the Committee not to have any property whatever. In consideration of the long and close imprisonment of the petitioners, and the ill state of health of John Thompson, the Committee has been induced to recommend that a resolution of this House be sent to the honourable the Legislative Council for their concurrence, and to his Excellency the President for his assent, to remit the fines laid on the said Thompsons, on the express condition that they shall quit the State in three months after their releasement."

Your memorialists, therefore, humbly pray, that this honourable House will be pleased to take the premises into consideration, and direct (if thought expedient) that one or more watch companies be immediately raised, for guarding the town, and the several batteries and outposts in and about the same. And your memorialists, as in duty bound, will ever pray."

Ordered, That the engrossing of the said Ordinance be postponed.

The Clerk of the Legislative Council brought from that House an Ordinance to direct the manner of procuring Negroes to be employed in the publick service. Read a third time in the said Council.

Ordered, That the Ordinance be engrossed.

Ordered, That leave be given to bring in a bill of general amnesty for all offences and misdemeanours against the laws of this State, antecedent to the fifth day of August last, the day on which the Declaration of the Independency of the States of America was made in this State, with an exception of State prisoners and any others which it might be injurious to the welfare of the State to include in such general amnesty. And that the Reverend Mr. Tennent, Colonel Pinckney, the Honourable Mr. Edwards, Mr. Cannon, and Mr. Young, do prepare and bring in the same.

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. Speaker: His Excellency the President is now in the Council Chamber, ready to receive this House with any bills or ordinances they may have to present."

And then the Messenger withdrew.

Mr. Speaker and the House accordingly attended his Excellency in the Council Chamber. And being returned, Mr. Speaker reported that this House having attended the President in the Council Chamber, he had presented to his Excellency the Ordinance for providing Juries for Beaufort District, at the next November Courts; and also an act for establishing a Board of Commissioners to superintend and direct the Naval affairs of South-Carolina. To both which his Excellency had been pleased to give his assent.

Ordered, That Hopson Pinckney, Esq., be cashier to this House.

A Petition of Henry Drew was presented to the House, received and read; also, a Petition of Robert Pearis.

Ordered, That both Petitions be referred to a Committee. And they are referred to the Reverend Mr. Tennent and Colonel Gervais.

Mr. Pinckney reported that Mr. Cordes and himself had delivered the Ordinance and Message they had in charge, to the Legislative Council.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow morning, ten of the clock, under a fine of twenty shillings on every member who shall neglect to attend precisely at that hour, to be paid immediately.

Wednesday, the 9th day of October, 1776.

The House met according to adjournment. Read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen: I herewith lay before you a letter from Brigadier-General Howe, it being his desire that the sentiments contained in it should be conveyed to you. Some of the matters which he recommends are anticipated by steps already taken to the same effect. I am persuaded, however, that you will pay due attention to the rest, and doubt not that the Executive power will have sanction and support of the Legislature for the execution of every measure necessary for the security and defence of the State.

"John Rutledge.

"8th October, 1776."

The Letter referred to in the Message being read, is as follows:

"Sir: The command of the military department of this State devolving upon me, I feel it my duty to lay before your Excellency, and by your means before the honourable Council and Assembly, my sentiments respecting the situation of this country, and the measures which appear to me necessary to place it in a proper state of defence. I am happy to find that the works at Fort Moultrie, and those requisite for establishing in case of accident a secure retreat to the garrison, are progressing so rapidly. When the fort is finished, I have no doubt of its being able to repel any attack made upon it in front; but without a considerable number of works to secure it from being assailed in reverse, in would not, in my opinion, be long maintained against any formidable attempt in that quarter. The methods best calculated to preserve it, would be to erect proper works on the point of Sullivant's Island, next to Long-Island, where it is probable the enemy would attempt to land; and by a chain of redoubts or other works from thence to the fort, be prepared to dispute the ground with them inch by inch should they effect a landing.

"I at present imagine it may be necessary to throw up some defence where Colonel Moultrie kept his quarter guard, but the transient view I had of the island leaves me unprepared to speak with precision either as to the number or form of the works, or the particular spots on which they ought to be erected. It is sufficient, however, that a variety of them are wanted—that a great many hands are requisite to carry them on. The number need not be ascertained, as the more there are employed, the sooner we shall finish, and that the necessity for erecting such works is absolute and immediate.

"The post at Haddrel's ought directly to be put in a much more respectable state than it is at present. That station would be important, even if it had no connection with Sullivant's. How much more so it must appear when we consider that should the enemy possess it, our soldiers on Sullivant's could neither retreat or be supported; indeed, circumstances that make it important multiply upon me as I write. I shall, however, suppress the expression of them, as I presume the consideration I have mentioned is alone sufficient to induce the attention of your Legislature.

"The walls of Fort Johnson require to be well cased with palmetto logs, without which I conceive a smart cannonade would so shock the foundation that it would not support the superstructure. But was there no danger of this, it ought not to remain as it is, as the fragments of brick, which would be shattered off by the shot, would inevitably destroy a great number of our men; and this both policy and humanity call upon us to prevent. I confess myself not pleased with the lower battery; and if we have time, after we have got over those matters more immediately wanted, I should wish for an alteration.

"I come next to an object very near my heart; I mean the preservation of this capital. The spirited conduct of its inhabitants in opposition to the encroachments of tyranny, even at a time when their property was likely to fall a sacrifice to their laudable zeal, demonstrates that they nobly prefer publick good to private considerations, however interesting, and gives them a just claim to assistance from their neighbours, though the common cause was not concerned in their safety. But, sir, when we contemplate the situation of this town, fixed at the confluence of several rivers which open a passage into the very bosom of your country, commanding almost your whole inland navigation and, if possessed by the enemy, all your exteriour traffick, with houses sufficient to barrack comfortably a great body of troops, and an harbour extensive enough to admit almost any number of ships, surrounded almost by water which the enemy would command, and approachable only by a narrow neck of land which they would fortify, it would be perhaps the most secure and noble place of arms for them imaginable, from which they could with the same body of troops execute the purposes of despotism on three different States, and the possession give their arms an eclat the influence of which might be dreadfully diffusive. It would bring upon our backs every tribe of Indians, and call to their banners an host of domestick insurgents. All these circumstances must make it a capital object to them, and combine to prove that the loss of this town may be reckoned among the deepest wounds the cause of freedom could receive in this department. Publick good, therefore, and private interest, unite to induce us immediately to put it into a proper state of defence. To hesitate one moment might possibly be to lose the opportunity which Providence has lent us. And all idea of expense, however great, should be lost in the importance of the object. One step towards obtaining this desirable end would be to prevent, if possible, the approach of ships to the town. And this, I conceive, may probably be effected by throwing obstructions across the channel, opposite to Fort Moultrie, at those places which would expose them most to the fire of the fort. I am made happy at being informed this work is begun, and trust such hands are employed as will execute it properly. I must, however, take the liberty to say, that when I consider the amazing impetus with which ships under full sail come in contact with any body that obstructs their motion, that I doubt whether any single work can be made substantial enough to be effectual. The method I should recommend would be to have one work within another, the second so near the first that it should take up the vessel if she surmounted the first difficulty, before she had time to regain her way.

"The next thing, sir, is to put the town in such a state of defence that the enemy, in case they get up with their ships, may meet with the most obstinate opposition. It gives me concern to think that it is far from being in this state at present; several of the batteries, having capital errours, require to be pulled down and rebuilt; and it will, I am persuaded, be found necessary to erect others at different places. The extempore works thrown up about the town, are by no means to be depended upon. They were executed in a hurry, and under the expectation of an immediate attack. They ought to be altered in many places, and at all to be made more effectual. As the interest of the inhabitants and good of the common cause will, I doubt not, dispose the people of this country to defend their capital to the last extremity, and as the working of a number of traverses across the streets are not only necessary to the obstinate defence of it, but will prevent the great execution which might otherwise happen from an enfilade, the materials for building these works should directly be provided. They would at present perhaps incommode the passage of the inhabitants, so need not be immediately erected, but the necessary apparatus should be deposited at convenient places, to be ready occasionally.

"I have much to regret the exceeding weak state of the back part of your town. Assailable at many places—at none prepared to repel an attack—it requires our immediate attention. Nor am I less anxious about the neck that leads out of town. The officer we may have to deal with this winter is an officer of enterprise and resources, with judgment to discern, and a disposition to take all the advantages he cannot but observe. Should the Neck remain as it is, how easy it would be for an inferiour army to shut in a superiour; and it admits not of a doubt but he will, if he can, avail himself of it. To prevent this, many works are requisite; and the sooner they are undertaken, the better. I shall now, sir, proceed to some circumstances of defence, of a more general tendency; among these the building of some row-galleys appear to me as very consequential. I think it far from being improbable that they may be so constructed as to be formidable to men-of-war in their progress over your bar; and it is certain they must be so, should the ships ever get up and lay before the town. They will prevent all tenders, or other small armed vessels, from marauding those inhabitants who live upon the river, make it difficult, if not impossible, for the enemy to transport their troops by water into the country—a circumstance essentially important to the very being of this State. They will convey your troops to Georgia with safety and expedition, should that State require your aid, and facilitate the arrival of theirs should your exigencies make it necessary; in short, the advantages of them are so manifold that I earnestly hope they may claim your attention. As this State, and some neighbouring ones, are unhappily unequal in themselves to any formidable invasion, they must depend entirely upon the assistance they can mutually yield to each other. Every thing, therefore, which can retard the march of troops, should be removed, and every measure fallen upon which can contribute to bring them up with the utmost expedition. If North-Carolina and Georgia would join your State in establishing magazines of provisions at proper places between your countries, it would certainly prevent a great deal of delay; but this I am afraid will be a work of time.

"I beg leave, sir, to urge the absolute necessity of keeping a great number of wagons always in the publick service. Experience has taught me how difficult it is to procure them when suddenly wanted; and the time is probably at hand when the least delay may be attended with very fatal consequences.

"The great delay I have met with in marching men at the ferries of every State, and at none more particularly than in this, induces me to wish that in future they may be better provided with boats. Few, if any of them, have more than one flat, and that generally not a good one; so that it will take a whole day to get over a battalion and its baggage. I leave you, sir, to judge what may be the event of this, when the fate of a country may depend upon a single hour.

"The roads, at all times an object of publick notice, become of peculiar importance at this crisis, as upon the goodness of them an expeditious march in a great measure depends. I would urge, as a circumstance exceedingly necessary, the collecting and keeping for publick use a great number of canoes and other rowing-boats, as in a country so cut to pieces with water-courses and penetrable at such a variety of places, it is very uncertain where you may have occasion to convey your troops, or from whence to bring them. A provision of this kind, therefore, seems to be an act of necessity. Certain I am, that in the late military operations of this country, the want of them was severely felt by the General, and the service greatly injured by it.

"The short time I have been in this country renders it impossible for me to be so well acquainted with the geography of it as I wish, or as I hope soon to be; I therefore cannot undertake to point out every place where it might be necessary to erect works, or take other methods to prevent or render difficult the enemy's access. I am happy, however, in the consideration that you, sir, and many members of your Legislature, from the perfect knowledge of this country, are adequate to this; and, in the firm persuasion that it will be properly attended to. The building of barracks at those places where, in case of an invasion, we should be obliged to station troops, particularly at Haddrel's, is a matter that ought by no means to be neglected. The inconveniences which the soldiers suffered for want of them, and the ill effect it had upon their health, even in the summer season, make it evident that they cannot endure a winter campaign without them. I am loath to mention a provision which I am fearful it will be difficult to make: I mean of clothes and blankets for the men; but I should be wanting in attention to them not to express a wish that every method may be fallen upon to procure them.

"I know not whether the islands along your seaboard have any live stock upon them; but if they have, and are suffered to remain there, I cannot but consider them as the absolute property of the enemy. I therefore think it my duty, in the most earnest manner, to urge that they be immediately removed; indeed, I think the proprietors of these islands ought not to be suffered to occupy them at all at present, that the enemy may have no temptation to make or receive benefit by making a lodgement on them.

"There are other matters which strike me as necessary to the defence of this country, and from further observation many more may occur to me; but as I presume Government, in the recess of Assembly, will be furnished with powers to provide for contingencies, I have no occasion to trouble you with them now.

"I enter into the next object of my consideration with exceeding diffidence and anxiety, lest I should be thought to have exceeded the bounds of propriety by touching upon it at all. If, sir, unfortunately for me, that should be the case, will your Legislature do me the justice to impute it to the zeal I have for the service of this State, and kindly admit the cause to excuse the effect? The number of regular troops allotted to this country are not enough for its defence, though all the battalions were full. This, sir, militates strongly in favour of a well-regulated Militia, and I am happy to hear it is the subject of your present deliberations. But as a military system, exclusive of Militia, has been established in Virginia, which experience has shown to be a very good one, I presume just to hint it to you—I mean the establishing of Minute battalions. In order to do this, their State was divided into districts, and each district furnished a battalion of Minute-men. Persons of the greatest consequence and influence were appointed as officers, who inlisted the men from the body of the Militia. These men, besides attending a number of private musters, were at stated periods obliged to imbody in battalions for a specified number of days, and go through all the discipline and manœuvres of a camp. During this time they were paid and provisioned by the publick, and were at all times liable to be called into the service. I had the honour to command a great number of them the last winter; and it is but justice to them to say, that they deserved to be ranked among the best of our troops. The men of these battalions being inlisted upon the express condition of turning out occasionally, are always in expectation of, and will be always prepared for it. They are generally better armed, and will probably be better disciplined, than Militia, and may either make it unnecessary to call out the latter at all, or make a stand against the enemy while they are collecting. But whether such establishment may suit the policy of this country the wisdom of your Legislature will determine.

"Permit me, sir, again, in the most earnest manner, to urge the absolute necessity of immediately taking measures to place us in the best state of defence possible. Our private interest, and our fidelity to the common cause exact it of us. To lose the opportunity we now have, is to neglect the first and betray the latter.

"Happy should I have been had not the necessity of service deprived you of the Commander-in-Chief of the Southern department at this critical juncture, from whose indefatigable attention to his duty, and from whose spirit and abilities in the execution of it, you could not but have derived every possible benefit. I, sir, have nothing to offer you but an assurance of the most unwearied attention to the duties of my station, the utmost exertion of such abilities as I have, and that I shall, by my most strenuous efforts in the service of your country, demonstrate the zeal and attachment I feel for the glorious cause of freedom, to which I have devoted myself.

"I have the honour to be, with the greatest respect, sir, your Excellency's most obedient and very humble servant,

"ROBERT HOWE.

"Charles-Town, 6th October, 1776."

Another Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN: I send you several Resolves of the Continental Congress, and an extract of a letter which I lately received from Mr. Edward Rutledge. As the men hereafter inlisted into the six battalions to be furnished from this State should, I apprehend, be engaged till the end of the war, and the bounty allowed by Congress is considerably increased, your late resolution is now inadequate. It will, therefore, be necessary that you should determine what allowance or encouragement shall be given by this State to the men who may be inlisted here agreeable to those resolves.

"JOHN RUTLEDGE.

"9th October, 1776."

The extract of a Letter from the Honourable Mr. Edward Rutledge, dated Philadelphia, 25th September, 1776, being read, is as followeth:

"The Congress are resolved to raise eighty-eight battalions, to continue during the war. We mean to reinlist all those who are now engaged, if they will serve. It is not intended by the resolutions that you should raise six battalions over and above what you now have, but that they should be reinlisted to serve during the war."

The Resolves of the Continental Congress of the 14th, 16th, 18th, and 19th of September, 1776, being read, are as follow:

"IN CONGRESS, September 14, 1776.—Whereas the Delegates of South-Carolina have represented that by an arrangement made in Congress on the 18th day of June last the Regiment of Artillery and two Regiments of Riflemen raised in that Province will obtain precedency over a Regiment of Rangers, though the latter was raised before either of the former; which may be attended with consequences extremely prejudicial to the service: Therefore,

"Resolved, That the said Regiment of Rangers, commanded by Colonel William Thomson, do still keep the same station it had in the Provincial arrangement, and be entitled to rank in the same way as other regiments in the Continental service.

"Extract from the Minutes:

"CHARLES THOMSON, Secretary."

"IN CONGRESS, September 16th, 1776.—Resolved, That eighty-eight Battalions be inlisted as soon as possible, to serve during the present war; and that each State furnish their respective quotas in the following proportions, viz:

| New-Hampshire, | 3 | Battalions. |
| Massachusetts-Bay, | 15 | ditto. |
| Rhode-Island, | 2 | ditto. |

| New-York, | 4 | ditto. |
| New-Jersey, | 4 | ditto. |
| Pennsylvania, | 12 | ditto. |
| Delaware, | 1 | ditto. |
| Maryland, | 8 | ditto. |
| Virginia, | 15 | ditto. |
| North-Carolina, | 9 | ditto. |
| South-Carolina, | 6 | ditto. |
| Georgia, | 1 | ditto. |

"That twenty Dollars be given as a bounty to each Non-Commissioned Officer and Private Soldier, who shall inlist to serve during the present war, unless sooner discharged by Congress:

"That Congress make provision for granting Lands, in the following proportions: to the Officers and Soldiers who shall so engage in the service, and continue therein to the close of the war, or until discharged by Congress, and to the representatives of such Officers and Soldiers as shall be slain by the enemy; such lands to be provided by the United States, and whatever expense shall be necessary to procure such land, the said expense shall be paid and borne by the States in the same proportion as the other expenses of the war, viz:

"To a Colonel, 500 acres; to a Lieutenant-Colonel, 450 acres; to a Major, 400 do.; to a Captain, 300 do.; to a Lieutenant, 200 do.; to an Ensign, 150 do.; each Non-Commissioned Officer and Soldier, 100 do.:

"That the appointment of all Officers, and filling vacancies, (except General Officers) be left to the Governments of the several States, and that every State provide Arms, Clothing, and every necessary for its quota of Troops, according to the foregoing estimate: The expense of the Clothing to be deducted from the pay of the Troops, as usual:

"That all Officers be commissioned by Congress:

"That it be recommended to the several States that they take the most speedy and effectual measures for inlisting their several quotas:

"That the money to be given for Bounties be paid by the Paymaster in the Department where the Soldier shall inlist:

"That each Soldier receive pay and subsistence from the time of their inlistment."

"SEPTEMBER 18th, 1776.—That if Rations be received by the Officers or Privates in the Continental Army in money, they be paid at the rate of eight-nineteenth parts of a dollar per ration:

"That the Bounty and grants of Land offered by Congress, by a resolution of the 10th instant, as an encouragement to the Officers and Soldiers to engage to serve in the Army of the United States during the war, shall extend to all who are or shall be inlisted for that term: the bounty of ten dollars which any of the Soldiers have received from the Continent on account of a former inlistment, to be reckoned in part payment of the twenty dollars offered by said resolution:

"That no Officer in the Continental Army is allowed to hold more than one commission, or to receive pay but in one capacity."

"SEPTEMBER 19th, 1776.—That the Adjutants in the Continental Army be allowed the Pay and Rations of Captains, and have the rank of First Lieutenants.

"In order to prevent the Officers and Soldiers who shall be entitled to the Lands hereafter to be granted by the resolution of Congress of the 16th, from disposing of the same during the war,

"Resolved, That this Congress will not grant Lands to any person or persons claiming under the assignment of any officer or soldier.

"By order of the Congress:

"JOHN HANCOCK, President."

Ordered, That the Messages from the President of yesterday and this day's dates, and the several papers accompanying the same, be referred to a Committee; and they are referred to the Honourable Mr. Lowndes, the Honourable Mr. Edwards, the Honourable Mr. Justice Bee, Mr. Attorney-General, Colonel Pinckney, Mr. John Waring, Major Simons, Colonel McIntosh, Mr. Williamson, and Captain Savage.

The following gentlemen were returned duly elected members of the present General Assembly, viz: Alexander Moultrie, Esquire, for Charles-Town, in the room of Cato Ash, Esquire, deceased; the Honourable Thomas Bee, Esquire, for the Parish of St. Andrew, in the room of the Honourable Thomas Fuller, Esquire; William Parker, Esquire, for St. James, Goose Creek, in the room of the Honourable John Parker.

Ordered, That the said new-elected members have immediate notice by the Messenger to attend this House.

A Letter from Edward Blake, Esquire, addressed to the House, was laid before them, and read in the following words:

"October 9th, 1776.

"GENTLEMEN: The Commissioners of the Navy Board, on inquiry, find that a Captain is wanted for the Brigantine Comet. They beg leave to recommend Captain Stephen Seymour and Captain Edward Allen as fit persons for the Legislature to make choice of.

"EDWARD BLAKE, First Commissioner."

Resolved, That this House will proceed to ballot, jointly with the honourable the Legislative Council, for a Captain of the Brigantine Comet.

Ordered, That the attendance of the members of the Legislative Council in this House be desired, to join in balloting for a Captain of the Brigantine Comet.

The Honourable Mr. Bee and Mr. Attorney-General attending according to order, and being called in, took the oath prescribed by the Constitution, and their seats as members.

John Bull, Esquire, also took the oath prescribed by the Constitution, and his seat as a member for Prince William's Parish.

Ordered, That Mr. Ralph Izard and Mr. Thomas Waring do examine and compare, with some member of the Legislative Council, an engrossed Ordinance to direct the manner of procuring Negroes to be employed in the publick service.

Mr. Izard reported that Mr. Waring and himself had, as ordered, examined and compared the Ordinance, and that they found it truly engrossed.

Ordered, That Mr. Waring and Mr. Izard do attend the President with the Ordinance, in order to have the seal affixed thereto, and to desire to know when his Excellency will please to receive this House, to present the same for his assent.

Mr. Waring reported that Mr. Izard and himself had delivered the Message they had in charge to the President, and that his Excellency was pleased to say he would receive this House in ten minutes in the Council Chamber.

Resolved, That the Commissioners appointed by this House on the 27th September last, to purchase a cargo of Salt arrived here in the Sloop Margaret, be, and they are hereby, authorized and required in like manner to purchase all other Salt that shall be imported here to the first day of December next, and to sell and distribute the Salt to be so purchased in the same manner and in such proportions as is directed by order of this House of the 2d instant.

Resolved, That the Commissioners of St. David's Parish do take into their custody the Salt now in Mr. John Mitchell's store at Cheraw Hill, paying for the same at the rate of fifty shillings currency per bushel; and that they sell and distribute the said Salt to and amongst such of the inhabitants of this State who have not lately received a dividend of the Salt in Charles-Town or at Winyah as shall apply for the same, in the proportion of one half-bushel to six white persons in a family.

A Petition of Elizabeth Black, widow, was presented to the House, and read, in the following words:

"That the petitioner's late husband, Robert Black, was late a soldier in the Second Regiment in the service of this State, and was, in the gallant defence of Fort Moultrie, on Sullivan's Island, on the 28th day of June last, grievously and mortally wounded, and died on the 11th day of July next after; that the petitioner, besides a daughter married, hath one daughter fifteen years old, another twelve years, a son of a very sickly habit of body about eight years, a daughter about six, and another son about four years old; that she hath no friends or relations in this State from whom she can expect the least assistance for the support of herself and this family, and that she is in very poor and indigent circumstances; that the petitioner having lately made application to his Excellency the President and the honourable the Privy Council, his Excellency was pleased, with the advice of that Board, to order fifty pounds to be paid her, and that she should be entitled to receive the pay of her husband until the sitting of this House; that the petitioner is very desirous of returning from this State, in which herself and children have been very sickly, to her native State, friends, and relations, in Pennsylvania, but is unable to bear the expense of such a journey. The petitioner therefore humbly prays that this honourable House will take the premises into consideration, and grant her such relief as to them in their wisdom shall seem meet."

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. Speaker: His Excellency the President is now in the Council Chamber, ready to receive this House with the Ordinance they have to present."

And then the Messenger withdrew.

Mr. Speaker, with the House, accordingly attended the President in the Council Chamber. And being returned, Mr. Speaker reported, that the House having attended the President in the Council Chamber, he had presented to his Excellency "An Ordinance to direct the manner of procuring Negroes to be employed in the publick service," to which his Excellency had been pleased to give his assent.

The Clerk of the Legislative Council brought from that House a Bill establishing a proper Oath of Qualification to be taken by the members of the General Assembly, to direct the method of choosing Parochial and District Committees, for authorizing the returning officers of St. David's Parish to hold their elections one day at the Church and one day at the Court-House, and for other purposes therein mentioned. Read a second time in the said Council.

The said Bill being read a third time,

Resolved, That the Bill do pass.

Ordered, That the Bill be sent to the Legislative Council for their concurrence.

Ordered, That Captain Harlston and Major Simons do carry the Bill to the Legislative Council.

A Bill to empower the Court of Admiralty to have jurisdiction in all cases of the capture of the ships and other vessels of the inhabitants and subjects of Great Britain, to establish the trial by Jury in the said court in cases of capture, and for other purposes therein mentioned, was read a second time.

Ordered, That the Bill be sent to the Legislative Council.

Ordered, That Major Simons and Captain Harlston do carry the Bill to the Legislative Council.

Colonel Gervais reported from the Committee to whom was referred the Petition of Henry Drew. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read in the words following:

"That they repaired to the Jail and examined the petitioner, who they find is a prisoner of war, belonging to the Fortieth Regiment of Foot of his Britannick Majesty. And therefore your Committee are of opinion that his application would come more properly before General Howe, Commander-in-Chief, for the time being, of the Continental troops here."

The Report being read a second time,

Resolved, That this House do agree with the Report of the Committee.

The Reverend Mr. Tennent reported from the Committee to whom the Petition of Robert Pearis was referred. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as follows:

"That they went to the common jail in Charles-Town, and made the best inquiry they could into the case of the said Robert Pearis. They found him confined, as the petition sets forth, in an upper apartment prepared for common criminals, the windows of the room without sashes or glass to keep out the weather, although so constructed as easily to admit of glass. They found that the roof of the jail was so defective as continually to leak when it rains, not only to the injury of the apartment in question, but of every other in the jail, to the manifest danger of the health of the unhappy creatures confined there, as well as to the great damage of the building. They also report that they conversed with Mr. Pearis on the cause of his confinement, and found him, although disposed to take an oath of neutrality, yet determined against every kind of opposition to the arms of his Britannick Majesty, considering himself a subject of Great Britain, notwithstanding the declaration of independency. They can, therefore, only recommend that Mr. Pearis be admitted to come down into the lower apartments of the jail, and to walk in the garden in the day time, upon his parole that he will take no advantage of this indulgence; but that in case of actual invasion, he, with other prisoners, should be confined more strictly. Your Committee was afflicted to find that not only Mr. Pearis, but some prisoners of war, although sick, were shut up with common criminals, and confined to the same provisions with them. And although it was not expressly committed to them, and only fell under their observation in the course of their inquiry into Mr. Pearis's grievances, yet common compassion for the miserable, and a regard for the honour of this State, induce them to recommend it to the House to appoint a committee to examine into the state of the jail and the treatment of the prisoners of war, and enjoin it upon them to report thereon as speedily as possible."

The Report being read a second time,

Resolved, That this House do agree with the Report of the Committee.

Ordered, That the Reverend Mr. Tennent, Colonel Gervais, and Captain Scott, be a Committee to examine and report to this House the state of the Jail and the treatment of the prisoners of war.

Mr. De Saussure reported from the Committee to consider the best means of providing, maintaining, and regulating a Pilot-Boat and Pilot for Beaufort. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read in the words following:

"That not less than five Commissioners be appointed, whose power shall be to superintend the pilotage for said port, to cause a pilot-boat to be built, and for the payment of which this House do grant them a sum not exceeding three thousand pounds currency, to be paid to their order by the Treasurers. "That it is their opinion that the prayer of the petition should be granted, and that the sum of four hundred pounds currency be given to the petitioner, to enable her to transport herself to the State of Pennsylvania, or to any other northern State in which she, the petitioner, shall think the health of her family may be established, in full and in lieu of all claims which she might have against the publick of this State."

The Honourable Mr. Lowndes reported from the Committee to whom it was referred to revise the Constitution or form of Government, and to report to the House such alterations or additions as may be expedient to make thereto; and he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, in the words following:

"That inasmuch as the Constitution or form of Government agreed to and resolved upon on the 26th day of March last, was calculated for and suited to the then situation of publick affairs and looking forward to an accommodation of differences with Great Britain, (an event then desired,) was temporary only: And whereas the American States are now constituted Independent States, and the political connection heretofore subsisting between them and Great Britain is dissolved, and it therefore becomes necessary, in order to perfect and perpetuate the said Constitution or form of Government, that some amendments and alterations should be made thereto, your Committee therefore humbly recommend the following:

"1. That instead of Province or Colony, the style hereafter be, the State of South-Carolina.

"2. That the second Resolution of the said Constitution, which requires that the Legislative Council be elected out of the body of the Representatives of the people, be altered, and hereafter that the Legislative Council be elected either out of the body of the Representatives or from the people at large.

"3. That the fourth Resolution be altered so that no vacancies hereafter happening in the General Assembly by the election of any member into the Legislative Council be filled up by a new election.

"4. Fifth: That the number of the Privy Council be increased to nine members, including the Vice-President; four to be chosen by each House either out of the Houses respectively or from the people at large: the Quorum to consist of five.

"5. Tenth: That this Resolution shall not be construed to vacate the seat of any member who is or may be a Delegate from this State to the Continental Congress, as such.

"6. Eleventh: That when the House can possess itself of proper information so as to estimate the particular and comparative strength and property of the different parts of this State, that then the House do proceed to a reduction of the present representation in the most equal and just proportion, regard being always had to the number of white inhabitants and property of the people.

"7. Thirteenth: That the President and Commander-in-Chief, or any future President or Commander-in-Chief to be elected President at any of the stated elections hereafter, shall not be eligible to serve in the said office after the expiration of the term of their first election, for and during the full end and term of six years.

"8. Fourteenth: That in case of the sickness or absence from Charles-Town of the President and Commander-in-Chief, the Vice-President, being empowered thereto by the President, shall act in his stead during such sickness or absence, agreeably to a law passed 6th April, 1776.

"9. Sixteenth: That a Chancellor be appointed to preside in the Court of Chancery, and this clause giving power to the Vice-President and Privy Council to exercise the powers of a Court of Chancery be annulled.

"10. That the House do also appoint or direct that proper persons be empowered in the several Districts in this State to prove wills, grant administrations, and do such other matters as are incident to a Court of Ordinary, that the people of this State may avoid the great expense and trouble of coming to Charles-Town on every such occasion.

"11. That a Court of Appeals be also established in this State, and Judges appointed, to consist of seven persons, to have cognizance in all matters of errour; that they be elected and commissioned in the same manner the other Judges are directed to be, and liable to be removed as prescribed in the twentieth clause.

"12. Twenty-second: That the Collector and the Comptroller of the Country Duties be balloted for and appointed in the same manner as the other officers are directed to be by the twenty-second resolve.

"13. Twenty-eighth: That all Resolutions of the Continental Congress shall be of full force until altered by them.

"14. Thirty-third: That the Oath enjoined to be taken by all persons appointed to any place of trust, be amended by leaving out the words 'until an accommodation of the differences between Great Britain and America shall take place.'

"Your Committee further recommend, that in order to avoid, as much as possible, unhappy differences and jealousies amongst the inhabitants of this State with regard to religious principles, that no Ministers of the Gospel or Priest of any religious persuasion be permitted or allowed to be a member of either House."

Ordered, That the Report be taken into consideration to-morrow.

It being moved and seconded, that inasmuch as the fourth clause of an Act entitled "An Act for appointing a publick Treasurer and other publick Officers," passed the 20th day of September, 1721, incapacitating members of the Council or Commons House of Assembly from being publick Treasurer, Comptroller, or Powder-Receiver, is of force, therefore the House do resolve that the seats of the present Treasurers who are members of this House, are vacant.

After some debate thereon,

Ordered, That this matter be referred to the Committee of Privileges and Elections.

Mr. Attorney-General reported from the Committee to whom the President's Message of the 8th and 9th instant, and the extracts of a Letter and Resolves of the Continental Congress accompanying the same, were referred. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That in order to comply with the recommendation of the Continental Congress to take the most speedy and effectual measures for inlisting our quota of troops, they are of opinion that a bounty of two dollars, over and above the Continental bounty, be given to such non-commissioned officers and private soldiers who shall inlist to serve during the present war in any of the South-Carolina regiments on the Continental establishment; and that in lieu of the bounty formerly given to officers for recruits, each recruiting officer be allowed, besides his pay, two dollars per day for each day he shall be actually on that service. Your Committee likewise recommend that the two regiments of Riflemen as soon as their present time of inlistment is expired, shall be put upon the same establishment with regard to pay, bounty, and clothing, as the two regiments of Infantry."

Ordered, That the Report be taken into consideration to-morrow.

Ordered, That Colonel Gervais, Mr. Williams, Captain Singleton, Captain Patrick, Captain Harrington, Major Cattell, and the Honourable Mr. Justice Matthews, be added to the Committee on the President's Message accompanied by Brigadier-General Howe's Letter.

The House then proceeded in the second reading of a Bill for establishing, keeping, and maintaining, three Watch companies in Charles-Town.

Upon reading the sixth section, a motion was made to strike out these words at the end thereof, viz: "and when the Militia of this State are called out and do actual duty, that then the officers and private men of the said Watch companies respectively shall be allowed such rations as are provided for the officers and private men of the said Militia." And the question being put, it passed in the negative.

The Bill being read the second time,

Ordered, That the Bill be sent to the Legislative Council.

Ordered, That Major Simons and Mr. Thomas Middleton, Jun., do carry the Bill to the Legislative Council.

Mr. Pinckney reported that Mr. Waring and himself had delivered the Message they had in charge to the Legislative Council.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow morning, ten of the clock.

Tuesday, the 15th day of October, 1776.

The House met according to adjournment. Read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

William Tucker, Esquire, was returned as duly elected a Representative of the District of Saxe-Gotha.

Mr. Tucker, attending at the door, was called in, and took the oath prescribed by the Constitution, and his seat as a member.

The House being moved that the order made on the 12th instant "for postponing the second reading of a bill for the better regulation of the Militia of this State, and for repealing all the Militia Laws and Resolves of the Provincial Congress respecting the Militia heretofore made," be discharged,

Ordered, That the said order be discharged.

Ordered, That the order of the day, to take into consideration the Report of the Committee to whom it was referred to revise the Constitution or form of Government, and to report to the House such alterations or additions as may be expedient to make thereto, be postponed till to-morrow.

The House then proceeded upon the other order of the day, to take into consideration the Report of the Committee to whom the President's Message of the 8th and 9th instant, with the papers accompanying the same, were referred; and the Report being taken into consideration accordingly, was amended and agreed to by the House, and is in the words following:

"That in order to comply with the recommendation of the Continental Congress to take the most speedy and effectual measures for inlisting our quota of troops, they are of opinion that a bounty of ten dollars, over and above the Continental bounty, be given to such non-commissioned officers and private soldiers who shall inlist to serve during the present war in any of the South-Carolina regiments, on the Continental establishment; and, that in lieu of the bounty formerly given to officers for recruits, each recruiting officer be allowed, besides their pay, two dollars per day for each day he shall be actually on that service. Your Committee likewise recommend that the Fifth Regiment of this State shall immediately, or as soon as may be, be put upon the same establishment with regard to arms, pay, bounty, and clothing, as the two regiments of Infantry are; and that the Sixth Regiment shall likewise be put upon the same establishment in the like respects as soon as the field officers of the last-mentioned regiment shall agree thereto."

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen: Your message of the 11th of April having been notified to the Crown-officers therein described, none of them chose to leave the Province, except Mr. Savage and Mr. Simpson. The Council, therefore, did not think it advisable that they should be permitted to go, and at the time of the late invasion judged it expedient to confine all those persons: they are now restrained to their respective houses. I desire your advice in what manner they should be disposed of in future. I think it proper to acquaint you that Messrs. James Brisbane, John Champney, Henry Mickie, John Tunno, and James Carsan, being deemed persons whose going at large might endanger the safety of the Colony or the liberties of America, were, by advice of the Council, ordered to be, and now are, confined, some in George-Town and others in the Cheraws jail.

"John Rutledge.

"15th October, 1776."

Ordered, That the Message be taken into consideration to-morrow.

A Bill of free and general pardon and amnesty was read a second time. And the question being put, whether the Bill should be sent to the Legislative Council, it passed in the negative.

Resolved, That the Bill be rejected.

Resolved, That this House will make provision to defray the expense of a way to a temporary landing-place at low water upon Mr. William Gibbes's wharf.

Message to the Legislative Council:

"Honourable Gentlemen: On the 11th instant we sent you, for your concurrence therein, a resolution, 'that 'the Commissioners of the Treasury, as a further encourage-'ment to the commander and mariners belonging to the vessel 'called the Revenge, do pay and advance to the said com-'mander and men out of the amount of the sales of the 'cargo taken from on board the transport brigantine called 'the Glasgow Packet, one-sixth of the neat amount of sales 'of the said cargo;' and we now desire to know if your Honours have concurred accordingly; and if you have, that you will please to order the same to be sent to his Excellency for his assent."

Ordered, That the Message be engrossed, and that Mr. Speaker do sign the same.

Ordered, That the Honourable Mr. Edwards and Mr. De Saussure do carry the Message to the Legislative Council.

Mr. Harrington reported from the Committee to revise the list of Magistrates and to report the names of persons proper to be added thereto; and he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That they recommend the following names to be added to the list of Magistrates:

"For Charles-Town District: Paul Townsend, John Colcock, Richard Mercer, William Holmes, Thomas Farr, William Nisbett, Charles Gaillard, Joseph Atkinson, and John Ward, of St. Bartholomew's Parish.

"For Camden District: Robert Goodwin, Joseph Kirkland, Abijah Rambert, John Howe, Alexander Love, Joham Moore, John Wylly, John Cook, John Gabriel Guignard.

"For Orangeburg District: William Robinson, George Pellis, George King, Charles Heatley, Jacob Christopher Zahn, Briton Williams, Isaac Bush, Jarrad Nielson, John Caldwell."

Resolved, That the Report be taken into consideration immediately.

And the Report being taken into consideration accordingly,

Resolved, That this House do agree with the Report of the Committee.

Ordered, That the Commissioners of the Treasury do pay to Elizabeth Black, or her order, the sum of four hundred Pounds currency, for the purpose mentioned in the Report of the Committee to whom the Petition of the said Elizabeth Black was referred.

Resolved, That if any Slaves employed in the publick service shall be killed, maimed, or disabled, in such service, this House will make provision to indemnify the owner of such Slave.

Resolved, also, That all such Slaves as shall be taken sick whilst employed in the publick service, shall be forthwith returned to their owners, if they require it, or conveyed to a proper Hospital, and there supplied with necessary sustenance, medicines, and attendance, until they shall be able to return to work, or be sent to their respective owners.

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen: Having applied to Brigadier-General Howe for such returns of the Continental battalions lately in the pay and service of this State as you desire by your message of the 4th instant, he has furnished me with those of the first, second, fourth, and fifth, which I herewith lay before you. He has received no returns of the third and sixth, but says the former is on command; the latter is with Colonel Williamson on the expedition against the Cherokee Indians. Captain Trapier's Artillery company consists of forty-two matrosses. I have no late return of Captain Harden's, at Beaufort, but think he has about eighty.

"John Rutledge.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow morning, ten of the clock.

Wednesday, the 16th day of October, 1776.

The House met agreeable to adjournment. Read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this House that the Commissioners of the Navy do forthwith furnish and supply Colonel Gadsden with all the assistance, of vessels and hands, in their power to procure, to carry on the publick work he is now about; and that a copy of this Resolution be served on the said Commissioners.

Mr. Neufville reported from the Committee to consider and report to the House proper ways and means of supplying the Treasury in the recess of the House with such moneys as may be immediately wanted for the publick service, and how the moneys issued that have been counterfeited may best be called in and the counterfeiting of the same prevented. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That one hundred and thirty thousand Pounds be emitted in bills of one to ten dollars, which, with the emissions of Congress, will make an even sum of two millions; and to authorize and empower the Commissioners of the Treasury, when they shall be so ordered to do by the President, with the advice of the Privy Council, to obtain on loan from any persons disposed to lend the same, such sums as the exigencies of the State may require, and to pay interest at the rate of six per centum per annum; that it be recommended to all Magistrates to be vigilant and attentive in apprehending and conveying to Jail every person who shall counterfeit or utter, knowing them to be counterfeit, the certificates issued by the late Houses of Assembly or the Continental or Colonial currency which hath been already or shall be hereafter issued; and that the law be duly executed for punishing of this offence."

Resolved, That the Report be taken into consideration immediately.

And the Report being taken into consideration accordingly, was amended and agreed to, in the following words:

"That it is their opinion, and they therefore recommend, that one hundred and thirty thousand Pounds be emitted in bills of one to ten dollars, which, with the emissions of Congress, will make an even sum of two millions; and that the Commissioners of the Treasury be authorized and empowered, when they shall be so ordered to do by the President, with the advice of the Privy Council, to obtain on loan from any persons or bodies corporate disposed to lend the same, such sums as the exigencies of the State may require, not exceeding the sum of five hundred thousand pounds currency, and to pay interest for the same at the rate of six per centum per annum. That a Message be sent to the President to desire that he will issue his Proclamation, ordering and requiring all Magistrates to be vigilant and attentive in causing to be apprehended and sent to Jail, for due trial, every person who shall be accused of counterfeiting or uttering, knowing them to be counterfeit, the certificates issued by the late Houses of Assembly or the Continental or Colonial currency, which hath been already or shall be hereafter issued."

The Honourable Mr. Edwards reported that Mr. De Saussure and himself had attended the Legislative Council with the Message they had in charge.

Message from the Legislative Council, by their Clerk:

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen: I send you a letter which I received from Colonel Moultrie, with a list of men in the Second Regiment who have been disabled in the service of this State, and doubt not that you will make suitable provision for them. "John Rutledge.

"17th October, 1776."

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen: In the month of April I was informed by Lieutenant-Colonel Sumpter that, imagining Mr. Richbourg, a Lieutenant in Captain Richardson's company, had been promoted to the command of it when he resigned his commission, (as Mr. Richardson assured them he would be,) he sent Richbourg on the recruiting service, who soon raised a considerable number of men, with which he was about to join the regiment, when he was told (which Colonel Sumpter did not know till a short time before) that Mr. Blessingham had been appointed Captain instead of Richardson. Having laid this matter before the Council, they were of opinion that the number of companies in the regiment being fixed by Congress, could not be increased but by the legislative authority. It was evident, however, that discharging these men would have been injurious to the country; they were therefore formed into an independent company, as the only expedient for keeping them together, but have hitherto done duty with the Sixth Regiment. It would save considerable expense to the publick, and appears to me expedient, to add this company to that regiment, and the two independent companies of Artillery at Beaufort and George-Town to the Fourth Regiment. I therefore recommend this subject to your consideration.

"JOHN RUTLEDGE.

"17th October, 1776."

The Clerk of the Legislative Council brought from that House a Bill for maintaining and keeping three Watch companies in Charles-Town; read a third time in that House.

Ordered, That the Bill be engrossed.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow morning, nine of the clock.

Friday, the 18th day of October, 1776.

The House met according to adjournment. Read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

Ordered, That Captain Trapier and Mr. Keating Simons do, with some member of the Legislative Council, examine and compare with the originals an engrossed Ordinance for allowing and keeping in repair a Pilot Boat, to attend the bar and harbour of Beaufort, and for settling and regulating the pilotage of the said harbour; and an engrossed act for establishing and keeping three Watch companies in Charles-Town.

Captain Trapier reported that the Ordinance and Act they had in charge had been examined and compared according to order, and were found truly engrossed.

Ordered, That Captain Trapier and Mr. Simons do wait on the President, to desire that the seal may be affixed to the said Ordinance and Act, and to know when his Excellency will please to receive this House, to present the same for his assent.

The House then proceeded on the order of the day, to consider the Preamble to the Report of the Committee that were appointed to revise the Constitution, and report such alterations or amendments as might be necessary to make thereto. And the said Preamble being read, was agreed to by the House. And the Report, as amended by the House and agreed to, is as followeth:

"That inasmuch as the Constitution or form of Government, agreed to and resolved upon on the 26th day of March last, was calculated for and suited to the then situation of publick affairs, and looking forward to an accommodation of differences with Great Britain (an event then desired) was temporary only: And whereas the American States are now constituted independent States, and the political connection heretofore subsisting between them and Great Britain dissolved, and it therefore becomes necessary, in order to render more perfect and to perpetuate the said Constitution and form of Government, that some amendments should be made thereto, your Committee therefore humbly recommend the following:

"I. That instead of Province or Colony, the style hereafter be, the State of South-Carolina.

"II. That the second article of the Constitution be altered, and that each Parish and District throughout this State shall elect one member of the Legislative Council.

"III. That the number of the Privy Council, mentioned in the fifth article of the Constitution, be increased to nine members, including the Vice-President; four to be chosen by each House, either out of the Houses respectively or from the people at large. The quorum to consist of five.

"IV. That the tenth article of the Constitution shall not be construed to vacate the seat of any member who is or may be a Delegate from this State to the Continental Congress, as such.

"V. That when the House can possess itself of proper information, so as to estimate the particular and comparative strength and taxable property of the different parts of the State, that then the House do proceed to a reduction of the present representation, in the most equal and just proportion, regard being always had to the number of white inhabitants and taxable property of the people.

"VI. That no future President or Commander-in-Chief that shall serve for two years, shall be eligible to serve in the said office after the expiration of the said term until the full end and term of six years.

"VII. That in case of the sickness or absence from Charles-Town of the President and Commander-in-Chief, the Vice-President, being empowered thereto by the President, shall act in his stead during such sickness or absence, agreeable to the law passed the 6th of April last.

"VIII. That a Chancellor be appointed to preside in the Court of Chancery; and that the sixteenth article of the Constitution, giving power to the Vice-President and Privy Council to exercise the powers of a Court of Chancery, be annulled. That the House do also appoint or direct, that proper persons be empowered in the several Districts in this State, to prove wills, grant administrations, and do such other matters as are incident to a Court of Ordinary, that the people of this State may avoid the great expense and trouble of coming to Charles-Town on every such occasion. That a Court of Appeals be also established in this State, and Judges appointed, to consist of not less than five persons, to have cognizance in all matters of errour. That they be elected and commissioned in the same manner the other Judges are directed to be, and liable to be removed as in the twentieth clause.

"IX. That the Collectors and Comptrollers of Country Duties be balloted for and appointed in the same manner as the other officers are directed to be by the twenty-second article of the Constitution.

"X. That all Resolutions of the Continental Congress shall be of full force until altered by them.

"XI. That the oath enjoined to be taken by all persons appointed to any place of trust, be amended, by leaving out the words 'until an accommodation of differences between Great Britain and America shall take place.'"

Ordered, That the said Report, as agreed to by the House, be forthwith printed.

The House being moved for leave to bring in a Bill to comprise all the alterations and amendments recommended in the said Report,

Ordered, That leave be given to bring in such a Bill. And that the same Committee who made the Report do prepare and bring in the same.

Ordered, That the President's two Messages of yesterday be referred to a Committee. And they are referred to the Honourable Mr. Heyward, Major Huger, and Major Simons.

A Bill to empower the Court of Admiralty to have jurisdiction in all cases of capture of the ships and other vessels of the inhabitants and subjects of Great Britain, to establish the trial by Jury in the said court in cases of capture, and for the other purposes therein mentioned, was read a third time.

Resolved, That the Bill do pass; and that the title be "An Act."

Ordered, That Mr. Verree and Mr. Macpherson do carry the Bill to the Legislative Council for their concurrence.

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN: I send you a letter just received by express from Colonel Williamson, and congratulate you most heartily upon the success of our arms, and those of North-Carolina, against the Cherokee Indians. If time will admit your considering what steps should be taken for the defence and security of the back settlements against Indian incursions, I shall be glad of your advice on that subject; if not, I will (with your approbation) give orders for such as shall appear most effectual for that purpose. "JOHN RUTLEDGE.

"18th October, 1776."

Read the Letter referred to in the above Message. [Which was, immediately after the reading thereof, returned to his Excellency the President, and therefore could not be entered in this place.]

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. SPEAKER: His Excellency the President is now in the Council Chamber, ready to receive this House with the Bill and Ordinance they have to present."

And then the Messenger withdrew.

Mr. Speaker, with the House, accordingly attended the President in the Council Chamber. And being returned, Mr. Speaker reported that this House having attended the President in the Council Chamber, he had presented to his Excellency an Ordinance for allowing and keeping in repair a Pilot-Boat, to attend the bar and harbour of Beaufort, and for settling and regulating the pilotage of the said harbour; and also an act for establishing and keeping three Watch companies in Charles-Town. To both of which he had been pleased to give his assent.

A Petition of Thomas Lamar was presented to the House and read, in the words following:

"That the petitioner has undertaken to act in the capacity of Post-rider from the upper parts of Savannah river, near Augusta, to Charles-Town, since the 28th of June last. That he has been down seven times since, and always brought despatches from the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and other gentlemen, to the President, on publick service. That the petitioner has waited in Charles-Town for his Excellency's answers, by which means he has been detained for some days at a great expense, and has never received any consideration for such services. That the petitioner is willing to engage for a moderate compensation to continue to ride twice in every month, and to carry all despatches on the service of the State. The petitioner prays for an allowance for his past services, or a fixed sum by the year, as to the honourable House shall seem meet," &c.

Ordered, That the Petition be referred to a Committee.

And it is referred to the Honourable Mr. Edwards, Colonel Gervais, and Mr. Gibbes.

A Petition of Quintin Pooler was presented to the House and read.

Ordered, That the Petition do lie on the table.

The Honourable Mr. Heyward reported from the Committee to whom were referred the President's two Messages of yesterday's date. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That it is their opinion Captain Richbourg's independent company [should be added to the Sixth Regiment. And that the Artillery company at Georgetown be augmented to one hundred men, and added, together with the Artillery company] at Beaufort, to the Fourth Regiment. That the Third and Fourth Regiments be augmented to six hundred men each, and that a Colonel be appointed to each of the said regiments. That Sergeant John Young, of Captain McDonald's company, who lost his right leg in the engagement on Sullivant's Island, the 28th of June, be allowed ninety pounds per annum, to be paid quarterly. That George Mason, of Captain Francis Huger's company, who lost his leg in the said engagement, be allowed eighty pounds per annum, to be paid quarterly. That James Sims, of Captain Harleston's company, who lost his right leg in the service of this State, be allowed fifty pounds per annum, to be paid quarterly. That Robert Wade, of Captain Motte's company, who was wounded in his right arm by a shell in the aforesaid engagement, which has rendered it entirely useless, be allowed fifty pounds per annum, to be paid quarterly. That Thomas Smith, of Captain John Blake's company, who lost the two middle fingers of his right hand in the aforesaid engagement, be allowed twenty pounds per annum, to be paid quarterly. And there be immediately advanced to each of the said persons the first quarterly payment of his annuity."

Resolved, That the Report be taken into consideration immediately.

Upon motion, Resolved, That a Message be sent to his Excellency the President, to desire that he will write to our Delegates at the Continental Congress, and state to them our particular circumstances, and the great difficulty we have in recruiting our quota of men within the State. That in order to comply with the recommendation of the Continental Congress to take the most speedy and effectual means to recruit our quota of men, we had voted ten dollars additional bounty, over and above the Continental bounty, to every recruit who should inlist in either of our regiments on the Continental establishment to serve during the war, besides clothing to the value of twenty-five pounds currency annually; but that we had received accounts from Captain Adam McDonald, one of our recruiting officers, that he had been absolutely forbid to recruit in the States of Virginia and North-Carolina, by the supreme authority in those States; that such prohibition will entirely disable us from completing our regiments to the full establishment, will be prejudicial to this State in particular and the Continent in general, as it will incapacitate us from affording that assistance to our sister States that we desire to give, and lay us under the necessity of requiring of them greater assistance, should we be again attacked, than we should otherwise have occasion for; and that our Delegates do use such means as to them shall seem proper, to get the said prohibition withdrawn.

Colonel Pinckney moved the House for leave to bring in an Ordinance for appointing Commissioners to stamp and sign one hundred and thirty thousand Pounds currency in dollars, and for empowering the President and Commander-in-Chief for the time being, with the advice of the Privy Council, to borrow on loan any sum or sums not exceeding five hundred thousand Pounds currency, at the rate of six pounds per centum per annum.

Ordered, That leave be given to bring in such a Bill.

And then the House adjourned until five of the clock, in the afternoon.

The Honourable Mr. Edwards reported from the Committee to whom the Petition of Thomas Lamar was referred. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That in the opinion of the Committee it will be very beneficial to the publick service at this juncture, to encourage a post-rider from the upper parts of Savannah river, as by that means intelligence will be frequently received of the disposition of the Creek nation, and despatches for Ninety-

Six and Colonel Williamson may be regularly conveyed from Colonel Hammond's, where the petitioner will carry them from Charles-Town. The Committee recommend that upon his engaging to go twice in every month from this day to the 28th June, 1777, he shall be allowed three hundred pounds currency for his services."

Ordered, That the Report be taken into consideration to-morrow.

Colonel Pinckney, according to order, presented to the House an Ordinance for appointing Commissioners to stamp and sign one hundred and thirty thousand Pounds currency in dollars, and for empowering the President and Commander-in-Chief for the time being, with the advice of the Privy Council, to borrow on loan any sum or sums not exceeding five hundred thousand Pounds currency, at the rate of six pounds, like money, per centum per annum.

And the same was received and read the first time.

Ordered, That the Ordinance be read a second time. And the same being read accordingly,

Ordered, That the Ordinance be sent to the Legislative Council.

Ordered, That Captain Roger Smith and Colonel Pinckney do carry the Ordinance to the Legislative Council.

Major Cattell reported from the Committee to whom the Petition of Philip Will was referred. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That the Committee are of opinion that the Barrack-master of Charles-Town should be allowed by this State the sum of six hundred pounds for the services of that officer, or appointment from the 5th day of March last until the present time; and also in future, the annual sum of one thousand pounds, to be paid him yearly, from such time as this House shall allow the same, in recompense for the future services of that office, and all such deputies as he shall employ in the same."

Resolved, That the Report be taken into immediate consideration.

And the same being taken into consideration accordingly, was amended and agreed to, in the words following:

"That the Committee are of opinion that the Barrack-master of Charles-Town should be allowed by this State at the rate of one thousand pounds currency per annum, from the 5th day of March last, to be paid him in equal moieties half yearly."

The Clerk of the Legislative Council brought from that House an Ordinance for appointing Commissioners to stamp and sign one hundred and thirty thousand Pounds currency, in dollars, and for empowering the President and Commander-in-Chief for the time being, with the advice of the Privy Council, to borrow on loan any sum or sums not exceeding five hundred thousand Pounds currency, at the rate of six pounds, like money, per centum per annum. Read twice in that House.

Resolved, That the Ordinance do pass.

The House then took under consideration the President's Message of the 15th instant relative to the Crown Officers, and certain persons confined in Georgetown and Cheraws Jails; and came to the following Resolution upon the first parts thereof, to wit:

"That such of the Crown Officers as choose to depart the State, may be conveyed to Europe, or the West Indies, at the publick expense; and that such others of them as decline going shall be allowed such liberty as the President and Privy Council may think not inconsistent with the safety of the State."

Ordered, That the consideration of the latter part of the said Message be postponed till to-morrow.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow morning, nine of the clock.

Message to the President:

"MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY: This House, being informed that the trade of this place is subject to many inconveniences by the delay attending vessels being obliged to call at Fort Johnson and Fort Moultrie, both in going out and coming in, request your Excellency will give orders that, in future, vessels coming in may only be obliged to call at Fort Moultrie, and going out at Fort Johnson, and may be allowed to pass by some proper signal from the fort they first pass."

And that this House will provide for the payment of such rewards.

Message to the President:

Message from the President, by the Clerk of the Legislative Council:

"Mr. SPEAKER: His Excellency the President is now in the Council Chamber, ready to receive this House with the Ordinance they have to present."

And then the Messenger withdrew.

Mr. Speaker, with the House, accordingly attended the President in the Council Chamber. And being returned, Mr. Speaker reported that this House having attended the President in the Council Chamber, he had presented to his Excellency an Ordinance for appointing Commissioners to stamp and sign one hundred and thirty thousand Pounds currency in dollars, and for empowering the President and Commander-in-Chief, for the time being, with the advice of the Privy Council, to borrow, on loan, any sum or sums not exceeding five hundred thousand Pounds currency, at the rate of six pounds, like money, per centum per annum; to which his Excellency had been pleased to give his assent.

Colonel Pinckney reported from the Committee to whom the President's Message of the 8th instant, with Brigadier-General Howe's letter, were referred. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That in the opinion of the Committee the State is obliged to General Howe for his attention to its defence; and that although it has not been in their power to examine every particular place where it may be necessary to erect fortifications, yet they think it evident that some other works on Sullivant's Island and Haddrel's Point are absolutely necessary. The Committee likewise think that the casing the brick work at Fort Johnson with palmettos is proper. They also warmly recommend the speedy procuring, arming, and manning some row-galleys as a measure of very great importance. In a country so extensive as ours, it is impossible for the Committee to point out every part where it may be necessary to erect works of defence; and they are of opinion the publick service will be best promoted by giving the Executive power the sanction and support of this House for the execution of every measure necessary for the security and defence of this State, and that the House do come to a resolution for that purpose. The Committee likewise recommend the procuring of some wagons, and beg leave to mention that Major Simons has offered his services in getting some from Philadelphia, which he will deliver here at the original cost. The Committee are also of opinion that the cattle and stock should be removed from Bull's Island, Caper's Island, Kayawah Island, the Hunting Islands, Dawfuskee Island, and South Island. The Committee likewise recommend that six battalions of Minute-men, of five hundred rank and file each, should be raised for the defence of this State, and that each battalion should be divided into ten companies, and officered by a Lieutenant-Colonel, Major, ten Captains, ten Lieutenants, ten Ensigns, an Adjutant, and a Quartermaster. The Committee cannot conclude their report without desiring that it may be recommended to the President to use every means in his power to procure us a quantity of ammunition, and a number of good muskets, with bayonets and iron ramrods, large cannon, some light field-pieces, and a few mortars and howitzes, with shells."

Resolved, That the Report be taken into immediate consideration.

The Report was taken into consideration accordingly. And the first paragraph thereof being read, was agreed to by the House.

The second paragraph being read, was, after some debate, ordered to be struck out.

The third paragraph being read and amended, a debate ensued; and the question being put that the House do agree thereto, as amended, resolved in the affirmative.

The fourth paragraph being read, was amended and agreed to.

The fifth paragraph being read, was also agreed to by the House.

A motion was then made and seconded, that another paragraph be added to the said Report, which being agreed to, the following was accordingly added, viz:

"The Committee recommend that his Excellency be desired to give directions to the Attorney-General to prosecute all such Commissioners of the high-roads and keepers of publick ferries in this State as neglect their duty."

And the paragraph being agreed to, the Report, as amended and agreed to by the House, is as followeth:

"That in the opinion of the Committee the State is obliged to General Howe for his attention to its defence, and that although it has not been in their power to examine every particular place where it may be necessary to erect fortifications, yet they think it evident that some other works on Sullivant's Island and Haddrel's Point are absolutely necessary. The Committee likewise think that the casing the brick-work at Fort Johnson is proper. They also warmly recommend the speedy procuring, arming, and manning some row-galleys, as a measure of very great importance. In a country so extensive as ours, it is impossible for the Committee to point out every part where it may be necessary to erect works of defence; and they are of opinion the publick service will be best promoted by giving the Executive power the sanction and support of this House for the execution of every measure necessary for the security and defence of the State, and that the House do come to a resolution to that purpose. The Committee are of opinion that the cattle and stock should be removed from Bull's Island, Caper's Island, Kayawah Island, the Hunting Islands, Dawfuskee Island, Pinckney's Island, Carlton Island, South Island, Cole's Island, Folly Island, and Murphy's Island. The Committee likewise recommend that leave be given to bring in a bill for establishing six battalions of Minute-men, of five hundred rank and file each, to be raised for the defence of this State; and that each battalion should be divided into ten companies, and officered by a Colonel, Lieutenant-Colonel, Major, ten Captains, ten Lieutenants, ten Ensigns, an Adjutant, and a Quartermaster. The Committee cannot conclude their report without desiring that it may be recommended to the President to use every means in his power to procure us a quantity of ammunition, and a number of muskets, with bayonets and iron ramrods, large cannon, some light field-pieces, and a few mortars and howitzers with shells. The Committee recommend that his Excellency be desired to give directions to the Attorney-General to prosecute all such Commissioners of the high-roads and keepers of publick ferries in this State as neglect their duty."

Ordered, That a Message be prepared to be sent with a copy of the foregoing Report to the President; also, in answer to his Excellency's Message of the 18th instant, with Colonel Williamson's Letter; and also, to acquaint his Excellency of the election of the Captains for the three Watch companies in Charles-Town.

The following Message was accordingly prepared, viz:

"MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY: In answer to your Excellency's message of the 18th instant, accompanied with a letter from Brigadier-General Howe to your Excellency, and also, to your Excellency's message of the 18th instant, with Colonel Williamson's letter, we acquaint your Excellency that the House referred the former message and letter to the consideration of a Committee, a copy of whose report thereupon, as agreed to by the House, we herewith send you. And as to the latter, the House have not now time to consider what steps should be taken for the security and defence of the back settlers against Indian incursions, therefore desire that your Excellency will, with the advice of the Privy Council, give orders for such as shall appear most effectual for that purpose; and that your Excellency may remain assured of the sanction and support of this House in every measure necessary for the security and defence of the State. We also think it proper to acquaint your Excellency that the Legislative Council and this House jointly have voted John McCall, John Brewton, and John Lining, Esqs., proper persons to be commissioned as Captains of the Watch companies in Charles-Town, and request that your Excellency will give them commissions accordingly."

Ordered, That the Message be engrossed, and that Mr. Speaker do sign the same.

Resolved, unanimously, That the thanks of this House be returned to Colonel Andrew Williamson, and the officers and men under his command, employed in the late expedition against the Cherokee Indians, for their spirited conduct and services to the State upon that expedition; and that Mr. Speaker do forward the same.

Message to the President:

"MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY: Your Excellency's messages of the 17th instant having been referred to a Committee, they made a report thereon, to which the House agreed; a copy of which report we herewith send your Excellency."

Ordered, That the Message be engrossed, and that Mr. Speaker do sign the same.

Ordered, That Colonel Pinckney and Captain Roger Smith do carry the said Message and the two preceding ones to the President.

The House then proceeded, according to the order of the day, to consider the latter part of the President's Message of the 15th instant.

And the same having been considered accordingly,

Resolved, That such of the several persons mentioned in the President's Message of the 15th instant to be in the Jails at George-Town and the Cheraws, and also such of those confined in Charles-Town Jail, on suspicion of being inimical to this country, as shall take the oath of fidelity to this State, shall be forthwith discharged; that such of them as choose to go off the State may be sent off at the expense of the publick; and that such others of them as decline going shall be allowed such liberty as the President and Privy Council may think not inconsistent with the safety of the State.

Ordered, That a copy of the above Resolve, and also of the Resolve of this House of yesterday, relative to the late Crown Officers, be sent to the President.

Upon motion, Ordered, That a Message be prepared to be sent to the President, desiring that his Excellency will recall all the Militia commissions given by the late Governours, and grant new ones to the officers holding such, preserving to them the rank according to the dates of such old commissions.

Message to the President:

"MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY: This House having taken into consideration your Excellency's message of the 15th instant, with respect to the Crown Officers and other persons therein mentioned to be confined, came to several resolutions thereupon, copies whereof we herewith send your Excellency. And it being represented to us that several of the Militia officers have no other commissions than those granted by the late Governours, under which it will be highly improper for them to act, we therefore desire your Excellency will recall the old and grant new commissions to such officers, preserving to them their rank, according to the dates of the old commissions."

Ordered, That the Message be engrossed, and that Mr. Speaker do sign the same.

Ordered, That Colonel Garden and Mr. John Berwick do carry the Message to the President.

Colonel Pinckney reported that Captain Smith and himself had delivered the three Messages they had in charge to the President.

The Reverend Mr. Tennent reported from the Committee to examine into the state of the Jail and the treatment of the prisoners of war. And he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth:

"That they had attended at the Jail, and made what inquiry they could. They found that the roof of the Jail is so deficient that the inhabitants of it are thereby much exposed. They also found that through want of proper apartments and other inconveniences, the prisoners of war are exposed to a treatment which if continued will not be reputable to this State. They therefore beg leave to recommend that leave be given to bring in an ordinance to establish a Board of Commissioners, to consist of five members, to superintend the repairing and keeping in repair the Jail in Charles-Town, as also to superintend from time to time and examine into the treatment of prisoners, and to order such things with respect to the premises as may be reasonable, and reputable to the justice and humanity of this State."

Resolved, That the Report be taken into consideration immediately.

And the same being considered accordingly, and agreed to by the House,

Ordered, That leave be given to bring in an Ordinance for the purposes recommended in the Report.

Colonel Garden reported that Mr. Berwick and himself had delivered the Message they had in charge to the President.

It appearing to the House that the late commander and mariners of the armed vessel called the Revenge had received no more than two-sixth parts of the net amount of sales of the cargo taken by them on board the transport Brigantine Glasgow Packet, and that the other four-sixth parts had been paid into the Treasury, as the share of the State,

Resolved, That the Commissioners of the Treasury do advance and pay to Captain Pickering, late commander, and the mariners late belonging to the said armed vessel, one-sixth part of the four-sixths of the net amount of the said sales so paid into the Treasury, as a further encouragement for their gallant behaviour in the taking the said Brigantine Glasgow Packet.

Resolved, That the sum of two thousand Pounds be allowed and paid out of the publick Treasury to Thomas Farr, Esquire, Paymaster to the Militia, for his past services in that office, and as acting Commissary, and for auditing the Militia accounts from the first day of November last; and that this House will make proper and adequate provision for his future services.

Mr. John Vinyard, one of the Messengers, having laid before the House an account amounting to fifty-two pounds, currency, which he had been obliged to advance to special Messengers sent by order of the House to members who had refused to pay the same,

Ordered, That the Commissioners of the Treasury do pay to and reimburse Mr. John Vinyard, one of the Messengers of this House, the sum of fifty-two pounds, currency, by him advanced for carrying letters to members by order of the House.

Upon motion, Resolved, That this House will make such provision for the Surgeons of the several Continental Regiments raised by this State as to make their pay, including the Continental pay, amount to three pounds, currency, per day; and that a Surgeon's Mate be allowed to the Third Regiment (of Rangers,) who shall have the same pay as the Surgeon's Mates in the regiments of Infantry are allowed.

Upon motion, Resolved, That a daily pay of one pound, currency, be allowed and paid to the person acting as Gunner, Barrackmaster and Storekeeper in Fort Lyttleton, at Beaufort, for those several services.

The House then took into consideration the Report of the Committee to whom the Petition of Thomas Lamar was referred.

And the said Report was agreed to by the House.

Ordered, That (as there may be some matters which the President ought to be acquainted with, and which may have been omitted to be communicated to him) the Clerk of this House do attend his Excellency, with the Journals thereof, whenever the same may be required.

Ordered, That the Clerk of this House do supply Brigadier-General Howe with copies of such Orders and Resolutions of this House as respect the Military department, and as he shall require.

And then the House adjourned till to-morrow evening, six of the clock.

Sunday Evening, six o'clock, October 20th, 1776.

Mr. Speaker adjourned the meeting of the House till to-morrow.

The Proceedings of yesterday were read.

Mr. Peter Chaille, Mr. Samuel Handy, and Mr. Josiah Mitchell, Delegates returned for Worcester County, appeared and took their seats in the House.

Mr. Thomas Ringgold, from the Committee appointed to inquire into the state and condition of Manufactories, brings in and delivers to Mr. President the following Report:

"In obedience to a resolve of the honourable Convention, your Committee for inquiring into the state and condition of manufactories, beg leave to report, That not having had time to inquire into the propriety of the particular charges made in an account lately exhibited by the Commissioners of the gun-lock factory at Fredericktown, beg leave to defer their opinion thereon until they have an opportunity of making the necessary inquiries, and until proper vouchers are produced. Nevertheless, upon a general view of the account, your Committee are enabled to report to your honourable House, that the sum of twelve hundred pounds, common money, has been advanced; that one thousand and seventy-six pounds nine shillings and eight pence has been laid out and expended, and that no more than to the amount of eighty-two pounds nineteen shillings and seven pence has been returned in work, valued, in the opinion of your Committee, at high prices, and only thirty-eight gun-locks have been produced; that from the best information the expense of continuing the factory on the publick account will be very great, and under its present circumstances no returns can be expected in any degree adequate to it. Your Committee are therefore of opinion that the proposals of Elisha Winters, of Chestertown, ought to be accepted on the following terms, viz:

"That the present buildings shall be finished, and such other additional buildings erected as shall be thought necessary for the carrying on the factory, and for the accommodation of Elisha Winters's family and the hands employed in the said factory; that some convenient works shall be erected for the grinding and boring bayonets, ramrods, and files, and other materials, and the stream of water that runs near the works shall be conveyed thereto, if to be done at a moderate expense, and with the consent of the proprietors of the land who will be affected by it; that the whole amount of the ground, buildings and other improvements, together with the value of the tools on hand, shall be ascertained, and that Elisha Winters shall pay interest thereon at the rate of six per centum from the first day of October next, by way of rent yearly; that the materials on hand shall be valued, and the amount deducted out of the work to be received of him.

"That the said Elisha Winters shall pay by way of hire yearly for the servants that have been bought on the publick account, in proportion to the cost of each respective servant, and the time he has to serve, to victual and clothe them at his own expense, to pay their levy and the necessary expense of a physician in case of sickness.

"And your Committee are of opinion, that the said ground, buildings and other improvements, tools and servants, shall remain under rent and hire respectively, on the above terms, after the expiration of the first year, if the said Elisha Winters shall continue to merit the confidence of the future Legislature or governing power of this State for the time being.

"And your Committee are further of opinion, that so long as the said Elisha Winters continues to be a tenant to the publick, he ought to furnish monthly at least one hundred and twenty-five good substantial muskets, well fitted with bayonets, steel ramrods, and strong neat mounting, and good double bridle locks, and swivels for slings, at four pounds five shillings common money for each; and if it should be in his power to make more than that number, your Committee think he ought to deliver, and the publick to receive them on the same terms; and whenever he shall discontinue to rent and hire as aforesaid, your Committee are of opinion, that the said Elisha Winters ought to deliver up the said buildings and improvements in good order, and tools of the same kind and value of those that may be delivered to him, and the servants that may remain alive and in servitude as well clothed as he receives them.

"And if it should so happen that the said Elisha Winters should choose to purchase the whole property, that he shall have a right to do it on paying the sum on which he is to pay interest as aforesaid, and the then value of the servants in proportion to their cost and the time they may have to serve respectively, in good muskets fitted as aforesaid, in monthly deliveries of at least one hundred and twenty-five per month, and at the price aforesaid; and if it should be in his power to make more, that he ought to deliver and the publick ought to receive them.

"Your Committee beg leave further to report to your honourable House, that upon inquiry they find that the said Elisha Winters has delivered muskets over and above the quantity stipulated to be delivered to this time by his present subsisting contract with the publick, and that the said contract ought not to be binding on the said Elisha Winters longer than the commencement of a contract that may be entered into in consequence of this report.

"And your Committee are further of opinion, that such gun barrels as shall hereafter be furnished by Henry Hollingsworth, of Cecil County, in consequence of his present or a future contract, ought to be delivered by him at his works to the said Elisha Winters, to be accounted for at the rate of twenty shillings common money per barrel.

"All which your Committee beg leave to submit to the consideration of your honourable House.

"Signed per order of the Committee:

"JOHN JOHNSON, Clerk."

Which was read; and thereupon the Convention taking the same into consideration, the question was put, That the House concur therewith? Carried in the negative.

Wednesday, October 9, 1776.

Convention met. All Members present as on yesterday. The Proceedings of yesterday were read.

Mr. Marbury appeared in the House.

On motion of Mr. Wootton,

Resolved, That the Commissioners for Montgomery County have the line which divides Frederick and Montgomery Counties laid off and marked by the Surveyor of Frederick County, at least ten days before the election for fixing on the place for building a Court-House and Prison for said County; and that the qualification of voters for the purpose of fixing on the most convenient place for a Court-House and Prison in the said County, be the same as of voters for Representatives in this Convention.

Mr. Murray appeared in the House.

Ordered, That no person who has refused or neglected to subscribe the Association (unless from religious principles) be permitted to come within the doors of this House during the sitting of the Convention.

The Convention took into consideration the Report from the Committee appointed to consider of the Letter and Resolutions of Congress of the 16th, 18th, and 19th of September last, and thereupon came to the following Resolutions:

Resolved, That the eight Battalions required by Congress to be raised by this State, exceeds its just quota, being, as they presume, founded on a calculation of white and black inhabitants of both sexes and of all ages, whereas the quotas of men to be raised by the several States, ought to be in proportion to the number of white inhabitants only in each State respectively.

That this State ought not to comply with the proposed terms of granting lands to the officers and soldiers, because there are no lands belonging solely and exclusively to this State; the purchase of lands might eventually involve this State in an expense exceeding its abilities, and an engagement by this State to defray the expense of purchasing land, according to its number of souls, would be unequal and unjust.

That this State, desirous of exerting the most strenuous efforts to support the liberties and independence of the United States, will therefore use its utmost endeavours to raise the eight Battalions required (including the troops already raised and in the service of the United States) as soon as possible.

That for this purpose this State will give a bounty of ten dollars to each non-commissioned officer and soldier who will inlist in the service of the United States for the war, in lieu of the hundred acres of land offered to them by Congress.

That four Commissioners be appointed to repair to the camps in the Jerseys and New-York, and there obtain a list of such of the officers in the Regular Troops and Flying-Camp from this State, now in the service of the United States, as are willing to engage in the service during the war; and also inlist or cause to be inlisted all or every of the said Regular Troops or Flying-Camp Militia in the service of the United States during the war, continuing the regular battalion and forming the independent companies into a battalion, and filling both up according to the Continental establishment; and also forming such of the Flying-Camp Militia as shall inlist as aforesaid, into battalions; and the said Commissioners, or any three of them, may also fill up such of the blank commissions sent to this Convention by Congress, as may be immediately necessary for the officering of the said corps; but in filling up the said commissions they are required not to introduce into the corps of the now Regulars, any officer other than such as are of those Regulars, nor into the corps which may be formed of the Flying-Camp Militia, any officer not now an officer in the said Regulars or Flying-Camp; and the Commissioners are also required to leave some of the offices vacant, that cadets of merit may be provided for; which list of the officers so to be obtained, as well as a list of the appointments which shall be made as aforesaid, the said Commissioners shall return to this Convention, or in their recess, to the Council of Safety. That the Commissioners exert their utmost endeavours to procure the inlistment of the Regular Troops and Militia from this State in the Continental service, and make report of the state and condition of the forces from this State now in camp.

That the Commissioners be furnished with money sufficient to advance the bounty of ten dollars as aforesaid.

That the Council of Safety, in the recess of Convention, be empowered to issue warrants for the inlistment of such number of Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates, and also to appoint and commission such Field and Commission

Officers as may be necessary to make up the said eight Battalions.

That the said Commissioners, or any three or two of them, are empowered to receive of Congress any sum not exceeding thirty-six thousand one hundred and twenty Pounds, in dollars, at seven shillings and six pence per dollar, on account of this State, to be applied in the said bounties.

That the Commissioners be instructed to consult with, and take advice from, his Excellency General Washington, respecting the promotion or appointment of Officers in Colonel Smallwood's Regiment, and the appointments to be made in the Battalion to be formed of the Independent Companies and Flying-Camp of this State.

That the Officers to whom warrants issued for the enrollment of Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates for the two last Battalions directed by the Convention to be raised for the Flying-Camp, immediately return lists of the men by them enrolled in pursuance of those warrants, to the Council of Safety, and forbear any further enrollment; that such of the Companies as are full or nearly full, be equipped and marched as soon as may be, and such of the Companies as are not nearly full be discharged; and that the bounty money not expended be returned.

That the said Commissioners be allowed each twelve pounds ten shillings, common money, per week, from the time they leave home until their return.

The Convention then proceeded to elect the Commissioners aforesaid, and James Lloyd Chamberlaine, Benjamin Rumsey, Thomas Contee, and John Hanson, Jun., Esquires were elected.

And further, the Council of Safety may retain any men who shall voluntarily offer and subscribe articles for a cruise only, without any bounty or wages; and any prizes which may be made, as to those who go on bounty and wages, shall be divisible according to the resolutions of Congress, two-thirds to the publick, and one-third to the crew; but as to those who shall enter for the cruise without bounty or wages, the division shall be one-half to the publick and one-half amongst the crew, according to the common practice of privateers.

The Convention having received information that a number of the inhabitants of Caroline County had marched down into Dorchester County, and committed sundry depredations in the said County, by entering the houses of the inhabitants thereof, and in a violent manner taking and carrying away their Salt, and that sundry of the inhabitants of Dorchester County had joined with them in committing such unwarrantable depredations and outrages,

Ordered, That the Committees of Caroline and Dorchester Counties make immediate inquiry into the causes of the said disorders; and, if they judge it necessary, to send under a sufficient guard to this Convention, or in their recess to the Council of Safety, such persons as shall appear to them to have been most active therein; and that the Committees of Caroline and Dorchester Counties do apply to Brigadier-General Hooper, to order out such part of the Militia under his command as they may judge necessary to bring the said offenders to justice.

Mr. John Ennalls has leave of absence.

Whereas justice may in many instances require that individuals of this State, inlisted in the service of the Continent or of this State, should be discharged, it is therefore

Resolved, That the Council of Safety may discharge any such person, either absolutely or conditionally, on such terms as to them may seem proper.

Agreeable to the order of the day, the Convention resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole, to consider further of the Declaration of Rights and form of Government for this State; Mr. Worthington in the chair. After some time spent therein, Mr. President resumed the chair, and Mr. Worthington reported, that the Committee had, according to order, taken into their consideration the Declaration of Rights and form of Government for this State, and had come to several resolutions thereon, but not having had time to come to a conclusion, had directed him to move for leave to sit again.

Resolved, That this Convention will on to-morrow resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole, to consider further of the same.

Adjourned till three o'clock.

That the Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates be inlisted in the service of this State for the war: That the Officers receive the pay and rations established by the Convention from the date of their commissions; that the Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates receive their pay and rations from the day of their inlistment: That to encourage the speedy enrollment of the said Companies, each Non-Commissioned Officer and Soldier shall, during their continuance in the service of this State, be annually clothed at the expense of this State, and for that purpose shall be entitled to receive a coat, waistcoat, and breeches, of coarse cloth, two white linen shirts, two pair of stockings, two pair of shoes, and a hat, and they shall not be compelled to march to any place out of this State.

On motion of Mr. Johnson,

Ordered, That the Clerk be directed to give notice to the said Robert Peter and Thomas Richardson to attend this Convention on Friday, the 1st of November next, and to bring with them the ferrymen of the said River, that an inquiry may be made into the facts set forth in the said Letter.

Saturday, October 26, 1776.

Convention met. All Members present as on yesterday, except Mr. Marbury, Mr. Carroll, Mr. Schriver, and Mr. T. Smyth.

The Proceedings of yesterday were read.

Mr. J. Smith and Mr. Ridgely have leave of absence on account of particular private business.

Whereas many young men under twenty-one years of age, seized of lands and tenements within this State, have entered, and others so seized may enter, into the service of this State or the United States in arms, and by the laws now in being they cannot devise their lands or tenements, it is therefore

Resolved, That any last will of any young man in the service aforesaid, made after he hath, or shall have, accomplished the age of sixteen years, shall, in case he hath died or shall die whilst in service as aforesaid, be of the same force and effect, to all intents and purposes, as if he was of the full age of twenty-one years at the time of his making the same will.

Mr. Bishop has leave of absence on account of the indisposition of his brother.

The President laid before the Convention a Letter from the Committee of Observation for Kent County, relative to the conduct of Mr. William Sluby; which was read.

Ordered, That the same be entered on the Journal; and it follows in these words:

"Chester-Town, October 23, 1776.

"Gentlemen: Enclosed is a report of the facts relative to Mr. Sluby's case, as they arose on the examination of Mr. Claypoole, and two others who were summoned by the Committee at the request of Mr. Sluby. The Committee sat two days on the business, for want of time to finish the examination the first day. Mr. Claypoole was absent in the country the second day of our sitting, so that Mr. Sluby had not an opportunity of cross-examining him. The Committee are of opinion that nothing appeared against Mr. Sluby which would justify the exercise of the power of sending him under a guard to the Convention.

"Signed by order: John Combs, Clerk Com.

"P. S. The reason Mr. Sluby did not cross-examine Mr Claypoole on the first day is, that after Mr. Claypoole had delivered his testimony, the Chairman was called off on necessary business.

"To the honourable the Convention at the City of Annapolis."

Mr. Mason appeared in the House.

Agreeable to the order of the day, the Convention resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole, to consider further of the Declaration of Rights and form of Government for this State; Mr. *T. Resolved, That this Convention will on Monday resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole, to consider further of the same.

On motion of Mr. J. Hall,

Resolved, That the Council of Safety be authorized and empowered to make out commissions for Captain Thomas Watkins, and also for his First and Second Lieutenants and Ensign, Levin Lawrence, Thomas Todd, and John Iams, Jun., as Captain, First, Second, and Third Lieutenants of a Company of Matrosses to be stationed in the City of Annapolis, and that they, or either of them, have power to inlist all the men of said Company that are willing to inlist as Matrosses, and to discharge such of them as are not willing to inlist after the 1st of December, and inlist others, so that the said Company may be completed to the number of ninety-two Privates, besides Commissioned and Non-Commissioned Officers.

Convention adjourns till Monday morning, nine o'clock.

Mr. Sheredine brings in and delivers to Mr. President a Report from the Committee appointed to inquire how far the resolves of the last Convention of the 6th of July, for raising two Companies of Riflemen and four Companies of Germans, have been complied with, and into the expenditure of the money advanced for the raising those companies; which was read in the words following, to wit:

"In obedience to the order of the honourable Convention, the Committee appointed to inquire how far the resolves of the Convention of the 6th of July last, for raising two companies of Riflemen and four companies of Germans, have been complied with, and into the expenditure of the money advanced for raising those companies, beg leave to report, That the Committee of Observation for Harford, Baltimore, and Frederick Counties, recommended officers for the several companies agreeable to the resolves of the said Convention; that the Rifle Company and four companies of Germans for Frederick and Baltimore Counties have some time since marched for their place of destination; that the company of Riflemen for Harford County is not yet complete, having not more than fifty men.

"They further beg leave to report, that the sum of fifteen hundred and twenty dollars appears to have been advanced by the Delegates in Congress on account of the German Battalion to Colonel George Stricker, out of which, by an account rendered to the second day of September, the sum of four hundred and twenty-four pounds ten shillings has been paid to the different Captains of those companies, which leaves a balance in Colonel Stricker's hands of one hundred and forty-five pounds ten shillings: that the sum of eight hundred dollars appears to have been advanced by the Council of Safety to Major Ludowick Weltner, and by his account rendered, he has paid to the different Captains of the German companies for their use and for arms and blankets, three hundred and eleven pounds ten shillings; there remains a balance in his favour of eleven pounds ten shillings: that the sum of eight hundred and sixty dollars appears to have been advanced by said Council to Captain William Heiser of the German Battalion, and by an account rendered by him to the 8th of September, the further sums of seventy pounds by Colonel Stricker, and thirty-seven pounds ten shillings by Major Weltner; that by the said account Captain Heiser has paid for bounty, inlisting, subsistence, and blankets, eight hundred and sixty-four pounds eight shillings and seven pence; and that a balance appears to remain due in his favour of two hundred and thirty-four pounds eight shillings and seven pence: that the sum of eight hundred and sixty dollars appears to have been advanced to Captain Henry Fister of said battalion, and by his account rendered to September the eighth, the further sum of fifty-two pounds ten shillings by Colonel Stricker, and one hundred and thirty-seven pounds ten shillings by Major Weltner; that he has paid as bounty and inlisting money, and for the subsistence of his company, six hundred and thirty-nine pounds seven shillings and four pence, and a balance appears to remain in his favour of one hundred and twenty-seven pounds seven shillings and four pence: that the sum of eight hundred and sixty dollars appears to have been advanced to Captain Philip Graybill of said battalion, with the additional advance of one hundred pounds by the Council of Safety, and the further sum of one hundred and twenty-two pounds twelve shillings and six pence by Colonel Stricker, and thirty-seven pounds ten shillings by Major Weltner, and that no account appears to have been rendered by him of the expenditure of the said money: that the sum of eight hundred and sixty dollars appears to have been advanced to Captain William Keeports of said battalion by said Council, and the further sums of two hundred and one pounds seventeen shillings and six pence by Colonel Stricker, and thirty-seven pounds ten shillings by Major Weltner, and no account appears of the expenditure of those sums: that the sum of eight hundred and sixty dollars was advanced to Captain Thomas Beall of the Rifle company for Frederick County, and by accounts rendered by himself and officers, the sum of two hundred and fifty-one pounds five shillings has been expended in raising the said company, and that a balance remained in the hands of said officers of seventy-one pounds five shillings, at the time of rendering the said accounts: that the sum of eight hundred and sixty dollars appears to have been advanced to Captain Smith of the Rifle company for Harford County, and no account appears of the expenditure of the same, but your Committee are informed that one hundred and sixty dollars of the said sum has been returned to the Council of Safety. The Committee beg leave to observe that Captains Heiser and Fister, in their accounts rendered, have charged ten shillings per man for inlisting, and the same sum per man for subsistence of their companies per week: that the accounts rendered by some of the officers of said companies are so confused, and others giving in no accounts at all, puts it out of the power of the said Committee to report so accurate a state of the expenditure of the several sums advanced as they could wish.

"All which is submitted to the consideration of the honourable House.

"Signed by order: JOHN STULL, Chairman."

Ordered to lie on the table.

The order of the day, that the Convention will resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole, to consider further of the Declaration of Rights and form of Government for this State, was read, and referred till to-morrow.

On motion, Resolved, That a Delegate be elected for Kent County, in the room of Mr. Thomas Ringgold, deceased; that the election be held on the 14th day of November next, at Chester-town in said County, by John Wright* in the chair. After some time spent therein, Mr. President resumed the chair, and Mr. Wright reported, that the Committee had, according to order, taken into their consideration the Declaration of Rights and form of Government for this State, and had come to several resolutions thereon, but not having had time to come to a conclusion, had directed him to move for leave to sit again.

Mr. Bowie and Mr. Hooe have leave of absence for a few days, on account of particular private business.

This Convention being informed that in the Constitution or form of Government agreed to by the Delegates of Virginia, a claim is made by them injurious to the inhabitants of this State,

Ordered, That the same be read. And the same was read as follows, to wit:

"The territories contained within the charters erecting the Colonies of Maryland, Pennsylvania, North and South-Carolina, are hereby ceded, released, and forever confirmed to the people of those Colonies respectively, with all the rights of property, jurisdiction, and government, and all other rights whatsoever, which might at any time hereafter have been claimed by Virginia, except the free navigation and use of the rivers Patowmack and Pocomoke, with the property of the Virginia shores or strands, bordering on either of the said rivers, and all improvements which have been or shall be made thereon. The western and northern extent of Virginia shall in all other respects stand as fixed by the charter of King James the First, in the year one thousand six hundred and nine, and by the publick treaty of peace between the Courts of Great Britain and France in the year one thousand seven hundred and sixty-three; unless by act of Legislature, one or more Territories shall hereafter be laid off, and Governments established westward of the Alleghany Mountains. And no purchase of lands shall be made of the Indian natives, but on behalf of the publick by authority of the General Assembly."

Resolved, That this Convention will on to-morrow resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole, to take the same into consideration.

Adjourned till three o'clock.

Post Meridiem. Convention met. Mr. Carroll, Mr. Kent, Mr. Bishop, and Mr. Schriver, appeared in the House.

The Convention, according to the order of the day, resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole on that part of the Constitution of Virginia which was referred to their consideration; Mr. T. Wright in the chair. After some time spent therein, Mr. President resumed the chair, and Mr. Wright reported, that the Committee had, according to order, taken the same into consideration, and had come to several resolutions thereon, which he read in his place, and afterwards delivered in at the table, where the same were again twice read, amended, and agreed to as follow:

Resolved unanimously, That it is the opinion of this Convention that the State of Virginia hath not any right or title to any of the territory, bays, rivers, or waters, included in the charter granted by his Majesty Charles the First to Cæcilius Calvert, Baron of Baltimore.

Resolved unanimously, That it is the opinion of this Convention that the sole and exclusive jurisdiction over the territory, bays, rivers, and waters, included in the said charter, belongs to this State; and that the river Patowmack, and almost the whole of the river Pocomoke, being comprehended in the said charter, the sole and exclusive jurisdiction over the said river Patowmack, and also over such part of the river Pocomoke as is comprehended in the said charter, belongs to this State; and that the river Patowmack and that part of Chesapeake Bay which lies between the Capes and the south boundary of this State, and so much thereof as is necessary to the navigation of the rivers Patowmack and Pocomoke, ought to be considered as a common highway, free for the people of both States, without being subject to any duty, burthens, or charge, as hath been heretofore accustomed.

Resolved unanimously, That it is the opinion of this Convention, that the very extensive claim of the State of Virginia to the back lands hath no foundation in justice, and that if the same or any like claim is admitted, the freedom of the smaller States and the liberties of America may be thereby greatly endangered; this Convention being firmly persuaded, that if the dominion over those lands should be established by the blood and treasure of the United States, such lands ought to be considered as a common stock, to be parcelled out at proper times into convenient, free and independent Governments.

Agreeable to the order of the day, the Convention resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole, to consider further of the Declaration of Rights and form of Government for this State; Mr. T. Wright in the chair. After some time spent therein, Mr. President resumed the chair, and Mr. Wright reported, that the Committee had, according to order, taken the same into consideration, and had come to several resolutions thereon, which they directed him to report, as the Declaration of Rights, but not having had time to go through the form of Government, had directed him to move for leave to sit again.

Resolved, That this Convention will on to-morrow resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole, to consider further of the form of Government for this State.

On motion of Mr. Fitzhugh, That the question be put on the following: "As the Bill of Rights formerly printed for the consideration of the Members of the Convention has been materially altered by a Committee of the Whole House, and it is of infinite importance to the inhabitants of this State that the said Bill of Rights should be maturely considered before it is passed by the Convention, and that each Member should have a copy before him, in order to judge of, and offer such amendments or alterations as he may think proper,

"Resolved, That the Bill of Rights as reported by a Committee of the Whole House be immediately printed for the consideration and use of the Members of this Convention, before the same is taken into consideration."

An amendment was proposed to strike out all that part of the motion before the word "Resolved;" on which amendment the question was put, and resolved in the affirmative.

Resolved, That all and every action, suit, process, and proceeding, which were depending in the March and August courts of St. Mary's and Charles Counties, and which have been discontinued by reason of the said courts not being held, shall be revived and continued to the next November courts to be held in the said Counties, and shall stand and remain in the same state and condition as they would have been, had the said courts been regularly held.

On motion, Resolved, That three persons be appointed a Committee to prepare and report Instructions for Recruiting Sergeants, and that Mr. Earle, Mr. Gust. Scott, and Mr. J. T. Chase, be a Committee for that purpose.

Thursday, October 31, 1776.

Convention met. All Members present as on yesterday. The Proceedings of yesterday were read.

On motion of Mr. Chaille, the following Resolution was entered into:

Whereas it is represented to this Convention, that the Committee of Observation for Worcester County hath declined to act, whereby Merchants who have Vessels to clear out of Sinnepuxen Inlet or Pocomoke River are put to great trouble and inconvenience; it is therefore

Resolved, That Messrs. Robert Done, John Shelby, Joshua Mitchell, and John Dennis, or any two or more of them, of Worcester County, may clear out any Vessel, in like manner and on the same conditions and terms as the Committee of Observation for Worcester County aforesaid might or could have done by virtue of any resolution of Convention.

On motion of Mr. S. Chase,

Resolved, That the Council of Safety be empowered to employ some fit and trusty person or persons, to purchase and salt up, at the expense of this State, a quantity of Pork, not exceeding two thousand five hundred barrels, and a quantity not exceeding five hundred casks of Beef, and to draw on either of the Treasurers of this State for the necessary sums to defray the expense thereof.

The Convention took into consideration the Report of the Declaration of Rights, from the Committee of the Whole, which follows in these words, to wit:

"THE DECLARATION OF RIGHTS.

"The Parliament of Great Britain, by a declaratory act, having assumed a right to make laws to bind the Colonies in all cases whatsoever, and in pursuance of such claim endeavoured by force of arms to subjugate the United Colonies to an unconditional submission to their will and power, and having at length constrained them to declare themselves Independent States, and to assume government under the authority of the People; Therefore we, the Delegates of Maryland, in free and full Convention assembled, taking into our most serious consideration the best means of establishing a good Constitution in this State, for the surer foundation and more permanent security thereof, Declare,

"1. That all Government of right originates from the people, is founded in compact only, and instituted solely for the good of the whole.

"2. That the people of this State ought to have the sole and exclusive right of regulating the internal government and police thereof.

"3. That the inhabitants of Maryland are entitled to the common law of England, and the trial by jury, according to the course of that law, and to the benefit of such of the English statutes as existed at the time of their first emigration, and which by experience have been found applicable to their local and other circumstances, and of such others as have been since made in England or Great Britain, and have been introduced, used, and practised by the courts of law or equity; and also to all acts of Assembly in force on the first of June, seventeen hundred and seventy-four, except such as may have since expired, or have been, or may be altered by acts of Convention, or this Declaration of Rights; subject nevertheless to the revision of, and amendment or repeal by, the Legislature of this State; and the inhabitants of Maryland are also entitled to all property derived to them from or under the charter granted by his Majesty Charles the First, to Cæcilius Calvert, Baron of Baltimore.

"4. That all persons entrusted with the Legislative or Executive powers of Government, are the trustees and servants of the publick, and as such accountable for their conduct; wherefore, whenever the ends of Government are perverted, and publick liberty manifestly endangered, and all other means of redress are ineffectual, the people may, and of right ought to reform the old, or establish a new Government; the doctrine of non-resistance against arbitrary power and oppression, is absurd, slavish, and destructive of the good and happiness of mankind.

"5. That the right in the people to participate in the Legislature is the best security of liberty, and the foundation of all free Government; for this purpose elections ought to be free and frequent, and every man having property in, a common interest with, and an attachment to, the community, ought to have a right of suffiage.

"6. That the Legislative, Executive, and Judicial powers of Government, ought to be forever separate and distinct from each other.

"7. That no power of suspending laws, or the execution of laws, unless derived from the Legislature, ought to be exercised or allowed.

"8. That freedom of speech, and debates, or proceedings in the Legislature, ought not to be impeached in any other court or judicature.

"9. That a place for the meeting of the Legislature ought to be fixed, the most convenient to the members thereof, and to the depository of the publick records, and the Legislature ought not to be convened or held at any other place but from evident necessity.

"10. That for the redress of grievances, and for amending, strengthening, and preserving the laws, the Legislature ought to be frequently convened.

"11. That every man hath a right to petition the Legislature for the redress of grievances, in a peaceable and orderly manner.

"12. That no aid, charge, tax, burthen, fee, or fees, ought to be set, rated, or levied, under any pretence, without the consent of the Legislature.

"13. That the levying taxes by the poll is grievous and oppressive, and ought to be abolished; that paupers whose estates do not exceed thirty pounds currency value ought not to be assessed for the support of Government, but every other person in the State ought to contribute his proportion of publick taxes for the support of Government according to his actual worth in real or personal property within this State; yet fines, duties, or taxes, may properly and justly be imposed or laid with a political view for the good government and benefit of the community.

"14. That sanguinary laws ought to be avoided, as far as is consistent with the safety of the State; and no law to inflict cruel and unusual pains and penalties ought to be made, in any case, or at any time hereafter.

"15. That retrospective laws, punishing facts committed before the existence of such laws, and by them only declared criminal, are oppressive, unjust, and incompatible with liberty; wherefore no ex post facto law ought to be made.

"16. That no law to attaint particular persons of treason or felony, ought to be made in any case, or at any time hereafter.

"17. That every freeman for every injury done to him in his goods, lands, or person, ought to have remedy by the course of the law of the land, and ought to have justice and right, freely without sale, fully without any denial, and speedily without delay, according to the law of the land.

"18. That the trial of facts where they arise is one of the greatest securities of the lives, liberties, and estate of the people.

"19. That in all criminal prosecutions, every man hath a right to be informed of the accusation against him, to have a copy of the indictment or charge in due time (if required) to prepare for his defence, to be allowed counsel, to be confronted with the witnesses against him, to have process for his witnesses, to examine the witnesses for and against him on oath, and to a speedy trial by an impartial jury, without whose unanimous consent he ought not to be found guilty.

"20. That no man ought to be compelled to give evidence against himself in a court of common law, or in any other court, but in such cases only as have been usually practised in this State.

"21. That no freeman ought to be taken, or imprisoned, or disseized of his freehold, liberties, or privileges, or outlawed, or exiled, or in any manner destroyed, or deprived of his life, liberty, or property, but by the lawful judgment of his peers, or by the law of the land.

"22. That excessive bail ought not to be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel or unusual punishments inflicted by the courts of law.

"23. That all warrants without oath, or affirmation of a person conscientiously scrupulous of taking an oath, to search suspected places, or to seize any person, or his property, are grievous and oppressive; and all general warrants to search suspected places, or to apprehend all persons suspected, without naming or describing the place, or any person in special, are illegal, and ought not to be granted.

"24. That there ought to be no forfeiture of any part of the estate of any person for any crime except murder or treason against the State, and then only on conviction and attainder.

"25. That a well-regulated militia is the proper and natural defence of a free Government.

"26. That standing armies are dangerous to liberty, and ought not to be raised or kept up without consent of the Legislature.

"27. That in all cases and at all times the military ought to be under strict subordination to, and control of, the civil power.

"28. That no soldier ought to be quartered in any house in time of peace without the consent of the owner, and in time of war in such manner only as the Legislature shall direct.

"29. That no person except regular soldiers, mariners, and marines in the service of this State, or militia when in actual service, ought in any case to be subject to, or punishable by, martial law.

"30. That the independency and uprightness of Judges are essential to the impartial administration of justice, and a great security to the rights and liberties of the people; wherefore the Chancellor and all Judges and Justices ought to hold commissions during good behaviour, removable only for misbehaviour, on conviction in a court of law, or by a vote of the Legislature. That salaries liberal, but not profuse, ought to be secured to the Chancellor and the Judges, during the continuance of their commissions, and reasonable salaries, or fees, allowed to the officers: no Chancellor or Judge ought to hold any other office, civil or military, or receive fees or perquisites of any kind.

"31. That a long continuance in the first executive departments of power or trust is dangerous to liberty; a rotation, therefore, in those departments is one of the best securities of permanent freedom.

"32. That no person holding a place of profit, or receiving any part of the profits thereof, or receiving the profits or any part of the profits arising on any agency for the supply of clothing or provisions for the Army or Navy, or holding any office under the United States or any of them, or a minister or preacher of the Gospel of any denomination, or any person employed in the regular land service, or marine, of this or the United States, ought to have a seat in the Legislature or the Council of this State.

"33. That no person ought to hold at the same time more than one office of profit, nor ought any person in publick trust to receive any present from any foreign Prince or State, or from the United States, or any of them, without the approbation of this State.

"34. That as it is the duty of every man to worship God in such manner as he thinks most acceptable to him, all persons professing the Christian religion are equally entitled to protection in their religious liberty; wherefore no person ought by any law to be molested in his person or estate on account of his religious persuasion or profession, or for his religious practice, unless under colour of religion any man shall disturb the good order, peace, or safety of the State, or shall infringe the laws of morality, or injure others in their natural, civil, or religious rights; nor ought any person to be compelled to frequent or maintain, or contribute, unless on contract, to maintain any place of worship, or ministry; but the churches, chapels, glebes, and all other property now belonging to the Church of England, ought to remain to the Church of England forever. And all acts of Assembly lately passed for collecting moneys for building or repairing particular churches or chapels of ease, shall continue in force and be executed, unless the Legislature shall by act supersede or repeal the same; but no County Court shall assess any quantity of tobacco or sum of money hereafter, on the application of any vestrymen or church-wardens; and every incumbent of the Church of England who hath remained in his parish and performed his duty shall be entitled to receive the provision and support established by the act entitled 'An act for the support of the clergy of the Church of England in this Province,' till the next November court to be held for the County in which his parish shall lie, or partly lie, or for such time as he hath remained in his parish and performed his duty.

"35. That every gift, sale, or devise of lands to any minister, publick teacher, or preacher of the Gospel, as such, or any religious sect, order, or denomination, or to or for the support, use, or benefit of, or in trust for, any minister, publick teacher, or preacher of the Gospel, as such, or any religious sect, order, or denomination; and every gift or sale of goods or chattels, to go in succession, or to take place after the death of the seller or donor, to or for such support, use, or benefit; and also every devise of goods or chattels to, or to or for the support, use, or benefit of, any minister, publick teacher, or preacher of the Gospel, as such, or any religious sect, order, or denomination, without the leave of the Legislature, shall be void; except always any sale, gift, lease, or devise of any quantity of land not exceeding two acres, for a church, meeting, or other house of worship, and for a burying-ground, which shall be improved, enjoyed, or used only for such purpose, or such sale, gift, lease, or devise shall be void.

"36. That no other test or qualification ought to be required on admission to any office of trust or profit, than such oath of support and fidelity to this State, and such oath of office as shall be directed by this Convention or the Legislature of this State, and a declaration of a belief in the Christian religion.

"37. That the City of Annapolis ought to have all its rights, privileges, and benefits, agreeable to its charter and the acts of Assembly confirming and regulating the same; subject, nevertheless, to such alterations as may be made by this Convention or any future Legislature.

"38. That the liberty of the press ought to be inviolably preserved.

"39. That monopolies are odious, contrary to the spirit of a free Government, and the principles of commerce, and ought not to be suffered.

"40. That no title of nobility or hereditary honours ought to be granted in this State.

"41. That the subsisting resolves of this and the several Conventions held for this Colony ought to be in force as laws, unless altered by this Convention or the Legislature of this State.

"42. That this Declaration of Rights, or the form of Government to be established by this Convention, or any part of either of them, ought not to be altered, changed or abolished by the Legislature of this State, but in such manner as this Convention shall prescribe and direct."

In progression on reading the Declaration of Rights, the question was put, That the third article thereof be concurred with? Resolved in the affirmative.

Post Meridiem. Convention met.

In progression on reading the Declaration of Rights, on motion of Mr. Earle, That the following be inserted as an article therein? "That all persons who, from religious scruples, esteem it unlawful to take an oath on any occasion, may be allowed to make their solemn appeal or affirmation in all civil and criminal cases, in such manner as their religious principles have induced them to point out for the attestation of the truth." The previous question was called for and put, Whether the above question be now put? Carried in the negative.

It was then moved by Mr. Johnson, that the following be inserted as an article in the Declaration of Rights: "That the manner of administering an oath to any person ought to be such as those of the religious persuasion, profession, or denomination of which such person is one, generally esteem the most effectual confirmation by the attestation of the Divine Being; and that the people called Quakers, those called Dunkers, and those called Menonists, holding it unlawful to take an oath on any occasion, ought to be allowed to make their solemn affirmation, in the manner that Quakers have been heretofore allowed to affirm, and to be of the same avail as an oath, in all such cases as the affirmation of Quakers hath been allowed and accepted within this State, instead of an oath. And further, on such affirmation, warrants to search for stolen goods, or the apprehension or commitment of offenders, ought to be granted, or security for the peace awarded, and Quakers, Dunkers, or Menonists, ought also, on their solemn affirmation as aforesaid, to be admitted as witnesses in all criminal cases not capital." To which an amendment was proposed by Mr. S. Chase, to strike out the latter part of the proposed article, which follows in these words: "And Quakers, Dunkers, or Menonists, ought also on their solemn affirmation as aforesaid, to be admitted as witnesses in all criminal cases not capital." On which amendment the question was put, and carried in the negative.

"THE DECLARATION OF RIGHTS.

"The Parliament of Great Britain, by a declaratory act, having assumed a right to make laws to bind the Colonies in all cases whatsoever, and in pursuance of such claim endeavoured by force of arms to subjugate the United Colonies to an unconditional submission to their will and power, and having at length constrained them to declare themselves Independent States, and to assume government under the authority of the People: Therefore we, the Delegates of Maryland, in free and full Convention assembled, taking into our most serious consideration the best means of establishing a good Constitution in this State, for the surer foundation, and more permanent security thereof, Declare,

"1. That all Government of right originates from the people, is founded in compact only, and instituted solely for the good of the whole.

"2. That the people of this State ought to have the sole and exclusive right of regulating the internal government and police thereof.

"3. That the inhabitants of Maryland are entitled to the common law of England, and the trial by jury, according to the course of that law, and to the benefit of such of the English statutes as existed at the time of their first emigration, and which by experience have been found applicable to their local and other circumstances, and of such others as have been since made in England or Great Britain, and have been introduced, used, and practised by the courts of law or equity; and also to all acts of Assembly in force on the first of June, seventeen hundred and seventy-four, except such as may have since expired, or have been, or may be altered by acts of Convention, or this Declaration of Rights; subject nevertheless to the revision of, and amendment or repeal by, the Legislature of this State; and the inhabitants of Maryland are also entitled to all property derived to them from or under the charter granted by his Majesty Charles the First, to Cæcilius Calvert, Baron of Baltimore.

"4. That all persons invested with the Legislative or Executive powers of Government, are the trustees of the publick, and as such accountable for their conduct; wherefore, whenever the ends of Government are perverted, and publick liberty manifestly endangered, and all other means of redress are ineffectual, the people may, and of right ought to reform the old, or establish a new Government; the doctrine of non-resistance against arbitrary power and oppression, is absurd, slavish, and destructive of the good and happiness of mankind.

"5. That the right in the people to participate in the Legislature is the best security of liberty, and the foundation of all free Government; for this purpose elections ought to be free and frequent, and every man having property in, a common interest with, and an attachment to, the community, ought to have a right of suffrage.

"6. That the Legislative, Executive, and Judicial powers of Government, ought to be forever separate and distinct from each other.

"7. That no power of suspending laws, or the execution, of laws, unless by or derived from the Legislature, ought to be exercised or allowed.

"8. That freedom of speech, and debates, or proceedings, in the Legislature, ought not to be impeached in any other court or judicature.

"9. That a place for the meeting of the Legislature ought to be fixed, the most convenient to the members thereof, and to the depository of the publick records, and the Legislature ought not to be convened or held at any other place but from evident necessity.

"10. That for the redress of grievances, and for amending, strengthening and preserving the laws, the Legislature ought to be frequently convened.

"11. That every man hath a right to petition the Legislature for the redress of grievances, in a peaceable and orderly manner.

"12. That no aid, charge, tax, burthen, fee, or fees, ought to be set, rated, or levied, under any pretence, without the consent of the Legislature.

"13. That the levying taxes by the poll is grievous and oppressive, and ought to be abolished; that paupers ought not to be assessed for the support of Government, but every other person in the State ought to contribute his proportion of publick taxes for the support of Government according to his actual worth in real or personal property within this State; yet fines, duties, or taxes may properly and justly be imposed or laid with a political view for the good government and benefit of the community.

"14. That sanguinary laws ought to be avoided, as far as is consistent with the safety of the State; and no law to inflict cruel and unusual pains and penalties ought to be made in any case, or at any time hereafter.

"15. That retrospective laws, punishing facts committed before the existence of such laws, and by them only declared criminal, are oppressive, unjust, and incompatible with liberty; wherefore no ex post facto law ought to be made.

"16. That no law to attaint particular persons of treason or felony, ought to be made in any case, or at any time hereafter.

"17. That every freeman for any injury done to him in his person or property, ought to have remedy by the course of the law of the land, and ought to have justice and right, freely without sale, fully without any denial, and speedily without delay, according to the law of the land.

"18. That the trial of facts where they arise, is one of the greatest securities of the lives, liberties, and estate of the people.

"19. That in all criminal prosecutions, every man hath a right to be informed of the accusation against him, to have a copy of the indictment or charge in due time (if required) to prepare for his defence, to be allowed counsel, to be confronted with the witnesses against him, to have process for his witnesses, to examine the witnesses for and against him on oath, and to a speedy trial by an impartial jury, without whose unanimous consent he ought not to be found guilty.

"20. That no man ought to be compelled to give evidence against himself in a court of common law, or in any other court, but in such cases as have been usually practised in this State, or may hereafter be directed by the Legislature.

"21. That no freeman ought to be taken, or imprisoned, or disseized of his freehold, liberties, or privileges, or outlawed, or exiled, or in any manner destroyed, or deprived of his life, liberty, or property, but by the judgment of his peers, or by the law of the land.

"22. That excessive bail ought not to be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel or unusual punishments inflicted by the court of law.

"23. That all warrants without oath or affirmation, to search suspected places, or to seize any person, or property, are grievous and oppressive; and all general warrants to search suspected places, or to apprehend suspected persons, without naming or describing the place, or the person in special, are illegal, and ought not to be granted.

"24. That there ought to be no forfeiture of any part of the estate of any person for any crime except murder or treason against the State, and then only on conviction and attainder.

"25. That a well-regulated Militia is the proper and natural defence of a free Government.

"26. That standing armies are dangerous to liberty, and ought not to be raised or kept up without consent of the Legislature.

"27. That in all cases and at all times the military ought to be under strict subordination to, and control of, the civil power.

"28. That no soldier ought to be quartered in any house in time of peace without the consent of the owner, and in time of war in such manner only as the Legislature shall direct.

"29. That no person except regular soldiers, mariners and marines in the service of this State, or Militia when in actual service, ought in any case to be subject to, or punishable by, martial law.

"30. That the independency and uprightness of Judges are essential to the impartial administration of justice, and a great security to the rights and liberties of the people; wherefore the Chancellor and all Judges ought to hold commissions during good behaviour; and the said Chancellor and Judges shall be removed for misbehaviour, on conviction in a court of law, and may be removed by the Governour upon the address of the General Assembly, provided that two-thirds of all the members of each House concur in such address. That salaries liberal, but not profuse, ought to be secured to the Chancellor and the Judges, during the continuance of their commissions, in such manner and at such time as the Legislature shall hereafter direct, upon consideration of the circumstances of this State: no Chancellor or Judge ought to hold any other office, civil or military, or receive fees or perquisites of any kind.

"31. That a long continuance in the first executive departments of power or trust, is dangerous to liberty; a rotation therefore in those departments is one of the best securities of permanent freedom.

"32. That no person ought to hold at the same time more than one office of profit, nor ought any person in publick trust to receive any present from any foreign Prince, or State, or from the United States, or any of them, without the approbation of this State.

"33. That as it is the duty of every man to worship God in such manner as he thinks most acceptable to Him, all persons professing the Christian religion are equally entitled to protection in their religious liberty; wherefore no person ought by any law to be molested in his person or estate on account of his religious persuasion or profession, or for his religious practice, unless under colour of religion any man shall disturb the good order, peace, or safety of the State, or shall infringe the laws of morality, or injure others in their natural, civil, or religious rights; nor ought any person to be compelled to frequent or maintain, or contribute, unless on contract, to maintain any particular place of worship, or any particular ministry; yet the Legislature may in their discretion lay a general and equal tax for the support of the Christian religion, leaving to each individual the power of appointing the payment over of the money collected from him, to the support of any particular place of worship or minister; or for the benefit of the poor of his own denomination, or the poor in general of any particular county; but the churches, chapels, glebes, and all other property now belonging to the Church of England, ought to remain to the Church of England forever. And all acts of Assembly lately passed for collecting moneys for building or repairing particular churches or chapels of ease, shall continue in force and be executed, unless the Legislature shall by act supersede or repeal the same; but no County court shall assess any quantity of tobacco or sum of money hereafter, on the application of any vestrymen or church wardens; and every incumbent of the Church of England who hath remained in his parish and performed his duty, shall be entitled to receive the provision and support established by the act entitled 'An act for the support of the Clergy of the Church of England in this Province,' till the November court of this present year, to be held for the County in which his parish shall lie, or partly lie, or for such time as he hath remained in his parish and performed his duty.

"34. That every gift, sale, or devise of lands to any minister, publick teacher, or preacher of the Gospel, as such, or to any religious sect, order or denomination, or to or for the support, use or benefit of, or in trust for, any minister, publick teacher or preacher of the Gospel, as such, or any religious sect, order or denomination; and every gift or sale of goods or chattels, to go in succession, or to take place after the death of the seller or donor, to or for such support, use or benefit; and also every devise of goods or chattels to, or to or for the support, use or benefit of any minister, publick teacher or preacher of the Gospel, as such, or any religious sect, order or denomination, without the leave of the Legislature, shall be void; except always any sale, gift, lease or devise of any quantity of land not exceeding two acres, for a church, meeting, or other house of worship, and for a burying-ground, which shall be improved, enjoyed, or used only for such purpose, or such sale, gift, lease, or devise shall be void.

"35. That no other test or qualification ought to be required on admission to any office of trust or profit, than such oath of support and fidelity to this State, and such oath of office as shall be directed by this Convention or the Legislature of this State, and a declaration of a belief in the Christian religion.

"36. That the manner of administering an oath to any person ought to be such as those of the religious persuasion, profession or denomination of which such person is one, generally esteem the most effectual confirmation by the attestation of the Divine Being; and that the people called Quakers, those called Dunkers, and those called Menonists, holding it unlawful to take an oath on any occasion, ought to be allowed to make their solemn affirmation in the manner that Quakers have been heretofore allowed to affirm, and to be of the same avail as an oath in all such cases as the affirmation of Quakers hath been allowed and accepted within this State instead of an oath. And further on such affirmation warrants to search for stolen goods or the apprehension or commitment of offenders ought to be granted, or security for the peace awarded; and Quakers, Dunkers, or Menonists, ought also on their solemn affirmation as aforesaid to be admitted as witnesses in all criminal cases not capital.

"37. That the City of Annapolis ought to have all its rights, privileges, and benefits, agreeable to its charter and the acts of Assembly confirming and regulating the same; subject, nevertheless, to such alterations as may be made by this Convention or any future Legislature.

"38. That the liberty of the press ought to be inviolably preserved.

"39. That monopolies are odious, contrary to the spirit of a free government, and the principles of commerce, and ought not to be suffered.

"40. That no title of nobility or hereditary honours ought to be granted in this State.

"41. That the subsisting resolves of this and the several Conventions held for this Colony ought to be in force as laws, unless altered by this Convention or the Legislature of this State.

"42. That this Declaration of Rights, or the form of Government to be established by this Convention, or any part of either of them, ought not to be altered, changed or abolished, by the Legislature of this State, but in such manner as this Convention shall prescribe and direct."

Agreeable to the order of the day, the Convention resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole, to consider further of the form of Government for this State; Mr. T. Wright in the chair. After some time spent therein, Mr. President resumed the chair, and Mr. Wright reported, that the Committee had, according to order, taken into consideration the form of Government for this State, and had come to several resolutions thereon, which they had directed him to report; which he read in his place, and afterwards delivered them in at the table, where they were again read, and are as follow:

"THE CONSTITUTION AND FORM OF GOVERNMENT.

"1. That the Legislature consist of two distinct branches, a Senate and a House of Delegates, which shall be styled the General Assembly of Maryland.

"2. That the House of Delegates shall be chosen in the following manner: All freemen, residents of this State, above twenty-one years of age, having a freehold of fifty acres of land in the County in which they offer to vote, or having property in this State above the value of thirty pounds, current money, and having resided in the County in which they offer to vote one whole year next preceding the election, shall have a right of suffrage in the election of Delegates for such County; and all freemen so qualified shall, on the first Monday of October, seventeen hundred and seventy-seven, and on the same day in every year thereafter, assemble in the Counties in which they are respectively qualified to vote, at the Court-Houses in the said Counties, or at such other place as the Legislature shall direct; and when assembled, or the major part of such of them as do assemble, shall elect, viva voce, four Delegates for each County, of the most wise, sensible, and discreet of the people, residents in the County for which they are to be chosen one whole year next preceding the time of election, above twenty-one years of age, and having in the State real and personal property above the value of five hundred pounds, current money.

"3. That the Sheriff of each County, or, in case of sickness, his Deputy, (summoning two Justices of the County, who are required to attend for the preservation of the peace,) shall be judge of the election, and may adjourn from day to day, if necessary, till the same be finished, so that the whole election shall be concluded in four days; and shall make his return thereof, under his hand, to the Chancellor of this State for the time being.

"4. That all persons qualified by the charter of the City of Annapolis to vote for Burgesses, shall, on the same first Monday of October, seventeen hundred and seventy-seven, and on the same day in every year for ever thereafter, elect viva voce, by a majority of votes, two Delegates, qualified agreeable to the said charter; that the Mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen, of the said city, or any three of them, be judge of the election, appoint the place in the said city for holding the same, and may adjourn from day to day as aforesaid, and shall make return thereof as aforesaid.

"5. That all persons inhabitants of Baltimore Town, and having the same qualifications as electors in the County, shall, on the same first Monday of October, seventeen hundred and seventy-seven, and on the same day in every year for ever thereafter, at such place in the said town as the said judges shall appoint, elect viva voce, by a majority of votes, two Delegates, qualified as aforesaid.

"6. That the Commissioners of the said town, or any three or more of them, for the time being, shall be judges of the said election, and may adjourn as aforesaid, and shall make return thereof as aforesaid; but the inhabitants of the said town shall not be entitled to vote for Delegates for Baltimore County, unless they have a freehold of fifty acres of land in the County without the limits of the said town.

"7. That on refusal, death, disqualification, resignation, or removal out of the State, of any Delegate, or on his becoming Governour, or member of the Council, a warrant of election shall issue by the Speaker for the election of another in his place, of which ten days' notice at least, excluding the day of notice and the day of election, shall be given.

"8. That not less than a majority of the Delegates, with their Speaker, (to be chosen by them by ballot,) constitute an House for the transacting any business other than that of adjourning.

"9. That the House of Delegates shall judge of the elections and qualifications of Delegates.

"10. That the House of Delegates may originate all money bills, propose bills to the Senate or receive those offered by that body, and assent, dissent, or propose amendments; that they may inquire, on the oath of witnesses, into all complaints, grievances, and offences, as the grand inquest of this State, and may commit any person for any crime to the publick jail, there to remain till he be discharged by due course of law; they may expel any member for a great misdemeanour, but not a second time for the same cause; they may examine and pass all accounts of the State, relating either to the collection or expenditure of the revenue, or appoint Auditors to state and adjust the same; they may call for all publick or official papers and records, and send for persons, whom they may judge necessary, in the course of their inquiries, concerning affairs relating to the publick interest, and may direct all office bonds (which shall be made payable to the State) to be sued for any breach of duty.

"11. That the Senate may be at full and perfect liberty to exercise their judgment in passing laws, and that they may not be compelled by the House of Delegates and the publick distress, either to reject a money bill which the emergency of affairs may require, or to assent to some other act of legislation, in their conscience and judgment injurious to the publick welfare; the House of Delegates shall not on any occasion, or under any pretence, annex to, or blend with, a money bill any matter, clause, or thing, not immediately relating to, and necessary for the imposing, assessing, levying, or applying the taxes or supplies, to be raised for the support of Government, or the current expenses of the State; and to prevent altercation about such bills, it is declared, that no bill imposing duties or customs for the mere regulating of commerce, or inflicting fines for the reformation of morals, or to enforce the execution of the laws, by which an incidental revenue may arise, shall be accounted a money bill; but every bill assessing, levying, or applying taxes or supplies for the support of Government, or the current expenses of the State, or appropriating money in the Treasury, shall be deemed a money bill.

"12. That the House of Delegates may punish, by imprisonment, any person who shall be guilty of a contempt in their view, by any disorderly or riotous behaviour, or by threats to, or abuse of their members, or by any obstruction to their proceedings; they may also punish, by imprisonment, any person who shall be guilty of a breach of privilege, by arresting on civil process, or by assaulting any of their members, during their sitting, or on their way to, or return from, the House of Delegates, or by any assault of, or obstruction to their officers, in the execution of any order or process, or by assaulting or obstructing any witness, or any other person, attending on, or on their way to or from, the House, or by rescuing any person committed by the House; and the Senate may exercise the same power, in similar cases.

"13. That the Treasurers (one for the Western and another for the Eastern-Shore) and the Commissioners of the Loan Office may be appointed by the House of Delegates during their pleasure, and in case of refusal, death, resignations, disqualification, or removal out of the State of any of the said Commissioners or Treasurers, in the recess of the General Assembly, the Governour, with the advice of the Council, may appoint and commission a fit and proper person to such vacant office, to hold the same until the meeting of the next General Assembly.

"14. That the Senate be chosen in the following manner: All persons, qualified as aforesaid to vote for County Delegates, shall on the first Monday of September, 1781, and on the same day in every fifth year forever thereafter, elect viva voce, by a majority of votes, two persons for their respective Counties, qualified as aforesaid to be elected County Delegates, to be Electors of the Senate; and the Sheriff of each County, or in case of sickness his Deputy, (summoning two Justices of the County who are required to attend for the preservation of the peace,) shall hold and be judge of the said election, and make return thereof as aforesaid.

"15. That the said Electors of the Senate meet at the City of Annapolis, or such other place as shall be appointed for convening the Legislature, on the third Monday in September, 1781, and on the same day in every fifth year forever thereafter, and they, or any twenty-four of them so met, shall proceed to elect, by ballot, either out of their own body, or the people at large, fifteen Senators, (nine of whom to be residents on the Western, and six to be residents on the Eastern-Shore,) men of the most wisdom, experience and virtue, above twenty-five years of age, residents of the State above three whole years next preceding the election, and having therein real and personal property above the value of one thousand pounds, current money.

"16. That the Senators shall be balloted for at one and the same time, and out of the gentlemen, residents of the Western-Shore, who shall be proposed as Senators, the nine, who shall on striking the ballots appear to have the greatest numbers in their favour, shall be accordingly declared and returned duly elected; and out of the gentlemen, residents of the Eastern-Shore, who shall be proposed as Senators, the six who shall, on striking the ballots, appear to have the greatest numbers in their favour, shall be accordingly declared and returned duly elected; and if two or more, on the same Shore, shall have an equal number of ballots in their favour, by which the choice shall not be determined on the first ballot, then the Electors shall again ballot before they separate, in which they shall be confined to the persons who, on the first ballot, shall have had an equal number; and they who shall have the greatest number in their favour on the second ballot shall be accordingly declared and returned duly elected: and if the whole number should not thus be made up, because of an equal number on the second ballot still being in favour of two or more persons, then the election shall be determined by lot, between those who have equal numbers; which proceedings of the Electors shall be certified under their hands and returned to the Chancellor for the time being.

"17. That the Electors of Senators shall judge of the qualifications and elections of members of their body, and on a contested election shall admit to a seat, as an elector, such qualified person, as shall appear to them to have the greatest number of legal votes in his favour.

"18. That the Electors immediately on their meeting, and before they proceed to the election of Senators, take such oath or affirmation of support and fidelity to this State, as this Convention or the Legislature shall direct, and also an oath or affirmation 'to elect without favour, affection, partiality, 'or prejudice, such persons for Senators as they in their judg-'ment and conscience believe best qualified for the office.'

"19. That in case of refusal, death, resignation, disqualification, or removal out of the State, of any Senator, or on his becoming Governour, or a member of the Council, the Senate shall immediately thereupon, or at their next meeting thereafter, elect by ballot, in the same manner as the Electors are above directed to choose Senators, another person in his place, for the remainder of the said term of five years.

"20. That not less than a majority of the Senate, with their President, (to be chosen by them by ballot,) shall constitute an House for the transacting any business, other than that of adjourning.

"21. That the Senate shall judge of the elections and qualification of Senators.

"22. That the Senate may originate any other, except money bills, to which their assent or dissent only shall be given, and may receive any other bills from the House of Delegates, and assent, dissent or propose amendments.

"23. That the General Assembly meet annually, on the first Monday of November, and if necessary oftener.

"24. That each House shall appoint its own officers, and settle its own rules of proceeding.

"25. That a person of wisdom, experience, and virtue, shall be chosen Governour on the second Monday of November, seventeen hundred and seventy-seven, and on the second Monday in every year forever thereafter, by the joint ballot of both Houses, to be taken in each House respectively, deposited in a conference room, the boxes to be examined by a joint committee of both Houses, and the numbers severally reported, that the appointment may be entered; which mode of taking the joint ballot of both Houses shall be adopted in all cases. But if two or more shall have an equal number of ballots in their favour, by which the choice shall not be determined on the first ballot, then a second ballot shall be taken, which shall be confined to the persons who on the first ballot shall have had an equal number; and if the ballots should again be equal between two or more persons, then the election of the Governour shall be determined by lot between those who have equal numbers.

"26. That the Senators and Delegates, on the second Tuesday of November, seventeen hundred and seventy-seven, and annually on the second Tuesday of November forever thereafter, elect by joint ballot in the same manner as Senators are directed to be chosen, five of the most sensible, discreet, and experienced men, above twenty-five years of age, residents in the State above three years next preceding the election, and having therein a freehold in lands and tenements above the value of one thousand pounds, current money, to be the Council to the Governour, whose proceedings shall be always entered on record, to any part whereof any member may enter his dissent, and their advice, if so required by the Governour, or any member of the Council, shall be given in writing, and signed by the members giving the same respectively; which proceedings of the Council shall be laid before the Senate, or House of Delegates, when called for by them, or either of them. The Council may appoint their own Clerk, who shall take such oath or affirmation of support and fidelity to this State as this Convention or the Legislature shall direct, and of secrecy, in such matters as he shall be directed by the Board to keep secret.

"27. That the Delegates to Congress from this State shall be chosen annually, or superseded in the mean time by the joint ballot of both Houses of Assembly, and that there be a rotation in such manner that at least two of the number be annually changed, who shall not be eligible for two years then next to come; and that no person who holds any office of profit in the gift of Congress shall be eligible to sit in Congress, but if appointed to any such office his seat shall be thereby vacated: that no person unless above twenty-five years of age, and a resident in this State more than five years next preceding the election, and having real and personal estate in this State above the value of one thousand pounds, current money, shall be eligible to sit in Congress.

"28. That the Senators and Delegates, immediately on their annual meeting, and before they proceed to any business, and every person hereafter elected a Senator, or Delegate, before he acts as such, shall take such oath of support and fidelity to this State as aforesaid, and before the election of the Governour, or members of the Council, shall take an oath 'to elect, without favour, affection, partiality, or preju-'dice, such person, as Governour, or member of the Council, 'as they, in their judgment and conscience, believe best 'qualified for the office.'

"29. That the Senate and Delegates may adjourn themselves respectively; but if the two Houses should not agree on the same time, but adjourn to different days, then shall the Governour appoint and notify one of those days or some day between, and the Assembly shall then meet and be held accordingly, and he shall, if necessary, by advice of the Council, call them before the time to which they shall in any manner be adjourned, on giving not less than ten days notice thereof, but the Governour shall not adjourn the Assembly otherwise than as aforesaid, nor prorogue or dissolve it at any time.

"30. That no person unless above twenty-five years of age, a resident in this State above five years next preceding the election, and having in the State real and personal property above the value of five thousand pounds, current money, one thousand pounds whereof at least to be of freehold estate, shall be eligible as Governour.

"31. That the Governour shall not continue in that office longer than three years successively, nor be eligible as Governour until the expiration of four years, after he shall have been out of that office.

"32. That upon the death, resignation, or removal out of this State of the Governour, the first-named of the Council, for the time being, shall act as Governour, and qualify in the same manner, and shall immediately call a meeting of the General Assembly, giving not less than fourteen days notice of the meeting, at which meeting a Governour shall be appointed in manner aforesaid, for the residue of the year.

"33. That the Governour, by and with the advice and consent of the Council, may imbody the Militia, and when embodied shall alone have the direction thereof, and shall also have the direction of all the regular land and sea forces under the laws of this State; but he shall not command in person unless advised thereto by the Council, and then only so long as they shall approve thereof; and may alone exercise all other the executive powers of Government, where the concurrence of the Council is not required, according to the laws of this State, and grant reprieves or pardons for any crime, except in such cases where the law shall otherwise direct; and may, during the recess of the General Assembly, lay embargoes to prevent the departure of any shipping, or the exportation of any commodities, for any time not exceeding thirty days in any one year, summoning the General Assembly to meet within the time of the continuance of such embargo, and may also order and compel any vessel to ride quarantine, if such vessel, or the port from which she shall have come, shall, on strong grounds, be suspected to be infected with the plague; but the Governour shall not, under any pretence, exercise any power or prerogative, by virtue of any law, statute, or custom of England or Great Britain.

"34. That the Members of the Council, or any three or more of them, when convened, shall constitute a Board for the transacting of business; that the Governour for the time being shall always be the President of the Council, and as such entitled to a vote on all questions in which they shall be divided in opinion; and in the absence of the Governour the first named of the Council shall act as Vice-President, and as such shall also vote in all cases where the members disagree in their opinion.

"35. That in case of refusal, death, resignation, disqualification, or removal out of the State, by any person chosen a member of the Council, the members thereof, immediately thereupon, or at their next meeting thereafter, shall elect by ballot another person, qualified as aforesaid, in his place, for the residue of the year.

"36. That the Council shall have power to make the great seal of this State, which shall be kept by the Chancellor for the time being, and affixed to all laws, commissions, grants, and other publick testimonials, as has been heretofore practised in this State.

"37. That no Senator, Delegate of the Assembly, or Member of the Council, shall be capable of holding any office of profit in this State, during the time he shall act as Senator, Delegate of the Assembly, or Member of the Council; nor shall any Governour be capable of holding any other office of profit in this State while he acts as such.

"38. That every Governour, Senator, Delegate to Congress or Assembly, and Member of the Council, before he acts as such, shall take an oath, 'That he will not receive 'directly or indirectly, at any time, any part of the profits of 'any office, held by any other person during his acting in 'his office of Governour, Senator, Delegate to Congress or 'Assembly, or Member of the Council, or the profits, or any 'part of the profits arising on any agency, for the supply of 'clothing or provisions for the Army or Navy.'

"39. That if any Senator, Delegate of the Assembly, or Member of the Council, shall hold or execute any office of profit, or receive directly or indirectly, at any time, the profits or any part of the profits of any office exercised by any other person, during his acting as Senator, Delegate of the Assembly, or Member of the Council, his seat, on conviction in a court of law, by the oath of two credible witnesses, shall be void, and he shall suffer the punishment for willful and corrupt perjury, or be banished this State forever, or disqualified forever from holding any office or place of trust or profit, as the court may adjudge.

"40. That the Chancellor, all Judges, the Attorney-General, Clerks of the General Court, the Clerks of the County Courts, the Register of the Land Office, and the Register of Wills, shall hold their commissions during good behaviour, removable only for misbehaviour, on conviction in a court of law.

"41. That there be a Register of Wills appointed for each County, who shall be commissioned by the Governour, on the joint recommendation of the Senate and House of Delegates, and that upon the death, resignation, disqualification, or removal out of the County, by any Register of Wills in the recess of the General Assembly, the Governour, with the advice of the Council, may appoint and commission a fit and proper person to such vacant office, to hold the same until the meeting of the General Assembly.

"42. That Sheriffs shall be elected annually in each County by ballot, that is to say, two persons for the office of Sheriff for each County, the one of whom having the majority of votes, or if both have an equal number, either of them, at the discretion of the Governour, to be commissioned by the Governour for the said office; no person to continue in the said office more than three successive years, or be capable of being again elected during four years afterwards: bond with security to be taken every year as usual, and no Sheriff shall be qualified to act before the same is given. So help me God."

That every Clerk, before he enters any vote on the polls, shall take the following oath, to wit: "I, A B, do declare, that I will well and faithfully, without favour, affection, or partiality, execute the office of Clerk of the Elections for County, the City of Annapolis, or Baltimore Town, according to the best of my knowledge. Resolved, That at the election for Sheriff in Cæcil County on Wednesday, the 18th of December next, it shall be lawful for the voters to mention in their ballots the name of the place they choose for holding the County Courts in the said County for the future; and that the Judges of said election shall count the number of ballots for each place that shall be voted for, and due return thereof make to the next General Assembly of this State, for their further order therein.

The order of the day, for taking into consideration the Memorial of Captain William Stone, being read,

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to inquire into the truth of the facts therein set forth.

And Mr. S. Wright, Mr. J. T. Chase, and Mr. Grahame, were appointed a Committee for that purpose.

The Convention took into consideration the Report from the Committee appointed to prepare a scheme for the emission of Bills of Credit, to defray the expenses of defending this State, and for other purposes therein mentioned, and came to the following Resolutions thereon:

Resolved, That for the defence of this State, and for other purposes resolved upon in Convention, Bills of Credit of the denomination of dollars, and parts of a dollar, to the amount of five hundred and thirty-five thousand one hundred and eleven dollars and one-ninth part of a dollar, be printed and struck with all convenient speed, under the care and direction of such persons as shall be appointed by the Council of Safety for that purpose, in manner and form following, to wit:

"This Bill of shall entitle the bearer hereof to receive gold or silver, at the rate of four shillings and sixpence sterling per dollar for the said Bill, according to a resolve of the Convention of Maryland, held at the City of Annapolis, the 14th day of August, 1776."

That the said Bills of Credit be struck on the plates and printed with the devices and marks prepared for the last emission, and that the number and denomination of the said bills shall be the following, and no other, to wit: sixteen thousand bills of eight dollars each, sixteen thousand bills of six dollars each, sixteen thousand bills of four dollars each, sixteen thousand bills of two dollars and two-third parts of a dollar each, thirty-two thousand bills of two dollars each, thirty-two thousand bills of one dollar and one-third part of a dollar each, thirty-two thousand bills of one dollar each, thirty-two thousand bills of two-third parts of a dollar each, forty thousand bills of half a dollar each, forty thousand bills of one-third part of a dollar each, forty thousand bills of one-sixth part of a dollar each, and forty thousand bills of one-ninth part of a dollar each.

That the Council of Safety purchase and provide a sufficient quantity of proper paper, on which to print and strike the said Bills of Credit, and that the said Council of Safety do forthwith cause the said Bills of Credit to be printed and struck, under the direction of two discreet and sober freemen of this State, to be by them appointed to that service, who shall be called Supervisors.

That the said Supervisors shall use the best of their care and diligence that the said bills, according to their respective denominations aforesaid, and according to the manner and form aforesaid, be forthwith printed and struck, and that the number of any of the denominations thereof be not exceeded, nor any clandestine or fraudulent practice be used by the printer, his apprentices, servants, and others concerned in the printing or striking thereof.

That the printer, and all his apprentices and servants whom he shall employ in the said work, before he or they enter upon the same, take before some Justice of the Peace, in the presence of one or both of the Supervisors, the following oath, to wit:

"I, A B, do swear, that I will truly, faithfully, and honestly perform the duty of printer of the Bills of Credit directed to be printed by a resolve of the Convention of Maryland, held at the City of Annapolis the 14th day of August, seventeen hundred and seventy-six, and that I will not advisedly print or stamp a greater number of blank Bills of Credit than in that resolve mentioned, nor of any other denomination than therein expressed, except such sheets as may be so blotted, unfair, or imperfect in the printing or striking thereof, that the same shall be unfit for use. So help me God."

That the said printer shall not by himself, his servants, or any other person by him employed, print, strike, stitch, or bind, the said bills, or any of them, but in the presence of one or both of the said Supervisors. And in every intermission of the work, the said Supervisors shall safely and securely lock up the press and stamps with which the work shall be performed, and the impressions which shall be then made, in the room in which the printing and binding shall be done, and the keys of such room shall keep in their possession. And when all the said bills shall be printed and struck, the plates shall be immediately delivered by the printer to the said Supervisors, and by them to the Convention, or in its recess to the Council of Safety.

That the said Supervisors, as soon as the said bills shall be printed, struck, stitched, and bound, shall deliver three-fourth parts thereof in value to the Treasurer of the Western-Shore, and the other fourth part thereof to the Treasurer of the Eastern-Shore; and the said Treasurers shall deliver out to the signers residing on their respective Shores, such and so many of the said bills to be immediately numbered and signed by them, as may be sufficient to answer any probable immediate demand on them for the same, not exceeding twelve thousand dollars; and each of the said bills shall be numbered and signed by some two of the said signers, and returned again after being numbered and signed, to the respective Treasurers; and so from time to time shall the said bills be delivered out, numbered, signed, and returned to the said Treasurers respectively, either of the said Treasurers not keeping by him at any one time, ready numbered and signed, more than twelve thousand dollars.

That the receipts of every delivery of the said bills, before and after the numbering and signing the same, be given by the signers and Treasurers respectively, each to the other.

That the Treasurer of the Western-Shore, out of the said Bills of Credit in his hands, pay to each of the Supervisors two dollars and two-third parts of a dollar for each day's attendance and supervising the said work, and to the printer so much as shall be agreed by the Council of Safety for his services, and for the ink and other materials, except paper, necessary for the said work; and the said Treasurers shall also respectively pay to each signer of every thousand of the said bills one dollar and one-third part of a dollar for his services.

That the Treasurer of the Western-Shore shall have a yearly salary of one thousand dollars, and the Treasurer of the Eastern-Shore shall have a yearly salary of four hundred dollars, for their trouble and expenses.

That torn and defaced bills shall be exchanged at reasonable and convenient times.

That the said Bills of Credit shall be redeemed and sunk on or before the first day of January, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-six, by taxes or other legislative provision; and this Convention bind their constituents, and pledge the faith of the State, for the redemption of the said bills on or before the said first day of January, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-six.

That one hundred and twenty thousand dollars of the said Bills of Credit, so to be printed and struck, shall be applied to exchange the Bills of Credit printed and struck by virtue of the resolve of the Convention on the twenty-sixth day of July, in the year one thousand seven hundred and seventy-five, and the said Treasurers shall, upon the application of any person or persons holding any number and value of the said Bills of Credit, deliver to such person or persons the like value in the new Bills of Credit in lieu thereof.

That from and after the receipt of the Bills of Credit emitted by this Convention by the said Treasurers respectively, all payments which they shall make by virtue of any resolve of Convention, shall be made in the Bills of Credit emitted by this and the last Convention, and not in the Bills of Credit of the emission of July, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-five.

That the said Bills of Credit, which shall be so as aforesaid printed and struck, over and above the said bills hereby directed to be applied to exchange the said former Bills of Credit, be applied to the several purposes resolved on in this and the last Convention of this State, and that the Treasurers pay the same to the orders of the Convention, Council of Safety, or such persons as this Convention shall direct and appoint.

That the said Treasurers, before they receive the said blank bills to be printed and struck by virtue of the resolves of this Convention, shall give bonds respectively, the Treasurer of the Western-Shore in the penalty of twelve thousand pounds sterling, payable to the Honourable Daniel of Saint Thomas Jenifer, Charles Carroll of Carrollton, and Charles Carroll, (Barrister,) Esquires; and the Treasurer of the Eastern-Shore in the penalty of four thousand pounds sterling, payable to the Honourable Matthew Tilghman, Edward Lloyd, and James Lloyd Chamberlaine, Esquires, with the like conditions as directed by the resolve of Convention in July session, seventeen hundred and seventy-five; both which bonds shall be with sufficient sureties, to be approved of by the obligees therein named, or any two of them respectively.

On motion of Mr. Bowie, the question was put, That a sum of money be provided at the publick expense, for drummers and fifers, with drums, fifes, and colours? Carried in the negative.

On motion, Resolved, That the Brigadiers-General of this State, when called into actual service, be allowed at the rate of eighty Dollars per calendar month.

The Convention resumed the consideration of the Letter from the honourable the President of the Congress, and the Resolutions of Congress laid before them yesterday, and thereupon came to the following Resolutions:

Resolved, That if the honourable Congress will specify any Land belonging to the United States as a common stock to be divided amongst the soldiery in their service, the Commissioners appointed by this Convention to repair to the camps in New-York and the Jerseys immediately on its being made known to them proceed to the camps, and endeavour to inlist such of the Troops and Militia of this State now there, as are willing to enter into the Continental service on the terms proposed by Congress: or if the Congress will not make such specification of the Lands to be given as aforesaid, and will permit the inlistment of the quota of Troops of this State on the terms proposed by this Convention, that then the Commissioners proceed to the camps and endeavour to procure the inlistment of the Troops according to the former resolutions of this Convention, paying to each Non-Commissioned Officer and Private who shall so inlist, the twenty dollars bounty allowed by Congress, and the additional bounty of ten dollars proposed by the said resolutions of Convention to be allowed by this State.

But if the honourable Congress will not specify the Lands as aforesaid, and should signify a desire that the said additional bounty of ten dollars should not be given, that then the Commissioners with the permission of Congress proceed as aforesaid and endeavour to effect the said inlistment on the bounty of twenty dollars allowed by Congress; but they are not to engage the faith of this State to give or make good any bounty of Lands or give any assurance whatsoever that they will have such bounty.

Resolved, That Mr. President write to the Congress, and inform them, that this Convention feel themselves very unhappy that there should have been any, the least, difference of opinion between them; and as desired have reconsidered their former resolutions for raising the quota of Troops of this State, and on a very deliberate and attentive consideration of the subject have come to the resolutions of this day, which the President is requested to enclose.

That this Convention never apprehended that the Congress intended this State should be obliged in its individual capacity to make good the bounty of Lands to the soldiery, but were of opinion and remain firmly persuaded that if the bounty in Land should, by authority of this State, be proposed as a motive to induce the individuals of its quota to inlist, this State will be bound in good faith to see that bounty effectually granted; and therefore as this State has no Lands belonging solely and exclusively to itself, with which to make good the bounty, it is not only prudent, but necessary, before they do an act which will engage the faith of the State, to know what Land is to be applied, and on what terms, to the designed purpose.

That this Convention are under the strongest impressions that the back Lands claimed by the British Crown, if secured by the blood and treasure of all, ought in reason, justice, and policy, to be considered as a common stock, to be parcelled out by Congress into free, convenient, and independent Governments, as the wisdom of that body shall hereafter direct; but if these (the only lands as this Convention apprehend that can) should be provided by Congress at the expense of the United States to make good the proffered bounties, every idea of their being a common stock must be thereby given up: some of the States may, by fixing their own price on the Land, pay off what of their quota of the publick debt they please, and have their extensive territory settled by the soldiery of the other States, whilst this State and a few others must be so weakened and impoverished, that they can hold their liberties only at the will of their powerful neighbours.

That this State is so far from having an intention to increase unnecessarily the expense of the United States, that it hath uniformly given every evidence to the contrary; but this Convention, impressed with the indispensable necessity of establishing and keeping up a good Army, at the same time that they could not be active in giving up a common right of the United States, or in rendering the freedom of their own precarious, determined to exert the only safe means in their power to raise the quota of this State, nor can this Convention yet see any possibility of injury to the common interest, from this State adopting the most effectual means to raise its own quota of Troops of its own inhabitants partly, or even wholly, at its separate expense.

That this Convention have a strong disinclination to go into any discussion of the powers with which the Congress is invested, being fully sensible that the general interest will not be promoted by either the Congress affirming, or this Convention denying, the existence of a fullness of power in that honourable body; the best and only proper exercise of which can be in adopting the wisest measures for equally securing the rights and liberties of each of the United States, which was the principle of their union.

That this Convention, very sincerely disposed to contribute every thing in their power towards the common cause, will, if the Congress choose neither to specify the Lands to be given in bounties, nor to permit this State to give the proposed additional bounty of ten dollars, endeavour to inlist its quota of Troops on the twenty dollars bounty allowed by Congress; but if the event should prove a disappointment, it cannot be imputed to this State.

That this Convention request the honourable Congress soon to signify their pleasure in this matter to the Commissioners from this State now attending in Philadelphia, that the little time left may not be lost.

On motion of Mr. Johnson,

Resolved, That those of Captain Richard Smith's Company who will not reinlist in the Artillery service of this State be discharged.

Mr. S. Wright brings in and delivers to Mr. President a Report from the Committee appointed to inquire into the truth of the facts set forth in the Memorial of Captain William Stone; which was read, and after some time spent in considering the same, the further consideration thereof was postponed, at the request of Captain Stone, till the first meeting of the General Assembly.

The order of the day, for taking into consideration the Letter from the President of Congress of the 2d of October last being read, the same was referred till to-morrow.

Convention adjourns till to-morrow morning, nine o'clock.

On motion of Mr. S. Wright, the question was put, That a Committee be appointed to revise the Declaration of Rights and the form of Government, and that the same be read in the House and signed by the President before the rising of this Convention, and that the said Committee correct language and report to the House any inconsistencies they may discover therein? Carried in the negative.

The order of the day, for taking into consideration the Letter from the President of Congress of the 2d of October last, being read, the Convention took the same into consideration: and thereupon

Resolved, That the Honourable Matthew Tilghman, Esq., and Thomas Johnson, Jun., William Paca, Thomas Stone, Samuel Chase, Benjamin Rumsey, and Charles Carroll, Barrister, Esquires, or any three or more of them, be Delegates to represent this State in Congress until the first day of March next, or until the General Assembly shall make further order therein; and that the said Delegates, or any three or more of them, be authorized and empowered to concur with the other United States, or a majority of them, in forming a Confederation, and in making foreign alliances, provided that such Confederation, when formed, be not binding upon this State without the assent of the General Assembly; and the said Delegates, or any three or more of them, are also authorized and empowered to concur in any measures which may be resolved on by Congress for carrying on the war with Great Britain, and securing the liberties of the United States, reserving always to this State the sole and exclusive right of regulating the internal police thereof.

And the said Delegates, or any three or more of them, are hereby authorized and empowered, notwithstanding any measures heretofore taken, to concur with the Congress, or a majority of them, in accommodating our unhappy differences with Great Britain, on such terms as the Congress, or a majority of them, shall think proper.

Adjourned till three o'clock.

Convention adjourns till to-morrow morning, nine o'clock.

Monday, November 11, 1776.

Convention met. All Members present as on yesterday, except Mr. Fenwick, Mr. B. Mackall, Mr. Gustavus Scott, and Mr. George Scott.

The Proceedings of yesterday were read.

On motion of Mr. Parnham,

Resolved, That a Committee of Observation for each County in this State be elected by ballot on Monday, the 25th instant; that the number for each County be the same as heretofore directed; that the judges appointed for the election of Electors of the Senate be judges of the said election, and the qualification of voters the same as for Delegates to the House of Delegates. That the said Committees, at their first meeting after the election, proceed to the choice of Committees for licensing suits, in the same manner as heretofore directed; and that the above Committees be invested with the powers given by this and former Conventions, and continue to act till the 10th day of March next, or until the General Assembly of this State shall make further order therein.

The Convention took into consideration the Letter from the honourable the President of the Congress, of the twelfth day of October last, enclosing the Resolutions of Congress of the third and seventh of the same month, relative to the establishment of a Loan Office in each of the United States, and thereupon came to the following Resolutions:

That a Loan Office be established in this State agreeable to the resolve of Congress, and that Mr. Thomas Harwood, Jun., be appointed Commissioner, to superintend such Loan Office in this State.

That if any inhabitant of this State shall, after the first day of December next, within or without this State, or any person whatsoever shall, within this State, after the said first day of December next, forge or counterfeit any of the certificates, bills, or notes of the Continental Loan Office, or alter the sum expressed in any of the said certificates, bills, or notes, or shall offer, or cause to be offered in payment, any such counterfeit, forged, or altered certificate, bill, or note, knowing the same to be counterfeit, forged, or altered, and shall be thereof convicted by a petit jury, after a presentment by a grand jury, in the General Court, or shall stand mute, or peremptorily challenge above the number of twenty of the panel, he shall suffer death as a felon, without benefit of clergy.

Ordered, That copies of the above Resolutions be transmitted by the Clerk to the Commissioners of the Continental Treasury.

A Petition from a number of the inhabitants of Baltimore County, praying to be relieved from the exorbitant and extraordinary charges of the Magistrates, Clerk, and Sheriff of said County, was read, and referred till the first meeting of the General Assembly.

On reading a Letter from the Chairman of the Committee of Observation for Baltimore County, setting forth, that a great number of the people called Methodists, pretending to be preachers, claimed an exemption from mustering under the exception made in favour of clergymen, and a certificate from the yearly Conference, that a certain Nathan Perigo, who had been fined by the said Committee for not enrolling in some company of Militia, was a preacher of that denomination,

Resolved, That the fine set upon the said Nathan Perigo by the Committee of Baltimore County aforesaid, be remitted.

On motion, Resolved, That all petitions, applications, and reports, to Convention this present session, and all petitions, applications, and reports, in all former sessions, whereon no final order hath been or shall be made, be referred to the General Assembly.

Whereas the detaining in custody debtors who are willing to deliver up their estates to the use of their creditors, can be of no benefit to individuals, and may be prejudicial to the community,

Resolved, therefore, That the Justices of the several Counties in this State are hereby authorized and empowered to release all debtors in their several jails who may owe upwards of two hundred pounds, sterling money, in the same manner and upon the same terms as debtors may be released under the act of Assembly; provided application be made by the several debtors, or such of them as may be desirous of being released, on or before the first day of January next.

Post Meridiem. Convention met.

On motion of Mr. J. Hall,

Resolved, That the Council of Safety be empowered to draw for a sum not exceeding ten thousand Pounds, of the Bills of Credit now remaining in the hands of the Treasurer of the Eastern-Shore, appropriated to the calling in and cancelling the Bills of Credit issued by the Convention in July, seventeen hundred and seventy-five, and that they apply the same, or any part thereof, to the use of the publick, as occasion may require, and that the same be replaced in the Treasury out of the new emission ordered by this Convention.

And further Resolved, That in case the new emission should be delayed, by not getting paper, or otherwise, so as to make it necessary, the Council of Safety be empowered to borrow, of such persons who are willing to lend, a further sum of money, not exceeding twenty thousand Pounds, to answer the demands that may be made on them for publick expenses, or on the Treasurers for money to be exchanged according to former resolves, to be repaid out of the said new emission.

Mr. Worthington brings in and delivers to Mr. President a Report from the Committee appointed to examine the claims upon the Treasury, which was read in the following words, to wit:

"By the Committee appointed to examine the claims upon the Treasury.

"In obedience to the order of the honourable Convention, your Committee have examined the accounts of the Treasurers of the Western and Eastern Shores, and compared the payments made by them with the vouchers, and find by account settled the 31st of August a balance remaining in the hands of William Hindman, Treasurer of the Eastern-Shore, in notes of credit to the amount of seventeen thousand four hundred and seventy-seven pounds ten shillings and ten pence; and by account settled to the 9th of November, a balance remaining in the hands of Thomas Harwood, Treasurer of the Western-Shore, to the amount of seventeen thousand seven hundred and twenty-four pounds six shillings and seven pence; of which last sum there appears to have been paid to him, nine thousand six hundred and twenty-five pounds by the Treasurer of the Eastern-Shore since the settlement of the account with him.

"Your Committee have, during the sitting of this Convention, counted and burnt Bills of Credit emitted by the resolutions of the Convention in July, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-five, which have been exchanged by the Western-Shore Treasurer of this State for Bills of Credit emitted by resolutions of the Convention in December last, to the amount of twenty-three thousand one hundred and twenty-two pounds seventeen shillings and six pence; and also, Bills of Credit exchanged by the Treasurer of the Eastern-Shore, to the amount of five thousand eight hundred and thirty pounds fifteen shillings. It appears to your Committee, that the Committee of Claims in June last burnt the sum of six thousand seven hundred and twenty-nine pounds twelve shillings and six pence exchanged by the Treasurer of the Western-Shore, and also the sum of three thousand six hundred and seventy-seven pounds exchanged by the Treasurer of the Eastern-Shore; and there appears to be in the hands of the Treasurer of the Western-Shore the sum of one hundred and forty-seven pounds ten shillings, subject to the demands of the holders of the Bills of Credit emitted in July, seventeen hundred and seventy-five, and in the hands of the Treasurer of the Eastern-Shore the sum of fifteen thousand four hundred and ninety-two pounds five shillings, subject to the demands of the holders of said Bills of Credit.

"Your Committee herewith lay before the Convention the Journal of Accounts, together with the accounts settled with the Treasurers of the Western and Eastern Shores respectively.

"All which is humbly submitted to the honourable Convention.

"Signed by order of the Committee,

"Nich. Harwood, Clerk."

The Journal of Accounts was read and assented to.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of the Western-Shore pay the several claims allowed in the same.

Mr. Grahame informs the Convention that his bad state of health will not permit him to attend his duty as a Member of the Council of Safety, and therefore begs leave to resign, and resigns accordingly.

Thereupon the Convention proceeded to the choice of another in his stead, and Thomas Contee, Esq., was elected.

Resolved, That the Declaration of Rights and the Constitution and form of Government be immediately printed, and that twenty-two copies be immediately sent to each of the Counties by express, three of which copies for each of the Delegates of this Convention, two of the said copies for each of the Judges appointed to hold the next elections, and two of the said copies for each of the persons who shall be chosen an Elector of the Senate; and that as soon as conveniently may be, the Journal of the Proceedings of this Convention be printed, and two copies be transmitted to each of the Members of this Convention.

Resolved, That this Convention adjourn to the twenty-eighth day of this instant, and the Council of Safety may, if they think proper, call the Convention to meet before that day. And that the said Council of Safety be and are fully empowered to take and pursue all measures that they shall think necessary or proper for raising, completing, and equipping the eight Battalions resolved by this Convention to be raised for the Continental service, agreeable to the resolves of this Convention.

Signed by order of the Convention:

Matthew Tilghman, President.

True copy:

G. Duvall, Clerk.

You are not to leave that station when any of the enemy's vessels are at the opposite Cape, and to use your best endeavours to protect all trading vessels belonging to the United States of America, and to the Islands of Bermuda or Bahamas, or to any foreign State, except under the dominion of the King of Great Britain; and in case of their being in distress, you are to grant them all the aid and relief in your power, and upon any number of the enemy's ships appearing off the coast you are to give intelligence thereof to Mr. Henry Fisher, of Lewis-Town, with the course they steer, and such other circumstances relating to them as are of any importance to us; or if you should be able to transmit the intelligence by express to us more expeditiously than Mr. Fisher, you are to do it. Philadelphia, November 24, 1776.

"In Council of Safety, Philadelphia, November 24, 1776.

"Sir: General Howe, after having reduced Fort Washington, and obtained possession of Fort Lee, is now directing his operations against New-Jersey. There is much reason to believe that his views extend to the city of Philadelphia. The forces in New-Jersey may be insufficient to oppose his progress: It is, therefore, indispensably requisite for the preservation of this State, and the support of the general cause, that troops be immediately raised to reinforce General Washington. The measures adopted for this purpose, you will learn from the resolutions enclosed. In this time of danger it is unnecessary to use arguments with freemen, who are determined never to lose that character but with their lives. We have entire confidence that you, and the battalion under your command, will, upon this occasion, give the strongest proofs of vigour and patriotism.

"A judicious choice of the officers will do honour to the volunteers, and produce essential advantages to the service; for it is our opinion that the volunteers ought to have the election of them; and we recommend to you the utmost circumspection and care, not only in the persons you may recommend to them, but also in the manner of doing it. As this Council can only have in view the interest of the whole, you may safely assure the people of our care and attention in the appointment of the Field-Officers, so as, at the same time, to forward the service, and as much as possible to give satisfaction to the people.

"A Paymaster will be appointed for each battalion, and the volunteers may depend on having their pay regularly. The Colonel or commanding officer ought to muster each company, and send a certificate thereof to this Board.

"Money is forwarded to in order to advance the month's pay; to him you will please to apply for what money will be necessary in your battalion for that purpose.

"By order of the Council:

For Ulster—Major Parks, Mr. Contine, Mr. Wisner.

For Westchester—Major Lockwood, Colonel Drake, Mr. Tomkins, Colonel Cortlandt.

General Ten Broeck and Mr. John Ten Broeck have leave of absence for one month. Mr. Duane dissents.

Mr. Wisner, Jun., has leave of absence for a fortnight, that he may be enabled to execute the order of the Committee of Safety of yesterday, for forwarding the Powder from his mill to King's Bridge, agreeable to the General's request.

Resolved, That the Committee appointed to prepare a form of Government for this State do report the same to this House on or before the 12th day of October next.

And that the said Committee may no longer be detained from that important business,

Ordered, That the said Committee sit every afternoon till they shall be ready to report.

A Letter from John Sloss Hobart, Esq., directed to the Convention, dated at Head-Quarters, on the 26th instant, was read and filed.

He therein informs that General Washington has ordered Lieutenant-Colonel Livingston to repair to the Forts in the Highlands with his detachment; that he (Mr. Hobart) is concerting measures for the release of General Woodhull; that he has not heard of the Committee of Safety below the Highlands; that the enemy are throwing up works, to annoy our advanced posts; that he wrote a letter to Convention yesterday, by Captain Rogers, and requests an answer.

The Letter from Mr. Hobart of the 25th instant, being brought in, was read.

He therein informs, that in obedience to the order of Convention, he had called at the Forts in the Highlands, and found things in as good a state as could be expected, considering the number of men in garrison; that he had mentioned to General Washington the necessity of a reinforcement from the Army to those forts, and that the General said it was impossible; that he had shown the resolution of Convention for procuring an exchange for General Woodhull to his Excellency General Washington; that it is very doubtful how it can be effected; that the Canada prisoners are at the Hook, and are to be sent on shore on their parole. He therein further gives an account of the conflagration of the city; requests to know by Captain Rogers whether the sloop-of-war Montgomery will be sold, and directions how to dispose of one hundred and twenty pounds of publick money which he left lately at Fairfield.

Captain Rogers being called in, and examined as to the condition of the sloop Montgomery, says that the vessel is in good repair; that she wants nothing but provisions and a little gunpowder; that one of the prizes which he formerly took, to wit, a small Bermuda sloop, is at Rhode-Island, as he hopes, by this time, condemned; that she had also on board some sails and rigging taken from the other vessels of which he made captures; that he brought off a few things in a boat from Huntington at the time he took Isaac Ketchum and Samuel Skidmore; that the latter was a person who had taken possession of a farm of a brother of Captain Zeph. Platt; that he came to the Convention to request their directions how to dispose of the vessel the Montgomery.

Resolved, That the vessel-of-war the Montgomery be continued in the service of this State.

That Mr. William Harper, Mr. Bancker, and Mr. Zeph. Platt, be a Committee to give such instructions to Captain Rogers as they shall think proper, to enable him to proceed on a cruise with all possible expedition. And also that the said Committee give such directions to Captain Rogers relative to any prizes or prize-goods remaining on Nassau Island as they shall think proper.

Ordered, That Mr. Jay be added to the Committee appointed yesterday morning to report on the application of Major Hoisington for money for the use of the Rangers, and the other matters therewith committed.

A short Letter, dated the 27th instant, from Thomas Cregier, of the armed Schooner Putnam, was read.

Ordered, That the late representation of the state of that vessel made by Captain Cregier, the Letter from Quigley his Lieutenant, the Memorial of the Artificers of the said vessel, and Captain Cregier's present Letter, be committed to Mr. Gansevoort, Mr. Tompkins, and Mr. Dunscombe; and that they report thereon with all convenient speed.

A Letter from General James Clinton was read, and is as follows, to wit:

"Fort Constitution, September 27, 1776.

"GENTLEMEN: Colonel Snyder has just come down with three companies of his reginent, and more is daily expected.

"The enclosed is a letter for Mr. Schenck, urging him to forward the materials he was ordered to provide for these forts. I have wrote to him for five hundred weight more of iron, and about two hundred shingle lath if they can be sent down immediately with the twenty hogsheads of lime. We have two barracks raised, one at this fort and the other near Fort Montgomery, but we can't do much more to them for want of these materials, &c. I have received nails from the Quartermaster-General; I believe what will be sufficient. I am at a loss to know what to do with the troops, for want of barrack room, unless I detain the sloops that brought them down a few days; but if I get these necessaries to go on with the work, we will soon have room enough.

"I have two prisoners here that was sent down from New-Windsor on suspicion of buying butter, flour, &c., for the Ministerial Army. I will soon send you the particulars.

"I am, gentlemen, your most humble servant,

"JAMES CLINTON, B. Gen'l.

"Please to forward the enclosed to Mr. Schenck, after you have opened it, if you think proper."

(Endorsed—"To the President of the Congress of the State of New-York, at Fishkill. Per Ser't Cook.")

The said Letter of General Clinton was immediately taken into consideration; and thereupon,

Ordered, That John Schenck, Esq., be, and he hereby is, directed to procure and forward to Fort Constitution, with the utmost despatch, five hundred weight more of Iron, and about two hundred Shingle Lath, together with the twenty hogsheads of Lime heretofore ordered to be sent thither.

A Letter from Robert Yates, Esq., Chairman of the Secret Committee (for obstructing the navigation of Hudson's River,) was received and read, and is as follows, to wit:

"Poughkeepsie, Wednesday, 25th September, 1776.

"SIR: We've obtained two sloops, two brigs, and two large ships, for the purpose of obstructing the channel at Fort Washington. One of the sloops, the Clinton, heretofore purchased by the Committee, we found here; the other we've ordered from Fort Montgomery. The two brigs are here also, one of which belongs to Malcom, Kip & Lott; the other is a New-England vessel, about one hundred and twenty tons burthen, loaded with wheat, staves, and a considerable quantity of inch boards. The wheat and staves we've ordered to be stored; but sent down the boards for publick use. The ships are in Esopus Creek; owners, Messrs. Franklin. They are two very fine vessels, in the building of which much extraordinary pains have been taken, both as to timber and workmanship. On our going there, we ordered them to be hauled out, and expect they will proceed to Fort Washington this day. The two sloops, the Clinton and that from Fort Montgomery, we think are almost arrived by this time, as the Clinton sailed yesterday, with a fair wind, and the other must have proceeded from the fort shortly after the Clinton's arrival there; and as to the brigs, we shall be able to despatch them to-day also. The Cambden, Captain Castle, with near two thousand feet plank, and Captain Donaldson, with upwards of six thousand ditto, sailed yesterday also. The ships and brigs aforesaid we are to have appraised by the time they are ready to set off from here, and we imagine the ships will run very high.

"Our stock of money is very low, and our contracts far exceeding the sum we were furnished with. The demands on this Committee are frequent and urgent. Upon these considerations, we hope the Convention will, by some means or other, furnish us with a further supply.

"We are, sir, your humble servants. By order of the Committee:

ROBT. YATES, Chairman."

A Letter from Mr. Samuel Tudor, one of the Agents superintending the building of the Continental Frigates at Poughkeepsie, was read, and is as follows, viz:

"Poughkeepsie, September 27th, 1776.

"GENTLEMEN: Enclosed I send you General Schuyler's two letters of the 23d and 25th instant, with an order for more cordage. I'm on my own part extremely anxious to serve, to the best of my abilities, each department wherein the defence of our country is aimed at; but having this day received a letter from Mr. Van Zandt, one of the commissioners for building the ships, wherein he expresses his disapprobation of my sparing any of the materials belonging to the ships, without an express order from Congress or the commissioners. If I have hitherto erred, 'tis in judgment only, and with the advice of your honourable House. This second demand from General Schuyler, coming to hand unexpectedly, and immediately after the receipt of Mr. Van Zandt's letter, has put me to a stand. An indemnification, or letter of approbation from Congress, for our former proceedings, which you promised to procure for us, I believe is the reason of the Commissioners disapproving our going further, as that has not yet appeared either to them or us.

If you have procured it, pray send it, as also your most candid advice to me in the premises.

"I am, gentlemen, your most obedient, humble servant,

"SAML. TUDOR.

"Convention of the State of New-York."

Two Letters from General Schuyler, signed by Richard Varick, the one bearing date on the 23d and the other on the 25th instant, directed respectively to the Superintendents of the Continental Ships now building at Poughkeepsie, were read.

The General thereby applies to the Superintendents for Rigging, out of the Continental Stores at Poughkeepsie, to fit out some Row-Galleys on Lake Champlain.

A List of the Stores wanted for the said Row-Galleys was also enclosed in the said Letters, which was likewise read.

A Letter from Robert Yates and Gilbert Livingston, Esqs., two of the Committee for obstructing the navigation of Hudson's River, was received and read, and hereafter follows, viz:

"Poughkeepsie, September 27, 1776.

"SIR: The bearer hereof, Captain John Hun, is come down with three battoes from General Schuyler, for cordage. Captain Tudor, to whom he is directed, informs us that he cannot spare the quantity the General requires.

Out of one of the new ships belonging to Franklin, we have taken all the new cordage, and stored it with Captain Schenck. We acquaint you with this circumstance, that in case the Convention should judge it necessary, they may give directions to complete the remainder of the General's orders out of this store.

"We are, sir, your humble servants,

"ROBT. YATES.

"GILBERT LIVINGSTON.

"Captain Schenck has the charge of the cordage, and if any orders are given, they ought to be directed to him."

Endorsed, "To Peter R. Livingston, Esq., President of the Convention of the State of New-York, Fishkill."

Ordered, That the said Letters from General Schuyler and Inventory of Rigging wanted, the said Letter of Captain Samuel Tudor, received this day, and the Letter from Messrs. Yates and Livingston, of the 27th instant, be committed to Mr. Gansevoort, Mr. Duane, and Mr. Cuyler, and that they report thereon with all convenient speed, and have leave to withdraw for that purpose.

The Convention were informed that Colonel Humphreys, of Dutchess County, who is attending, alleges that it is impracticable for him to raise the proportion of the last Levies ordered to be detached from the Militia of this County, which ought to be detached from his Regiment.

Colonel Humphrey, called in, says, that he understands that the order for raising men is, that they be raised voluntarily; but if otherwise, 'tis his opinion that there are so many disaffected that they cannot be drafted; that the disaffected discourage others, by saying, that as Long-Island and New-York are taken, the enemy will take the forts in the Highlands, and that those taken in them will be hanged; that Captain Johs. V. Duerson says his whole Company, except his Lieutenant and himself, are Tories.

Colonel Humphreys withdrew.

Whereas twenty days have elapsed since a Resolution of this House was passed for a detachment of men of the Militia of Dutchess County, to reinforce the garrisons in the Highlands; and whereas the said detachment hath not yet been raised, and Colonel Humphreys hath represented to this Convention that great difficulties hath arisen in attempting to raise the same:

Resolved, That the Committee of the County of Dutchess be authorized and requested to provide that the said detachment be immediately raised, and, for that purpose, that they consult with and afford General Ten Broeck their advice, aid, and influence.

Ordered, That a copy hereof, and a copy of the Resolutions for raising the said Detachment, be immediately sent to the Chairman of the Committee of Dutchess County.

The Committee to whom were referred the Letters from General Schuyler, Mr. Samuel Tudor, and Messrs. Yates and Livingston, brought in their Report; which being read and adopted, the Convention came to the following determination on those Letters, viz:

Whereas Major General Schuyler, by Letters from his Secretary of the 23d and 25th instant, directed to the Superintendents of the Continental Ships which are now building at Poughkeepsie, has applied for cordage and rigging out of the Continental Stores there, for fitting out Row-Galleys on Lake Champlain: And whereas Mr. Samuel Tudor, one of the said Superintendents, by Letter of the 27th instant, has requested the advice of this Convention respecting a compliance with the said application; and there being a quantity of Rigging in store at Fishkill Landing, and likewise in the store of Mr. John Schenck, of Poughkeepsie, which was taken from vessels employed in obstructing the navigation of Hudson's River:

Resolved, therefore, That such of the articles as General Schuyler has applied for, which are in store at Fishkill Landing, and in Mr. John Schenck's store at Poughkeepsie, shall be delivered to Captain Hunn, being first appraised by three indifferent and skillful persons; and that it is the opinion of this Convention that such of the articles as shall not be found in the said stores ought immediately to be supplied by the Superintendents out of the Continental Stores at Poughkeepsie, it appearing to this Convention that the completing the Naval Armament for the protection and security of Lake Champlain is an object of the greatest moment to the United States, and will not admit of delay.

Resolved, That this Convention will make a proper representation to the Congress of the United States, of the reasons which have induced them to advise the Superintendents to deliver such Continental stores on Major-General Schuyler's requisition; and that this Convention will indemnify the said Superintendents for their compliance with these Resolutions.

On motion of Mr. Jay,

Ordered, That the Secretaries employ Mr. Abraham W. De Peyster, at the rate of one Dollar per day, to transcribe the Journals of the former Congresses of the Colony and of the Convention of the State of New-York.

Resolved, That the President of the Convention for the time being, and Mr. Robert Harper, be a Committee to superintend the engrossing the Journals of the former Congresses of the Colony, and of the Convention of the State of New-York.

Major Lockwood has leave of absence till next Wednesday evening.

Ordered, That Mr. Duane be added to the Committee for forming a plan of Government; and

Resolved, That the Chairman of the said Committee with any four of the members be a quorum.

The Committee appointed to take into consideration the several applications delivered on the 25th instant relative to the sale of Salt, delivered in their Report; which was read and ordered to be recommitted, and that Mr. William Harper and Mr. Gansevoort be added to the Committee.

Resolved, That the last Committee of Safety be revived, and that it consist of the same members, and with the same powers, and to continue until the next meeting of a quorum of the Convention.

"Dear Sir: Colonel Moylan having resigned the Quartermaster-General's Department, and the General having requested me to act in his place until the pleasure of Congress is known, I earnestly desire you to go immediately to the Fish Kilns, and there wait on the President of the New-York Convention; entreat him in my name to give you every assistance in his power in the procuring boards of one inch and one-and-a-half inch, for the use of the Army here, who are now suffering much for want of them. We are in want of a much greater quantity of boards than I fear can be obtained this fall from this Colony; I therefore do not now limit your contract.

"If you see Mr. Duer, tell him I have seen his letter to Colonel Moylan. If he will undertake the business, and can promise his attendance to it, you will have little to do. If he requires your attendance in the Highlands, take his orders and execute them with your usual zeal and activity. At any rate, procure boards of one inch, which are much wanted. Ten thousand of one-and-a-half inches, for platforms; ten thousand ditto two-and-a-half ditto, should be had immediately if possible. Also, Vessels, Teams, Wagons, Horses, and Men, for the purpose of conveying them speedily, it being of the utmost importance to the preservation of the Army and general cause of America, that those articles should be procured with the utmost expedition.

Ordered further, That Captain Schenck be directed to procure at the most reasonable rate he can, ten thousand feet of two-and-an-half inch of Oak Plank, and forward the same to Spytdenduyvel Creek, and that Captain Schenck draw on Captain Benjamin Ayres, at Fishkills, for such money as he may require in purchasing and procuring the above-mentioned articles.

Jansen*, at Esopus Landing; and James Wells, Cocksackie.

On motion of Colonel De Wit,

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to take into consideration the abuses committed in withholding of Tea by the owners or agents thereof, within this State, and also in the sale thereof at higher prices than that limited by Congress; and that they report thereon without delay; and that Colonel De Wit, Mr. Gilbert Livingston, Mr. Robert Harper, Mr. Bancker, and Mr. Contine, be the Committee.

A Letter from the honourable the Delegates for the State of New-York, at Continental Congress, was received and read, and is as follows:

"Philadelphia, 24th September, 1776.

"Gentlemen: We received your letter of the 9th September, with sundry enclosures, which were laid before Congress, who have come to several resolutions, a copy of which we send here enclosed. You will see that three tons of powder was directed to be delivered at New-Windsor, to be send to the forts; but that will not be done, as the wagons with the fifteen tons referred to in the resolution went by way of Minisink. The five tons we shall forward immediately. We obtained an order from Congress for six thousand seven hundred dollars, to be laid out in arms for your State, which we shall purchase when we have an opportunity. None are now to be had here, but parcels frequently arrive. If you should have occasion for the money for a more pressing purpose, you will please to acquaint us.

"We wrote you the 30th August, which we hope came to hand.

"The encouragement now given by Congress will, we hope, enable you to raise four complete battalions as speedily as possible. We refer you to the President's letter on that head. Four battalions is all that is required of New-York, including those already raised. Enclosed are sundry newspapers. We could wish to hear from you at least once a week, which seems to be more necessary now than ever.

"Brookland, on Long-Island, is burnt, as well as the City of New-York, without doubt on purpose. This account we have from Mr. Blanchard, of Elizabeth-Town.

"We are, gentlemen, your most obedient servants,

"Phil. Livingston,
"Wm. Floyd,
"Lewis Morris."

Sundry Resolutions of Congress, referred to and enclosed in the said Letter, were also read, and are as follows:

"In Congress, September 23d, 1776.—Resolved, That the German Battalion be ordered immediately to join the Army under General Washington, and that the President inform his Excellency of their march, and desire that he will order an equal number of men from his Army to garrison the Forts in the Highlands.

"That Mr. J. Mease be directed to supply the German Battalion with such articles of Clothing as they may stand in need of, the same to be charged to their account and deducted out of the pay of the men.

"That three tons of the fifteen tons of Powder lately ordered to the Northern Army, and now on its way thither, be left at New-Windsor, in the State of New-York, and from thence conveyed to Fort Montgomery, and that five tons be immediately sent from the City of Philadelphia.

"That two Companies of the Marines lately raised, and now in Philadelphia, be ordered to march immediately for Fort Montgomery.

"That application be made to the Council of Safety of the State of Pennsylvania, to order one half of the Artillerymen now in the service of their State to proceed to Fort Montgomery as soon as possible.

"That Congress approve of the measures adopted by the Convention of New-York for the defence of the Highlands, and will cheerfully defray all the necessary expenses which may accrue.

"By order of Congress:

"JOHN HANCOCK, President."

"IN CONGRESS, September 20, 1776.—Resolved, That the sum of 6,700 Dollars be advanced to the Delegates of New-York, for the use of that State, the said State to be accountable.

"Extract from the Minutes:

"CHAS. THOMSON, Secretary."

A Letter from the Honourable John Hancock, President of the Continental Congress, enclosing sundry Resolutions, was received and read, and is as follows:

"Philadelphia, September 24, 1776.

"GENTLEMEN: You will perceive by the enclosed resolves, which I have the honour to forward to you in obedience to the commands of Congress, that they have come to a determination to augment our Army, and to engage the troops to serve during the continuance of the war. As an inducement to inlist on these terms, the Congress have agreed to give, besides a bounty of twenty dollars, a hundred acres of land to each soldier; and in case he should fall in battle, they have resolved that his children, or other representatives, shall succeed to such land.

"The many ill consequences arising from a short and limited inlistment of troops, are too obvious to be mentioned. In general give me leave to observe, that to make men well acquainted with the duties of a soldier, requires time; and to bring them under proper subordination and discipline, not only requires time, but has always been a work of much difficulty. We have had frequent experience that men of a few days' standing will not look forward; but as the time of their discharge approaches grow careless of their arms, ammunition, &c., and impatient of all restraint; the consequence of which is, the latter part of the time for which the soldier was engaged is spent in undoing what the greatest pains had been taken to inculcate at first. Need I add to this that the fall of the late General Montgomery before Quebeck is undoubtedly to be ascribed to the limited time for which the troops were engaged, whose impatience to return home compelled him to make the attack contrary to the conviction of his own judgment? This fact alone furnishes a striking argument of the danger and impropriety of sending troops into the field under any restriction as to the time of their inlistment. The noblest enterprise may be left unfinished by troops in such a predicament, or abandoned at the very moment success must have crowned the attempt.

"The heavy and enormous expense consequent upon calling forth the Militia, the delay attending their motions, and the difficulty of keeping them in camp, render it extremely improper to place our whole dependence on them. Experience hath uniformly convinced us of this, some of the Militia having actually deserted the camp at the very moment their services were most wanted. In the mean time the strength of the British Army, which is great, is rendered much more formidable by the superiour order and regularity which prevail in it.

"Under these circumstances, and in this situation of our affairs, it is evident that the only means left us of our procuring our liberties is the measure the Congress have now adopted, and which I am ordered most earnestly to recommend to you to carry into immediate effect. Without a well-disciplined army, we can never expect success against veteran troops; and it is totally impossible we should ever have a well-disciplined army unless our troops are engaged to serve during the war.

"To attain, therefore, this most desirable end, I am to request you will at once, and without a moment's delay, lend all your attention to raise your quota of the American Army. The times call for the greatest despatch and vigour of conduct. When the bloody standard of tyranny is erected in a land of liberty, no good man, no friend of his country, can possibly remain an inactive spectator of her fall. Display, therefore, I most ardently entreat you, that virtue which alone can save her on this occasion. Let us convince our enemies, that as we entered into the present contest to defend our liberties, so we are resolved, with the firmest reliance on Heaven for the justice of our cause, never to relinquish it, but rather perish in the ruins of it. If we do but remain firm; if we are undismayed at the little shocks of fortune, and are determined at all hazards that we will be free, I am persuaded, under the gracious smiles of Providence, assisted by our own most strenuous endeavours, we shall finally succeed agreeably to our wishes, and thereby establish the independence, the happiness, and the glory of the United States of America.

"As the troops now in service belonging to the several States will be considered as a part of their quota in the American Army, you will please to take such steps as you judge necessary to ascertain what number of troops, as well as what officers, will engage to serve during the war. I send by this express blank commissions, to be filled with such as you shall please to appoint. I also forward a number of the rules and articles of war, as altered by Congress, and just published.

"I have the honour to be, gentlemen, your most obedient and very humble servant,

"JOHN HANCOCK, President."

"Honourable Convention of the State of New-York."

The Resolutions referred to and enclosed in the foregoing Letter, are as follows:

"IN CONGRESS, September 16, 1776.—Resolved, That eighty-eight Battalions be inlisted as soon as possible, to serve during the present war, and that each State furnish their respective quotas in the following proportions, viz:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| New-Hampshire, | 3 | Battalions. |
| Massachusetts-Bay, | 15 | ditto. |
| Rhode-Island, | 2 | ditto. |
| Connecticut, | 8 | ditto. |
| New-York, | 4 | ditto. |
| New-Jersey, | 4 | ditto. |
| Pennsylvania, | 12 | ditto. |
| Delaware, | 1 | ditto. |
| Maryland, | 8 | ditto. |
| Virginia, | 15 | ditto. |
| North-Carolina, | 9 | ditto. |
| South-Carolina, | 6 | ditto. |
| Georgia, | 1 | ditto. |

"That twenty Dollars be given as a bounty to each Non-Commissioned Officer and Private Soldier, who shall inlist to serve during the present war, unless sooner discharged by Congress:

"That Congress make provision for granting Lands, in the following proportion: To the Officers and Soldiers who shall so engage in the service, and continue therein to the close of the war, or until discharged by Congress, and to the representatives of such Officers and Soldiers as shall be slain by the enemy—such lands to be provided by the United States, and whatever expense shall be necessary to procure such land, the said expense shall be paid and borne by the States in the same proportion as the other expenses of the war, viz:

"To a Colonel, 500 acres; to a Lieutenant-Colonel, 450 do.; to a Major, 400 do.; to a Captain, 300 do.; to a Lieutenant, 200 do.; to an Ensign, 150 do.; each Non-Commissioned Officer and Soldier, 100 do.:

"That the appointment of all Officers and filling up vacancies (except General Officers) be left to the Governments of the several States, and that every State provide Arms, Clothing, and every necessary for its quota of Troops, according to the foregoing estimate; the expense of the Clothing to be deducted from the pay of the Soldiers, as usual:

"That all Officers be commissioned by Congress:

"That it be recommended by the several States that they take the most speedy and effectual measures for inlisting their several quotas; that the money to be given for bounties be paid by the Paymaster in the department where the Soldier shall inlist:

"That each Soldier receive pay and subsistence from the time of their inlistment."

"SEPTEMBER 18th, 1776.—Resolved, That if Rations be received by the Officers or Privates in the Continental Army in money, they be paid at the rate of eight-ninetieth parts of a dollar per ration:

"That the Bounty and grants of Land offered by Congress, by a resolution of the 16th instant, as an encouragement to the Officers and Soldiers to engage to serve in the Army of the United States during the war, shall extend to all who are or shall be inlisted for that term: the bounty of ten dollars which any of the Soldiers have received from the Continent on account of a former inlistment, to be reckoned in part payment of the twenty dollars offered by said resolution:

"That no Officer in the Continental Army is allowed to hold more than one commission, or to receive pay but in one capacity."

"SEPTEMBER 19th, 1776.—That the Adjutants of Regiments in the Continental Army be allowed the Pay and Rations of Captains, and have the rank of First Lieutenants.

"In order to prevent the Officers and Soldiers who shall be entitled to the Lands hereafter to be granted by the resolution of Congress of the 16th, from disposing of the same during the war,

"Resolved, That this Congress will not grant Lands to any person or persons claiming under the assignment of an Officer or Soldier.

"By order of the Congress:

"JOHN HANCOCK, President."

"Philadelphia, September 24, 1776.

"SIR: I had the honour to receive your letter accompanying the resolve of Congress relative to my return to resume the command of my brigade. At a time when the State to which I belong is invaded, and particularly as I am honoured with a military command, I esteem it my duty to account for my absence.

"Since my arrival at Philadelphia, the State of New-York has had no more than a representation in Congress; and as the gentlemen of the Committee for Indian Affairs were mostly out of town, the whole of that necessary business has devolved upon me. My family have been obliged to desert their home; and meeting with them in this place altogether unprovided, I have been under the necessity of delaying the time of my stay until I could fix them in some situation where they could be accommodated. The distress of my family on this occasion made it my particular duty to attend to them, and which I flatter myself will be justifiable upon every principle of justice.

"The situation of my brigade, I was convinced, was well known to the Convention. I apprehended that not more than a Colonel's command was left in it, and as such did not think my presence was so absolutely necessary. I have thought that the existence of such a brigade, in which were so many disaffected persons, was dangerous to the cause, as well as to my own life. But being desirous to participate in the virtuous opposition to the British tyrant, I had determined, as soon as possible, to join General Washington, and contribute my assistance to him, prompted, in the first instance, by a love to my country, and in the next place, the preservation of my property, being thoroughly convinced, that unless we conquer, I am ruined. However, in obedience to the commands of Convention, I shall prepare, with all possible expedition, to set out for Westchester, and will endeavour to execute any orders they may be pleased to give to the utmost of my ability.

"I have the honour to subscribe myself, sir, your obliged and obedient humble servant,

"LEWIS MORRIS."

Whereas the Convention have granted an exemption from military duty to Mr. Charles Shaw; and whereas Richard Morris, Esq., is exempted therefrom by his commission, agreeable to the regulation of the Militia of this State; notwithstanding which, as this Committee are informed, Captain Berrian insists upon their serving in the Militia: This Committee are of opinion that Captain Berrian should, agreeable to the Resolution of the Convention of this State, consider the said Charles Shaw and Richard Morris as exempt from military duty, and that a contrary conduct will be considered as a high contempt of the authority of this State, and punished as such.

A Letter from Tench Tilghman to the Committee of Correspondence, dated the 30th September, was read. The said Letter contains accounts of the disposition of the Army of the enemy; also, some particulars relative to the disaffected persons. The contents of this Letter was charged from the Chair to be kept secret.

The Convention was informed by Mr. Duer that the Non-commissioned Officers and Privates of Captain Clark's Company of Guards now here cannot procure subsistence here at the lowest for less than ten shillings per week, and appear dissatisfied to spend any part of their pay. The Convention also took into consideration the Petition of the Subalterns, Non-commissioned Officers and Privates, of Captain Micha Townsend, of Westchester County, praying for an increase of their subsistence:

Thereupon Resolved, That the Non-commissioned Officers and Privates of the several Companies of Guards or Rangers employed in the Counties of Dutchess and Westchester, under the command of Captain-Commandant Melancthon Smith, be allowed ten shillings per week each for their subsistence from this day during their continuance in that service.

Mr. Z. Platt informed the Convention that Colonel V. Cortlandt and himself had been under a necessity, during the time of their supplying the Militia on the east side of Hudson River by order of the Convention, to advance some small sums of money for Ammunition and other Military Stores in the department of the Commissary of Military Stores. That it would also tend to prevent confusion in the publick accounts if Colonel Cortlandt and himself should be ordered and authorized to settle accounts with, and discharge the moneys due to, George Comb, of Westchester County, who, by order of the Convention, supplied the Militia a few days before the appointment of Messrs. Cortlandt and Platt, and has also supplied some small matters since Mr. Paulding's appointment and his acting as Commissary,

Resolved and Ordered, That George Combe be directed to settle his Accounts with Colonel Pierre Van Cortlandt and Mr. Z. Platt, for all such articles and things as he has supplied to the Militia in service at the times above-mentioned; and they are also hereby authorized to settle with the said George Combe, and pay him as well for his disbursements as his services.

And Resolved, That Messrs. Van Cortlandt and Platt do settle and discharge such Accounts as they necessarily contracted in the department of a Commissary of Militia Stores; for which this shall be their justification.

A Letter from Andrus De Witt to Matthew Contine, dated the 30th September, was read and filed. He thereby informs that the inhabitants of Papaconck are in great fear of a rupture with the Indians; that a person who rode express to him with a succeeding annexed letter from those inhabitants, informed him that an old Squaw (weeping much) had desired the inhabitants to move this week to get out of danger, and that she would not see them in a long time; that the said express told him there remained at Papaconck nine families, amounting to the number of between sixty and seventy children, and that they would speedily move if they could not get assistance.

A Letter from A. De Witt and D. Wynkoop, Jun., to the Convention, was read as follows, to wit:

"Sir: Agreeable to the resolves of the Convention of the State, we have distributed part of the gunpowder, lead, and flints to the inhabitants of Papaconck and the Indians near us; and as far as we can learn, they remain peaceably inclined. By enclosed letter it appears that the inhabitants of Papaconck are under apprehensions of danger; and the bearer of their letter further informed us, that an old Indian squaw had warned them to be on their guard; that she expected that in case they did not move off they would be murdered by the Indians in a short time. This is all the intelligence we have got as yet, but believe that in case no assistance is given to them, they shall move off in a short time.

"We remain, sir, your most obedient servants,

"A. De Witt,
"D. Wynkoop, Jun.

"Kingston, 30th September, 1776.

"To the President of the Convention of the State of New-York."

A Letter from the inhabitants of Papaconck, enclosed in the preceding Letter, was received and read; and is in the words following, that is to say:

"Papaconck, September 26, 1776.

"Sir: Agreeable to what was agreed on by yourself and Judge Wynkoop and William Pick, when Mr. Sprague and myself was at Marble-town, do on the earliest notice send the bearer hereof to notify you of the danger we, the settlers here and hereabout, are in from the savages distressing of us immediately. The intelligence is nearly as follows: Last Friday two men came down the Rookouse Branch, with a letter to the Committee at the Mennasink, sent by the interpreter who says that Sir John Johnson has sent to the Indians, that they must take up arms one side or the other, and that they were gone to treat with Johnson at Oswego, and it was expected that they would strike on the frontiers very soon. And since the above letter was sent down, an Indian named John Shiling, or John Renepee, was down the river after King Philip, and said this week was the last that we might stay with safety. Said news has occasioned all the settlers below us to move off, and some of them we have stopped till we can have advice from you; and pray, sir, forward the same; and if we can have help, do let it be soon, for it is evidently expected we shall all be cut off the middle of next week, except we have help.

"Sir, we remain your obedient distressed friends, in haste,

"Silas Bowker, Timothy Gregory,
"Peter Averee, Jona. Hicks,
"Abel Sprague, Jacob Kern,
"Wm. Rosse, Thos. Cumming.
"Russel Gregory,

"Esquire De Wit."

"P. S. Sir: The above was wrote and afterwards the inhabitants below our settlements concluded to move off, and are gone; but we the subscribers have concluded to stay till we can have advice from you, and have agreed to build a picket fort. Sir, yours, &c.,

"Geo. Barnhart,
"Jacob Austin."

The Convention proceeded to consider the state of the frontier inhabitants of Ulster County. After some time spent therein, Mr. William Harper moved and was seconded, that the Committee of Ulster County be directed immediately to order the Rangers already raised in that County to proceed to the frontiers of the County to protect the inhabitants there, and to expedite the residue of the said Rangers.

Debates arose thereon. Mr. Gansevoort moved, seconded by Colonel De Witt, for the previous question, Whether the question on Mr. Harper's motion shall be now put; and it carried against the previous question, and for the motion, by a great majority. Therefore,

Resolved and Ordered, That the Committee of Ulster County be and hereby are directed immediately to order the Rangers already raised in that County to proceed to the frontiers of the County to protect the inhabitants there, and that they expedite the raising of the residue of the Rangers with all possible despatch.

Ordered, That Mr. Robert Yates, Mr. Robert Harper, and Colonel De Witt, be a Committee to take Letters from Ulster County, read and before mentioned, the Resolutions for detaching part of the Militia of Ulster County for augmenting the garrisons of the Fortifications in the Highlands, the Resolutions of Congress relative to an augmentation to those Garrisons from Pennsylvania, with the Letter from the Delegates of this State accompanying the same, in order that further means may be devised, if necessary, to afford assistance to the frontier inhabitants of Ulster County.

A Letter from Philip Livingston, Esq., one of the Delegates of this State at Congress, was read, and is as follows, to wit:

"Philadelphia, 28th September, 1776.

"Gentlemen: We received your letter desiring us to apply to Congress for the loan of a sum of money. We have applied accordingly, and obtained an order on the Treasury for one hundred thousand dollars, which will certainly be sent you by Thursday next.

"Your resolutions respecting General Schuyler we have laid before Congress, and they have appointed a Committee to consider them, who have promised us to report on Monday next. The Committee is to our wishes, viz: Mr. Rutledge, Mr. Hooper, and Mr. McKean. As soon as this report is agreed to, it shall be forwarded for your information. It will, without question, be satisfactory.

"We are, gentlemen, your most obedient servants,

"Phil. Livingston.

"Abm. Yates, Esq., President of the Convention of the State of New-York."

Ordered, That this Letter be committed to the same Committee with the last Letter received from the Delegates of this State, to wit, Mr. Robert Yates, Mr. Duane, and Mr. Tompkins.

Mr. R. R. Livingston informed the Convention that agreeable to their order, we have waited upon General Schuyler, and spent some days in inquiring into the reasons of his resignation, and examining his papers and letters relative to his conduct since his acceptance of the command in the Northern Department. That Major-General Schuyler informed him that he had been unjustly calumniated by many people in this Colony, by more in the neighbouring States; that he had been accused of disaffection to the cause of America, at the very time he was making the greatest exertions in her behalf; and that the false zeal of several had carried them so far as to lay schemes for his imprisonment, and the malice of others led them to transmit ex parte and false affidavits, in order to degrade his character to General Washington; that by this wicked and malconceived conduct, his utility in the Army was in a great measure destroyed; that he had applied frequently to the honourable the Congress for an inquiry into his conduct; that his letters were as yet unanswered and neglected; that he thought, therefore, the justice he owed to his own reputation and the publick, obliged him to take the step he had taken.

Mr. Livingston further informed the Convention that he had reason to believe, from the papers and letters of Major-General Schuyler, (which he had carefully inspected,) that his conduct would stand the severest scrutiny, and that upon an inquiry he would not only be acquitted of all censure, but appear worthy of the thanks and approbation of the Continent.

Mr. Duane, from the Committee* appointed to take into consideration the application of Major Joab Hoisington, for money to discharge the residue of the Bounty, and one month's Pay and Rations to the Rangers in the County of Gloucester and Cumberland, and also the Letter from the Committee of Cumberland County of 21st June last, delivered in their Report; which was read. It was ordered to lie on the table till to-morrow, for the perusal of the Members, and to be read a second time to-morrow morning.

The Committee to whom were referred the Letters from the New-York Delegates in Continental Congress of the 24th and 28th ultimo, reported a draft of a Letter in answer thereto; which was read and approved, and is in the words following, to wit:

"GENTLEMEN: I am directed by the Convention to acknowledge the receipt of your letters of the 24th and 28th ultimo. In consequence of the resolves of Congress to raise four battalions, a Committee is appointed to report a plan to carry these resolves into execution. Convention have great reason to expect that an inquiry into General Schuyler's conduct will clear his character from the aspersions which some have industriously endeavoured to throw on it, and are happy to hear that the persons appointed by Congress as a Committee are such as you approve of. The money you have obtained from Congress is a seasonable supply, and we thank you for your endeavours to procure it. It is the design of the Convention to write to you as often as occurrences arise worthy of notice.

"I am, gentlemen, most respectfully, your very humble servant. By order.

"The Honourable the New-York Delegates in Congress, Philadelphia."

Ordered, That the same be copied, signed by the President, and transmitted.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be presented to the honourable the Congress, for their late vote of an advance of Money to this State, agreeable to the request of this Convention for that purpose.

Ordered, That the Committee to whom were referred the late Letters from the Delegates of this State, report a draft of a Letter for that purpose.

On motion of Mr. Jay,

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to devise ways and means for rendering the communication by land between the northern and southern parts of this State, and between this and the Southern States, more easy and practicable, and that they report with all possible speed.

Resolved, That Mr. Wisner, Mr. De Witt, Mr. Jay, Doctor Crane, and Colonel Drake, be a Committee for that purpose.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State advance to William Duer, Esq., on account of Brigadier-General Mifflin, Quartermaster-General to the Continental Army, the sum of six hundred Pounds, which sum the said William Duer engages to repay into the Treasury in the space of ten days.

Colonel Lott informed the Convention that the poor inhabitants of the City of New-York, which were lately sent to New-Windsor, are provided with Provisions in a very expensive manner:

Therefore, Ordered, That Colonel Lott and Major Parks be a Committee to devise a more economical mode of providing for them.

Resolved, That the Committee to whom were referred the Resolutions of Congress relative to the raising the four Continental Regiments in this State to serve during the war, be and they hereby are authorized to apply to any officer in the Continental service, and obtain from them proper returns and information respecting the rank and number of officers and men raised in this State, together with the terms of their inlistment, and such other intelligence as the said Committee may think necessary to enable them to form their Report.*

Resolved, That the sum of six thousand Pounds be deposited into the hands of Messrs. John R. Livingston and Abraham P. Lott, who hereby are authorized and requested to dispose thereof in purchasing on account of this State, Coarse Cloth, Linsey Woolsey, Shoes, Woollen Stockings, Blankets, and Tanned Leather, together with such other articles as they may think proper for clothing the Troops raised in this State, and that they be allowed two and a half per cent. for commissions in purchasing the said goods, the State to be at the expense of transporting the same to such place as shall be ordered by this Convention.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State advance to Messrs. John R. Livingston and Abraham P. Lott the sum of six thousand Pounds, to be by them disposed of in purchasing Coarse Cloths and other articles necessary for the Troops raised in this State, and that he take their receipt to account for the same.

Mr. Z. Platt brought into Convention a Return or Rank Roll of the Officers employed in Colonel Morris Graham's

* The Committee, to whom is referred the resolves of Congress of the 16th of September instant, for the raising in this State four Battalions to serve during the present war, as part of eighty-eight Battalions to be raised in the United States of America; as also the letters from the Hon. John Hancock, Esq., President, of the 24th instant, and of Ph. Livingston, Wm. Floyd, and Lewis Morris, three of the Delegates from this State, explanatory of those resolves, do thereupon report, that in order to carry the resolves of Congress into execution, it may be necessary to enumerate to this Board the troops raised in this State, and still in the service thereof, and the different designs whereon they were raised:

1st. That by the resolves of the Committee of Safety of the 27th day of January last, four Battalions were ordered to be raised for garrisons in the State, each Battalion to consist of eight Companies; each Company of one Captain, two Lieutenants, one Ensign, four Sergeants, four Corporals, one Drum, one Fife, and seventy-six Privates.

2d. That in consequence of those directions, the said Battalions were soon thereafter raised, under the command of Colonels McDougall, Clinton, Ritzema, and Wynkoop.

3d. That by the instructions of the inlistment it appears to your Committee that no limitation is mentioned as to the time of their service.

4th. That by the letters above referred to, it appears that the troops already raised in this State are considered as part of its quota.

If these were the only Battalions raised in the State of New-York, your Committee conceive that the resolves of Congress could with great ease be put in practice, by new commissioning the officers of those Battalions, and aiding them to recruit to supply any deficiency. But your Committee, in justice to the rank and services of the officers who served last year in Canada, who are again incorporated in two new Battalions, do further report, that on the 9th day of January last past, Congress resolved that Colonel Van Schaick and the other Field-Officers of the Second Battalion, be continued in the service of the United Colonies, and that they take the command of the Battalions then to be raised in New-York for Canada. That on the day of last, Congress resolved that another Battalion should be raised in this State, under the command of Colonel Nicholson, out of the troops which had served the year before in Canada. Your Committee further observe, that both those Battalions are officered and recruited here, and are now in actual service, and so to continue till the last day of December next. From hence it appears to your Committee, that there are more officers in the service of the State than will be necessary to the command of the four Battalions required by Congress. In order, therefore, that this Convention may be truly informed of the respective ranks, merits, and services of all the officers in this State, your Committee do further report, that it will be expedient to obtain, with all possible despatch, from the commanding officers a rank roll of all the officers now in the service of this State, in order that this Convention may select the proper officers for the command of those Battalions. ROBT. YATES.

Regiment, and moved that Commissions might be issued for the Officers in that service, to be in force until the Regiment is discharged.

The said Rank Roll was read, and is as follows, to wit:

A Rank Roll of Colonel MORRIS GRAHAM'S Regiment of Foot, in service of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, under the command of Brigadier-General CLINTON, at Head-Quarters, KING'S BRIDGE, September the 10*th*, 1776.

A Return, or Rank Roll, of the Officers at present in service under the command of Cornelius Humfrey, Esq., as Colonel, was read. The Colonel therein requests Commissions for the said Officers.

"Gentlemen, your compliance will very much oblige

"CORN'S HUMFREY, Colonel.

"Mr. Livingston."

Ordered, That Commissions issue to the Officers named in the preceding Rank Roll of Colonel Humfrey's Regiment, appointing each of them respectively to the rank therein mentioned, in addition to their former rank or station in the Militia, and to continue in force only until the said Regiment is discharged.

A Return of an election of Officers of a Company of Militia in the Precinct of Shawangunk, in Ulster County, which Return is certified by Mathew Rea, Chairman of the Committee of Shawangunk, was read and filed. Ordered, That their Commissions issue.

A draft of a Letter to the honourable the President of Congress was read and approved, and is in the words following, to wit:

"SIR: This Convention have had the pleasure of receiving information through their Delegates, that a resolution has passed the honourable Congress of the United States for advancing to this State one hundred thousand dollars. They are highly sensible of this seasonable relief, which, amidst a crowd of difficulties and accumulating expenses, may enable them to support publick credit, alleviate the sufferings of their fellow-citizens, and continue their strenuous exertions in the common cause.

"They have, sir, directed me to present, in the most respectful terms, their thanks to the honourable Congress for this fresh instance of their confidence and regard, which I beg you will be pleased to communicate.

"I have the honour to be, with the utmost regard, &c.

"To the Hon. John Hancock, President of the Congress."

Mr. Duane mentioned that Mr. Gerard Bancker, the Deputy Treasurer, had, in pursuance of an application to Colonel Trumbull, the Commissary-General, by order of this Convention, lately received of him a considerable sum of money on account of the Pork supplied to him at his request by this State; that the account could not then be finally settled for want of the proper receipts and vouchers, remaining in the hands of the persons who delivered the Pork; that the said Commissary-General intimated that he expected to be charged no more for the Pork than it cost with all charges, and should think it his duty to apply to Congress for advice, if he was charged a higher price.

Ordered, That Mr. Lockwood, Mr. Dunscomb, and Mr. Duane, be a Committee to settle the price of the Pork to be paid by the said Commissary-General, taking into their consideration all expenses thereon, and that they report with all convenient speed.*

*The Committee have, according to order, taken the same into consideration, and thereupon have agreed to the following state of facts and Resolution:

That, in the month of March last, the late Provincial Convention directed that twelve hundred barrels of Pork should be purchased and deposited in different stores, in the County of Westchester, for the publick service of this State. That about that quantity of Pork was accordingly purchased, repacked, and stored, and was intended to be reserved for the use of such troops as might be raised at the separate expense of this State for its internal protection. That the Commissary-General of the forces of the United States, by letters to this Convention, dated the 14th day of August last, represented that large numbers of men were then expected in the city of New-York and its neighbourhood, in defence of the liberties of America; that having been disappointed of some Pork, that he had not then on hand so much as he could wish, and therefore requested that the Convention would give directions for the delivery of the Pork belonging to this State (or such part thereof as should be judged proper) to the order of the said Commissary-General; that he would pay for it in money, or replace it when the pork he expected should arrive, or would settle the whole matter in such manner as should be most agreeable to the Convention. That the Convention, on the same day, came to a resolution to furnish the Commissary-General with the whole, or such part of the Pork belonging to the State as he should stand in need of, and the greatest part thereof was accordingly delivered to his agents. That, on the 18th of September last, this Convention directed Mr. Bancker, the Deputy-Treasurer, to procure the vouchers for the Pork so delivered from the Storekeepers, and to apply to the Commissary-General for payment at the price current of that article when delivered. That, on the 4th of this instant October report was made to Convention that the Deputy-Treasurer had received a considerable sum of money from the Commissary-General towards payment for the said Pork, but that the account could not then be finally settled for want of all the vouchers, which he had not been able to obtain from the Storekeepers. That the Commissary-General intimated his expectations to allow no more for the Pork than it cost, with all charges, and that he should think it his duty to apply to Congress for advice, if he should be charged a higher price. That the first cost of the said Pork being £4 per barrel, and has been increased by the charges of cartage, storage, pickling, and cooperage, to near hard about £4 10*s*. But for want of some small outstanding accounts, it cannot be ascertained with precision. That two reasons induced the Convention to request the Commissary-General to pay for the said Pork in money: the first, that from the circumstances expressed in the resolution of Convention of the instant, the Treasury of this State was exhausted, while demands upon the publick, on account of the distressed situation of the

A representation* was made to Convention that this State is indebted to Nicholas Bayard, Esquire, for the use of his House for the security of the publick Records of this State for several months, and for expense attending the Guards kept there for that purpose; that being now deprived of his whole estate by the enemy, payment thereof ought to be made.

Ordered, That Mr. Lockwood, Mr. Dunscomb, and Mr. Duane, be a Committee to state and report the sum reasonably due from this State to Nicholas Bayard, Esquire, on the account above-mentioned.

A Letter from General James Clinton relative to £27 11*s.* 2*d.* deducted from the pay of thirteen deserters of Robert Johnson's Company, by order of the late Congress of this State, was read and committed to Mr. Wisner and Colonel De Witt, to consider of and report thereon.

The Convention resumed the consideration of the Report of the Committee on the Letter from the Committee of Cumberland County of the 21st June last, and the papers from Cumberland and Gloucester Counties relative to the Rangers raised in those Counties. The Return of the Officers of said Rangers, subscribed by James Clay, Chairman, was again read, and is as follows, to wit:

State, were very urgent; but principally because it was apprehended that, at a juncture when the greatest exertions were necessary to supply the Continental troops with provisions, it must have been highly inconvenient to the Commissary-General to return an equal quantity of pork, according to his engagement; and therefore the Convention was unwilling to make the demand.

Nor is the request of payment at the current price of the commodity where it was delivered, unreasonable. It appears to your Committee, on the contrary, to be founded on justice and equity, for several reasons, one of which only, to avoid prolixity, they beg leave to suggest.

It has been the misfortune of this State to sustain the pressure of this cruel war at their doors. This has obliged them, besides their general quota of men and money to the common defence, to raise different corps of troops at their separate expense, for the internal protection of several of the Counties. In fixing the rations for these troops, which were agreed to be paid for in money, the State having parted with their provisions reserved in the publick stores to the Commissary-General, those rations were estimated according to the current price of provisions in the month of , when the establishment took place; and at that time Pork was at least as scarce and dear as when the Commissary-General received the supply from this Convention. It follows, therefore, that unless the Pork with which the Commissary-General was supplied by Convention shall be paid for at the price which was current when it was delivered, the advantage which hath arisen by seasonably laying it up in store will be transferred from this State to the Continent, and this State eventually pay the difference between the time of purchasing the provisions and the establishment of the said troops.

Your Committee, however, conceive it beneath the dignity of this State to demand any alteration respecting the price of the said Pork, and have therefore agreed to the following Resolution:

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this Committee that the Auditor-General, after obtaining the necessary vouchers, be directed to repair to the Commissary-General, at Head-Quarters, and explain to him the principles on which Convention required payment for the Pork at the current price when it was delivered, for which purpose a copy of the preceding state of facts and remarks shall be furnished; that he represent to the Commissary-General, if it can be done without prejudice to the service, it will be highly acceptable to the Convention to have an equal quantity of Pork returned to replace that with which he hath been so supplied—a publick magazine of provisions for the use of this State, under its present circumstances, appearing to your Committee to be absolutely necessary; and that in this case the money he hath paid on account shall be immediately returned. But as this Convention, zealous for the honour of the State and the success of the common cause, would carefully avoid every measure which might tend to impede the general service, or embarrass the Commissary-General in his department, or raise a suspicion that this Convention were capable of seeking an unreasonable advantage, your Committee are further of opinion that if, notwithstanding such representation, the Commissary-General should persist in his opinion of the price to be charged for the Pork, and cannot, without embarrassing the service, return an equal quantity, that then the Auditor-General be instructed to settle with the Commissary-General for the said Pork on the terms he has himself proposed.

*On the 11th February last, agreeable to an order of Congress, the records of this Province were, for greater security, removed to the house of Mr. Nicholas Bayard, in the Outward of the City of New-York. His house was at that time much encumbered with furniture belonging to his friends in the city, besides his own large family of children and a family he had taken in from the city. Notwithstanding this, he was necessitated to furnish the Secretary with his largest room for the records and clerks, another room for his private use, and to have his own bed-room in common with the Secretary, &c.

A guard, consisting of an officer, two non-commissioned officers, and twelve privates, came out and continued with the records. The officer Mr. Bayard could not decently avoid asking to his table. The Secretary being Mr. Bayard's kinsman, he means not to hint was burthensome; but the number of people that came out on business with him was a considerable tax.

The first month the guard was furnished by Mr. Bayard with candles as well for the guard-room as for the passage to the office, where sentries were placed.

Fire-wood was found them day and night, from first to last. The expense of supplying the privates with liquor and other necessaries they constantly wanted, was considerable, to say nothing of their plundering. The records were continued there with this guard till the last of June, above four and a half months.

"A true list, examined by me:

"JAMES CLAY, Chairman."

The application of Major Joab Hoisington, requesting the remainder of the Bounty for the said Rangers, was also read, and is in the words following, to wit:

"To the Honourable Nath'l Woodhull, President of the honourable Congress of the State of New-York:

"Agreeable to the order of the honourable Congress, I have sent the muster-rolls of the several Companies under my command by Mr. Ebenezer Andrews, the bearer, begging the favour of your forwarding the remainder of the bounty, rations, and one month's wages, taking his receipt for the same.

"I am, sir, your humble servant,

"Joab Hoisington.

"P. S. Please to remit my wages and rations, likewise as much of the rations as the honourable Congress shall see fit. I find it much easier to purchase supplies with cash."

The several Muster-Rolls of the said Companies of Rangers were also read.

The said Letter from the Committee of Cumberland County, dated the 21st day of June last, and inserted in the Minutes of this Convention on the 24th day of August last, was also read.

The Report of the Committee to whom were referred a Letter from the Committee of the County of Cumberland of the 21st day of June last, and the application of Major Joab Hoisington for the Pay and Subsistence of the Rangers directed to be raised for the defence of the said County and of the County of Gloucester, was again read; and the same being read and taken into consideration by paragraphs, and amended, is in the words following, to wit:

"The Committee to whom were referred a letter from the Committee of the County of Cumberland of the 21st day of June last, and the application of Major Joab Hoisington for the Pay and Subsistence of the Rangers directed to be raised for the defence of the said County and of the County of Gloucester, have, according to order, taken the same into consideration, and thereupon have agreed to the following state of facts and Resolutions:

"That on application of the inhabitants of the County of Cumberland, the former Congress, from time to time, supplied the County Committee with £100 in money, 1,800 pounds of gunpowder, 4,500 pounds of lead, and a quantity of flints.

"That the Convention of this State, on the 23d day of July last, directed that two hundred and fifty-two men should be raised in the Counties of Cumberland and Gloucester, for the immediate protection and joint defence of the said Counties in the following manner, to wit: To be divided into four Companies, consisting respectively of one Captain, two Lieutenants, three Sergeants, three Corporals, and fifty-four Privates. The commissioned officers to be nominated by the mutual consent of the Committees of both Counties, by whose authority warrants for levying the troops were to issue to the Captains of each Company. The pay of the officers and privates to be the same as that given to the Continental troops, besides a bounty of twenty-five dollars to each non-commissioned officer and private. The subsistence to be, to each Captain sixteen shillings, each Lieutenant fourteen shillings, and to each non-commissioned officer and private ten shillings per week, in lieu of all rations. The officers and privates to furnish themselves each with a good musket or firelock, powder-horn, bullet-pouch, tomahawk, blanket, and knapsack; each officer, before receiving his warrant, to take an oath, to be administered by the Chairman of the County Committee recommending him, that he will once in every month, or as soon after the expiration of every month as possible, transmit to the Convention or Legislature of this State a muster-roll of the names of every officer and private under his command, and of their respective times of inlistment and service. One half of the bounty to be paid by the Captain of each Company to every able-bodied man when he shall pass muster, the other half to be remitted by the Convention to the commanding officer, to be by him issued to the Captain and immediately disbursed to the men. That on the same day, by the recommendation of the members of the County of Cumberland, Joab Hoisington, Esq., was appointed and commissioned by Convention to be Major and commanding officer of the said Rangers; and a resolution of Convention passed on the same day directing the Treasurer of this State to pay to the Deputies of Cumberland County £1,200, in part of the bounty for the said Rangers.

"On the 24th of August last, a letter from the Committee of the County of Cumberland, signed by Mr. James Clay, as Chairman, directed to this Convention, and dated the 21st of June, was read, informing Convention, in substance, that upon receiving the printed resolution of the late Provincial Congress, recommending the expediency of instituting civil Government, the major part of that County had elected their Deputies, and empowered them to agree with the Convention in establishing a mode of Government, declaring, however, that the Deputies of the said County were restrained by certain instructions given them by the said Committee, in such manner that if those instructions should be violated in the institution to be formed, the Committee reserve to themselves, on behalf of the inhabitants of the said County, the full liberty of an absolute disavowal of such institution, and further reserving to themselves the liberty of pursuing a certain petition in behalf of the people included therein, which that Committee allege was some years since preferred to the Government of the Massachusetts Bay, praying that the district therein described might be reunited to the said Province. That the letter was referred to a Committee of this Convention, who have made no report thereon.

"That on the 26th of September last, a letter to the Convention, from Major Joab Hoisington, was read, including muster rolls of those companies, and requesting that the remaining part of the bounty, with the rations, and first month's wages, which your Committee find amounts to six thousand four hundred and twelve and two-eighths dollars, might be forwarded, the said letter being also accompanied with a certificate from the Joint Committees of Safety for the said Counties, signed by James Clay, as Chairman, recommending the officers of the said Rangers. That upon its being moved that the money should be transmitted to Major Hoisington, debates arose, and it was objected:

First, that the Committee of the County of Cumberland had by their before mentioned letter, implying a protest, pretended to reserve to the inhabitants a right not only of rejecting any form of Government which might not correspond with the instructions to their Deputies, but, if they should hereafter think fit, even of separating from this State and uniting with that of the Massachusetts-Bay; and that further expenditures of the publick money for the immediate protection of that County could not, in justice to other parts of this State, be made, while the jurisdiction was questioned, a separation threatened, and there was reason to apprehend that the same temper which dictated the letter might induce a denial to contribute any thing towards the heavy debt which was necessarily incurring, as well for the immediate defence of this State as for the support of the great cause of American liberty and independence.

The Convention therefore proceeded to ask information from Messrs. Sessions and Stephens, two of the Deputies of the County of Cumberland, who were present. They declared, that in pursuance of the resolution of Congress of the 31st of May, for electing Deputies to meet in Convention for the express purpose of forming a Government for this State, they were duly elected by the people of the County at large. That the General Committee of the County is composed of two members from each town. That the Committee who gave them instructions and sent the said letter to the Convention, were elected long before their own election as Deputies for the said County. That they are ignorant of the Committees or Sub-Committees of the said County having had any authority or directions from the inhabitants of the said County to give the instructions or to make such declarations as are contained in the same letter. That the said letter was agreed to by the Committee to prevent any division in the County, because the Deputies from four or five of the towns were opposed to sending Deputies to Convention without such instructions. That they have no instructions from the inhabitants at large, nor from any particular town. That their credentials from the County give them full and unrestrained power in forming a Government. That they conceive themselves no further bound by their instructions than they shall appear to be right and beneficial; but that whenever on debate it should appear that those instructions might work an injury to the State, or if on any question they should be outvoted, they should not consider themselves bound by their instructions; and further, that as representatives of the said County, they fully acknowledge the jurisdiction of this State over the said County and its inhabitants. And the credentials of the said Deputies being read it appears that Colonel Joseph Marsh, with Mr. Stephens and Mr. Sessions, were duly elected to represent the said County in the Convention of this State, and that the said representatives are expressly invested with full power of legislation, the said credentials containing no reserve or limitation of their authority.

"Second. It was objected against transmitting the said money, and the fact is, it does not appear from the muster-rolls, or return, or in any other manner, that the officers and privates therein mentioned have furnished themselves each with a good musket or firelock, powder-horn, bullet-pouch, tomahawk, blanket, and knapsack, which is one of the qualifications of mustering expressly required by the before-recited resolutions; nor whether the officers of the respective companies, before receiving their warrants, had been qualified to make and return monthly muster-rolls of their companies, as the said resolutions also direct.

From this state of facts, it appears to your Committee that the former Congress and present Convention have manifested the most ready and cheerful disposition to protect the inhabitants of Cumberland at the publick expense, in common with their other constituents, and without the least partiality or distinction; that liberal supplies of men and money, and ammunition and warlike stores, according to the abilities of the State, have been granted them as soon as their wants have been disclosed; that this Committee neither know, nor have heard of, the least cause of complaint or uneasiness that has been given to any of those inhabitants by this State, or any under its authority, during the present contest for our rights and liberties.

"If under the former Government individuals may have been injured, it ought to be remembered, that to rescue ourselves from the oppressions of that Government, the United States of America, submitting to all the miseries of war, have asserted their independence.

"It is unquestionable, that the jurisdiction of this State over the territory which now comprehends the County of Cumberland, is coeval with its first formation as a Colony under the Crown of Great Britain, and accordingly that County was erected, and hath been represented, laws passed for its internal regulation, courts established, civil and military officers appointed, and many charters for lands and privileges confirmed by its sole authority. Your Committee therefore conceive it to be the indispensable duty of this Convention to preserve and maintain their jurisdiction over the said County by every wise, steady, and prudent measure in their power. At a time when this State is invaded and pressed by powerful armies, when our utmost exertions are necessary, and we are straining every nerve for the common cause of America, for the general defence of this State, and for the more immediate defence of the County of Cumberland; at a time when every virtuous member of the community is loudly called upon to assist his bleeding country, and harmony and mutual confidence are so essential to our preservation, and to the success of the greatest and best of causes; at such an important and decisive conjuncture, your Committee cannot but lament that any of the inhabitants of the County of Cumberland should suffer themselves to be so far misguided as to assert a claim and principles subversive to all Government, derogatory to the dignity, rights, and jurisdiction of this State, manifesting an unbecoming return for the assistance and protection they have received out of the publick Treasury of their fellow-subjects at large, and implying a latent design, by a future separation from the State, to leave the whole burthen of the present cruel and expensive war to be sustained by the rest of the community. If the extraordinary injunctions in the letter from their Committee should be vindicated, it must follow that the form of Government dictated by a party, from the best information by no means the majority of the County, is to be adopted, however injurious to the general interest of this State, or disagreeable to other Counties, and however unreasonable it might on publick debate appear even to their own immediate representatives; and thus a single County is to control the whole State, prescribe its Constitution and Government, and establish its laws, on pain of separation; from a parity of reason, every other County, and even district and town, within this State might arrogate the same power, and instead of producing order, security, and a wise and permanent Government, (the great and salutary purposes for which this free Convention was elected and assembled,) anarchy and confusion must be the fatal result.

"Your Committee are satisfied, however, that the letter does not convey the sentiments of the majority of the good people of the County of Cumberland, and that the General Committee will, upon cool reflection, be at no loss to perceive its want of respect to this Convention, and its dangerous tendency, not only to the State but to the common cause of America, and that after a deliberate revision they will candidly correct it, and give this Convention reasonable assurances of their attachment to its jurisdiction, and of their intention to share its blessings and misfortunes, its protection and its burthens, like faithful and affectionate fellow-citizens; that your Committee earnestly recommend it, as the best and surest means of removing the uneasiness which a measure so unexampled has excited, and of promoting the most perfect harmony and good understanding throughout every part of this State. In confidence, therefore, that a thinking and reasonable people must see their own interest and preservation, as well as the safety of the State to which they belong, and the success of the great cause in which the whole Continent is engaged, cannot but be weakened by dissension and by countenancing the factious and self-interested, your Committee are of opinion that the requisition of the commanding officer of the Ranging companies of Cumberland and Gloucester Counties should be complied with, lest the good people of those Counties, being disappointed of the aid and protection provided by this State, may suffer from the incursions of their enemies before an explanation of the said letter can be obtained from the Committee of Cumberland, and have therefore agreed to the following Resolutions:

"First. Resolved, That it is the opinion of this Committee that the sum of 6,412 Dollars and 2-8ths of a Dollar,* being the remaining part of the Bounty Money and one month's Wages and Rations due to the Officers and Men of the four Companies of Rangers raised and established for the immediate protection and defence of the Counties of Cumberland and Gloucester, under the command of Major Joab Hoisington, be forthwith transmitted for their use.

"But inasmuch as it does not appear by the Returns of the Commanding Officer or otherwise that the men are equipped and furnished with Arms or Accoutrements, or that the Officers have been qualified to make up their Muster-Rolls and Returns agreeable to the directions of Convention:†

"Second. Resolved, That it is the opinion of this Committee that a Committee from this Convention be appointed to see that the said Money is faithfully applied agreeable to the establishment of the said Rangers, for that purpose consulting with the General Committee of the said Counties; that they be further authorized to call upon them, the commanding and other officers of the said Rangers, and if they should find it necessary, to review the respective companies; that they be instructed to inquire into the temper of the inhabitants of the said County and the grounds of any discontent which may prevail among the uninformed, or be encouraged by designing men, and use their endeavours to remove the same, and to frustrate any attempt to sow the seeds of jealousy and disaffection; and lastly, that they represent to the Committee of the said County of Cumberland, the wisdom and propriety of a revision of the said letter, and of an unreserved submission of the said County to the jurisdiction of this State, that all cases of distrust may subside and the harmony which is so essential at this important conjuncture may be fixed on the surest foundation."

Resolved, That this Convention do agree with their Committee in the said Report, as amended, and the same is hereby declared to be the act of this Convention.

Resolved, That Messrs. Sessions and Taylor be requested to proceed to the County of Cumberland, and unite with Colonel Marsh, one of the Members of the said County now there, as a Committee from this Convention, to see the preceding Resolutions carried into effect.

Resolved, That the Treasurer of this State do pay to the said Committee the above-mentioned sum of six thousand four hundred and twelve and two-eighths Dollars, for the purposes mentioned in the said Report, and the further sum of two hundred Dollars, to defray the charge of their journey, for the expenditure of which last-mentioned sum they are to be accountable to this Convention.

Resolved, That three thousand Flints be delivered by the Commissary of this Convention to the Deputies of the County of Cumberland; two thousand for the use of that County, and one thousand for the use of Gloucester County.

The Committee to whom was referred the application of Lieutenant William Boerum and Lieutenant Daniel Rapalje, officers of the late Troop of Light-Horse, delivered in their Report, viz:

"That it appears to the Committee, that agreeable to a resolution of this Convention the said Troops were ordered out on publick service on the 14th day of August last; that the said Troops continued in the service assigned them until the 29th day of August; that it appears to your Committee that the said Lieutenants Boerum and Rapalje, together with one Second Lieutenant, two Ensigns, one Quartermaster, one Sergeant, one Trumpeter, and nine Privates, did, on the 29th August, agreeable to the order of their commanding officer, leave their posts in said King's County; that they are now in and about the County of Dutchess; that they are incapable of performing further service to this State, in their respective characters; that they are also destitute of the means of subsistence; that the Committee are therefore of opinion that nine shillings per day be allowed to Lieutenants Boerum and Rapalje; and to each of the other commissioned officers, for pay and rations, six shillings per day, (as also to the non-commissioned officers and privates, six shillings per day,) of the said Troopers, from the time of their respectively entering the service to the 29th day of August, together with half such pay and rations from the said 29th of August to the present day; and for this purpose, that the said Lieutenants Boerum and Rapalje be furnished with an order on the Treasurer of this State, for the sum of , for the use of themselves and the other persons for whom they have applied as above-mentioned, amounting to the pay and rations aforesaid; and that they be considered as no longer holden to serve in consequence of their former engagement."

Resolved, That this Convention agrees with their Committee in their said Report, as amended and above stated, and that the same stand confirmed as the act of this Convention.

Resolved, That Mr. Stephens take a copy of the form of inlistment that said Rangers have signed, and take the names of such as have not inlisted agreeable to the resolves of Congress.

Upon information from Major Hoisington, that he had contracted debts to the amount of two hundred Pounds in purchasing Provisions, &c., for the men under his command,

Resolved, That the Committee do pay to said Major Hoisington three hundred Dollars, to enable him to discharge part of said expenditures, and forty-three Dollars and 5-6ths of a Dollar, it being for one month's pay and rations.

* To the remainder of the Bounty ..... 3,250 Dollars.
To the Rations for one month for 4 Captains ..... 32 "
To do. do. for 8 Lieutenants ..... 56 "
To do. do. for 12 Sergeants ..... 60 "
To do. do. for 12 Corporals ..... 60 "
To do. do. for 216 Privates ..... 1,080 "
To one month's Wages for 4 Captains ..... 106 2-8 "
To do. do. for 8 Lieutenants ..... 144 "
To do. do. for 12 Sergeants ..... 96 "
To do. do. for 12 Corporals ..... 88 "
To do. do. for 216 Privates ..... 1,440 "
6,412 2-8 Dollars.

† Resolved, That Mr. Stephens repair to Cohoss and pay to each man of the Rangers, equipped and on actual service, the sum of fifteen Dollars, except those of Captain Wait's, who has received their pay himself, and inform said Rangers why the residue of their wages are not paid at present; and that Mr. Stephens muster said Rangers, and discharge such as he shall deem unfit for said service, paying them for the time they have served, including what bounty they have received in their wages.

Resolved, That each Captain be paid twenty-five Dollars, and each Lieutenant twenty Dollars, now at service at that place.

Whereas Mr. Stevens has applied for and obtained leave of absence for three weeks, to visit his family,

Resolved, That he be added to the Committee appointed to carry into effect the Resolutions of Convention of the 4th instant, respecting the County of Cumberland.

Ordered, That the Secretaries procure five hundred copies of the Resolutions relative to the Pay and Subsistence of the said Rangers printed, to be distributed in the Counties of Cumberland and Gloucester, and the other parts of this State.

"Captain Cook is now up the river, cutting timber for chevaux-de-frise; as he is much wanted here to sink the old vessels, the General begs that you would immediately send him down; we are at a stand for want of him, for as he has superintended the matter from the beginning, he best knows the properest places to be obstructed."

The Memorial of Isaac Paris, Christian Fox, Johannes Billinger, and upwards of one hundred others of the inhabitants of Tryon County, was read. *SIR: I have the honour of your order for my attendance on Convention, by the hands of your messenger. I should have returned with punctuality at the time limited, but have been detained by a violent attack of the dysentery, of which I am still by no means free from danger. A Letter from Johannes Slight, Esq., to Colonel De Witt, was read, and is in the words following, to wit:

"Kingston, 3d October, 1776.

"SIR: We have just now received your letter by our post. The Committee are much obliged to you for your trouble. I am directed to acquaint you that the Justices of this and the neighbouring townships of Rochester, Marble-Town, and Hurly, have met here yesterday to consider what is best to be done relative to the Indians. Our frontier inhabitants are daily moving away for fear of them; we have, therefore, concluded to call them together to treat with them, and have already fixed a certain day for that purpose; but as this will be attended with some cost, we would be glad to know whether your honourable House will be good enough to assist us in paying the cost of this treaty. Your answer by the next post will much oblige your friend and most obedient humble servant,

"JOHANNES SLIGHT."

The Convention having taken the same into consideration, did thereupon resolve,

That the Committee of Kingston ought, as soon as may be, represent the matters contained in the said Letter to the Commissioners for Indian Affairs at Albany, and pursue such directions as they may give relative to the same. But that if, by the day appointed for the holding of the said treaty, an answer from the said Commissioners cannot be obtained, that they proceed to hold the same, and that this Convention will pay the expense attending the same.

A Letter from Captain Samuel Tudor, one of the Superintendents of the Continental Frigates building at Poughkeepsie, was read, and is in the words following, to wit:

"Poughkeepsie, 2d October, 1776.

"GENTLEMEN: The bearer, Mr. McEuen, is employed in the yard as plumber to the ships; his business is obliged to stop for the want of lead, which we cannot procure for him. We are informed there is a quantity at Fishkill, under your direction and disposal; beg it as a particular favour you would furnish him with such quantity as he may want with all expedition, as our orders from the Commissioners are to put the ships in the water as soon as possible.

"We are, with respect, gentlemen, your most obedient servant,

"SAMUEL TUDOR.

"Peter R. Livingston, Esq."

Malcom McEuen, the bearer, was called in and interrogated as to the Lead necessary for the said Frigates, and withdrew.

Ordered, That Mr. Daniel Bush be, and he is hereby, directed to deliver to Nathaniel Sacket, Esq., all the Lead in his possession belonging to this State, taking a receipt for the same, and that this Convention will justify him in the execution thereof.

Ordered, That Nathaniel Sacket, Esq., deliver to the bearer hereof, Mr. Malcom McEuan, for the use of the Convention, for the Continental Frigates building at Poughkeepsie, two tons of Lead, and that he take Mr. McEuen's receipt for the same; to be charged to Continental account.

The Report of the Committee appointed on the 2d instant to take into consideration the Letters from Ulster County relative to the Indians, delivered in their Report; which was read. After some time spent thereon, it was recommitted to the same Committee.

Whereas it is represented to this Convention that a number of the inhabitants of the frontiers of Ulster County, being very apprehensive from intelligence they have received, that they will speedily be attacked by the Indians, are preparing to remove from their settlements, and will unless relieved retire with their families to the inner country,

Resolved, That the Committees of the Counties of Ulster and Orange do provide for the defence of their frontier country, by detachments from the Militia from those Counties, and that the expense thereof be defrayed by this Convention.

Resolved, That Mr. Duane, Mr. Cuyler, Mr. Robert Harper, Mr. William Harper, Mr. Contine, Mr. Dunscombe, and Mr. Moore, be a Committee of Safety for this State until the next meeting of this Convention.

Colonel Williams, from the Committee appointed to report regulations for the sale and disposition of Salt in this State, brought in the Report of the said Committee; which was read.

Ordered, That the said Report remain for further consideration.

The Committee to whom was recommitted the draft of a Letter to Brigadier-General Morris, reported a new draft; which was read and approved of, and is in the words following, that is to say:

"October the 8th, 1776.

"SIR: The Convention have directed me to inform you that they were extremely sorry for the necessity that first obliged them to request your immediate return to your brigade, since they hoped that no military officer would choose to be absent when his country was invaded. They are willing to acknowledge the force of those reasons for delaying your return which are derived from the particular situation of your family. These they hope, by their safety and security, have long since ceased to operate. They now flatter themselves that it will be unnecessary to remind you of the superiour ties which bind every man to his country, more particularly by those whom the State have vested with the highest honours. Though the Indian affairs of the middle department should be under the consideration of Congress, yet they hope your attendance may be dispensed with, as the Congress have it in their power to call upon the other Commissioners, without injuring the publick so materially as by retaining a military officer from his station. The Convention cannot but hope that you have been deceived in your belief that your brigade is reduced to less than a Colonel's command, though the loud and well-founded complaints of the County of Westchester has given them reason to fear that it has suffered by your absence. They are pleased to hear that you have expressed your desire of offering your personal service to General Washington, since they cannot conceive that a General officer can withdraw his duty, yet as a volunteer when the troops under his command are, or like to be, called into action. Upon the whole, sir, they have directed me to inform you that they expect your immediate attendance on the duties of your department.

"I am, sir, yours, &c. By order.

"Brigadier-General Morris."

Mr. Livingston moved a Resolution relative to Tanned Leather; which was ordered to lie on the table for further consideration and perusal.

Mr. Robert Harper, from the Committee appointed this morning, made a Report in the form of Resolutions; which were read and adopted, and are as follows, to wit:

Whereas it is absolutely necessary in the present critical conjuncture, that one Company, of forty-nine men, in the County of Albany, and one Company of forty-nine men in the County of Dutchess, be immediately raised for the purpose of detecting and defeating the intentions and conspiracies of our secret and open enemies:

Therefore, Resolved, That one Company be immediately raised in the County of Albany, and that one other Company be immediately raised in the County of Dutchess; that each Company consist of one Captain, one Lieutenant, three Sergeants, three Corporals, one Fifer, and forty Privates—forty-nine men. That the pay of those Companies be the same as the pay of the Continental Troops. That the Captains be allowed each sixteen shillings per week, the Lieutenants fourteen shillings, and the Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates each ten shillings per week, in lieu of all rations and subsistence. That Petrus Van Gaasbeck be and is hereby appointed Captain, and Samuel Thorne Lieutenant, of the said Company to be raised in the County of Albany, and that the said Company do rendezvous at and about the Manor of Livingston, and be subject to the order of the Convention or Committee of Safety of this State, and under the direction of the Committee of the City and County of Albany, or such person or persons as the Convention or Committee of Safety of the State shall appoint.

That Nathaniel Scribner be, and is hereby, appointed Captain, and Joseph Field Lieutenant, of the said Company to be raised in the County of Dutchess, and that the said Company do rendezvous in Fredericksburg and Southeast Precincts of the said County, and be subject to the order of the Convention or Committee of Safety of this State, and be under the direction of the Committee of the said County of Dutchess, or such other person or persons as the Convention or Committee of Safety of this State shall appoint.

That the Chairman of the Committee of the district of the Manor of Livingston, for the time being, be the Muster-master to muster the Company to be raised in the County of Albany, and that Colonel John Field be appointed Muster-master of the Company to be raised in Dutchess County.

That the said Company to be raised in the County of Dutchess be incorporated and deemed a part of the corps whereof Captain Melancthon Smith is commandant, and that both the Companies hereby directed to be raised be inlisted to continue in service for the term of three months, unless sooner discharged.

The application of Benj'n Justeen, Chairman of Goshen Precinct, for the sense of Congress relative to certain Scotch Prisoners stationed in Goshen by the Committee of Prisoners; also a Letter signed Daniel Walker, on behalf of said Prisoners; and also a Letter from John Broome, Esq., and others, of the Committee of Prisoners, were received and read, and committed to a Committee consisting of Mr. Robert Harper, Mr. Cantine, and Mr. Cuyler.

A Letter from General Scott, received by Lieutenant Mott, with two disaffected persons, viz: Gersham Smith and , was read.

"That William Radlif, for Rynebeck and Northeast Precincts; Samuel Smith, for Charlotte and Armenia Precincts; Jon'n Paddock, for Philips's, Fredericksburg, and Southeast Precincts; Isaac Tabnan, for Beekman's and Pawling's Precincts; and Wykoff, for Rumbout's and Poughkeepsie Precincts; be appointed in the County of Dutchess, and that the sum of one hundred Pounds be advanced to each of them for the purpose of purchasing the above-mentioned articles.

The Convention were informed by a Member that Captain Benjamin Coe, who lately commanded a Company in Colonel Smith's Regiment, on Nassau Island, is in distressed circumstances, and that from his muster-roll of the time of said Company's service, it appears that the pay due to him amounts to about twenty Pounds, and request that he may have an order on the Treasurer for that sum on account.

Therefore, Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State advance to Captain Benjamin Coe, of Colonel Smith's Regiment, drafted from the Militia on Nassau Island, the sum of twenty Pounds, and take his receipt on account for the same, on the settlement of the pay-rolls of the said Regiment.

Wednesday afternoon, October 9, 1776.

The Committee of Safety met pursuant to adjournment.

Present: Colonel P. R. Livingston, President, Mr. Moore, Mr. Contine, Dr. Crane, Mr. Paris, Mr. William Harper, Mr. Mills, Mr. Dunscombe, Major Lockwood.

A Letter from General Schuyler, dated at Albany, October 7th, 1776, was received and read, and is in the words following, to wit:

"Albany, October 7th, 1776.

"SIR: On Saturday last I received sundry despatches from Philadelphia. Copy of Mr. Hancock's letter, and of the resolutions of Congress of the 25th ultimo, I do myself the honour to lay before the Convention. By the contents of the former it would appear as if Congress still considered me as commanding in this department, and correspondent to this idea was the direction of the letter. If so, nothing could be more insulting than that Commissioners should be sent to confer with any officer under my command, with respect to the Army in this department, or any part of it. This treatment would fully justify me if I forebore every act as Commander-in-Chief of this department; yet the principles which induced me to accept the command, on which I have acted whilst in it, and which, I trust, will mark every action of my life, will not permit me to forbear acting until matters are put in such a proper train by Congress as that no detriment may accrue to my country. Of this I have advised Congress, and signified my wish that I may be speedily relieved. Convention will perceive by the postscript of Mr. Hancock's letter, that Congress has referred an inquiry into my affairs to a special committee. Although I have the fullest confidence in the propriety of every part of my conduct, and in the honour of the gentlemen who compose the Committee, yet things may appear in a quite different point of view from what they really are, to persons uninformed of causes and facts, which perhaps none but myself can suggest. I have therefore entreated Congress to suspend their judgment until I shall have had an opportunity given me of being heard; a request so reasonable that I hope it will not be refused me. But if it is, I must, in justification of my conduct, publish my letters to Congress, with their answers, whatever may be the consequences, for I cannot sacrifice my honour to any considerations whatever.

"By the resolutions of Congress to inlist eighty-eight battalions during the war, I perceive that this State is to raise four of them. The Convention will pardon my presumption in mentioning a thought on the subject. By the resolutions of Congress, the soldiers are to pay for their clothing, the price of which is now so excessively high that I fear that condition will greatly impede the levies. Perhaps it would be best to determine the several articles of clothing that should be given to each soldier, and ascertain what stoppages he should be put under for it; but these, I think, ought very little to exceed the price that clothing was sold at before the present troubles arose. This, with the bounty offered and paid immediately, I believe would induce men to engage with alacrity.

"That State which is foremost in publishing their terms and in appointing recruiting officers in both armies to inlist men, I conceive will meet with the least difficulties in doing it. I should imagine that many of the New-Jersey and Pennsylvania soldiers, whose terms of inlistment expire on the last of this month, would reëngage.

"I am, sir, respectfully, your most obedient humble servant,

"PH. SCHUYLER.

"The Hon. Abraham Yates, Esq., President, &c., &c."

A copy of a Letter to General Schuyler, from the Honourable John Hancock, dated September 25th, enclosing copies of certain Resolves of Congress of the same date, was also read, and is in the words following, that is to say:

"Philadelphia, September 27, 1776.

"SIR: I have the honour to enclose you sundry resolves, which are so explicit that I need only request your attention to them.

"You will perceive that Congress have come to a determination to augment our Army to eighty-eight battalions, and to engage the troops to serve during the continuance of the war, being thoroughly convinced, by repeated instances, that the short and limited inlistment of troops has been the source of much mischief to the service. In order that these troops may be better disciplined, the Congress have abolished the system of rules and articles for the government of the Army which they at first instituted, and have adopted a new one, sundry copies of which I enclose you.

"It is also their determination that the strictest discipline should be kept up in the Army; that the soldiers should be daily trained and practised in their different manœuvres. An attention to these things, you will observe by the enclosed resolves, will be the likeliest way to attain promotion, and will be the surest recommendation to their notice.

"The Committee of Congress to confer with you on the state of the Army, &c., will set out to-morrow or next day for Tyconderoga. To them I beg leave to refer you; and am, with every sentiment of esteem and regard, sir, your most obedient and very humble servant,

"JOHN HANCOCK, President.

"General Schuyler.

"P. S. The attention of Congress has been so much taken up by our affairs at New-York, that I have not time to reply to your several letters, but hope I shall have leisure to do it by the next conveyance, and that Congress will soon determine on the subject of them. They are now in the hands of a special committee."

Ordered, That the said Letters and Resolves be committed to the Committee to whom were referred the Resolutions of Continental Congress for raising four Battalions in this State to serve during the war; and that Mr. R. R. Livingston and Mr. Cuyler be added to the said Committee.

The Auditor-General, by a note, informed the Committee that Colonel Nicoll and Colonel Palmer have, in their accounts of expenses and disbursements for transporting the Cannon from New-York to Fort George last spring by order of the Provincial Congress, charged twenty-four Shillings per day for their services, and requests the opinion of the Committee thereon. The same was immediately taken into consideration.

Resolved, (as the opinion of this Committee,) That Colonel Nicoll and Colonel Palmer be allowed ten Shillings per day each, for their services and expenses while employed in that service.

A Petition of James Wilson, late a Sailor on board of a Continental Privateer, setting forth his indigence, and praying for some relief:

Ordered, That the Secretaries pay him three Dollars, and that the Treasurer be and is hereby directed to repay the Secretaries.

Ordered, That Brigadier-General James Clinton do pay to the said Robert Johnson the sum of £27 11*s*. 2*d*., by him deducted, and that the said sum of £27 11*s*. 2*d*., disbursed by the late Congress of this State for the apprehending the said Deserters from the Continental Army, be charged to the Continent, as being retained in the hands of the Continental Paymaster.

A Letter from General Greene, informing Congress that Adjutant Bradford, of Colonel Hitchcock's Brigade, had brought a Horse from Long-Island after the battle, which belonged to a Tory named Jacob Wyckoff, which would be delivered to their order, or disposed of as they should direct; was read and referred to the same Committee.

A Letter from Colonel Henry Remsen, dated the 26th September, enclosing the Accounts of Mr. Hallett relative to his Vessel chartered by the Committee of Safety, was read, and the consideration thereof ordered to be postponed until the meeting of the Convention.

A Letter from Tench Tilghman, by express, dated the 9th instant, was received, and is in the words following:

"Head-Quarters, Harlem-Heights, 9th October, 1776.

"Gentlemen: About eight o'clock this morning the Roebuck and Phœnix, of forty-four guns each, and a frigate, about twenty guns, got under way from about Bloomingdale, where they have been lying some time, and steered on, with an easy southerly breeze, towards our chevaux-de-frise, which we hoped would have given them some interruption, while our batteries played upon them. But, to our surprise and mortification, they all ran through without the least difficulty, and without receiving the least apparent damage from our forts, which kept playing on them from both sides of the river. How far they intend to go up I don't know, but his Excellency thought fit to give you the earliest intimation, that you may put General Clinton on his guard at the Highlands, for they may have troops concealed on board, with intent to surprise those forts. If you have any stores on the water side, you had better have them removed a second time, boards especially, for which we shall be put to great straits if the communication should be cut off. The enemy have made no move on the land side.

"I am, gentlemen, your most obedient servant,

"Tench Tilghman.

"Honourable Committee of Correspondence, State of New-York.

"Be pleased to forward this intelligence up the river and to Albany. The two new ships are put in near Colonel Phillips's. A party of Artillery, with two twelve-pounders and one hundred Riflemen, are sent up to endeavour to secure them."

John McDonald, the Miner, having refused to receive the sum of six Pounds, ordered on the 21st of August last to be paid to him for the use of Donald Morrison,

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay the said six Pounds to the said Donald Morrison, on his executing a bond, to be prepared by the Secretary, to Peter R. Livingston, Esq., the President, conditioned for the payment thereof.

Resolved, That the Commanding Officer of the Militia of Ulster County do immediately send down three hundred men of the Militia of the County of Ulster, to Peekskill, well armed and accoutred, with three days' provisions.

Resolved, That the Commanding Officer in the south side of the Mountains or Highlands, in the County of Orange, be directed to order such a number of the Militia from that part of the said County which lays on the south side of the Highlands as will be sufficient to guard their shores, and to appoint a Commissioner to supply them with provisions; and that the Commanding Officer on the north side of the Highlands, in the said County, order one hundred of the Militia from the north side of the Highlands of the said County, to march without delay to Peekskill, taking with them three days' provisions.

Resolved, That Benjamin Haight and Matthew Harper be Commissioners to supply them with Provisions, and that this Convention will provide means for defraying the expense.

Resolved, That all the Rangers raised in the County of Ulster repair immediately to Fishkill, and be subject to the direction of the Committee for inquiring into, detecting, and depressing all conspiracies formed in this State against the liberty of America.

A draft of a Letter to General Schuyler and General Clinton was read and approved, and is in the words following, that is to say:

"Fishkill, October 10, 1776.

"Sir: I am directed by the Committee of Safety of this State to inform your Excellency that yesterday three of the enemy's frigates passed the obstructions opposite to Mount Washington, and got up Hudson's river; that we have made from time to time such large drafts from the Militia of the four Counties adjoining that river, that the remaining well-affected are reduced to a small number, and most of the disaffected in this State are on the east side of Hudson's river. A Committee, specially appointed for the purpose by the Convention of this State, are sitting daily to frustrate their machinations, and several who had inlisted or engaged to inlist with the enemy, have been discovered, apprehended, and are sent to the westward; many perhaps remain undiscovered. Should the enemy and the disaffected be able to concert measures so as to form a junction of the latter with a party from on board the ships in the river, the Committee of Safety are apprehensive of the want of a very speedy assistance without a diminution of the main army, and have therefore taken the liberty to despatch a copy of the enclosed resolution to each of the Counties therein mentioned, and have directed me to request that your Excellency would be pleased to give such directions as in case of necessity may afford the most speedy succour.

"I have the honour to be, with the greatest respect."

Ordered, That two copies thereof be prepared, and one addressed to General Clinton and the other to General Schuyler.

A draft of a Letter to his Excellency General Washington was read and agreed to, and is in the words following:

"Fishkill, 10th October, 1776.

"Sir: We received from Mr. Tilghman an account of the enemy's ships having gone up the river, and have dispatched expresses to General Schuyler and General Clinton, agreeable to your Excellency's request.

"Nothing can be more alarming than the present situation of our State. We are daily getting the most authentick intelligence of bodies of men inlisted and armed, with orders to assist the enemy. We much fear that those cooperating with the enemy will seize such passes as will cut off all communication between the Army and us, and prevent your supplies. We do not trust any more of the Militia out of this County. We have called for some aid from the two adjoining ones, but beg leave to suggest to your Excellency the propriety of sending a body of men to the Highlands or Peekskill, to secure the passes, prevent insurrections, and overawe the disaffected.

"We suppose your Excellency has taken the necessary steps to prevent their landing of any men from the ships, should they be so inclined, as no reliance at all can be placed on the Militia of Westchester County."

Die Veneris, 9 ho. A. M., October 11, 1776.

The Committee of Safety met pursuant to adjournment.

Present: P. R. Livingston, Esquire, President.

New York—Mr. Dunscombe, Mr. Roosevelt.

Westchester—Colonel Cortlandt, Major Lockwood, Mr. Mills.

ALBANY—Colonel Livingston, Mr. Yates, Mr. Adgate.
ORANGE—Colonel Allison.
SUFFOLK—Mr. W. Smith.
DUTCHESS—Dr. Crane, Mr. R. R. Livingston.
ULSTER—Mr. Contine.
TRYON—Mr. Moore, Mr. Harper, Mr. Paris, Mr. Newkirk.
CUMBERLAND—Mr. Stevens.
CHARLOTTE—Major Webster.

The Resolution of yesterday, for sending three hundred Men from Ulster County to Peekskill being reconsidered,

Resolved, That the Militia of the County of Ulster and the northern part of Orange County shall not continue in service longer than one fortnight after their arrival at their stations, within which time this Convention will provide ways and means to have them relieved from the more remote Counties, from whom no immediate support can be derived.

Resolved, That Letters be written to the Commanding Officers of the Counties of Fairfield and Litchfield, in the State of Connecticut, informing them of the reasons that we have to apprehend insurrections in this State, if the measures of the disaffected should be seconded by the enemy who are now in Hudson's River, and requesting that they will hold their Militia in readiness to lend us every necessary assistance in case of such an event.

Resolved, That a copy of the above Resolution be sent to his Excellency Governour Trumbull, and that he be requested to order the same to be carried into effect.

The draft of a Letter to the Commanding Officers of Fairfield and Litchfield was read, and approved of; and is as follows:

"SIR: Three of the enemy's ships of war having passed our fortifications near King's Bridge and proceeded up Hudson's river to within a few miles of the Highlands, and from the number of disaffected persons in this and Westchester County, we have reason to apprehend they meditate the landing some troops in this neighbourhood, and by that means give those deluded wretches an opportunity of joining them and thereby forming a body superiour to the few well-affected Militia who are not drafted into service. The zealous attachments of your Militia to the common cause of America, and the willingness with which they stepped forth to the assistance of this State when called upon on a late occasion, renders any arguments unnecessary to induce them to hold themselves in readiness to come to our aid on the shortest notice, when requested.

"I have the honour to be, &c."

The Resolution of instant, fixing the pay of Colonels Palmer and Nicoll at six Shillings, being reconsidered, it was resolved that they be allowed ten Shillings per day each.

Resolved, That Samuel Arthur be, and is hereby, appointed Inspector of Flour in the northern part of Orange and southern parts of Ulster County. That Dirck Wynkoop, Jun., Esq., be, and is hereby, also appointed Inspector of Flour at Kingston. That each of them be governed by the regulations published in the last act of the General Assembly of the Colony of New-York until further order.

Ordered, That the President send for Messrs. De Witt, Tappen, and Jo. Smith.

Resolved and Ordered, That Mr. Gerard Bancker, the Deputy Treasurer of this State, proceed to Philadelphia, and apply to the Delegates of this State to receive the Money lately voted to this Convention by Congress. That Mr. Bancker's receipt shall be a sufficient discharge for such sum as he may receive on account of this State in pursuance of this order.

That Mr. Bancker take to his assistance Colonel Birdsall, and that he be, and is hereby, authorized from time to time to procure any other guard or further assistance he shall think necessary for the safe conveyance of the said Money to the Treasury of this State.

And Ordered and Resolved, That William Floyd, Esq., one of the Delegates of this State, be, and he is hereby, authorized to draw on the Treasury of this State for such sum of Money as he may have present occasion for, and receive the same at Philadelphia out of the Money lately voted to this State by Congress.

Friday afternoon, October 11, 1776.

The Committee met pursuant to adjournment.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State advance to Ebenezer Woodhull the sum of two hundred Pounds on account of the Pay and Subsistence of the Orange County Troop of Light-Horse, some time ago called into service by order of Brigadier-General George Clinton, and that Captain Woodhull be accountable for the expenditure thereof.

A Letter from General Clinton, dated the 10th instant, requesting that certain arrearages of Bounty due to his Brigade may be sent by Colonel Hammond, was read and committed to Colonel Allison, Mr. Schenck, and Mr. Yates.

A Letter from Colonel Hay, dated the 10th instant, requesting Arms and Provisions for his Regiment, to enable them to resist the enemy should they attempt to land from their vessels on the western shore of Hudson's River, was read and referred to the same Committee.

A long Letter from John Sloss Hobart, dated at Fairfield, the 7th instant, was received and read; and is in the words following to wit:

"Fairfield, October 7th, 1776.

"GENTLEMEN: I wrote to Convention from the camp at King's Bridge, giving an account of the progress I had made in negotiating the exchange of General Woodhull, since which I have received the melancholy intelligence of his death. The wound in his arm mortified; the arm was taken off, but the mortification still continued, and in a few days put an end to that useful life. He was attended in his dying moments by his lady, who was permitted to remove the corpse to his seat, where it was interred about the 23d ultimo. These particulars I have from Captain Strong, of Islip, by whose door the procession passed in its way to St. George's.

"In a day or two after my arrival here, General Clinton called upon me, by desire of General Washington, to attend upon a council of war to be held at New-Haven, from whence I returned not till Saturday evening. I shall unavoidably be detained two or three weeks, in order to get my family fixed for the winter; but in the mean time shall send Ketchum to the Highlands (say Fishkills) as soon as a guard can be procured. At present every one is employed in forwarding the Militia from New-Hampshire and Massachusetts, who are marching to the number of near six thousand to join the main and grand Army.

"By some late accounts from Long-Island, I learn that two hundred Infantry and one hundred Cavalry were at Huntington, in order to force the people who had been in our Army to join the British troops. This measure will drive the people to desperation; and, if it can be accomplished, most of them will quit the country. I hope General Washington will attempt to assist them in it. Much has already been done by Lieutenant-Colonel Livingston, who, with the zeal and activity of an excellent officer, has greatly assisted the people at the east end of the Island in removing their families and effects. But many of them are without the means of support with them, which will occasion great difficulties. Should a number more, under the same circumstances, come over, it will be too great a charge upon the charity of individuals in this State.

"The provision made by Convention is inadequate to the purpose of maintaining the indigent from the Island, even supposing they were to remove into our own State; for certificates of indigency from the Chairmen of Committees being necessary to entitle to maintenance, such cannot be had; for as soon as the necessity of removing took place, the Committees universally declined acting, so that the resolve intended for their relief became of no effect, and they would fail of the intended relief in any part of New-York; but here, where the purity of intention wherewith the Convention was actuated is not known, if the resolve stands in its present form I fear it will be construed into a design to delude both the refugees and the persons who shall entertain them. Some further regulations are necessary if any thing is intended to be done for those unhappy sufferers. The Assembly of this State are to sit in a few days at New-Haven, and I trust will, upon application, give all the assistance we can reasonably ask. I hope the Convention will not think me impertinently troublesome upon this subject. My heart aches at every pore when I consider the deplorable situation to which the people whom I have the honour to represent are reduced; a people who, without boasting, were as warmly attached to the common cause, and who as cheerfully obeyed the orders of Convention, as any in the State. Upon the retreat of the Army from the Island, they viewed themselves as abandoned by the Convention—the Continent; and, expecting the enemy hourly among them, a general removal appeared impracticable. Besides, to quit their pleasant habitations and throw themselves, with their tender connections, upon the charity of an unknown world, was a degree of apathy to which they had not yet arrived. In a fit of despair they laid down their arms, and made an unconditional submission to what they supposed the inquiring Army. The people at large being thus brought to terms, they found it less difficult, by threats, to induce the individuals who had formerly held commissions under the Crown of Great Britain to resume the execution of their offices. Being well led into the snare, every measure tended to draw the net closer about them; notwithstanding which, I am from the best authority informed that they are accused by Mr. Tryon and his minions of having submitted only the better to cover their intention of removing, and that unless the young men do voluntarily take up arms against their country, an inveterate and disappointed soldiery will be let loose upon them.

"These considerations induce me earnestly to wish that some measures may be taken to induce the people to quit the Island, by offering a support to those who cannot maintain themselves; the aged and infirm must be maintained at the publick expense. A regiment of Long-Island refugees would provide a support for many of the young men. Should the Convention adopt the idea, there are many officers in General Scott's brigade who, together with some of Colonel Smith's regiment now on this side, would make an exceeding good corps. Should General Washington send a body of troops on to the Island, it will be necessary to destroy every thing that would be of service to the enemy, to prevent its falling into their hands. I beg leave to submit whether it will not be proper to hold out the prospect of compensation, in order to induce the people the more cheerfully to assist in destroying their own property.

"Give me leave, before I conclude this long letter, to suggest the propriety of filling up the two vacant regiments late McDougall's and Clinton's. Your officers, by the delay, will lose the opportunity of raising so fast in the Continental Army as those of the other States. There is some little uneasiness in the First Regiment on the subject of rank. That matter may now be accommodated to general satisfaction.

"I have the honour to be, with the greatest respect, gentlemen, your most obedient, humble servant,

"JOHN SLOSS HOBART.

"To the Honourable the Convention of New York."

Ordered to lay on the table till Monday.

A Letter from Samuel Ten Broeck, Chairman pro tem. of the Manor of Livingston, dated the 9th October, mentioning that the disaffected are numerous and troublesome, and stating the efforts that are making to apprehend them, was read.

Another Letter from Samuel Ten Broeck, Chairman, &c., dated the 10th instant, complaining of the outrages of the Tories, and stating that any effort to apprehend them must prove ineffectual, from the number of disaffected persons in each Company who give notice of the measures taken to secure them, and requesting that a Company of sixty men be raised for that service, was also read.

A Letter from Petrus Van Gaasbeck, Chairman of the Committee of the Manor of Livingston, mentioning the outrages of the Tories in, upon, and into the houses of some of the inhabitants, was read.

Ordered, That the three last-mentioned Letters be referred to Mr. Adgate and Mr. Gelston.

A Letter from William Paulding, dated the 10th instant; a Letter from John Gavino; also, a Letter from Rynier Van Houten, of the 9th instant, relating respectively to Captain Underhill, a disaffected person in Westchester County, were read.

Ordered, That the above-mentioned three Letters be referred to the Committee for detecting and defeating Conspiracies.

The Committee to whom was referred the Resolutions of Congress of the 30th September, and the Letter from the Hon. John Hancock of the 2d October, made a report of a Letter to the Continental Congress; which was read, and the consideration thereof postponed until Monday.

The Committee to whom was referred the Letter from General Greene, relative to the Horse brought from Long-Island by William Bradford, Adjutant to Colonel Hitchcock's Regiment, reported.

On motion of William Duer,

Resolved, That the Members of Convention furnish themselves with Arms and Ammunition, to prevent a surprise.

Ordered, That Mr. Moore view the Arms in Mr. Sackett's care, at the Landing, and report the state in which they are, and the number.

A Certificate from Samuel Tudor, Stephen Seaman, and seven other persons, at the ship-yards at Poughkeepsie, dated the 10th instant, was read. They thereby certify that William Warne hath continued there the time directed by the Convention, during which time he hath laboured diligently and behaved himself peaceably and quietly, and otherwise much to their satisfaction; and they recommend him to the favour of the Convention.

Ordered, That the said Certificate be referred to the Committee appointed for detecting Conspiracies, &c.

The Committee, &c., reported the following by way of Resolves:

Your Committee, to whom was referred Brigadier-General Clinton's and Colonel A. H. Hay's Letters of the 10th October instant, beg leave to make the following report:

Resolved, That the Levies of one hundred men, ordered to be raised in the northern part of Orange County, for the defence of the fortifications at Peekskill and in Westchester County, be ordered to march immediately and put themselves under the command of Colonel Hay, at Haverstraw, on the west side of Hudson's River, in Orange County.

Resolved, That five hundred Dollars be sent to Colonel Hay on account of supplies for the Troops under his command.

And beg leave to offer the following draft of a Letter enclosing the foregoing Resolves.

With respect to the Letter of General Clinton, your Committee also beg leave to submit the following draft of a Letter in answer thereto.

An answer to the Letter from Colonel Hay was read and approved of, and is in the words following, to wit:

"October 12, 1776.

"SIR: I am directed to inform you that yours of the 10th instant came to hand. You will see by the resolve of this House, copy of which you have enclosed, that a reinforcement of one hundred men from the north part of Orange County are to join you as soon as they can be levied. I am also directed to send you by the bearer, Mr. Van Houten, five hundred dollars for the Commissary to buy provisions for the troops, a sum probably less than you may want, but we hope before you have expended this, our Treasury will be replenished, or your troops ordered to be victualled by the Continental Commissary.

"I am, sir, your most obedient servant,

"Colonel Hay."

A Letter from Tench Tilghman, dated the 9th instant, concerning ten tons of Gunpowder at Windsor, &c. Another Letter from same person, dated 10th instant, mentioning that the enemy's ships still continue laying off Tarry-Town, were read.

Ordered, That Mr. Cortlandt, Mr. Contine, and Mr. Duane, be a Committee to secure the Powder mentioned in Mr. Tilghman's Letter, and remove it to a place of safety.

The Committee of Safety were informed by a Member that Is. Ketcham, lately ordered by the Convention of this State to be sent to this place under guard, is now in the guard-house, under the care of Captain Clark's Company.

Ordered, That Is. Ketcham be left to the disposition of the Committee for detecting Conspiracies.

A draft of a Letter to Samuel Ten Broeck, Esq., Chairman of the Committee of the Manor of Livingston, was read, and is as follows:

"In Committee of Safety for the State of New-York, Fishkill, 13th October, 1776.

"SIR: Yours of the 9th and 10th instant have been received and laid before the Committee. They had some days before been convinced that more effectual measures were necessary to be taken for the safety of your district, and had come into the enclosed resolutions, copies of which were sent forward on the 8th instant.

"It is hoped, instead of the number of men you request, the company ordered to be raised will be sufficient to answer every purpose intended. In the mean time I am directed to assure you that the Committee will afford you every necessary assistance in their power.

"I am, sir, &c.,

"Saml. Ten Broeck, Esq., &c."

Ordered, That the thirteen Arms be immediately repaired by Mr. McCavery, and that the rest of the Arms be sent to Poughkeepsie, to Mr. John Schenck, who is requested to get them repaired and sent down to this Convention without delay.

A Letter from Thomas Randall, dated the 10th instant, accompanying a Letter from Thomas Quigley, Lieutenant of the Schooner Putnam, dated 6th instant.

Ordered, That a copy of the Resolution directing the sale of the said Schooner be transmitted to Captain Randall.

Mr. Gelson informs that one thousand pounds of Gunpowder, which had been sent by this State into Suffolk County, is removed to Say-Brook, in Connecticut; that there is also a quantity of Saltpetre in that State, which he had purchased in Suffolk County for the State.

Whereas it hath become absolutely necessary for the defence of this State that a body of Troops should without delay be assembled at on near this place: And whereas accommodations for the said Troops cannot be speedily provided in any other manner than by putting them in houses or buildings belonging to the publick: And whereas the house owned and built near this place by the donations of divers well-disposed persons for the purpose of an academy for the education of youth, hath not for a long time past been applied to that use, but is now only occupied as a dwelling-house by the Rev. Mr. Chauncey Graham, who formerly presided over the said academy: And whereas, notwithstanding the pressing necessity this Convention hath for the use of the said house has been communicated to Mr. Graham by a Committee of this House, he declines relinquishing the possession thereof; and it being inconsistent with the duty which this House owe to their constituents to permit individuals to occupy publick buildings when the same are wanted for publick use:

Ordered, That Colonel Luddington send all the Arms in his possession, taken from disaffected persons, to this

* IN CONGRESS, October 2, 1776.

Resolved, That the President be desired to write General Schuyler, and inform him that the Congress cannot consent, during the present situation of their affairs, to accept of his resignation, but request that he continue the command which he now holds; that he be assured that the aspersions which his enemies have thrown out against his character have had no influence upon the minds of the Members of this House, who are fully satisfied of his attachment to the cause of freedom, and are willing to bear their testimony to the many services which he has rendered his country; and that, in order effectually to put calumny to silence, they will at an early day appoint a Committee of their body to inquire fully into his conduct, which they trust will establish his reputation in the opinion of all good men.

Extract from the Minutes: CHAS. THOMSON, Secretary.

Committee, without delay, and that he send his account for repairing them to the Auditor-General.

On motion of Mr. Duane,

Resolved, That General James Clinton, commanding the Fortresses in the Highlands, be requested to give directions that all Boats passing up and down the river be diligently searched, and the Passengers carefully examined, and such as shall be suspected, secured; and that for his passes, besides the usual sentries, a Barge be manned and kept in motion in the river opposite to each Fort every night; and that the General be further requested to give orders for taking up and securing in a place of safety all the Row-Boats, Barges, and small craft, between the Forts in the Highlands and the Army, to prevent those falling into the enemy's hands, and their gaining intelligence.

Ordered, That a copy be sent to General Clinton.

The Committee appointed on the 12th instant to have the Gunpowder lately brought to New-Windsor Landing removed to places of safety, reported, that there is not any quantity of Gunpowder belonging to the publick now at that landing; that they are informed that the five tons of Gunpowder which arrived at New-Windsor from Philadelphia, was immediately carried down to Fort Constitution, and there lodged, from whence part of it, by order of the Commanding Officer, has been taken to Fort Independence, and placed in such manner as to supply the Troops or Militia there; that the Powder brought from the Mill of Messrs. Wisner & Phillipse to New-Windsor, was immediately put on board of a proper vessel for the purpose, to be transported to Spytden Duyvel Creek. Mr. Phillips, one of the manufacturers, proceeded with the vessel with the Powder. The enemy's ships having got up Hudson's River before the vessel with the Powder could reach her destination, information is received that Mr. Phillips, who was at Peekskill with the Powder, intended to land it there, and proceed by land. That a Letter has been sent by Mr. McKesson, one of the Secretaries, to the owners of the two Powder-Mills near Goshen, requesting them not to send any Gunpowder to the river side until further order.

Ordered, That a copy of this Report be immediately sent to General Washington.

Ordered, That Mr. Cantine be added to the Lead and Brimstone Committee, and that three of the said Committee to be a quorum.

Certain Resolutions, proposed by Mr. R. R. Livingston, for purchasing all the Stock and Grain in Westchester County, were read and agreed to, and are in the words following, that is to say:

"Resolved, That a Commissary be appointed immediately to repair to the County of Westchester, to purchase all the Cattle fit for the use of the Army within that County, and drive them down to the Army at King's Bridge as fast as they may be wanted, provided that so much shall be left as is absolutely necessary for the support of the families from whom the same shall be taken.

"Resolved, That if any person shall refuse to part with his Cattle at a reasonable price, that the Commissary be directed to drive them down to the Army, and return to the owner the money for which they sold, after deducting the contingent charge.

"Resolved, That all the Hides of the Cattle so driven and killed, be carefully preserved and sent to some safe place on the north side of the Highlands, where, being appraised by persons hereafter to be named for that purpose, they shall be paid for by this State.

A Letter from the Hon. John Hancock, Esq., dated the 9th instant, was received and read, in the words following, to wit:

"Philadelphia, October 9, 1776.

"Gentlemen: The enclosed resolves, which I transmit in obedience to the commands of Congress, will inform you of the ample provision they have made for the support of both officers and soldiers who shall enter into the service during the war. The pay of the former is considerably increased, and the latter is to receive annually a complete suit of clothes, or, in lieu thereof, the sum of twenty dollars should he provide the suit for himself. This additional encouragement, besides the twenty dollars bounty and one hundred acres of land formerly granted, the Congress expect will be the means of engaging the troops to serve during the war. For this purpose, also, I am to request you will appoint a Committee or Committees to repair immediately to the Army, to induce such of the troops as have been raised by your State to inlist during the war, and to appoint officers for the same.

"The Congress, for very obvious reasons, are extremely anxious to keep the Army together. The dangerous consequence of their breaking up, and the difficulty of forming a new one, are inconceivable. Were this barrier once removed, military power would quickly spread desolation and ruin over the face of our country. The importance, and indeed the absolute necessity, of filling the Army, of providing for the troops and engaging them to serve during the war, is so apparent, and has been so frequently urged, that I shall only request your attention to the resolves of Congress on this subject, and beseech you, by that love you have for your country, her rights and liberties, to exert yourselves to carry them speedily and effectually into execution, as the only means of preserving her in this her critical and alarming situation.

"I have the honour to be, gentlemen, your most obedient and very humble servant,

"John Hancock, President.

"Honourable Convention of New-York."

"Philadelphia, October 7, 1776.

"Gentlemen: The Committee appointed to carry into execution the enclosed resolves can think of no method so proper for the State of New-York, as to apply to the Convention; and for that purpose we do send you ten thousand dollars, and desire you to appoint proper persons in the several districts to execute the same; and if, upon trial, you find that more clothing may be had than this money will purchase, you may have more by applying to this Committee.

Whereas large numbers of Cattle are supplied by this and the Eastern States for the use of the Armies at New-York and Ticonderoga: And whereas the hides of most or all of the cattle driven from the Eastern States, and many of those purchased on contract in this State, are by the contractors sent into the State of Connecticut, and those killed at the Northern posts for the use of that Army are, for the most part, as this Convention are informed, wasted for want of proper care,—great exertions have been made in the northern parts of this State to supply the Army at Ticonderoga with shoes, and it is also necessary to provide in time for the quota of troops raised within this State,—from which circumstance the article of leather is already nearly exhausted, must become exceedingly scarce and dear, and leave part of the Army, which depends upon this State, distressed: And whereas the inhabitants of this State are, by these means, reduced to the greatest distresses for the want of that necessary article: Therefore,

Ordered, That Colonel Cortlandt and Mr. Wisner do immediately proceed to Peekskill, to provide quarters for the Troops there, and to assist the Engineer in pointing out the places in the Highlands most proper to be fortified.

Resolved, That two Companies of those Troops now coming be subject to the direction of the Committee for detecting Conspiracies, &c., till further orders.

Resolved, That the said Committee be authorized at their discretion to call out such part of the Militia of this State for fatigue men as they may think necessary.

Two Letters of intelligence, one from Mr. Tilghman, the other from Mr. Harrison, the General's Secretary, dated at Head-Quarters, the 14th instant, were read and returned to the Committee of Correspondence.

A Letter from Colonel Hay, at Haverstraw, dated 15th instant, giving an account of the state of his Regiment and of the motions of the enemy's Ships, was read.

"In Committee of Safety, for the State of New-York.

"Sir: We have received your favour of the 7th instant, respecting the horse taken by William Bradford, Adjutant to Colonel Hitchcock's Regiment, which you inform us is the property of one Jacob Wyckoff, who has joined the enemy. As the horse is now in your possession, and you are in want of one, we desire you will have him appraised and kept in your service until some future determination of the Convention or future Legislature of this State relative to the disposition of the property of all such persons as have or hereafter may join the enemy, that may fall into our hands. The bravery of the Adjutant will then also be considered.

"I am, with great respect, sir, your most obedient servant.

"To Major-General Greene."

The Letter to the Honourable John Hancock, Esquire, President of the Continental Congress, reported as aforesaid by the same Committee, was in the words following, to wit:

"Sir: The Convention were honoured with yours of the 2d instant, enclosing some resolves relative to Surgeons for the Army, and urging the necessity of a full representation at Congress. If by a full representation, nothing more is meant or intended than such a number of Delegates from every State as will entitle each of them to a vote, this Convention hope that the recommendation is complied with by this State, since they have always directed so many gentlemen to remain at Philadelphia as will answer that purpose. If, on the other hand, it is expected that all the Delegates of this State should attend, this Convention, though fully satisfied of the propriety of such a requisition, must beg the honourable the Congress to excuse their non-attendance at present, the critical situation of this State, equally endangered by open and secret enemies, rendering it extremely improper to deprive the Convention of the assistance of any gentleman whose abilities may be of service to it, at least till the Army is arranged, and measures taken to form and establish some more permanent government than we now enjoy. These considerations, we flatter ourselves, will have some weight with Congress, and not only induce them to admit our excuse for not permitting such of our Delegates as are now here to attend at Philadelphia, but to defer any matter in which this State is particularly interested, (when the general cause of America will safely admit of such delay,) till they are more fully represented.

Drs. John Jones, Samuel Bard, and Malachi Treat, were appointed by this Convention to examine all Surgeons or Surgeon's Mates that entered into the service of this State. No warrant or commission has been given to any in that capacity, unless they produced a certificate of their examination, signed by at least two of those gentlemen, setting forth that they were fully qualified to discharge their duty in their stations, excepting a few late instances, when they could not be obtained by reason of those gentlemen being dispersed in different parts of the County, and could not attend, in which case five or six have been admitted on the examination of one only.

"Yours, &c. By order.

"The Hon. John Hancock, President, &c., &c., &c."

Wednesday afternoon, October 16, 1776.

The Committee of Safety met.

Westchester—Mr. Mills, Judge Graham.
Ulster—Mr. Contine, Mr. Parks, Mr. Wisner.
Charlotte—Mr. Webster.
Dutchess—Mr. Landon, Mr. Schenck.
Tryon—Mr. Moore, Mr. Harper, Mr. Sacket.

Mr. Duer informed the Committee that his attendance on the Committee for detecting Conspiracies, &c., is so absolutely necessary as not to admit of his going down to Peekskill for the purpose to which he was appointed this morning, in conjunction with Colonel Cortlandt, to provide Quarters for the Troops there, and assisting the Engineer in pointing out the grounds proper to be fortified, and therefore prays that Mr. Wisner be appointed in his stead.

Mr. Wisner informed the Committee that he had taken upon himself to employ some persons to repair the Roads in the northern part of Orange County leading to the Fortifications in the Highlands, and requests to know the sense of the Committee on the propriety of this measure, and whether they shall be directed to go on in the said necessary work.

Resolved, That this Committee do approve of Mr. Wisner's conduct, and that the persons employed by Mr. Wisner continue to repair the said Roads, and that this Convention will defray the expenses.

Ordered, That Mr. Schenck provide Vessels to transport those Troops which were intended to have come to this place back to Peekskill.

A Letter from John Sloss Hobart, Esq., dated at Fairfield, October 8th, 1776, setting forth the state and circumstances of the Sloop Montgomery, and of the sum of money

* October 16, 1776.—Whereas the Convention of the Representatives of the State of New-York, on the 19th day of September, 1776, did appoint and authorize us (Henry Wisner, &c.) a Committee to employ proper persons for making discoveries and essays of Sulphur, Lead, and Flint, within this State, we do hereby covenant and agree with John McDonald, Miner, in manner following, that is to say: That he, the said John McDonald, shall sink the Lead Mine which he has lately opened in the Great Nine Partners, in Dutchess County, twelve feet in depth from its present state, and extend the same thirty feet in length and three feet in breadth, in such direction as he shall think best to pursue the vein, and carefully separate the ore from the rubbish, and deliver the same to the order of this Convention. And the said John McDonald further agrees, for the consideration hereafter mentioned, to provide at his own proper cost and charge all such articles as may be necessary for the performance of this agreement, and to make a faithful report of the state of the mine at least once in every month. And we, the said Henry Wisner, &c., do on our part covenant and agree to pay to the said John McDonald the sum of ten pounds for every sixth feet in depth, sixth feet in length, and three feet in breadth, which he shall sink in said mine.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seals the 16th day of October, 1776.

Report of the Committee sent to consult with the Rev. Mr. Graham relative to the Academy ordered for the use of the Troops and to view the said building, was read, and postponed till to-morrow morning.

Thursday morning, October 17, 1776.

The Committee met pursuant to adjournment.

A Letter from Richard Varick, Esq., Secretary to General Schuyler, dated October 14th, 1776, enclosing copy of a Letter from General Arnold to General Schuyler, giving a particular account of the action on Lake Champlain between the enemy's fleet and ours on the 12th instant, was read, and is in the words following, to wit, that is to say:

"Schuyler's Island, October 12, 1776.

"DEAR GENERAL: Yesterday morning at eight o'clock, the enemy's fleet, consisting of one ship mounting sixteen guns, one snow mounting the same number, one schooner of fourteen guns, two of twelve, two sloops, a bomb-ketch, and a large vessel, (that did not come up,) with fifteen or twenty flat-bottomed boats or gondolas, carrying one twelve or eighteen-pounder in their bows, appeared off Cumberland Head. We immediately prepared to receive them. The galleys and Royal Savage were ordered under way, the rest of our fleet lay at an anchor. At eleven o'clock they ran under the lee of Valcour, and began the attack. The schooner, by some bad management, fell to leeward, and was first attacked; one of her masts was wounded, and her rigging shot away. The Captain thought prudent to run her on the point of Valcour, where all the men were saved. They boarded her, and at night set fire to her. At half-past twelve the engagement became general, and very warm. Some of the enemy's ships and all their gondolas beat and rowed up within musket-shot of us. They continued a very hot fire with round and grape-shot until five o'clock, when they thought proper to retire to about six or seven hundred yards distance, and continued the fire until dark. The Congress and Washington have suffered greatly; the latter lost her First Lieutenant killed, Captain and Master wounded. The New-York lost all her officers, except her Captain. The Philadelphia was hulled in so many places that she sunk in about one hour after the engagement was over. The whole killed and wounded amounts to about sixty. The enemy landed a large number of Indians on the island and each shore, who kept an incessant fire on us, but did little damage. The enemy had, to appearance, upwards of one thousand in batteaus, prepared for boarding. We suffered much for want of seamen and gunners. I was obliged myself to point most of the guns on board the Congress, which I believe did good execution. The Congress received seven shot between wind and water, was hulled a dozen times, had her mainmast wounded in two places, and her yard in one. The Washington was hulled a number of times, her mainmast shot through, and must have a new one. Both vessels are very leaky, and want repairing.

"On consulting with General Waterbury and Colonel Wigglesworth, it was thought prudent to return to Crown Point, every vessel's ammunition being nearly three-fourths spent. At seven o'clock, Colonel Wigglesworth, in the Trumbull, got under way; the gondolas and small vessels followed; and the Congress and Washington brought up the rear. The enemy did not attempt to molest us. Most of the fleet is this minute come to an anchor. The wind is small to the southward. The enemy's fleet is under way to leeward, and beating up. As soon as our leaks are stopped, the whole fleet will make the utmost despatch to Crown Point, where I beg you will send ammunition and your further orders for us. On the whole, I think we have had a very fortunate escape, and have great reason to return our humble and hearty thanks to Almighty God for preserving and delivering so many of us from our more than savage enemies.

"I am, &c., B. ARNOLD.

"P. S. I had not moved on board the Congress when the enemy appeared, and lost all my papers and most of my clothes on board the schooner. I wish a dozen batteaus, well manned, could be sent immediately, and tow up the vessels in case of a southwardly wind.

"I cannot, in justice to the officers in the fleet, omit mentioning their spirited conduct during the action. B. A."

A Letter from Jacobus Lansing, Jun., of Albany, dated at New-Windsor, October 11th, 1776, directed to the Deputies of Albany, setting forth the defenceless state of the city of Albany, and suggesting the propriety of erecting some fortifications, and supplying them with some field-pieces, was read, and committed to Messrs. Adgate, Allison, and Landon

Two Certificates from the Committee of Walkill, dated September 11th, 1776, and signed by William Wilkin, Chairman: the one that Henry Wisner, Jun., has at his Mill manufactured nine thousand one hundred and eighty-four pounds of Powder, agreeable to resolve of Congress; the other that Henry Wisner, Jun., and Morris Philips have erected a Mill, and manufactured agreeable to resolve of Congress. Committed to Mr. Contine and Mr. Moore.

The Committee to whom was referred a conference with the Rev. Chauncey Graham, and to examine into the particular state of the publick Academy in this town, in consequence of a resolve of this House of the 13th instant, wherein the said Rev. Chauncey Graham was ordered to move out of the said Academy in one week's time, in order that the same might be occupied by the troops ordered here by this Convention, submitted it as their opinion that the following Resolves be entered into by this House:

Resolved, That whereas it appears to this Committee to be exceedingly inconvenient for the Rev. Chauncey Graham to remove his family out of the publick Academy in this town on so short a notice, at this difficult season, as hath been allowed him by a former Resolve of this House, he is therefore hereby permitted to occupy the easternmost room on the lower story of said Academy one fortnight from this day, provided he permit the soldiers to have the use of the necessary.

Resolved, That the said Chauncey Graham be permitted to take the Sashes and Glass out of three of the Windows in said Academy that are not in the rooms now occupied, relying on his word to this House that he will replace the same in good order when thereunto required by this Convention or a future Legislature of this State, or whenever the said Academy may be converted to the uses it was originally intended for.

Resolved, That there be allowed unto the said Reverend Chauncey Graham an equal number of Boards as purchased by him for the use of the Academy since his late residence there, and also as many Nails as shall or may appear to have been used by said Graham in working up said Boards into partitions, or otherwise, for the conveniency of said House.

The Committee to whom was referred the claim of Mr. Nicholas Bayard for providing an Officer for securing the Records of this State, for a Guard-Room for the Guard appointed to watch the said Records, and for Fire-Wood and Candles supplied the Guard, have taken the same into consideration, and thereupon agreed to the following Resolution:

Resolved, That there be allowed to Nicholas Bayard, for providing an Office for securing the publick Records of this State, a Guard-Room and Fire-Wood and Candles supplied the Guard over the said Records, the sum of fifty Pounds.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State cause to be conveyed to Nicholas Bayard, Esq., by the first safe opportunity, the sum of fifty Pounds, pursuant to the above Resolution, and procure his receipt for the same.

Resolved, That the Treasurer of this State do, on application of either of the persons respectively named in the Resolutions of the Committee of Safety on the 9th instant for the purposes of purchasing Clothing in the Counties of Westchester, Orange, Dutchess, Ulster, and Albany, advance to each of them respectively the sum of one hundred Pounds, taking their receipt for the same.

Mr. Wyckoff, who is appointed Commissary to the Troops in this place, requested an order for two bushels of Salt for the use of said Troops.

Ordered, That Major Terboss deliver to Mr. Henry Wyckoff, or his order, two bushels Salt, for the use of the Troops at Fishkill, Mr. Wyckoff to pay for the same agreeable to the regulated price of that article in this County.

An additional Resolution relative to the persons to superintend the printing the Bills of Credit, was read and agreed to, and is as follows, to wit:

Whereas, in the Resolution of this Convention of the 13th August last, for the emission of five hundred thousand Dollars in Bills of Credit, it was, among other things, resolved that Isaac Roosevelt cause to be administered to the Printer of said Bills, by the President of this Convention, a certain oath therein prescribed: And whereas the want of money in the Treasury renders it necessary to carry the said Resolution into immediate execution; and Samuel Loudon, the intended printer thereof being now absent, and therefore cannot take the said oath:

Resolved, therefore, That the said Isaac Roosevelt do cause the printing of said Bills to commence with the Foreman and other workmen of the said Samuel Loudon, and that he appoint two persons to attend the printing thereof, to whom, instead of the printer thereof, shall be administered by the President of this Convention, the following oath:

"I, A B, do solemnly swear by the Almighty God, that from the time that the letters were set, and fit to be put in the press for printing the said Bills of Credit, until the Bills were printed, and the letters afterwards distributed into the boxes, I was present in the absence of the other, and that both of us did not at any time leave the room in which the said letters were, without locking them up so that they could not be come at without violence of a false key, or other art unknown to us, and therefore, to the best of our knowledge, no copies were printed off but in the presence of one or both of us, and that all the blotters and other papers whatsoever impressed by the said letters whilst set for printing the said Bills, to the best of our knowledge, are delivered to the said Isaac Roosevelt, together with the stamps; and in all things relating to this affair we have demeaned ourselves honestly and faithfully to the best of our knowledge and understanding. So help me God."

Ordered, That Mr. Dunscomb have leave of absence for four or five days.

Thursday afternoon, 17th of October, 1776.

The Committee met pursuant to adjournment.

Present: Colonel Livingston, President, Mr. Contine, Mr. Adgate, Colonel Bailey, Mr. Gelston, Mr. Yates, Judge Graham, Mr. R. Harper, Mr. Newkirk, Major Lockwood, Mr. Gansevoort, Mr. Mills, Mr. Wisner, Mr. Webster, Colonel Allison, Mr. Moore, Mr. Paris, Mr. William Smith, Mr. Landon.

An Account of Jacamiah Allen was produced, for guarding the Cannon at King's Bridge. Referred to Messrs. Lockwood, Moore, and Landon.

Whereas the time limited by the honourable the Continental Congress for the sale and consumption of Bohea Tea on hand, proved too short for that purpose, whereby large quantities of that commodity remained unsold and unconsumed in the Colony, to the great loss and damage of the proprietors thereof: And whereas the said proprietors or Tea-holders in the City of New-York did, by a memorial or petition to the Committee of that place, represent the difficulties they were reduced to by reason of that article of the Association, and praying their interposition in their behalf: And whereas the said Committee of the City and County of New-York did transmit the said representation to the Congress of the Colony of New-York, and did certify the same to be worthy their attention: And whereas the said Congress, finding on inquiry that divers of the inhabitants of the said Colony would be greatly injured unless a further time was allowed for the consumption of Tea, did instruct their Delegates in Continental Congress to endeavour to obtain a resolve of Congress for that purpose: And whereas the said Tea-holders did, among other things, allege in favour of their application that many of them would, unless relieved, be ruined by being prohibited the sale of the said Tea, which was a perishable article; that they were fast friends to the American cause, and had been induced to import a more than usual quantity of that article with a view the better to oppose and defeat the designs of the Ministry and India Company in selling Tea in the Colonies subject to duty; that they would be content to sell the remaining stock on hand at the former current price; that had they been permitted to vend it, they would have employed the moneys arising from the sale of it in importing divers commodities very necessary to the defence of the Colonies, and if indulged in selling the same, would immediately set about it:

And whereas the Continental Congress, moved by considerations of justice as well as policy, did finally grant the prayer of the said petitioners; and lest any evil-disposed persons might take undue advantages of the scarcity of Tea which would necessarily take place from its future importation being prohibited, they wisely limited the price of all Bohea Teas at three-fourths of a dollar, and that of other Teas at such prices as would be fixed by the Committees, allowing by the said resolve a generous and more than usual price for the Tea on hand, and thereby compensating the owners for any losses they might have sustained by not being permitted to sell the same in the intervals between the expiration of the time limited for its consumption and the date of the resolve annulling that resolution:

And whereas divers of the said Tea-holders, not content with the advanced price of Tea allowed by the Congress, and forgetting the patriotick principles which induced them to import it, as well as the services they once intended to do their country by speedily turning that perishable article into money, and employing those sums in the importation of articles essential to the defence of the United States of America, have refused to dispose of their stock of Tea on hand, designing to postpone the sale thereof until such time as an artificial scarcity shall induce the good women of this State to tempt them to vend it, by offering exorbitant prices:

And whereas others of the said Tea-holders have already, in various and manifold instances, sold Tea for double the price allowed by the Congress, and by involving so many in a transgression of the said Resolve, expect to escape the just punishment demanded by it:

And whereas the said unjustifiable and mercenary practices of the said Tea-holders hath in many instances brought upon them the resentment of the people, and many riotous proceedings have thereby been occasioned, to the great disturbance of the quiet and breach of the peace and good order of the community:

And whereas monopolies and forestalling, designed to create an artificial scarcity, and, distressing the people deprive them of their property, have ever been justly deemed proper objects of reprehension, and called for the interposition of the Legislature:

This Convention, for the reason aforesaid, find themselves constrained, by the great duties they owe their constituents and the General Congress, to effectually provide that the said Resolve be no longer violated in this State; and the more so, as the Congress of the Colony of New York were solicited by the said Tea-holders to use, and did exert their influence to obtain it.

Resolved, therefore, That the Committees of the several Counties within this State do forthwith take into their custody, from every Tea-merchant, Shopkeeper, or other person or persons whatsoever in this State, all the Bohea Tea which shall be found in their possession over and above the quantity of twenty-five pounds respectively, and appoint some respectable person or persons to retail the same in small quantities to any person that may apply to purchase the same, at the rate of six shillings per pound; and that the money arising by such sale be paid to the said Committee, and by them kept for and delivered to the proprietor of such Tea, on his application in person, or by order from the same.

That the person or persons appointed to retail the said Tea be authorized to demand and receive from the purchaser thereof three pence per pound for his or their expense and trouble in executing the trust hereby reposed in him or them. That the person or persons so to be appointed shall take an oath for the faithful discharge of the trust hereby reposed in him or them before the Chairman of the County Committee, and give security to the said Chairman to pay to the said Committee the money he or they may or shall receive for the Tea so by him or them sold agreeable to the above resolutions. That the person or persons to be appointed to sell the said Tea, do not sell more than twelve pounds to any one person for the use of any one family; that if any of the tea-holders, or their agents within this State, in order to prevent its being sold at the above-mentioned price, to evade the intent of those resolves, or for any other reason or purpose whatsoever, shall hereafter export or import out of or into this State, any India Tea, shall forfeit double the value thereof to the Committee of the County out of or into which the same shall be exported or imported. That publick notice shall be given by the person or persons appointed as aforesaid to sell the said Tea, at least ten days before he or they open the same for sale, that those who want may have an equal chance of being supplied.

The same was agreed to by the House.

Resolved, That the Rangers ordered from Ulster County to this place, be subject to the order and direction of the Committee appointed for the detecting Conspiracies, &c.

The Committee to whom was referred the request of Dr. Osborn, for Medicines for the use of the Regiment commanded by Colonel Jacobus Swartwout, made the following Report:

"Whereas your Committee are informed by said Doctor Osborn, that part of the men under the command of Colonel Jacobus Swartwout, in General Clinton's brigade in Continental service, are in great distress for want of medicines, and that Colonel Swartwout had requested Doctor McNight, one of the Continental Hospital Surgeons, to supply his regiment with the same, who hath requested said Doctor Osborne to apply to this Convention: your Committee, agreeable to the power given by the Convention, have thought proper to supply, and have supplied the said Doctor Osborn with six pounds Sal Cathartics and pounds Cortex Peruviana, out of the store of medicines belonging to this Convention, for which your Committee have taken a receipt from Doctor Osborn, which said receipt, amounting to the sum of £3 6*s*., together with the orders from Colonel Swartwout and Doctor McNight respecting the same, your Committee now here produce."

Ordered, That the said Receipt and Orders be filed with the Treasurer of this State, and that he charge the said £3 6*s*. to Continental account.

A Letter from Joshua Ambler, Chairman of the Committee of Poundridge, in Westchester County, dated the 15th instant, informing that there is danger of the Prisoners of War going off to the enemy, as one of them is already gone off to Long-Island:

Thereupon Resolved, That Major Lockwood repair immediately to Poundridge and Bedford, in Westchester County, to inquire into the state of the Prisoners of War confined there; and if he should find it necessary, that he cause the Privates to be conveyed, under a proper guard, to Woodbury, in the State of Connecticut; and that the Officers who are prisoners on parole, to Dansbury, in the same State. Major Lockwood to be furnished with the blank paroles, to be by him filled up for such of the said Prisoners as are confined there on parole, the old paroles to be cancelled; and that Major Lockwood, at his discretion, settle with and advance to the Prisoners the rations and other provisions allowed by the Resolve of Congress, as may appear to him to be justly due to them.

"SIR: By letters from Generals Gates and Arnold, I am advised of the total destruction of our fleet on Lake Champlain, and that it is beyond doubt that the enemy mean to attack our Army at Ticonderoga. I have written to General Ten Broeck to march up the Militia under his command, and I have also applied for that of the neighbouring States. General Gates wishes to be sustained by an army of ten or twelve thousand of them. It is certainly of the highest importance that all the Militia that can be spared should march up without delay, either to support General Gates, if there should be time, or to cover his retreat, should he be reduced to the necessity of quitting his ground, and I must therefore entreat your aid.

"Permit me to suggest that I believe the Convention's moving to Albany would be attended with good consequences.

ORANGE—Colonel Allison.
ALBANY—Colonel Livingston, Mr. Gansevoort, Mr. Yates, Mr. Adgate.
ULSTER—Mr. Contine.

Mr. Duer, seconded by Mr. Gansevoort, moved that the Secretaries be ordered to postpone the printing and publishing of the Salt and Tea Resolves, which were agreed to in this Committee on the 17th instant, as the Committee of Safety did not then consist of a sufficient number of Members to determine any reports which had originated in the Convention of this State. Debates arose, and the question being put thereon, it was carried in the negative.

Mr. Abraham Yates, seconded by Mr. William Duer, moved that the printing and publication of the Resolves relative to Salt and Tea, be postponed for further consideration. Debates arose, and the question being put thereon, it was carried in the affirmative.

Therefore, Resolved, That the Secretaries do postpone the publication of the said Resolves till further orders.

A Certificate of Mr. Gerard Bancker, Deputy Treasurer, in the words following, was read:

"I do hereby certify, that the pay-roll of Captain Jacob Rutzen De Witt's Company, amounting to five hundred and ten pounds seventeen shillings and sixpence half penny, has been by me carefully examined; that the amount of it, as now corrected, is right; that he has produced to me a certificate of his and his Lieutenants having taken the oath prescribed by a resolution of Convention of the 23d July last to be taken previous to his receiving his pay; and that the charges for pay and subsistence are in his said roll made agreeable to the aforesaid resolution.

"GERARD BANCKER.

"Fishkill, 21st October, 1776."

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to Captain Jacob Rutzen De Witt the remaining half Bounty due to his Company of Rangers, raised in Ulster County; as also the sum of £510 17*s*. 6½*d*., for Pay and Subsistence, agreeable to the muster-roll of the said Company, as by Mr. Bancker examined, and certified this day to be right.

An Account of Petrus Bogardus against the Continent, for transporting with his Sloop Captain Daniel Runnels's Company of eighty men, of Colonel Tash's Regiment of Troops in Continental service, from Fishkill, in Dutchess County, to the Works at Red-Hook, on Hudson River, with their baggage, which Account amounts to £4, was produced, and read.

A Certificate of Captain Daniel Runnels, that eighty Men and their baggage had been transported in the said Sloop from Fishkill to Red-Hook aforesaid, was also read; and it appeared to the Committee of Safety that the said Sloop was engaged and taken up to transport the said Troops at the request of two of the Field-Officers of that Regiment who were then present, and from necessity for despatch, and because they found that part of the Regiment too much fatigued to march through the Highlands.

Therefore, Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to the said Petrus Bogardus, or his order, the sum of £4, taking his receipt for the same, and that the Treasurer charge the same to Continental account.

Mr. Abraham Yates, from the Committee to whom was referred the Muster-Rolls of the different corps of Rangers in the Counties of Albany, Tryon, and Charlotte, leg leave to lay before this Committee of Safety the following facts:*

"That on the twenty-third of July, seventeen hundred and seventy-six, the Convention ordered the raising of a number of Rangers in the several aforesaid Counties, the officers and men on Continental pay, the Captain sixteen shillings, the Lieutenant fourteen shillings, and each non-commissioned officer and private ten shillings a week, in lieu of all subsistence, with an addition of a bounty of twenty-five dollars to each non-commissioned officer and private. That the officers and privates were to furnish themselves each with one good musket or firelock, powder-horn, bullet-pouch, tomahawk, blanket, and knapsack. One half of the bounty to be paid to every able-bodied man when he shall pass muster, the other half to be remitted by this Convention to the said respective County Committees, to be by them issued to the Captain of their respective Companies, and immediately distributed to the men.

"That the Officers, before they receive their warrant, take an oath before the Chairman of the County Committee from whence he is recommended, that he will, once in every month, or as soon after the expiration of any month as possible, transmit the Convention or future Legislature of this State, a Muster-Roll of the names of every Officer and Private under his command, and the respective times of their inlistment and service.

"Your Committee, in perusing the Returns, find that it does not appear that the Officers have been qualified agreeable to the said Resolve; nor does it appear, as it ought to do, that either the Officers or Men have furnished themselves with a Musket or Firelock, Powder-Horn, Bullet-Pouch, and Tomahawk, Blanket and Knapsack.

"Notwithstanding which, your Committee beg leave to suggest, that from the dangers this State is in from our

*Whereas it appears that the Rangers raised in several of the Counties within this State, by virtue of certain Resolutions of the Convention, bearing date the 23d day of July, 1776, for the purpose of ranging the woods and guarding the inhabitants on the frontier parts of such Counties, are not now wanted for the purpose for which they were raised, since such a large body of Continental Troops are raised and raising for the defence of the country: Therefore,

Resolved, That the several Companies of Rangers aforesaid be disbanded on day of , and paid such moneys as remain due, except the Companies of Captain Belknap and Captain De Witt, who are now on important service.

Resolved and Ordered, That the Chairmen of the County Committees where such Rangers have been raised do immediately transmit to the Convention of this State all the Muster, Pay and Subsistence Rolls of such Companies of Rangers as they may or have received and not heretofore sent to the Convention, with an account of the disposition of the moneys they have received from the Treasurer of this State for payment of said Rangers, with the receipts of the several persons to whom said money has been paid.

Resolved, That be and is hereby appointed Paymaster, to go to Albany and Tryon Counties and pay the moneys due to said Companies to the Captain or Commanding Officer of such Companies, for the use of their said Companies; and that be advanced, by the Treasurer of this State, the sum of , to enable him to pay such Rangers.

Resolved, That be and he is hereby appointed Paymaster to go to Charlotte County, and pay the Captain or Commanding Officers of each Company of Rangers of said County the money due to them for their respective Companies; and that the Treasurer of this State advance to the said the sum of , to enable him to pay such Rangers.

Resolved, That be and he is hereby appointed Paymaster to go to the Counties of Cumberland and Gloucester, and pay the Captains or Commanding Officers of each Company of Rangers of said Counties the moneys due to them for their respective Companies; and that the Treasurer of this State advance to the said the sum of , to enable him to pay such Rangers.

Resolved, That the above-named Paymasters be each allowed per day, for their time and expense while executing the above Resolves.

Ordered, That the Secretaries transmit copies of these Resolutions to the Chairmen of the several County Committees aforesaid.

external as well as internal enemies, the great usefulness of the Rangers to this State, if they are diligent and faithful, it would be imprudent, if not dangerous, to defer the payment of the Bounty, Subsistence, and Pay, to the Rangers, and therefore propose the following Resolve:

"Resolved, That the sum of six hundred Pounds be remitted to the Committee of the County of Albany, nineteen hundred Pounds to the Committee of the County of Tryon, and six hundred Pounds to the Committee of the County of Charlotte, to enable them to discharge the Pay, Bounty, and Subsistence of such able-bodied men inlisted in the Rangers, furnished and accoutred agreeable to the aforesaid Resolve; the County Committee of each of those Counties to be accountable to the Convention or future Legislature of this State for the expenditure of those Moneys, and to return complete Accounts of the expenditure and disbursements thereof, as particular and expeditiously as possible, therein distinguishing between Bounty, Pay, and Subsistence; and that it be recommended to the several Committees, that none of these Moneys be paid to either Officers or Men until a proper Muster-Roll be made out, under the oaths of the Captain or Commanding Officer and other Officers of each Company, (if not already sworn before their receipt of their Warrants,) that so many able-bodied men are inlisted and accoutred in each Company in this manner aforesaid.

"Resolved, That the several Committees be furnished with copies of the aforegoing Report and Resolves. Which Report being agreed to, it was "Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State advance to John Moore, Esq., the sum of nineteen hundred Pounds, to be by him remitted to the Committee of Tryon County, for the purpose of paying off the remaining half of the Bounty and one month's Pay and Subsistence, to the three Companies of Rangers raised in the said County, pursuant to the Resolutions of the Convention of this State; the said Committee to be accountable for the expenditure of the same."

A Letter from the Committee of Albany, dated October 21st, was received and read, and is as follows, to wit:

"Albany Committee-Chamber, 21st October, 1776.

"GENTLEMEN: In consequence of a request from his Honour General Schuyler, desiring the aid of our Militia, we have, in conjunction with Brigadier-General Ten Broeck, issued out orders for their immediate march to Fort Edward. A part of the Militia have already marched, and the remainder are making preparations to follow them, but not with that alacrity which the present alarming situation of our affairs in this quarter requires.

"Every District in this County is crowded with disaffected persons; the woods are full of them; and notwithstanding every effort that has been made by our Militia and the Rangers to apprehend them, they still have eluded our search. This County, besides, is full of slaves, who probably may already have been tampered with, and (all our friends being ordered off) may join with the disaffected in the abuse or destruction of our wives, our children, and our effects.

"We have just received a letter from one of your body to his Honour General Schuyler, which mentions that the whole number of arms, by the last return, in the Manor of Livingston, was no more than one hundred; since which time many have been drawn by the men drafted for the Highlands, &c., and that the number of disaffected there is at least three to one.

"Our suspected enemies in this city are continually drawing off in a secret manner into the County, perhaps collecting together and awaiting the departure of our friends to fall upon the remainder of us. The disaffected persons in the County have proceeded to open acts of violence; they have plundered some of our soldiers of their arms on the road in open day, broken into the houses of the inhabitants in the night time and robbed them of their arms, ammunition and blankets, and even rescued our prisoners from the hands of those who were guarding them.

"Whether the Militia of Tryon County are also ordered off or not, we do not know, but they now hold themselves in readiness for a march; and we have reason to fear, from information which we enclose, that some attempt will be made to the westward, in which case we should have no frontier on that side, but remain entirely exposed to the undistinguished cruelty of the torturing savage. In this serious and alarming situation, we feel for our distressed country, and would apply to your honourable House for that aid, direction, and assistance, which your wisdom and power may enable and induce you to render us. We would wish you to take into the most attentive consideration this state of facts, as every thing that is dear to us depends upon what you determine.

"We would also request you to advise us whether it would not be necessary to have some of our vessels ready to sink in such parts of Hudson's River as may effectually stop the vessels of our enemy from proceeding up the river so as to endanger this city or the parts adjacent.

"We shall despatch a guard to-morrow with about fifty prisoners now in custody here, to be left to your direction on their arrival at Fishkill Landing. We would also beg leave to inform you that we have not arms even sufficient to put in the hands of our friends, and no cannon.

"We are, gentlemen, your most obedient servant. By order:

"JNO. BARCLAY, Chairman pro tem.

"To the Convention of the State of New-York."

A Deposition of Isaac Peabody and Samuel Allen, taken before Jons. Younglove, Chairman of the Committee of Bennington, dated October 14, 1776.

A Deposition of Isaac Peabody, taken before the same person and of the same date, (both enclosed in the Letter from the Committee of Albany,) setting forth sundry facts relative to disaffected persons in that quarter.

Ordered, That the Depositions, and so much of the Committee's Letter as relates to them, be referred to the Committee for inquiring into Conspiracies.

Whereas Alexander Stewart was, by order of the Convention of this State on the 27th July last, taken prisoner and ordered to be kept in close custody till their further order, he declaring himself a subject of the King of Great Britain:

Resolved, That the Committee appointed for inquiring into all Conspiracies, &c., be authorized to dispose of the said Alexander Stewart, (as a prisoner of war,) in such manner as to them shall appear most proper.

Mr. Gansevoort came into Committee, and informed that the Committee for inquiring into Conspiracies have so much business on hand that they cannot possibly take into consideration the Letter from the Committee of Albany, and the Depositions therein enclosed.

Whereupon, Resolved, That the Letter from the Committee of Albany, of the 21st instant, together with the Depositions of Isaac Peabody and Samuel Allen, received and read this morning, as also the Deposition of John Haines, of Rumbout Precinct, taken before the Committee appointed to inquire into, &c., all Conspiracies, &c., be referred to the Committee appointed on the 19th instant to repair to Albany, in order to coöperate with Major-General Schuyler on devising and carrying into execution all such measures as they shall deem most effectual for repelling the invasion of the enemy's Army on the northern and western frontiers of this State, who are hereby empowered and requested to take the same into immediate consideration, and pursue such measures and give such directions therein as to them shall seem meet and necessary.

The Memorial of Andrew Bostwick,* an insolvent debtor now confined in the Jail of Orange County, was presented to the House, setting forth that he has been confined for near eighteen months, notwithstanding all his efforts to accomplish a settlement with his creditors, and from the calamity of the times, cut off from all hopes of obtaining his liberty; that in his present confinement he has it not in his power to mend his circumstances, but that they must of necessity be daily growing worse, and praying for such speedy relief as the nature and necessity of the case requires.

Resolved, That the Sheriff of Orange County do release the said Andrew Bostwick from confinement, on his giving to the said Sheriff sufficient security, by bond or otherwise, to be forthcoming at the expiration of nine months from the time of taking such security.

Ordered, That the Sheriff of Orange County be furnished with a copy of the aforegoing Resolve.

To the Honourable the Representatives of the State of* NEW-YORK, in Convention assembled:

The Memorial of ANDREW BOSTWICK, an Insolvent Debtor now confined in the Jail of the County of ORANGE, humbly showeth:

That your memorialist having been confined near nineteen months, notwithstanding all his efforts to accomplish a settlement with his creditors, is, by the prevailing calamity of the times, cut off from all hopes of obtaining his liberty, and thereby unfortunately deprived of every opportunity of serving his creditors, his family, or his country, (which at this particular period claims the utmost exertion of every individual member of society,) unless enabled by the timely interposition of this honourable body: that your memorialist, from his present confinement, has it not in his power to mend his circumstances, but they must of necessity be daily growing worse; is therefore anxiously desirous something may be done that may have a tendency to better them. Your memorialist therefore most humbly begs leave to recommend his case to this honourable Convention, praying them to grant such speedy relief as the nature and necessity of the case require. And your memorialist, as in duty bound, shall ever pray, &c.

ANDW. BOSTWICK.

Mr. Gilbert Livingston came into Committee and informed that he is called upon by sundry persons who have demands on the Commissioners who were appointed to superintend the erecting of the Fortifications in the Highlands, as also on the Secret Committee for obstructing the navigation on Hudson's River, and request money to enable him to discharge those demands.

Therefore Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State advance to Gilbert Livingston, Esq., and Colonel Thomas Palmer the sum of five hundred Pounds, to enable them to pay sundry demands brought in against them as Commissioners for superintending the erecting the Fortifications in the Highlands, they to be accountable for the same.

And Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State advance to Gilbert Livingston, Esq., one of the Secret Committee for obstructing the navigation of Hudson's River, the sum of one thousand Pounds, and take his receipt to account for the expenditure thereof.

A draft of a Letter to Elisha Avery, in answer to his received yesterday, was read and approved, and is in the words following, to wit:

"In Committee of Safety for the State of New-York,
Fishkill, October 23d, 1776.

"SIR: We have received yours without date, and an endorsement of the Committee of Albany, dated the 20th instant, respecting flour. We beg leave to inform you that an application hath been made to us from the Southern Army, for all the flour we can procure in this quarter. We shall write to the Committee of Albany to assist you in that County. Mr. Schenck, who is employed to purchase flour, informs us that he hath sent up to Albany upwards of five hundred barrels, which we hope you have received. That quantity, with what your agents may have procured, will, we trust, be some relief for the present. In the mean time, in proportion to Mr. Schenck's success, we shall attend to the demand of the two departments; and remain, sir, your most humble servants.

"By order of the Committee.

"Elisha Avery, Deputy Quartermaster-General, Albany."

A draft of a Letter to the Committee of Albany was also read and approved of, and is in the words following, to wit:

"In Committee of Safety for the State of New-York,
Fishkill, October 23d, 1776.

"GENTLEMEN: We have received a letter from Elisha Avery, Deputy Quartermaster-General, respecting flour. We beg leave to inform you that an application hath been made to us for all we can procure for the Southern Department. We therefore request that you will give all the assistance in your power to Mr. Avery, to enable him to procure a supply. We have employed proper persons to purchase all they can, and we must govern ourselves by their success. The consumption of flour is great. The difficulty in procuring it arises from a want of water, which prevents grinding. Mr. Schenck has sent up five hundred and odd barrels, which we hope Mr. Avery has received, which, with the quantity he may have procured, will be a relief for the present.

"Your letter of 21st, enclosing the depositions of Pabody and Allen, is this moment delivered to us. This Committee have referred them to the Committee of this House which now sits at Albany, who are empowered to take such steps in it as they may think necessary. Yours, &c.

In Committee of Safety, October 24th, 1776, P. M.

In a Chamber at Weeks's Tavern.—Present: Colonel Van Cortlandt, Vice President, Abm. Yates, Wm. Smith, Abm. Brasher, John Langdon, Henry Schenck, Mat. Adgate, Z. Platt, Jedediah Mills, Wm. Duer, Mr. Newkirk, Esquires.

Resolved, That Henry Schenck, Esq., be authorized and directed to purchase eight thousand bushels of Wheat for the use of the Continental Army, on the most reasonable terms possible, not exceeding 6*s.* 6*d.* per bushel, and that he return the names of every person or persons who may refuse to part with their Wheat at that price to this Committee or the Convention of this State.

Resolved, That Henry Schenck, Esquire, be directed to use the utmost expedition in sending down the above Wheat to the Mills of Colonel Van Cortlandt, at Peek's Kills and Croton River.

Resolved, That Colonel Van Cortlandt be directed to keep both his Mills constantly at work night and day in making Flour for the Continental Army.

Whereas most of the Coopers belonging to this State are at present engaged as soldiers in the service, in consequence of which it is impracticable to find sufficient casks for supplying Flour to the Southern and Northern Armies without aid obtained from the Army:

Resolved, That his Excellency General Washington be requested to send three Coopers to Colonel Van Cortlandt's Mills, at Croton River and Peek's Kill, and seventeen to this place, in order that they may be employed under the direction of this Committee in making Flour Casks with the utmost expedition.

And whereas it is of the utmost consequence to the publick cause that there should be no delay in manufacturing Flour for the use of the Army under General Washington:

Resolved, That all the Millers, Packers, Coopers, Teamsters, Boatmen, and other labourers employed by Colonel Van Cortlandt in transporting the above-mentioned Wheat to his Mills, and in manufacturing the same, be exempted from military duty of any kind whatsoever, and that his teams be not subject to be impressed, till further order from this Committee or the Convention of this State.

Mr. Schenck informed the Committee that he could immediately purchase one hundred Bags for the purpose of transporting Wheat to the Mills employed to grind Flour for the Troops.

Resolved, That General James Clinton, at Fort Montgomery, be requested to grant a furlough to Silvanus Scowfield, in Captain Darley's Company, for the purpose of assisting in making Flour Casks for the Continental Army, and that he be requested to send up to this place as many other Coopers as he can possibly spare from his garrison, it being of the utmost consequence that a quantity of Flour should be immediately sent down to the Army under the command of General Washington.

Ordered, That General James Clinton be furnished with a copy of this Resolution.

Resolved, That the Quartermaster-General, or his Agent at Fishkill, be requested to supply Henry Schenck, Esq., with as many six-penny Nails as he can possibly spare, there being no Nails of that kind to be purchased in this State.

Ordered, That a copy of these Resolutions be sent by express to his Excellency General Washington.

Island for a trespass of which this House is thoroughly acquainted, as by the instigation of Israel Youngs he was led away to perform an action of which he has already sincerely repented. And as your petitioner was torn away from his only son, who is left among strangers, without any one to support or protect him during the inclemency of the approaching winter; as his unhappy father hath since the first day of his being taken had but one shirt and one pair of stockings to shift himself; and as he hath been afflicted during his imprisonment at the White-Plains with the worst of enemies—hunger, and the nauseous stench of a small room where sometimes twenty persons were confined together, which hath introduced a sickness on your distressed subscriber, which, with the fatigue of travelling, hath reduced your unhappy petitioner to a state of despondency;—he therefore, being already weary of such a miserable life as his misconduct hath thrown him into, humbly begs for a termination of his sorrows by a death to be inflicted in what manner the honourable House may think fit. The kind compliance of this honourable House will ever lay an obligation on your Honours' distressed, humble servant, HENRY DAWKINS.
October 19, 1776.

ALBANY—Mr. Gates, Mr. Adgate.
SUFFOLK—Mr. Smith, Mr. Miller.
ORANGE—Colonel Allison.
TRYON—Mr. Newkirk.
WESTCHESTER—Major Lockwood.

Mr. James Weeks, an inhabitant of this place, informed the Committee that a certain Philip Dalley had beat and abused his workman in his blacksmith's shop, and had threatened and maltreated himself. Mr. Weeks withdrew; upon which the said Philip Dally rushed into the Committee-Chamber, without permission, in an insolent manner, and informed the Committee that he had inquired at the smith's shop whether his horses were shod, and that the workman laughed at him; upon which he had given him some strokes with his whip. Dally attempted to justify his conduct, and declared he would do the like again.

It fully appears to this Committee, that even if the behaviour of the blacksmith had been such as the said Dally states it to have been, nevertheless the said Dally is very culpable in using the violence and outrage which he confesses he did.

Ordered, That as the publick service may require it, Mr. Weeks cause the said Horses to be shod without delay.

Resolved, That as the immediate assistance of every individual in this State is required, and such usage from officers or others employed by the military must inevitably tend to obstruct the publick service, that the said Philip Dally be called in, and informed that this Committee highly disapprove of and blame his conduct, but that they have, notwithstanding, directed Mr. Weeks to cause his Horses to be shod without delay.

The said Philip Dalley was further informed that the apprehension of the publick service being delayed, alone prevents their ordering him into confinement for his ill conduct and insolence.

Resolved, That General Mifflin be informed of this man's behaviour, and that he be requested to take such measures as may deter others from the like conduct in future.

Ordered, That a Commission issue for Thomas Moffatt, Esq., as Major of Colonel Isaac Nicoll's Regiment.

Ordered, That Commissions issue for Samuel Drake's officers; that they be dated 29th June, and signed by Abm. Yates, late President.

A draft of a Letter to Colonel Snyder,* reported by Colonel Allison, was read and approved, and is in the words following, viz:

"SIR: The commissions for your Regiment, agreeable to your request, are enclosed. I am directed to inform you that when the resolutions for raising your present corps passed the Convention, it was agreed that the Captain from Orange County should be first Captain of that corps, as each of the other Counties had a Field-Officer nominated out of their officers. To this end the dates of the commission, except Captain Storm's, are left blank, and with the above direction it is submitted to you to fill up the dates before you deliver them, so as to give rank or merit its weight and reward. Captain Storm's commission is dated, because he received one of the like date on his way to the Fortifications."

Present: Colonel Van Cortlandt, Vice President.
ALBANY—Mr. Yates, Mr. Adgate.

A Letter from Robert Harper, Colonel De Witt, and Lewis Graham, the Committee appointed to form an arrangement of the Troops raised and to be raised in this State, dated at the White-Plains, 24th instant, informing the Committee of the progress they had made in the business of their appointment, and requesting a supply of clothing might be sent to the Troops of this States, was read.

A Letter from Peter T. Curtenius, dated at Paramus, 24th instant, enclosing a Resolution of the Convention of this State of 29th August, authorizing him to borrow, on the credit of this State, £10,000. Another Letter from Mr. Curtenius, of the same date, informing that his box, with all his Accounts of the publick, are at Mr. Paulding's, at or near Tarry-Town, and requests that they may be sent for, to prevent their falling into the enemy's hands.

Resolved, That Dr. Van Wycke be requested to engage quarters for the detachment of Horse under the command of Major Sheldon, amongst such of the inhabitants as are willing and best enabled to receive and subsist them in the most expeditious manner possible, the commanding officer paying for the same at a reasonable rate; and in case he should not be able to procure sufficient quarters in seasonable time, that he be then empowered to billet them amongst such inhabitants who are best qualified to receive them, in the most equitable proportions, and in such apartments of the houses as can best be spared.

Dr. Malachi Treat attending, produced an Account of £88 10*s.* for his attendance and medicine given to the soldiers of the First Battalion of New-York Troops, and to several Companies under the command of General Lee, (they not having a Surgeon or Mate to attend them,) pursuant to an order of the Provincial Congress of New-York, beginning about the middle of February, seventeen hundred and seventy-six, and ending about the middle of April following; as also an account of £18 17*s.* 6*d.*, for his attendance and medicine given to the soldiers of Colonel Lasher's and Colonel Drake's Regiments, in General Scott's Brigade, total, £107 7*s.* 6*d.* Difficulties arose in the minds of the Members respecting the said Accounts: Whereupon the Doctor made the following deposition at the foot of the said Account, viz:

"Dr. M. Treat being duly sworn, deposeth and saith: That the above Account of £107 7*s.* 6*d.* is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, just and true; that with respect to the particulars of the Account of £88 10*s.*, an account thereof was delivered to the Committee appointed by the Provincial Congress of New-York for auditing accounts, who directed the same to be delivered to the Quartermaster-General of the Continental Army for payment; the Quartermaster-General referred it to the Director-General of the Hospital; that he, the said Dr. Treat, hath applied to those gentlemen for payment, or to have his original account returned to him, neither of which he hath been able to procure; that as to the charge of £18 17*s.* 6*d.*, he has it not in his power to make out an account of the particulars thereof, neither is it in his power to make out an account of the particulars of the account of £88 10*s.*, as his accounts, which were deposited in his chest at Harlem, have been destroyed by the troops. "MALACHI TREAT."

Sworn before me this 26th October, 1776:
PIERRE VAN CORTLANDT, Vice President.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to Dr. M. Treat the sum of £107 7*s.* 6*d.*, in full for the abovementioned Accounts, taking his receipt for the same, and that the Treasurer charge the same to Continental account.

"Major Lockwood further reports, that he was informed by the Committee of Bedford that the prisoners who escaped from thence had left sundry effects at the places where they were respectively lodged, which effects he has directed to be inventoried by the said Committee, and that the inventory be returned to the Convention of this State. Thereupon the Committee fixed the following regulation of prices for the payment of those accounts: viz: 1*s*. 6*d*. per day for each man for boarding, lodging, diet, &c.; 9*d*. for each horse per day, and 3*s*. per bushel for oats.

A draft of a Letter to Robert Yates, Esq., Chairman of the Committee of Convention now at Albany, in answer to theirs received and read this morning, was read and approved of, and is in the words following, viz:

"Fishkill, October 29th, 1776.

"SIR: The Committee of Safety have received the letter of your Committee by express, enclosing minutes of the Committee of the County of Albany, relative to the department of the Deputy Commissary-General. The exertions which they have made to procure the necessary supply for the Northern Army are highly laudable, and deserve the warmest approbation of the Committee of Safety.

"We have been loudly called upon by his Excellency General Washington to forward a supply of flour for the use of the Army at the White-Plains. We have devised all the means we can think of to prevent the Army from suffering for the want of that article, copy of which you will see by our resolutions, which we now transmit you. We are of opinion that if a similar mode was adopted to the northward it would be productive of good effects. We are informed that there are several mills between Albany and Lake George, which might be kept constantly employed in manufacturing flour for the Northern Army, if the Commissary-General would engage persons to purchase up grain, and to have it transported to the mills most contiguous. It would, however, be needless in us to enter into a particular detail on this subject. Your Committee, from being on the spot, are the best judges of what further measures will be necessary for supplying that Army, and are invested with full powers for carrying into execution all such measures as you shall think effectual for repelling the invasions of the enemy on the northern and western frontiers. Whilst we, therefore, in this quarter exert ourselves in devising and executing whatever shall appear to us most conducive to the publick safety, we trust that your attention and zeal will not be wanting in giving vigour to our military operations to the northward, in quelling, by such means as you shall deem most prudent, the insurrections of the disaffected in that part. We highly approve of your having detained those detachments of the Militia which you mention, for that purpose; but it is not in our power to order up the detachment under the command of Colonel Van Rensselaer, as we have now in custody near two hundred and twenty dangerous and disaffected persons, whom we propose removing to Exeter, in the State of New-Hampshire. A detachment of seventy-six persons of this stamp was sent off a few days ago; and from the information we have received from the Committee appointed by the Convention of this State for inquiring into and detecting all conspiracies which may be formed in this State against the liberties of America, we have reason to think that there will be a necessity of apprehending and removing several other persons. You must, therefore, be sensible that no dependance can be put on this quarter. Should you find it necessary to employ a further force for the purpose of seizing and securing the disaffected, we recommend it to you to endeavour to raise as many men in the Massachusetts-Bay Government as you shall think necessary.

"We transmit you a copy of the last intelligence we have received from Head-Quarters. We flatter ourselves that our accounts from the northward will be equally favourable.

"We are, gentlemen, with great respect, yours, &c.

"To Robert Yates, Esq., Chairman of the Committee appointed to repair to Albany to confer with General Schuyler on devising and carrying into execution the measures necessary for repelling the invasion of the enemy's Army on the northern and western frontiers of this State."

Resolutions authorizing Henry Schenck to purchase Wheat, and to exempt Coopers for two months from military duty, was read and agreed.*

A draft of a Letter to James Duane, Robert Yates, and Jacob Cuyler, Esquires, Committee of Arrangement now at Albany, in answer to theirs received this morning, was read and approved of, and is in the words following, to wit:

"In Committee of Safety, &c., 29th October, 1776.

"GENTLEMEN: We have yours of the 24th instant before us, and approve of the method you have pursued in appointing recruiting officers, and now send you by the express the twelve hundred pounds you have borrowed for that purpose. We would beg leave to recommend to you the calling in the Members of the Committee appointed to confer with General Schuyler, so as to make a quorum; without that you may return with all convenient speed to Fishkill, to join Colonel De Witt, Judge Graham, and Mr. Harper, (who are already arrived,) to finish the arrangement. We would not, however, by any means advise you to leave Albany in this critical situation of affairs, unless there be a quorum of that Committee without you; and if you cannot all leave that Committee, we advise that so many of you do come to Fishkill as can be spared from those, leaving a quorum of that Committee sufficient for the business.

"We are, &c.

"Messrs. Duane, Yates, and Cuyler, Albany."

A Letter from R. R. Livingston, Esq., one of the Committee sent to the northward, dated at Albany, 23d October, 1776.

A Letter from Peter R. Livingston, dated Manor Livingston, October 29th, 1776, was read.

Whereas, by a Letter received from Peter R. Livingston, Esq., bearing date 29th ultimo, it appears a Second Lieutenant is much wanted in Captain Goosbeek's Company, the better to enable said Company to answer the purpose for which they was raised:

Therefore Resolved, That Samuel I. Ten Broeck be appointed Second Lieutenant in the said Company.

A Letter from Robert Yates, Esq., Chairman of the Committee sent to Albany, was received and read, and is in the words following, to wit:

"Albany, October 25th, 1776.

"SIR: We met in Committee yesterday, on the arrival of the gentlemen appointed to arrange the Army from Saratoga. A number of important objects immediately engaged our attention; a capital one is the supplying the Army at Ticonderoga, and the military marching to their assistance. The papers which we have the honour to transmit will show the steps which have been taken by the Committee of this County to aid the Deputy Commissary-General here, who, without their exertion, we fear would not have been able to procure the necessary supply. At the best, it will, on so sudden an occasion, be a difficult task.

"It has added to our anxiety to learn, by a letter from General Washington to Mr. Livingston, that the Army in that quarter was also in danger of being distressed for want of provisions. His Excellency entreats Mr. Livingston to use his influence to send without delay flour and beef for that Army towards the White-Plains, and also a number of teams, the more the better, to aid in removing the Army as occasion may require. We submit it to your consideration whether, if teams cannot now easily be got from the eastward, it will not be advisable to order down a sufficient number belonging to such persons in the Manor Livingston, Kinderhook, and Dutchess County, as cannot be trusted with arms. If this plan should be adopted, every owner of a carriage should be directed to supply himself with a week's provision, to ease the Commissary as much as possible.

"The spirit of disaffection has appeared at Hellebergh, King's District, and Coxsackie, in this County, and it requires vigorous measures to oppose and suppress it. Nothing is more necessary than that the jails here should be cleared of the State prisoners without delay, and the more especially as all the Militia of this city and neighbourhood are marched. We have therefore advised the County Committee to send those prisoners, with the causes of their confinement, to Fishkill, by water, in order to be forwarded to one of the neighbouring States, or disposed of as you shall judge most advisable. It would have been imprudent, in every view, to have marched them to another State at this juncture, when none but the disaffected remain in the County, and many of them are in arms, and have threatened a rescue. We have found it necessary to detain a part of Colonel Van Ness's Claverack regiment, consisting of about one hundred and forty men, here, to oppose the designs of the disaffected at the Hellebergh. As they are much wanted to the northward, we did it with very great reluctance; and, indeed, it could only have been justifiable on the most urgent necessity. It is much to be wished that Colonel Van Renselaer, with part or detachments of two regiments under his command, could immediately be ordered up to King's District, to which we have been able, notwithstanding the importunity of the inhabitants, to send only a small detachment of fifteen Rangers, commanded by a Lieutenant, and to direct Colonel Whiting to raise one hundred men in that neighbourhood and the Massachusetts Government. A party of fifty, of the Scohary regiment and some of the Manor regiment, are detached to Coxsackie, where they are employed in dispersing and seizing the disaffected who are now in arms, and there is yet no account of their progress. We have thought it advisable to direct the few armed and well-affected Militia of the Manor of Livingston, to be detained and kept in readiness for the internal service of the County, conceiving it unsafe, when the spirit of revolt is so prevalent in that quarter, to leave it defenceless. The information from King's District and the Hellebergh are enclosed.

"We are sir, your most humble servants,

"By order: ROBERT YATES, Chairman.

The gentlemen whose names are marked with asterisms are a quorum of the Committee of Safety.

Mr. Wisner applied for an Order for one hundred Pounds on account, to pay sundry accounts for Spears made in Orange County for the Militia of this State.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to Henry Wisner, Esq., on his receipt, the sum of one hundred Pounds on account, to be by him applied to pay for the Spears made in Orange County.

Mr. Roosevelt reported to the Committee that Colonel Brasher and himself had examined the Muster-Rolls, Account sales and Papers relative to the Schooner General Putnam, and find, that for want of proper papers and more full information, it will be impracticable to settle with Thomas Quigley, the late Lieutenant of that vessel, for the crew.

Thereupon Resolved and Ordered, That John Imlay and Comfort Sands, Esqs., be, and hereby are authorized and empowered to examine and settle accounts relative to the Schooner General Putnam, and to settle with and discharge the crew of that vessel in the most frugal manner possible; and for that purpose that they be and hereby are authorized to apply the net amount of sales of the vessel and appurtenances. That Comfort Sands, Esq., be requested to take with him such papers or extract of papers or accounts from his own or the Treasurer's office, and to advance such sum of money as may be necessary for that purpose.

A Letter from Comfort Sands, Esq., dated this day, was read, and is in the words following, that is to say:

"Fishkill, November 5th, 1776.

"SIR: Captain Belknap, one of the Captains of the Rangers ordered to be raised in Ulster County, has applied for the pay and subsistence and half bounty of his Company. The former I have settled; the latter want your directions about. It appears there has been moneys sent to the different County Committees for the one-half bounty, but as the company is not more than one half full, there must be money yet remaining in the hands of the Committee, which I think it would be best to draw out and settle their bounty there, for while money is continually advanced to different Committees and persons it will be impossible for me ever to get the publick accounts settled.

"I am, sir, your very humble servant,

"COMFORT SANDS.

"To Pierre Van Cortlandt, Esq., President of the Convention of the State of New-York."

Whereas it appears by a Certificate signed by the Chairman of the County Committee of Ulster County, that Captain Isaac Belknap, and the other Officers of his Company, are duly qualified according to the Resolutions of the Convention of this State; and by the Muster-Roll of the said Company, signed and subscribed by the Officers, it appears that the said Company consists of twenty-one Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates:

Ordered, That Robert Boyd, Esq., Chairman of the Committee of Ulster County, pay to Captain Isaac Belknap two hundred and sixty-two Dollars and one half of a Dollar, in full for the second or last moiety of the Bounty of the said twenty-one Rangers raised in Ulster County, out of the money formerly deposited in his hands for advancing the first moiety of the Bounty to the said Rangers; that Mr. Boyd take duplicates of the receipt from Captain Belknap for that money: the duplicates of that receipt to be of the same tenour and date, and declaring that they are duplicates, and for the same sum. The said Muster-Roll is filed in the Auditor-General's office.

A Letter from Comfort Sands, relative to the pay of Barrackmaster G. Roorback, requesting directions what shall be his pay and rations.

Mr. Curtenius was called in and advised with relative to that claim. Thereupon the further consideration thereof was postponed till the afternoon. And Mr. Sands is requested to attend in the afternoon, to give the Committee information relating to the said Barrackmaster.

Mr. Curtenius was heard as to the Clothing purchased for Troops. The Committee spent some time in considering the propriety of delivering the whole to the Quartermaster-General, and the further consideration thereof is postponed.

Egbert Benson, Esq., Chairman of the Committee of Dutchess County, attending, was admitted. He informed that it is necessary to procure a number of hands to be employed to build Barracks, and proposed that a draft should be made from the Militia of Dutchess County for that purpose.

Ordered, That Colonel Allison and Major Landon be a Committee to consider and report thereon.

The Report of the Committee for calling in Labourers to build Barracks, was read, and the consideration thereof postponed till to-morrow.

A Letter from Samuel Brewster, Esquire, Chairman of the Committee of New-Windsor, covering an Affidavit relating to one Conner and Montgomery, was read.

The said Affidavit and Letter set forth sundry matters which rendered it very probable that certain quantities of Butter and Flour purchased by the said Conner and Montgomery were purchased with an intent to supply the enemy.

Ordered, That the said Papers be referred to a Committee, say the Committee for detecting Conspiracies.

The Committee, on considering the Letter of Francis Lewis and Philip Livingston, Esquires, requesting another Delegate to be sent to Philadelphia, &c.:

Ordered, That Mr. McKesson, as Secretary, write a Letter to Mr. Duane, and inform him that the attendance of another Delegate is necessary at Congress; that the publick Accounts of this State are ready to be laid before the Continental Auditors; that it is apprehended his attendance at Congress when those Accounts are under consideration of the proper Board will be peculiarly useful to this State; and therefore that he is requested to return to Fishkill, that he assist to perfect the arrangement of the Army and prepare to attend at Congress.

Wednesday morning, November 6th, 1776.

The Committee met.

Present: Colonel Van Cortlandt, Vice President.

ALBANY—Mr. Adgate, Mr. Yates, Jun.
WESTCHESTER—Colonel Drake, Colonel V. Cortlandt.
SUFFOLK—Mr. Smith, Mr. Nicoll.
DUTCHESS—Mr. R. R. Livingston, Mr. Landon.

A Letter from Colonel Benjamin Tusteen, dated Goshen, November the 4th, 1776, relative to some Cloths he has purchased, and requests to know whether he shall have Clothes made for the Soldiers, was received and read, and referred to the Committee appointed to have the Goods made up at Fishkill.

A Letter from Johannes Sleght, dated at Kingston, relative to Salt, of which there is a great scarcity, was read.

A draft of an answer to said Letter was read and approved, and is as follows:

"SIR: Your letter having been read in Committee of Safety, they are of opinion that it would have come more properly through your Committee. They lament the wants of your people, but are ignorant of any store of salt at Albany or Dutchess Counties, both of which they are satisfied are by no means supplied; but should it be otherwise, they make no doubt that you may purchase on the same terms as the people of those Counties. As this Committee have no thought of interfering, without the most absolute necessity, in the regulation of the prices of any article of merchandise whatever, since its only tendency is to increase the scarcity and injure individuals.

"I am, sir, &c.

"Johannes Sleght, Esquire."

A Letter from General Schuyler, dated at Albany, November 3d, 1776, was received and read, and is as follows, to wit:

"Albany, 3d November, 1776.

"SIR: I do myself the honour to enclose you an extract of a letter from General Gates, of the 31st ultimo, with copy of one from Major Hoisington to him. If Sir Jno. Johnson left Canada at the time the deserters mention, he has probably met with such difficulties as have obliged him to return, as I think he could not subsist from that time to this in the woods. We have no less than eleven different scouts traversing the country between Tyconderoga and Fort Stanwix, so that I am in hopes, should the enemy attempt to penetrate to the Mohawk River, we shall have such early information as to enable us to meet him with a sufficient force. I have already ordered two regiments from Tyconderoga to Tryon County, and about one thousand of the Militia, so that our force there, exclusive of the Militia of that County, will amount to two thousand men, besides the garrison of Fort Schuyler.

"I wish the Convention would order the depth and breadth of Hudson's River to be carefully taken at such places as they conceive would be most proper effectually to obstruct the navigation. Verplanck's Point or Jan Kanten Hook may be proper places, perhaps the latter the most eligible of any. I propose taking the earliest opportunity that is offered me to prepare every thing for it. At present I cannot, as I have neither troops nor carpenters—the latter being all employed in constructing barracks.

"I am, sir, with great respect, your most obedient, humble servant,

"PHIL. SCHUYLER.

"P. R. Livingston, Esquire, President, &c."

The abstract of a Letter from General Gates, dated at Ticonderoga on the 31st ultimo, giving an account of the movements of the enemy on Lake Champlain, enclosed in General Schuyler's Letter, was also read.

Also, a copy of a Letter from Major Joab Hoisington to General Gates, dated at Newbury, October the 12th, 1776, communicating the intelligence given by four Deserters from Canada, that previous to their leaving Montreal, on the 25th of September, that Sir John Johnson, with the Indians and Canadians and Eighth Regiment, had marched to attack the inhabitants on the Mohawk River and meet General Burgoin in Albany, was also read.

Ordered, That an extract of General Schuyler's Letter which relates to taking the Soundings of Hudson's River, be transmitted to the Secret Committee now at the Forts in the Highlands, and said Committee cause the Soundings to be made.

A Letter from John Taylor, Esq., dated at Albany, November 3d, 1776, enclosing a Notification signed by Mr. Matthew, Town-Clerk, dated at New-Marlborough, October 4th, 1776, requesting the inhabitants to meet and give their sense relative to their revolting from New-York, was read and filed.

Whereas, by the decease of Theodorus Van Wyck and Andrew Barclay, Loan Officers of the City and County of New-York, in this State, the Loan Office Books and Seal has fallen into the hands of Nicholas Governeur, only surviving Loan Officer, who, from his residence in New-Jersey, is incapable of carrying on the business of the office:

Ordered therefore, That said Books and Seal be delivered into the hands of the Treasurer of this State, or Gerard Bancker, his Deputy, and that he be directed to act as Loan Officer until further order of this Convention.

Ordered, That the said Treasurer or his Deputy's receipt shall, on payment of the Money, be considered as a full discharge for any money due to the Loan Office.

Ordered, That the Executors of Theodorus Van Wyck, deceased, account with and pay into the hands of the said Treasurer or his said Deputy, all the Money due from the Estate of their testator to the Loan Office of this State.

Ordered, That a copy of the above be served on the Treasurer of this State, and that Mr. Gerard Bancker apply to Mr. Gouvernier for the Books, Seal, and Accounts above-mentioned, and to the Executors of Theodorus Van Wyck for the sums in their hands, and serve them with a copy hereof.

Robert Yates, Esq., from the Committee appointed on the 19th of October last to coöperate with Major-General Schuyler in devising and carrying into execution all such measures as they should deem most effectual for repelling the invasion of the enemy's Army on the northern and western frontiers of this State, made the following Report:

"A majority of your Committee, viz: Evert Bancker, Jacob Cuyler, John Tayler, James Duane, Robert R. Livingston, Robert Yates, John Ten Broeck, Jr., convened at the City of Albany on the 24th day of October last, agreeable to order, to perform the duties assigned them; and receiving intelligence from Mr. Tayler, one of your Committee, who had just arrived from Cumberland, that the Militia of Cumberland and Gloucester were ordered to hold themselves in readiness to march on their receiving intelligence that the enemy were besieging Ticonderoga, and that it was their intention to take the route through the country to that place, a letter was addressed to General Schuyler, advising him thereof, (knowing the scarcity of provisions at that garrison,) and communicating also our belief, that from certain affidavits, (copies whereof had been transmitted to him by the Committee at Albany,) some part of the enemy's force proposed making incursions into the western frontier, we therefore lamented the necessity that called Colonel Dayton's regiment to Ticonderoga, and left so important a communication to be guarded chiefly by Militia, and submitted the propriety of employing active scouts, who should go from the head of Hudson's River to Ticonderoga, and to whom rewards should be offered in their bringing intelligence of the enemy's approach.

"Having received information of a most dangerous conspiracy of the Tories at Helenbergh, we despatched an express to Colonel Van Ness, who was at Schuyler's Ferry, on his march to Fort Edward, to recall his regiment, to employ them against the insurgents. Of this measure, also, we informed General Schuyler; and in order to discover the numbers, motions, and designs of the insurgents, a soldier recommended by Colonel Van Schaick for that purpose, was sent as a Spy, with instructions, and a promise of a reward of ten pounds if he should perform the service satisfactory. On the 25th of October, a letter was received from Colonel Whiting, of King's District, giving information of the number and hostile designs of the Tories in that District. Whereupon Captain Baldwin, with fifteen men of the Albany Rangers, was immediately despatched to assist in securing the said insurgents, and Colonel Whiting was directed and authorized to raise and detain all the well-affected Militia remaining in that District for the same service, and also to call on the nearest towns in the State of Massachusetts-Bay for such a number of men as would, together with his own and the Rangers, make up an hundred, and also that he should see the men properly supplied with provisions, agreeable to Continental allowance. The whole to be commanded by Colonel Whiting until superseded.

"Mr. Avery, Deputy Commissary, furnished a report of all the flour remaining at Ticonderoga, and the several stages between that and Albany, from which, after deducting what was probably expended, or would be consumed in the course of fourteen days, there would then only remain about two thousand five hundred and twenty barrels.

"A representation having been made to your Committee that Doctor Henry Van Dyck, Cornelius Glen, Benjamin French, Jacob A. Lansing, John Stevenson, Henry Ten Eyck, John Van Allen, Jus. Visscher of Schenectady, Major Eminston, Peter Van Schaick, Peter Vosburgh, Robert Oakley, James Dole, Baker, John Fryer, were persons disaffected to the cause of American liberty, and that their stay in the County of Albany would be dangerous:

"It was therefore Resolved, That the Members of the Committee who were Members also of the Committee of Albany, wait on the Committee of the said County, and submit it to their consideration, if they have just grounds of the unfriendly dispositions of the said persons, to remove them immediately out of this State.

"It being also represented to the said Committee that there were many disaffected persons in the Manor of Livingston and its neighbourhood, and that the remaining Militia who can be relied on are few in number and badly armed:

"It was therefore Resolved, That a Letter be sent to the Commanding Officer of the Manor Regiment, informing him to detain the Militia there, and hold them in readiness to suppress any insurrections among the disaffected in that part of the State, or wherever else they may be ordered by your Committee or the Committee of Safety of the State of New-York.

"A Resolution was also passed requiring the Committee of the Manor of Livingston immediately to arm and equip the company of Rangers raised in that District, and order them to be quartered at or near the place of rendezvous, and kept in readiness for immediate service. A copy of said resolution was sent to Colonel Henry Livingston, of the Manor of Livingston.

"Your Committee, by a letter to Peter R. Livingston, Esq., President of the Convention, advised them of the progress they had made in the execution of the duties assigned them.

"John Vondenburgh, who resides near Helleburgh, and supposed to be well acquainted with the designs of the disaffected in that neighbourhood, was examined, and reluctantly disclosed that he had attended a meeting at the Helleburgh, and was there advised not to march with the Militia to the northward; that there were present at that meeting John Reed, Joaghim Huyck, Jacobus Long, Hans Segar, Jacobus Oliver, Jacob Huyck, John Cummins, Arnet Werner, Adam Sagar, Christian Huyck, Jacob Bradt, Garret Bradt; and that one Richard Ridley had in his possession the proclamation of General Howe; that their plan was to assemble in three parties, of about thirty men each, to resist any troops that might attack them; that the one party, under command of Albertus Van Alstyne, to meet at the Helleburgh, another, under the command of John Cummins, at Norman's Kill, and the third, under the command of Arent Wormer, at Neskitaw; that the party attacked were to notify the others, that they might coöperate in their resistance. Hans Segar said he could get Indians at Schoharie to assist, if he would go for them; that a constant correspondence is kept up between the said parties and the disaffected of Stickook and Coxakie, between whom it was understood that they were to act on the defensive until the King's troops arrived, and then join them.

"A messenger was despatched to Colonel Vondenburgh and Captain Slingerlandt, requesting their attendance, that they might be informed of the situation of the country in and about the places alluded to in the said examination of Vondenburg, and march with Colonel Van Ness's regiment as guides to those places.

"On the 26th of October, Colonel Vondenbergh and Captain Slingerlandt attended, according to request, and the Colonel produced the returns of such persons in his regiment, amounting to eighty-two, who have not marched up with the Militia of the County, most of which absentees, it appears by other information, are such as have collected themselves in and about the Hellebergh, for the purpose of opposing by force the measures of Congress. An express was sent with a letter to Captain John Bradt, of Coxakie, advising him of the movement of the disaffected in the neighbourhood of the Hellebergh, and requesting him, if he could spare any part of his force, to despatch the Schoharie company and the Rangers that way as soon as possible, and by the most direct route; and that a party should be despatched from Albany to meet and coöperate with them.

"Colonel Van Schaick, on application, consented to spare about fifty of his Continental troops for two or three days, to be commanded by Captain Hicks, and marched to the Hellebergh under the directions of your Committee, and to be in readiness as soon as possible.

"Captain Baldwin was directed that the fifteen men of his company of Rangers should hold themselves in readiness; and Colonel Van Ness was ordered to detach eighty men of his regiment on the same service, while the remainder of his regiment should continue in Albany, and do the duty of the troops ordered out.

"Captain Abraham Slingerlandt, of Col. Vandenbergh's regiment of Militia, was ordered to attend the said detachments as a guide in the route they were to take for the apprehension of the disaffected, and Major Ford, who was appointed to the command, was apprised of the nature of the service, and instructed to march the detachment to Conradt Luke's or Tunis Kingerlandt's, where his men were to be refreshed until near daybreak, when he was to march from thence to the Hellebergh, and endeavour to take and disperse the disaffected who have been or are now assembled in arms, or in general all others between the age of sixteen and fifty who can prove no good reason for their not having marched with the rest of the Militia agreeable to order; if they should not be at that place, to follow them to Norman's Rale, Nestakew, or the Beaver Dam, or wherever else they may be assembled, advising on this head with the guide; also, that he always march with good intelligent scouts ahead, and flanking parties, to prevent surprise or being discovered by persons lurking in the woods for that purpose, and to detain all those whom he might expect designed to give intelligence of his movements; that he should also be particularly careful to prevent the men under his command from plundering or maltreating the inhabitants of the County, whatever might be their political character; to be attentive to secure those persons whose names he was furnished with; and send daily communications of his motions to your Committee at Albany, in order that he might be reinforced if necessary, or supplied with provisions if his stay should be longer than was expected.

"On the 27th of October, a letter was received from General Schuyler, dated at Saratoga on the 26th, acknowledging the receipt of the letter and affidavits transmitted him on the 24th, in which he says, that although said affidavits would countenance the supposition that the enemy intend an irruption on the Mohawk River, yet he cannot suppose they will attempt it, unless they should be successful at Ticonderoga. He did not like to move Dayton's corps from the westward, but was pressed to do it in such terms by General Gates that he could not prudently refuse it. Lest, however, any accident should happen, he advises that Colonel Van Ness, with his regiment, should, on his return from Coxsackie, march to Schenectady, or such place where he can be of most service in case of an attack. The scouts from Johnstown, Fort George, and Fort Edward, agree there is no appearance of an enemy on the northern quarters. General Schuyler enclosed in said letter a copy of a letter he had received from General Gates, at Ticonderoga, dated the 24th of October, wherein, after enumerating such articles and supplies as are most wanted at that garrison, General Gates observes, 'that General Carleton lies close at 'Crown-Point, with his navy on his flanks; that he ap-'prehends an attack may soon be expected, but that the 'communication between Otter Creek and Mount Indepen- 'dence was not yet interrupted by the enemy's scouts.'

"A letter was received from John McKesson, Esquire, Secretary of the Convention, dated at Fishkill, on the 24th, giving advice of the apprehension and condemnation, by a Court-Martial where Lord Stirling presided, of three traitors or deserters taken in arms; and also enclosing a copy of a letter from Tench Tilghman, Esq., to the Convention, dated at Head-Quarters, Valentine's Hill, the 22d instant, mentioning that early on the morning of the 21st, one hundred and fifty men, detached from the First and Third Virginia regiments, and commanded by Major Green, supported by Colonel Haslet's, of Delaware, with six hundred men, attacked and put to flight Rogers's Rangers, taking many blankets, sixty stand of arms, and thirty-six prisoners.

"Your Committee immediately acknowledged the receipt of the letter of John McKesson, Esq., with its enclosure, and suggested the propriety of the Committee of Correspondence establishing expresses to Albany, as good news published by authority might have a happy effect on the Army and on the people.

"On the meeting of the Committee on the 28th of October, a letter from General Schuyler, dated at Saratoga, on the 27th October instant, covering a letter from Captain Lathrop Allen, commanding at Fort Dalgton, the 21st of October, and another from General Herkimer, dated at Canajoharie, on the 25th of October, was laid before your Committee.

"Captain Allen states, that on hearing some news from Lake to our disadvantage, a consultation was held at Canajoharie Castle, between the Indians and Tories, since which many of the latter have absconded to join the enemy; that the Indians are also moving up. He concludes by requesting the General, as an invasion may shortly be expected, to forward a supply of ammunition, there not being more than twelve pounds of powder to supply the garrison, consisting of one hundred and twenty-three effective men.

"General Herkimer informs General Schuyler that Peter Ten Broeck, of the Fallkills, Hanjoost Schuyler, Kachyaho Johnson, with about one hundred and twenty others, from the Klace Burragh, have gone off to the enemy; he learns they are gone to Oswego, expecting to meet the enemy there; that the leaders of those runaways have received advice by letter, that within six days from their escape the enemy would be assembled in force at Oswegos,—Sir John Johnson to command six hundred regulars, and that twenty-two nations of Indians had joined them. A squaw was the bearer of said letter to Canajoharie Castle, and a belt was sent from the hostile nations to the Oneidas, to invite them to join them, threatening that if they would not agree to their proposals they (the Oneidas) should be attacked first and that not a child's life would be then spared. General Herkimer added, this hostile invasion may soon be expected, and certainly on the Mohawk, and that the circumstances of the country are such that they cannot resist such a force, and must expect to be slaughtered and drove off at the pleasure of the enemy. He therefore begged and solicited for expeditious succour in troops to oppose such powerful invaders, to frustrate their wicked intentions; that without such aid, the major part of the inhabitants would lay down their arms.

"General Schuyler, in his letter enclosing copies of those of General Herkimer and Captain Allen, remarked that he thinks it absolutely necessary that a body of troops be sent immediately to the Mohawk's River, and concludes by observing: 'I have ordered Colonel Dayton with his regiment, 'which is at Canistighenna, or Half-Moon, to halt until they 'shall hear from you. If you can send such a body of 'Militia into Tryon County as will in all probability secure 'that part of the country, I then wish you to send orders to 'Colonel Dayton to prosecute his march to Ticonderoga, 'where he is much wanted; if not, you will order him back 'to that County, he having my orders to obey your direc-'tions.'

"The Committee thereupon resolved and determined to detain the following troops for the defence of the western frontiers, namely:

|---|---|
| "Captain Bradt's Rangers, who have performed the service at Coxakie, - - - - - - - - - - | 50 |
| "A detachment of Captain Baldwin's Company of Rangers, - - - - - - - - - - - - - | 20 |

"Your Committee then sent a letter by express to General Schuyler, enclosing copies of the above resolutions; and having previously received intelligence from Major Ford and Captain Bradt, we mentioned to the General, that on the night of the 26th the detachment was despatched against the disaffected at the Helleburgh and its neighbourhood, which was attended with the wished-for success, as they dispersed (the disaffected) without opposition, and many of them were taken. Captain Bradt, who was despatched on a similar enterprise to Coxakie, had written to us by express, that he had successfully performed the service he was sent upon, and that he thought the Coxakie and Catskill companies would be sufficient for any further business in that quarter. Indeed it appeared to us that the report of the disaffected there had been greatly exaggerated, since the Committee of this District had thought fit to discharge some—those who were apprehended as Tories; which, however inexpedient, was at best a proof they were not thought dangerous. These vigorous measures having so happily suppressed domestick insurrections, put it in our power to detach the troops which with the forces already on the western frontiers, and particularly specified in our resolutions, of their competency we suppose General Schuyler could best judge, and therefore submitted it to his determination whether Colonel Dayton's regiment should be sent forward to Ticonderoga, or commanded to their former station. It appeared to us of the utmost moment that an active and spirited officer, in the then conjuncture, should be invested with the command on the western frontiers, especially as the apprehensions on the part of the Continentals, as well as the Militia, seemed greater than the intelligence communicated to us could justify. We submit it to the consideration of the General, that as we were strangers to Colonel Elmer, if his military character was not sufficiently established, whether Colonel Dayton, (in case his regiment should proceed to Ticonderoga,) Colonel Van Schaick, or some other officer of known abilities, ought not to be appointed to that important department. We determined that such of the proposed detachment as consisted of Militia, should march without delay. The two companies of Continental troops, not being under our directions, we informed the General must attend his orders; and should the arrangement meet with his approbation, Captain Lush's company of Town-Guards, seventy of Colonel Van Ness's regiment under his command, besides the , would remain for town duty.

"Your Committee then wrote to Major Ford, requesting him to return with the detachment under his command to Albany, as soon as the service whereon he was sent was despatched, and at the same time forwarded a letter to Captain Bratt, commanding the party at Coxakie to march said party to Albany as soon as their business was accomplished. An order was also given Mr. Avery to furnish the detachment under Major Ford with three days' provisions, which was forwarded immediately.

"John Vandenbergh again appeared before the Committee, and was examined; and discovering nothing further respecting the Tories at Hellebergh, he was dismissed, and for his former services was given forty-eight shillings.

"Dirck Swart was called in, and informed your Committee, that while at Bennington he understood that letters had been received by the Committee of that place, from Deputy Commissary Trumbull, and Deputy Commissary

Yauncey, which mentioned that some evil-disposed persons near Albany had stopped the provisions going forward to Ticonderoga, and alleged they had orders to purchase the wheat and send it to the mills; that the wheat was accordingly purchased at five shillings and six pence lawful; on hearing which, some of the Militia that were going up were much enraged, and wished Albany in flames. As Mr. Swart neither saw said letters nor heard them read, it was not thought proper to take any measures relative thereto, until more precise information could be obtained of their contents.

On the 29th of October, Major Ford, with the detachment under his command, returned from the Hellebergh, and reported that he could not discover any parties of disaffected persons assembled together; that he had traversed the country, and found that most of the inhabitants had absconded; that he has apprehended, however, John Reid, John Lang, Garrit Slingerlandt, Myndert Bradt, John Seeger, Jeremiah Pemberton, John Hallenneck, (who he has, however, since discharged,) Garret Seeger, Matthys Hoghtaling, (who he released but detained his arms.)

"Your Committee immediately proceeded to examine John Reid, John Lang, and Myndert Bradt. The character of Reid appeared suspicious; he was therefore remanded to Jail. As to Lang, he appeared to be misled, and professing his hearty repentance and promising a ready concurrence with the measures of Congress, was thereupon dismissed, upon his promise to go and join his Militia regiment at Fort Edward. On receiving a solemn promise not to reveal his name, the said John Lang, of Meadhic, stated, that being warned to go to Fort Edward, he prepared himself to go accordingly, but on his way was dissuaded from proceeding by Frederick Oliver and Philip Luke, son to John Luke, who were the principal persons that dissuaded people, alleging that they would not go to be slaughtered by the Regulars, who would have this country in a month's time. That thereupon he went to Arnet Wormer's, where there were about one hundred, who engaged not to go up, nor to injure any person, but if the Rangers or Militia of Albany came against them, they would resist them. They then agreed to keep scouts in the road, and that they should notify each other upon any alarm. That besides the above persons, Frederick Wormer, Frederick Cransie, John Commens, were at the meeting; that the views of those people, when assembled, was to hold out until the Regulars should come, and then join them; that Arnet Wormer was to direct one of the parties, Bat Hallenbeck another, and Frederick Oliver the third party. The said John Lang being further examined, stated that there were present in the above company George Swan, Peter Classe, Peter Bradt, Staats Bradt, Wonter and George Slingerlandt, Storen Bradt, Myndert Bradt, Garret Bradt, John Commens, (a principal,) Jacobus Oliver, Jacob Bell, a Captain of Beaver Dam, (which latter he has heard to declare he would not go up at all,) Henry Warner, Jacobus Haughtaling, Johannes Seeger, Adam Seeger, Jellis Creeble, and John Wedewman.

"We proceeded to examine Myndert Bradt, who appeared to be an ignorant lad of about seventeen years of age; he not being sufficiently candid, was thereupon remanded to jail.

"We then received from General Schuyler a letter of the 29th of October, dated at Saratoga, in answer to that of yesterday, acquainting your Committee that he had ordered Colonel Dayton's regiment to prosecute their march to the northward, and that about four hundred of the Militia were ordered to march from Fort Edward to Tryon County, to be under the command of General Herkimer or Colonel Van Schaick, who he had ordered into that quarter with the two companies of his regiment.

"Mr. Avery, the Deputy Commissary-General, was immediately made acquainted with this movement, that he might be ready to furnish these troops with provisions. Captain Bradt was ordered to march with his company of Rangers into Tryon County, and to put himself under the command of Colonel Van Schaick; and Captain Huger, with the party of Militia under his command, was directed to return to Schoharie, and hold themselves in constant readiness to march at a moment's warning to the defence of the western frontiers, whenever they shall receive orders from Colonel Van Schaick, that they may contribute, with the rest of their fellow-citizens who are now in arms, to the utmost of their power, in the defence of the rights and liberties of their country.

"On the 30th October, your Committee addressed a letter to General Herkimer, advising him, that although they considered the information of an intended irruption of the enemy in that quarter to be such as not to be fully relied on, yet it was possible they might send small scouting parties, as a great force cannot come at this season; and as to the twenty-two nations of Indians, it is too improbable to deserve the least credit. We could not help expressing our surprise, that at a time when the Militia are all called out for the defence of our country, invaded on the north and south, that the Militia of a County which had hitherto been respected for its zeal and spirit, should entertain the most distant idea of submitting to their inveterate enemy, and that, too, before they had seen or tried their force. We took the liberty to remind him that there is already in that County, exclusive of their own Militia, seven hundred and forty-three men, which, when joined by the troops under his command, would, we apprehend, be greatly superiour to any force the enemy could send. We informed the General we had, however, sent him two companies of Continental troops under command of Colonel Van Schaick, with whom we wished him to consult about the proper disposition of the troops, and also one company of Rangers, and that General Schuyler had ordered to their assistance four hundred men of the Militia; these would cross from Fort Edward. We added: 'These are sent in compliance with 'your wishes, though we really think them unnecessary if 'the people of your County will exert any degree of that 'spirit which we have reason to expect of men animated 'by the glorious cause in which they are engaged. We 'doubt not but that you will be careful to inspire them 'with proper sentiments on this subject. It would be advi-'sable for you to order one hundred of your Militia, who will 'be rewarded for their services, to be raised, equipped, and 'sent to their proper stations; in which case they will be 'allowed Continental pay and rations. Captain Hager, 'with fifty men of the Schoharie Militia, are now sent home, 'and have orders to hold themselves in readiness at a mo-'ment's warning, whenever you may think it necessary to 'call upon them. You will be careful to keep out scouts on 'every quarter, who will be rewarded for their trouble.'

"Your Committee then addressed a letter to General Schuyler, suggesting, in case of an invasion from the west, which was very probable, whether it would not still be prudent to detain Dayton's regiment at Fort George, so that they might be in readiness to proceed to Ticonderoga, or the western frontier, as the progress of the enemy might render necessary. Also, communicating the orders given to Colonel Van Schaick, Captain Bradt, and Lieutenant Hager, and General Herkimer; and that Colonel Van Ness's detachment of one hundred and forty men were to be detained under his command for town duty, leaving Lieutenant Conyer, who is one of our recruiting officers, to assist and advise Colonel Van Ness in the conduct of his department, on account of his inexperience in the military line. We also communicated the result of the expedition to Helleburgh, and certain intelligence from Major Ford, received by him from Hendrick Hoff, who pretends to be a deserter from General Carleton, that would countenance the belief that we might hourly expect an irruption into the eastern frontier by the Tories, Canadians, and Indians, under the command of Sir John Johnson. We also informed the General that nothing before us would warrant a longer continuance at Albany, especially as our assistance was much wanted in Convention, the military arrangement, which is so essential, being delayed until our return to Fishkill.

"On the 31st October, your Committee received a letter from General Schuyler, by express, in answer to the one addressed to him the preceding day, in which he mentions, that by information received from Colonel Ogden, who left Ticonderoga on the morning preceding, there were not more than two hundred tents at Crown-Point; consequently General Carleton has only a small part of his Army there. This circumstance, the information of Hoff, and the movement of the Tories in this quarter, induced General Schuyler to suspect that the enemy intend to penetrate by the Mohawk River, or throw themselves on some part of the communication between Saratoga and Fort George. It became difficult to say what measures would be most eligible, but that he will venture to send down part of the Militia, Dayton's regiment being already near Skeensborough, and his men extremely averse to return to Tryon County; he therefore earnestly entreated us not to leave Albany at so critical a juncture. He also informed us that he would despatch an express to General Gates, to request him to send a scout of forty or fifty men to the westward, and if he finds that any body of the enemy have marched to the Mohawk River, then instantly to despatch three regiments to that quarter, or more, according to the number of the enemy that may have taken that route. That similar orders would be sent to General Ten Broeck and Colonel Gansevoort, that we might thus have the more early and most certain intelligence of the enemy's movements, and be enabled to take proper measures to defeat their purposes.

"The despatches which General Schuyler enclosed for Colonel Van Schaick and Major Cochran, of Tryon County, were immediately forwarded to them by express.

"Your Committee, on the same day, received a letter from Colonel Whiting, giving an account of King's District, and referring to the affidavits of Peabody and Allen, taken before John Younglove, Esq., Chairman of the Committee of Bennington, copies whereof were sent to the Committee of Safety by the Committee of Albany, and referred to your Committee on the 23d October, from which examinations it appeared that Isaac Peabody and Samuel Allen called at the house of Seth Chace, at Little White Creek, on the 12th of October; suspecting, from some observations they heard, that Chase was disaffected, they feigned to be of the same sentiments, pretending they came from Kinderhook, and were offered lodgings and concealment on the suggestion of a Mr. Hough, which they declined; they asked Mr. Hough whether they had seen any of their Kinderhook friends, or whether it was practicable for them to get through northward to Burgoyne's Army. Hough said no; but there was a much safer way of making their escape, for there was eighty men from Arlington and Sunderland who were to march the next night. That there were two of the King's armies coming down: Burgoyne was to come round the Lakes, and Sir John Johnson down the Mohawk; it would be best for the Kinderhook Tories to join the latter, which they could meet in three days and be out of danger; which opinion Hough said he would communicate to the Tories at Kinderhook. That while at Chase's they were advised not to go to Cambridge, or they would be taken up, for the people there were as fierce as the devil, and would have ruined the disaffected at White Creek but for the friends they had in the Committee. Hough stated that most of the neighbourhood were disaffected; that they had a meeting at Chase's, and determined to march off and join Burgoyne on the 13th. Samuel Allen went to inform the Committee of Cambridge of what had passed, while Captain Peabody returned to Chase's, to gather further intelligence, and inquired for Hough, and was told by Chase that Hough had communicated to him the substance of the conversation the preceding night; that he had certain intelligence that Burgoyne with his Army was coming round the Lakes; that Colonel Mann had sent a page to Arlington, who was at his house the night of the 11th on his return, and told that the Colonel's orders to the people of Arlington were to remain quiet unless their intentions were discovered, until further orders from him, for he found from intelligence from Burgoyne he would not get through his march so soon as he expected, but if discovered to make the best of their way to him. The page also stated that the people of Arlington had made such preparations for their march that they could not postpone it without being discovered, and would therefore march that night. He also said the people of White Creek are secure; they would not march until further orders from Colonel Mann. He likewise said that Colonel Mann had twelve fat oxen for the purpose of victualling the friends of Government on their march to join the King's Army, and others had several more for the same purpose; and on inquiring by what plan our Kinderhook friends could get safe to the King's Army, he told me Colonel Mann had given countersigns at two places, and if these countersigns could be conveyed to our friends they could pass safe and obtain all necessary intelligence. He then produced a paper and handed it to me, saying, 'Now I give you my life.' The contents of the paper were these:

"'At Landlord Northrup's the countersign is Tryon.'

"'At Jacob Lawring's Ferry the countersign is Burgoyne.'

"Upon the giving of which countersigns, he said, at these two places, we could be secreted, have provisions, or helped on our way, or any thing we desired to forward us.

"That Simon Covill was a great friend to Government, and thus examined, need not fear him. While the friends of Government were on their march to join Burgoyne, it was directed by Colonel Mann, that in the daytime they should keep the woods, and in the night to take the road; to go twenty in a body, a mile distant from each other, and before each detachment a scout to be placed, distant in the advance about ten rods, to give notice of persons approaching in front; and the rear guard in like manner, to notify the approach of pursuers, in which case the parties to skulk into the woods.

"Your Committee perceiving, from the last intelligence received from General Schuyler, that probably no attack would be made on Ticonderoga, it strengthened the apprehension of an invasion of our western frontiers. In such case the defenceless situation of those frontiers would be lamented, and by those probably who judge only from events. Convinced that an inexperienced Militia cannot be relied on, especially when their fears may be excited on account of the Indians, under those difficult circumstances, increased by General Gates's importunity for Dayton's regiment, though all the Continental troops (two companies only excepted) were already at Ticonderoga and on the communication, we could easily account for the embarrassment of General Schuyler, in which we participated; and by a letter of the 31st October, we communicated our reflections on the subject, and advised him of the intelligence received of Peter Ten Broeck and the four other disaffected, who have lately gone over to the enemy from Tryon County, being pursued by a party of the Oneidas, until those friendly Indians were given to understand by the Onondagas that it was disagreeable to them, and that the Oneidas should suffer if they did not desist. We submitted to the General whether it would not be proper for him to send a spirited message to the Onondagas, by Major Fonda, or such other manner as he might judge best, complaining and demanding satisfaction for this unprovoked infraction on the treaty, and insisting peremptorily to know whether they are to be considered as enemies or friends, that they might be treated accordingly, which would at least show a vigilant attention to their conduct and contempt of their enmity, which, if it should not convert, might intimidate and keep them in awe, not to mention the necessity of our being apprised of the terms we stand upon with a neighbour, who, in proportion to the measure of our deception, would be able to injure and distress us. We also communicated the intelligence from King's District, and the reports from the southeast end of Rensselaerwyck, from which it would seem that the disaffected were about to collect and to march to the northward, under the disguise of Militia and friends to Congress, until they could be met by the Canadians and Indians, who would conduct them to the enemy, or until they could reach Fort George, which they would seize and hold for the enemy; which accounts, though probably greatly exaggerated, they suggest the necessity of our being on our guard. The General was at the same time apprised, that previous to the receipt of his letter containing a request that your Committee should continue in Albany, that Robert R. Livingston had set out on his return, and as that part of the Committee for arranging the Army which were to the southward have got back to Fishkill, we considered ourselves under the necessity of joining them; and considering the nature of our powers, which respected chiefly the Militia, which were now all in motion, we could not perceive that our stay in Albany would be serviceable.

"Your Committee then addressed a letter to Colonel Whiting, informing him that they had ordered Colonel Robert Rensselaer, with one hundred and fifty of the Claverack Militia, to march into King's District, and requesting that, as Colonel Rensselaer's detachment would be much wanted for an important service in another quarter, that he might be detained no longer than the safety of the district and the condition of the disaffected rendered absolutely necessary. Those vigorous measures, it was expected, would convince our internal enemies both of our vigilance and power, and intimidate the disaffected and induce them to disperse, so that a guard of forty or fifty men, kept in constant motion, would be sufficient to protect and preserve tranquillity in that District; and being assured by the messenger, Mr.

, that so many could be armed in the District, it was recommended to Colonel Whiting to imbody them accordingly, it not being in our power to furnish either arms or accoutrements. Colonel Rensselaer was at the same time requested to march his detachment to Albany as speedily as the condition of the disaffected against whom he was employed would possibly admit.

"By the return of the express on the 1st November, your Committee received your letter of the 29th ultimo, enclosing copies of certain resolutions adopted for providing provisions for the Northern and Southern Armies, together with a copy of a letter from Tench Tilghman, from Head-Quarters.

"Your Committee, approving said resolutions, and in order to give them efficacy in the Northern Department,

"Resolved, That an Agent be appointed and empowered to purchase Wheat for the use of the Continental Army, and that he cause the same to be manufactured into Flour, and transported to such places where the same may be manufactured with the utmost despatch.

"Resolved, That if any should so far disregard the safety and preservation of this country as to refuse to dispose of their Wheat, or other commodities necessary for the Army, on reasonable terms, (which the Committee can have no cause to apprehend,) that the names of all such persons be forthwith returned to the Committee of Safety or Convention of this State, in order that proper measures may be devised for preventing the publick interest from being sacrificed by the disaffection or rapacity of individuals.

"Resolved, That such Agent (if necessary) be authorized to impress Drivers, Wagons, Teams, Ox-Carts, or other carriages, for the purpose of executing, with the utmost despatch, the Resolutions of this Committee.

"These resolutions your Committee immediately enclosed to Mr. Avery, Deputy Commissary for the Northern Army, at the same time expressing their readiness to assign him as agent fully authorized to carry the same into effect, so far as relates to the purchase and manufacture of wheat with vigour and despatch; adding, that if he could suggest any measure more effectual, or stand in need of further advice or support, respecting his department, we would cheerfully assist him, it being our determination and intention to leave nothing undone which, at this arduous conjuncture, might contribute to the important purpose of supplying the Northern Army with provisions.

"On the 2d November Captain Lush furnished your Committee with a copy of a letter, dated at Ticonderoga on the 20th October, 1776, from Joseph Trumbull, Esq., Commissary-General, to the Committee of Bennington; also a copy of a letter from James Yancey, Deputy Commissary, to the said Committee, of the same date, being the letters referred to in the information communicated by Dirck Swart on the 28th of October; which copies the Committee of Albany County had requested Captain Lush to procure. Mr. Trumbull observes: 'The late success of the enemies of 'American liberty on this lake render it probable, I might 'say certain, that this post will very soon be attacked; in 'that case, as the enemy may perhaps attempt a blockade 'rather than an immediate attack on our lines, a large 'supply of provisions will be absolutely necessary; you are 'therefore requested, gentlemen, to lend all the assistance 'in your power in forwarding provisions of every kind from 'Bennington to this place, by way of Skeensburgh. The 'badness of the road may render it necessary to send flour 'on pack-horses in bags; if no other method is practicable, 'make use of that; regard not the expense. Mr. Yancey, 'Deputy Commissary-General, has the General's orders to 'pay every necessary expense and charge that may arise.'

"The letter of Mr. Yancey was in these words:

"'This is to inform you that in consequence of a number 'of disaffected persons (in and about Albany) to the common 'safety of this Continent, there is great danger of a too long 'delay of the contracted provisions for this Army from that 'place, and in particular the article of flour, and that we 'have not more than will answer for bread for the Army at 'present than about sixteen days. And as the advances of 'the enemy may be slow, and in order for a blockade, and to 'cut off all communications to this place, all which makes it 'of the utmost consequence that we have an immediate sup-'ply; and as I am appointed and empowered to act and 'contract for every necessary provision for this department 'by the Commissary-General, Joseph Trumbull, Esq., I 'thought it of the utmost importance to make this pressing 'application, that you would contract and immediately for-'ward to Skeensborough landing all the flour that can be 'purchased for the Army in the Northern Department; and 'relying, gentlemen, on your publick patriotism to serve 'your country, I make not the least doubt that you will 'comply with this request. I will furnish you, from time to 'time, with the Continental currency, as fast as my present 'hurry of business will permit; and beg you will forward me 'your answer immediately, how much you will be able to 'supply me with, and in what time, so that I may be able to 'satisfy the Commander-in-Chief at this place with this very 'important business.'

"On reading whereof, it was agreed to send for Mr. Avery, in order to be informed whether he had given information to Head-Quarters at Ticonderoga, that would justify the reflections against the County of Albany, contained in the letter of Mr. Yancey, and also to know his reasons for not answering our letter of yesterday. Mr. Avery was accordingly called in, and said that he would have waited on your Committee before, but being much engaged was prevented. That he expects and has received considerable quantities of provisions. He was then told that the Committee were ready to give him their assistance, and that no exertions in the power of this State would be wanting to supply the Army; and that if he could point out any thing that would be serviceable it should be taken into consideration. He answered that he would choose that an agent should be appointed, agreeable to our proposal, to purchase wheat for the manufacturing one thousand barrels of flour, and that he would also be in want of coopers. Whereupon the Committee showed him the resolutions of Convention of 29th October, respecting the exemption of coopers from military duty, and that your Committee had already acquainted the Committee of Albany with said resolves, and requested them to recall the coopers already.

"He also said that he wanted about one thousand bushels of peas; that he does not know that he has met with any obstructions in transporting the provisions. That the Committee of Albany had promised him all the assistance in their power; but that when he was in want of wagons when the Militia were called out, he could not get ready assistance, though he does not know but that the Committee did all in their power to assist him. That he has made no complaints to General Gates, but that he has wrote to the Commissary that there was a difficulty in getting wagons because the Militia were called up that way. Mr. Duane, one of your Committee, thereupon read to him Mr. Yancey's letter to the Committee of Burlington, as also Mr. Trumbull's letter to the said Committee.

"Thereupon he was asked from whom this information could be derived? He said he had never given the Commissary any other information respecting the want of wagons or the obstruction of the transportation, than what he before related, and particularly that he had laid no blame to the inhabitants of the County of Albany; that the Committee of Albany had always behaved genteelly to him, and have readily offered their services to assist him. That the interruption of transporting provisions occasioned by the calling out of the Militia continued for a short time only.

"Whereupon your Committee declared, that as nothing would work a greater prejudice to the publick service than sowing the seeds of jealousy and distrust at such a critical juncture, the Committee should think it their duty to make the strictest inquiry into Yancey's letter and information, and the motives which induced him to write it; for that as on the one hand they would have taken care that any person that might have been guilty of obstructing the transportation should be punished with the utmost severity, so it was equally their duty, if the charge in that letter was groundless, to have it publickly exposed, that the ill impressions which it had occasioned might be removed; and for this purpose they must request Mr. Avery, if he could do it consistently, to furnish the Committee with extracts or copies of such letters as he has lately sent to Ticonderoga upon the subject of transporting provisions, either to General Gates or the Commissary there. He answered that he would, and thereupon withdrew.

"In the afternoon of the same day he again waited on your Committee and acquainted them 'that he had not kept 'copies of the letters which he had lately sent to Ticonderoga.'

"Your Committee having, at their first interview with Mr. Avery, inquired what quantity of provisions the Deputy Commissary-General had delivered over to him when he entered upon his office, answered, a 'sufficient quantity of beef, though but little flour.' Your Committee thereupon directed Walter Livingston, Esquire, the late Deputy Commissary, to lay before them a return of the flour delivered over by him to Mr. Avery; which he accordingly did; by which it appears the quantity so delivered over amounted to fourteen tierces and sixteen barrels of bread, fifty-four Connecticut barrels and three thousand two hundred and nine New-York barrels of flour, being fifty-nine days' rations for eleven thousand men.

"At the interview with Mr. Avery on the 2d of November, the said return was produced to him, which he perused.

"General Schuyler having arrived in Albany, after conferring with him respecting the situation of Tryon County, it was "Resolved, That General Schuyler be requested and authorized to issue his orders to the Commanding or other Officer in Tryon County, in case the enemy should invade the western frontier of this State, to cause all the Cattle, Sheep, and Swine, and Provisions, which may be exposed to their Rangers, to be driven in and secured; and if that shall not be practicable, destroyed, that at all events they may not fall into the hands of the enemy; and for this purpose they be empowered to impress Horses and Carriages.

"Your Committee also conferred with General Schuyler respecting the state of supplies for the Northern Army; and, among other things, inquired of him whether the transportation of provisions had been obstructed by the calling out of the Militia, or from any other cause?

"In answer, the General informed your Committee that the Militia being attended with a great number of baggage-wagons, he had immediately given orders for detaining and employing those carriages on the communication; that he had further ordered all the Militia of Half-Moon District who chose, to be excused from military duty, on condition that they would assist with their teams in transporting provisions, which a great number of them accordingly did; that in consequence of these measures, the transportation, instead of being obstructed by calling out the Militia, had been greatly facilitated; that he had never heard, nor did he believe, that the transportation had met with the least obstruction from any cause whatever, but, on the contrary, that provisions had been carried forward as soon as they were ready to be delivered by the Commissary; that during the present struggle he had experienced so much readiness in the inhabitants of the County of Albany to assist in the transportation, that he had in no instance been under the necessity of impressing a single carriage.

"On the 3d November your Committee adopted the following Resolution, viz:

"Resolved, That Cornelius Cuyler and Peter Cantine be, and they are hereby appointed Agents to assist Mr. Avery, agreeable to his request, in purchasing Wheat and manufacturing the same into Flour, to the amount of about one thousand barrels, and also purchase one thousand bushels of Peas; and that they acquaint Mr. Avery from time to time of their proceedings, and take his directions as to the dispositions of the said Provisions, and to apply to him to furnish them with money for that purpose."

Resolved, That this Committee of Safety do fully approve of, and justify, the proceedings of the said Committee.

Resolved, That that part of the Report of the said Committee which relates to Mr. Yancey's and Mr. Trumbull's Letters, together with all their other transactions relative to the purchase of or transportation of Provisions which is contained in their Report, be committed to a Committee, consisting of Mr. Robert R. Livingston, Mr. Robert Yates, and Mr. Duane.

Colonel Curtenius attending, informed the Committee that he stands indebted in large sums of money by contracts made for the purchasing of Clothing and other articles, as Commissary of the Convention of this State, and pursuant to their order; that many of the accounts he has not yet received, and therefore requested a sum of money on account.

A Letter from Comfort Sands, Esq., Auditor-General, dated yesterday, enclosing an account of Arms and Accoutrements delivered by Mr. Norwood, the Commissary to General Scott's Brigade, and for which stoppages were to be made out of the pay of the men who received them, was read.

Ordered, That a copy of the said Account be sent to General Scott without delay.

A Letter from Tench Tilghman, Esquire, dated the 5th instant, to the Committee of Correspondence, giving intelligence of the Army, was received and read.

The following Resolutions, moved by Robert R. Livingston, Esq., were read and agreed to, viz:

As great abuses are daily committed in the granting of Passes without sufficient examination to persons inimical to the State, in order to remedy the same as well as to prevent and detect counterfeit Passes:

Ordered, That every County Committee throughout this State appoint two judicious men, of known attachment to its interest, in each Precinct, Manor, or District, who shall grant the Passes hereinafter mentioned, to such persons only of whose principles they shall be fully satisfied.

Ordered, That four thousand Passes be printed, leaving a blank for the date, name, and place of abode of the person, and the place to which he may proceed; that they be signed by either of the Secretaries of the Convention of this State, and sent to the several Counties, to be lodged in the hands of the Commissioners above-mentioned.

Ordered, That when any person shall apply for a Pass, the blank in the same shall be filled up with his name in the handwriting of the person so applying, and the Commissioner granting shall endorse the same.

Resolved, That from and after the twentieth day of this month, no person be permitted to travel out of the District, Manor, or Precinct, in which he usually resides, unless he comes from some other State, and brings a Pass for the same, without such a Pass as above described, or such as may be granted by the Convention or Committee of Safety of this State; but shall be liable to be arrested and detained by any member of either County, District, Manor, or Precinct Committee, or any military officer, till discharged by order either of the Committee of the District, Manor, or Precinct in which he was so arrested, or by the General Committee of the County in which he is detained.

Resolved, That each Commissioner be allowed the sum of sixpence for every Pass which he shall grant, to be paid by the person applying for the same.

Ordered, That a copy of the above Resolutions be served on Lieutenant-Colonel Sands, and that he be directed to procure Muster-Rolls to be returned to this Committee or Convention of this State, under the oath of the officers commanding companies, containing the names of those men only who are now within such parts of this or the neighbouring States as are not in the possession of the enemy.

Resolved, That the President, Vice President, and the Chairman of each respective County Committee in this State be, and they are hereby empowered to administer such oath.

Mr. Duer informed the Committee of Safety that the Committee for detecting Conspiracies have in custody a person who they have reason to believe is an officer of the Savage ship-of-war, and who has been engaged in inlisting men to serve in the Army of Great Britain against the American States. Resolved, therefore, That one hundred men of the Militia of this State, be immediately ordered out for the above purpose.

As no time should be lost, we take the liberty of suggesting to you the propriety of ordering such as can be spared from Albany to be sent down to this place. Mr. Contine, Major Parks—ULSTER.
R. R. Livingston, Major Schenck—DUTCHESS.

Ordered, That a Messenger be sent to Major Schenck, Mr. Sacket, and Mr. Platt, and to such Members of the City of New-York as are in the neighbourhood of Fishkill, to desire their punctual attendance at ten o'clock to-morrow morning, in order to form a Convention.

Samuel Dyckman reported that he delivered the letter directed to Mr. Samuel Patrick, yesterday; that he engaged to deliver fifty Stoves in three weeks; that if the Convention will send sheet-iron, he will furnish the doors in the same time. The dimensions of the Stoves are: the bottom two feet six inches long, fourteen inches wide, one foot eight inches high. The door, fourteen inches high and seven inches wide.

Mr. Dyckman further reports, that Mr. Patrick informed him that Samuel Boyd, a soldier of Fort Montgomery, understood the method of making Pipes for the Stoves.

Thereupon the following Resolutions were read, and approved of:

Whereas General Schuyler, by letter dated the 8th instant, requests the Committee or Convention of this State that as Mr. Livingston's furnace is not in blast, and that at Salisbury employed in casting Cannon, he is disappointed in getting Stoves for the Barracks for the Northern Army, and therefore desires this Convention to get fifty cast, of the largest sort in common use, at the furnace at the Forest of Dean, near Fort Montgomery; and Samuel Patrick, Ironmaster at the said works, having engaged to deliver the said Stoves in three weeks, if he can be furnished with sheet-iron for the doors, and this Convention being informed that a large quantity of sheet-iron has been contracted for by his Excellency General Washington for the use of the Army:

Resolved, therefore, That the said Samuel Patrick be directed to cast and complete the said Stoves with the utmost expedition, and to send them, as fast as they shall be finished, to Fort Montgomery, to be transported to Albany.

Resolved, That the General or Commanding Officer at Peekskill be presented with a copy of General Schuyler's letter, and that he be requested to give orders for sending to (which is on the way to the said iron-works) a sufficient quantity of sheet-iron for doors for the said fifty Stoves.

A draft of a Letter to General Schuyler was read and approved of, and is in the words following, that is to say:

"Fishkill, 13 November, 1776.

"SIR: We received your favour of the 8th instant, and immediately despatched our Rider to Mr. Samuel Patrick, the Iron-master of the works at the Forest of Deane, near Fort Montgomery. His answer, and our resolutions in consequence of it, are enclosed. We presume you will be able to furnish the pipes, or supply the want of them by some expedient; if that should not be the case, and there should not be sheet-iron at Peekskill, we fear you will be obliged to have recourse to Philadelphia or New-Jersey, there being none to be had, as we can learn, in this State.

"I am yours, &c.

"General Schuyler."

A Letter from John R. Livingston, with an Invoice of Goods, &c., was read, and referred to Colonel Brasher, Robert Yates, and Mr. L'Hommedieu.

The Committee of Safety were informed that a person at New-Windsor has a quantity of Linens of different kinds to dispose of, which he is ready to give the Committee the preference of in the purchase, and the vender is attending for that purpose.

Ordered, That Major Parks and Mr. Newkirk be a Committee to examine the quality and prices of those goods, and report thereon.

The Committee met pursuant to adjournment.

Present: P. Van Cortlandt, Vice President.
Mr. Duane, Mr. Roosevelt, Colonel Brasher—NEW-YORK.
Colonel Van Cortlandt, Judge Graham, Colonel Drake—WESTCHESTER.
Mr. Adgate, Mr. Cuyler—ALBANY.
Mr. Little, Colonel Allison—ORANGE.
Mr. Smith, Mr. Miller, Mr. L'Hommedieu—SUFFOLK.
Mr. Newkirk—TRYON.
Mr. Contine, Major Parks—ULSTER.
R. R. Livingston, Major Schenck—DUTCHESS.

Resolved, That Mr. John Sleght be requested to go to the store of Ebenezer S. Burling, at the house of Cornell Sands, and examine the goods there, and report to this Committee what parts of them are fit for the use of the Army, and the prices of such goods; and that in the mean time the owners of those goods be requested to retain them until the further order of this Committee or the Convention of this State.

The whole business of arranging and recruiting the Army being delayed by the absence of Colonel De Witt, to the unspeakable detriment of this State,

Ordered, That Sampson Dyckman, the Messenger, do proceed, without delay, as a messenger, to Colonel De Witt, to request his immediate attendance; and that if Colonel De Witt should be from home, the said Messenger search for him until he shall find him, and deliver him a copy of this Order.

Robert Yates, Esq., Chairman of a Committee consisting of Mr. Cuyler, Mr. Duane, and himself, lately sent to Albany to form an arrangement for recruiting the Army, delivered in the Account of their disbursements, with sundry Vouchers for the same.

Ordered, That the said Accounts and Vouchers be referred to Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Contine, and Mr. Miller, to report thereon.

A Letter from General Schuyler, dated Albany, the 12th current, was read, and is as follows, viz:

"Albany, October 12th, 1776.

"SIR: Your favour of the 9th instant I had the honour to receive last night. I have already despatched an express to General Gates to hasten down all the regiments whose term of inlistment was expired. I make no doubt but that both officers and men will continue to serve with alacrity for some time longer on this critical occasion.

"I have happily conveyed such a quantity of flour from hence for some days past as will suffice for fifty days for the whole Army to the northward. This enables me to send you all the batteaux I have here, but they are only ten or eleven in number, besides what may come from Schenectady. Fifty more are ordered from Lake George, in which and in sloops I shall send down the regiments I expect from Ticonderoga.

"Colonel Van Schaick, from whom I received a line last night, apprehends an attack in that quarter, from the intelligence received by two Indians just arrived from Canada. He has detained the Militia. Two regiments which I ordered from Ticonderoga on the 2d instant are not yet arrived—I fear not even sent, although the order arrived there on the 5th instant. I have remanded the order.

"Lieutenant-Colonel De Roos takes charge of the batteaux down to Fishkills, and will wait on you for your orders.

"I am, most respectfully, your obedient servant,

"PH. SCHUYLER.

"To the Honourable P. V. Cortlandt, Vice President of the Convention."

Resolved, That the superintendence of the Poor committed to Mr. L'Hommedieu, Colonel Allison, and Mr. Adgate, as a Committee by resolutions of this Committee passed on the 12th instant, shall only extend to the poor removed from those Counties now in possession of the enemy, and such poor the heads of whose families have been by order of this Committee removed from this State as inimical to the cause and liberties of America.

Mr. L'Hommedieu, Mr. Miller—SUFFOLK.
Colonel Drake—WESTCHESTER.
Mr. Contine, Major Parks—ULSTER.
Mr. Newkirk—TRYON.

An Account of Gerret Roorback, of the City of New-York, for his disbursements for sweeping the chimneys of the houses wherein the Continental soldiers were quartered; as also for his wages, and that of his clerk and two assistants, was presented to the Committee:

Ordered, That Mr. Roorback be directed to apply to the Barrackmaster-General for a Certificate that the said Mr. Roorback has acted as Barrackmaster, and that his two Assistants and Clerks have under him acted in that department, and that he believes the said Account to be just and true. That the said Gerret Roorback do present the said Account to the Paymaster-General for payment, and that on his refusal to pay the same, and to certify such refusal, that Mr. Roorback do return his said Account, with proper Vouchers, to the Convention or Committee of Safety of this State.

Mr. Roosevelt, from the Committee appointed yesterday to examine the account of expenses and disbursements of the Committee appointed to repair to Albany to form an arrangement of Officers, and the Committee appointed to coöperate with General Schuyler, reported that they have examined the same and find it just.

Ordered, That the said Account be delivered to the Auditor-General, and that the balance remaining in the hands of the said Committee be paid into the Treasury.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State do pay unto Mr. Garrit Roorback the sum of four Pounds, for riding express to Albany with publick despatches to General Schuyler, and that the same be charged to the Continental account.

Mr. L'Hommedieu presented to the Committee a Certificate in the words following, viz:

"In Committee, Southold, August 19th, 1776.

"These certify, that the Committee of Southold have expended twenty-four pounds seventeen shillings and four pence, in mounting four cannon as field-pieces for the protection of the east end of Long-Island.

"By order: "ROBERT HEMPSTEAD, Chairman."

Mr. L'Hommedieu informed the Committee of Safety that the said Cannon are now at Saybrook; that the Cannon at Saybrook belonging to this State are one twelve-pounder, four six-pounders, one four-pounder, and one three-pounder.

Ordered, That Mr. L'Hommedieu and Mr. Gelston, or either of them, be, and hereby are, authorized to sell and dispose of the said three-pounder, and apply the amount of sales to discharge the said twenty-four pounds seventeen shillings and four pence, and render an account of the sales to the Convention or Committee of Safety of this State.

Die Jovis, 4 ho. P. M., November 21st, 1776.

The Committee met.

Present: P. Van Cortlandt, Esq., Vice President.
Mr. Duane, Colonel Brasher, Mr. Dunscomb, Mr. Harper, Mr. Jay—NEW-YORK.
Mr. Adgate, Mr. R. Yates, Mr. Cuyler—ALBANY.
Major Lockwood, Colonel Van Cortlandt, Judge Graham—WESTCHESTER.
Mr. W. Smith, Mr. L'Hommedieu—SUFFOLK.
Mr. Wisner—ORANGE.
Colonel De Witt—ULSTER.
Mr. Platt, Mr. G. Livingston, Major Schenck—DUTCHESS.
Major Webster, Mr. Duer—CHARLOTTE.

A Letter from General Washington, dated the 16th instant, was read, and is in the words following, that is to say:

"General Greene's Quarters, November 16, 1776.

"GENTLEMEN: I do myself the honour to transmit to you a copy of sundry resolves of Congress, which came to hand yesterday evening. By these you will perceive that they have entered into some new regulations respecting the inlistment of the new Army, and reprobating the measures which I presume you have heard have been adopted by the State of Massachusetts-Bay for raising the quota to be furnished by them. My view in doing this, is to inform you of their sense upon this subject, and that they will admit of no departure from the terms they themselves have heretofore published, except in the instances mentioned in these resolves. They are plain and explicit, and I will take the liberty to add, should form a part of the instructions to be given to the officers who may be appointed to recruit.

"I would also beg leave to observe, that the necessity of raising the new Army becomes more and more urgent, and is such as calls for every possible exertion to effect it. The Congress, convinced of this, and seeing the delays of some of the States in carrying the resolves recommended to them into execution, have empowered and requested me to nominate officers to the regiments of such States as have not sent commissions to the Army for that purpose. As this is a matter in which I would not wish to interfere at this time, further than compelled by their direction and the situation of our affairs, I shall be happy to know what progress you have made in this instance, and whether the arrangement for your regiments is completed. If it is not finished, let me entreat you to do it as speedily as possible; the necessity is obvious, and must be felt by every one. Till the officers are appointed no measures can be pursued for inlisting the men. If the bounty allowed by Congress could be paid down, it is more than probable it might induce many to engage more willingly. Under this idea, I shall be ready to advance to such officers as you appoint to the command of the regiments, upon your requisition, such sums of money as may be sufficient for that purpose, if provision has not or shall not be otherwise made by Congress for the same.

"I am sorry to inform you that this day, about twelve o'clock, the enemy made a general attack upon our lines about Fort Washington, which having carried, the garrison retired within the fort. Colonel McGaw, finding there was no prospect of retreating across the North River, surrendered the post. We do not yet know our own loss, or that of the enemy in forcing the lines, but I imagine it must have been pretty considerable on both sides, as the fire in some parts was of long continuance and heavy; neither do I know the terms of capitulation. The force of the garrison before the attack was about two thousand men.

"I have the honour to be, with great respect, gentlemen, your most obedient servant, "GO. WASHINGTON.

"Convention of New-York."

A Letter from Jacob Garrigue, at Peekskill, dated November 14, 1776, and directed to Colonel Brasher, was read. It informs that there is no Sheet-Iron at Peekskill; that there is about half a ton at North-Castle, under the care of Mr. Brower, which may supply Pipes for Stoves now casting by order of this Committee at request of General Schuyler.

A Letter from Robert Boyd, dated the 18th November, directed P. Van Cortlandt. He acknowledges that he has received a Letter from the Vice President, relative to the distressed Continental Troops raised and returning to New-Jersey, who are now at New-Windsor; he will assist or endeavour to lend his aid in forwarding the said Troops to New-Jersey.

A Letter from T. Tilghman, Esq., to Robert R. Livingston, Esq., dated at Hackensack, the 17th November, 1776. He therein mentions a heavy loss suffered yesterday by the loss of Fort Washington, and its garrison, consisting of about two thousand men, chiefly made prisoners of war, and what were not slain in the action; that the Army was posting on that side from Newark to Amboy, as places easy of communication with each other, and through which the enemy must pass to Philadelphia, or any place to the southward of their Army.

The Committee appointed by the Convention to form an arrangement of Officers for four Battalions, pursuant to sundry Resolutions of Congress, came into the Committee of Safety, and Robert Yates, Esq., the Chairman of that Committee of Arrangement, brought in the Report; which he read in his place, and delivered in at the table, when the same was again read. The said Report being then read by paragraphs, the Committee of Safety agreed to and adopted that part of the Report which relates to a request of permission to raise a fifth Battalion, to be raised and commanded by Colonel D. Bois, and is in the following words, viz:

"The Committee appointed for carrying into execution the Resolves of Congress relative to the new arrangement of Officers, &c., beg leave to report, that in pursuance of the orders of the Convention, and agreeable to the directions of the General Congress, your Committee have completed an arrangement of Officers for the four Battalions ordered to be raised in this State, which arrangement is annexed to report.

"They further beg leave to report, that in forming the above-mentioned arrangement, so far as the officers of Colonel Dubois's regiment were concerned in it, your Committee considered them as entitled to no other rank than what they held prior to their appointment in that regiment, which was done without the recommendation or intervention of the Convention of this State, contrary to the uniform practice in all similar cases, and in prejudice of other officers of higher rank and equal merit.

"That your Committee were constrained by those principles to omit Colonel Du Bois's name in the present arrangement; that Colonel Du Bois hath been well recommended to this Committee as an exceeding good officer, capable of commanding a regiment with credit to himself and advantage to his country.

"That from the quota of this State being assessed so low as four Battalions, many good officers will be unprovided for; that sundry applications have been made to your Committee for commissions by young gentlemen of fortune and family, whose services your Committee were under the disagreeable necessity of declining to accept.

"That your Committee are clearly of opinion that another Battalion might be raised in this State, and they therefore earnestly recommend it to the Convention to use their influence with the General Congress to obtain their permission and order for that purpose; and Colonel De Bois to command the said Battalion so to be raised, and to have the rank of fourth Colonel of the New-York forces.

"That the officers whose names are contained in the annexed arrangement have been well recommended to this Committee as proper for the offices assigned them, and that the Committee have no doubt but that the troops under their command will do honour to this State.

"And your Committee further beg leave to report, that the importance of military discipline is so obvious, and the honour and safety of this State so deeply concerned in the behaviour and credit of their troops, that it is absolutely necessary that the most effectual means should be adopted for perfecting them in military evolutions and discipline. That a good part of this State being already possessed by powerful armies of the enemy, whose disposition and motives will probably render it necessary to call those troops into immediate service and to divide the Battalions into detachments, it is to be apprehended, that unless some extraordinary provision shall be made, many of the soldiers must be deprived of the opportunity of being taught their military exercises by experienced and capable disciplinarians.

"From these considerations your Committee beg leave earnestly to recommend it to the Convention to request of the General Congress to commission, on their recommendation, an Aid-Major to each of the Battalions of this State. The Aid-Majors to be appointed to be paid by this State, and to hold such rank as they would have been respectively entitled to had they been provided for in any of the Companies of the Battalions of, or raised in, this State.

"ROBERT YATES, Chairman."

The residue of the same Report being read, it was ordered to be recommitted to the same Committee.

Ordered, That a Letter be written to the honourable the Continental Congress, requesting their approbation of the Resolutions for raising a fifth Battalion in this State, to be commanded by Colonel Dubois; and another Letter to General Washington, requesting his countenance to that measure: and that the Committee for arranging Battalions prepare and report drafts of such Letters.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State advance, on Continental account, for the purpose of recruiting the four Battalions of Continental Troops to be raised in this State, the further sum of twelve thousand Pounds, to wit: To Colonel Goose Van Schaick the sum of three thousand Pounds; to Colonel Philip Van Cortlandt, the sum of three thousand Pounds; to Colonel Peter Gansevoort, the sum of three thousand Pounds; and to Colonel Henry B. Livingston, the like sum of three thousand Pounds; to enable them, the said Colonels, to disburse the Bounty money to their Recruiting officers: each respective Colonel to give his receipt to be accountable for the expenditure of the sum he shall receive by virtue of this order.

Ordered, That the Secretary prepare a copy of the said Report, to be transmitted to the honourable Congress, and another copy to be transmitted to his Excellency General Washington.

A Letter from Samuel Tudor and Augustine Lawrence, dated the 21st November, was read, and referred to the following gentlemen to report thereon, that is to say: Mr. Wisner, Mr. Gilbert Livingston, Mr. L'Hommedieu, Mr. Platt, and Mr. Cuyler.

Mr. William Duer informed the Committee that large quantities of Hay and Corn were purchased by the Quartermaster-General, for the use of the Continental Army in the eastern parts of this County and the western parts of Connecticut, and that it would be hardly practicable to convey the same to the Army, unless the roads leading from the Oblong and Fredericksburg, towards Reze's Bridge and North-Castle, were better repaired; he therefore, in behalf of General Mifflin, Quartermaster-General of the Continental Army, prayed that this House would devise ways and means of facilitating the above-mentioned communication, not doubting but so necessary an expenditure would be cheerfully reimbursed from the Continental Treasury.

On taking the application of Mr. Duer into consideration,

Resolved, That it will be necessary to repair the following Roads, in order to facilitate the cartage of forage to the Continental Army: from the house of John Miller towards the house of Colonel Henry Livingston, thence to Samuel Washburn's, being eight miles; the Road which runs east from Colonel Harry Luddington's to the store of Malcom Morrison, and thence south to the mills of Samuel Washburn, being twelve miles.

Resolved, That Colonel Luddington detach from his Regiment one hundred men for the purpose of repairing that part of the Road which is first mentioned, being in distance eight miles.

Resolved, That Captain H. Meade be appointed Superintendent for repairing the above Roads.

Resolved, That Colonel Field detach one hundred men from his Regiment of Militia for the purpose of repairing that part of the Road which is last mentioned in the first Resolution, being in distance twelve miles.

Resolved, That Captain David Heacock be appointed Superintendent for repairing the said Road.

Resolved, That the Superintendents above appointed be allowed ten shillings per day for their trouble, exclusive of their subsistence; and that they be respectively authorized to hire or impress teams and carts for the purpose aforesaid, paying for each ox-cart with two yoke of cattle, finding themselves, sixteen shillings per day; for each wagon, finding themselves, twelve shillings per day.

Resolved, That the said Superintendents keep and render to this Convention regular accounts of their expenditures and proceedings.

Resolved, That the above-mentioned detachments of Militia while employed in repairing the Road, be under the direction of the Superintendents aforesaid, and that while actually employed as aforesaid, they be allowed at the rate of four shillings per day to each man finding himself.

Ordered, That copies of these Resolutions be immediately transmitted to the Superintendents above-mentioned, who are hereby directed to communicate them, without loss of time, to Colonels Field and Luddington.

Resolved, That the sum of one hundred Pounds be advanced to each of the Superintendents for the repairs aforesaid.

Major Webster—Charlotte.

A Letter from Henry Outhout and Anthony Van Bergen, dated the 21st instant, relative to the prices of the goods which they were directed to purchase for soldiers' use. They therein mention the prices of each respective article; and on account of the very high prices, they desire the direction of the Convention in the premises.

The Committee of Safety are of opinion that the said goods and articles are so dear that it will not answer to purchase them.

A draft of a Letter to those gentlemen was read and approved, and is in the words following, viz:

"In Committee of Safety for the State of New-York, Fishkill, 23d November, 1776.

"We have under consideration your letter dated the 21st instant, in respect to sundry articles to be purchased for the use of the Army, and find that the prices are so high that we judge you best not buy them. The matters you have already bought you will please to furnish an account thereof, and you will be paid.

"I am, gentlemen, yours. By order.

"To Henry Outhout and Anthony Van Bergen."

Ordered, That the same be engrossed and sent them.

Mr. John Sleght's Account of fourteen shillings for going to view goods at Monmerskill ordered to be paid.

An Account of Mr. Thomas Wickes, amounting to four pounds sixteen shillings, for the services of himself and of Eliphalet Brush, in May and June last, six days in carrying into execution the orders of the then Provincial Congress, in apprehending and conveying to New-York Isaac Ketchum, Isaac Youngs, Henry Dawkins, Philip Youngs, and others, who have counterfeited and issued Continental Bills of Credit of thirty dollars, and Bills of Credit of Connecticut and Massachusetts-Bay State, each for forty shillings. Payment considered and approved of.

And another Account of the said Thomas Wickes thereto annexed, for riding express to Albany with sundry Letters from Head-Quarters and other places, directed to the General and Commander-in-Chief of the Northern Continental Army, five days at sixteen shillings per day, amounting to four pounds, was also exhibited for payment, considered, and approved of.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to the said Thomas Wickes the sum of eight pounds sixteen shillings, in full for the said two Accounts, taking a receipt for the same, and charge the same to Continental account.

A Letter from Nicholas Governeur, dated the 14th of November, was read, and committed to the Committee for detecting Conspirators.

A Letter from Johannes Sleght, Esq., Chairman of Kingston, dated the 18th instant, stating that County to have, till within a few days, been a peaceable people, but they are now daily alarmed, and their streets filled with mobs from different parts of the country, breaking of doors and committing of outrages, to the disturbance of the peace of the good people of said town, owing, as they believe, to the misfortune of having that detestable article called Tea, stored there.

Mr. Wisner and Gilbert Livingston's Report was read, and is as follows:

Resolved, That a copy of the said Report be transmitted to General Schuyler, with a request that he will favour the Convention with his advice on the best and most effectual plan for obstructing the navigation of Hudson's River; and that the Committee of the Convention of this State, appointed to obstruct the navigation of Hudson's River, be instructed to cause a nautical survey to be made of such parts of the River as may be most effectually obstructed, so as not only to impede the navigation, but likewise to prevent the landing of Troops below such obstruction; that they endeavour to procure the advice of the General Officers and Engineers respecting the said obstructions.

Resolved, That the Committee appointed to obstruct the navigation of Hudson's River be instructed not to pay the Blacksmiths who made the Chain which was lately drawn across the said River, and broken by the tide, until such time as the sufficiency of their work can be properly examined; and that the said Committee take proper measures for that purpose.

A Letter from General Heath, of the 20th, requesting the Convention to assist Colonel Chevers in procuring a repository for a large quantity of Military Stores, was read, and referred to Mr. Duane and Mr. Platt, to prepare an answer.

A Letter from General George Clinton was received and read, and is as follows:

A draft of the River enclosed, was also exhibited, and committed to the Committee of the Convention of this State appointed to obstruct the navigation of Hudson's River.

A Letter from Messrs. Augustine Lawrence and Samuel Tudor, dated this day, was received and read.

A draft of an Answer thereunto was read and approved of, and is in the words following, that is to say:

"In Committee of Safety, Fishkill, 23d November, 1776.

"GENTLEMEN: Your letter of yesterday, concerning a quantity of rigging to be furnished by you, by an order of the Marine Committee, is under consideration; and the order is explicit; we advise you to comply with it immediately.

"Captain Ivers represents to us that it is impracticable to carry the cables by land, but that he has yarn sufficient to make the cables of, and that they cannot be safely carried until they are warped and tarred; this matter we leave with you, and advise, if it be the only practicable method, that it be pursued, and that Mr. Ivers go with the yarn and finish the cables. In case you cannot hire wagons or teams to carry the quantity of rigging wanted, you are hereby empowered to impress them, giving sixteen shillings per day for each ox-team with drivers, (say four oxen,) and twelve shillings per day for each wagon and horses and drivers, they finding themselves, to carry the same to the first town in Connecticut, on the road leading to Middletown.

"I am, gentlemen, with respect, your very humble serv't.
"By order.

"To Captains Lawrence and Tudor."

A draft of a Letter to the Honourable John Hancock, President of the Continental Congress, was read and approved of, and is in the words following, viz:

"In Committee of Safety, Fishkills, 23d November, 1776.

"SIR: The Convention received the honour of your favour of the 9th of October, enclosing the resolutions of the honourable Continental Congress for raising four battalions in this State. A Committee of Convention immediately repaired to the armies to the northward and at King's Bridge, to inquire into the characters of the officers of the New-York battalions in the service of the United States, that an arrangement might be formed according to the rank and military abilities of the respective officers. The loss at that juncture of the fleet on Lake Champlain, the apprehension of an invasion both of our northern and western frontiers, and the necessity of vigorous efforts to suppress domestick insurrection, urges forward the Militia of this State; and to supply both them and the garrison at Ticonderoga with provisions, obliges us to detain at Albany that part of the Committee which was appointed to transact the business to the northward. It was with great reluctance we consented to this measure, which was necessarily productive of delaying the arrangement; but the safety of the Army and the good of the service in our opinion demanded it. Recruiting officers were, however, immediately appointed and money advanced for the bounty, and a considerable number of men are raised.

"The Committee have now completed the arrangement, which we have the honour to transmit. They assure us that it is formed agreeable to the directions of the honourable Congress; that they have consulted the General Officers in the respective departments where the troops of this State were stationed, and have appointed only such as were well recommended for their honour and abilities, and we flatter ourselves that they will do credit to this State, and be of service to the glorious cause in which we are engaged.

"Colonel Nicholson's regiment, which was formed in Canada by General Wooster, consists of about one hundred and fifty privates, whose period of service expires next spring. They have been stationed since their return from Canada at the German Flats, where they still remain. The Committee inform us that they have promoted only two officers of that battalion in the present arrangement, none else having been recommended. The circumstances of Colonel Du Bois's battalion are particularly mentioned in the report of the Committee of Arrangement, which we need not repeat. Another battalion we think may be raised, as too many of our inhabitants, reduced to want by the invasion of this State, the progress of the enemy, and their cruel devastations, will look up to the Army as a provision for their distressed families. Add to this, that military ardour and a spirit of resentment increasing in proportion to the injuries we have suffered, several young gentlemen of fortune, who have hitherto remained inactive, are disposed to enter into the service of their country, and to contribute to its preservation and independence.

"From these considerations we earnestly request the honourable Congress to grant us permission to raise a fifth battalion, to be commanded by Colonel Du Bois, of whose courage and military talents we have a high opinion. The Committee of Arrangement, sensible how much the American Army have suffered for want of discipline, have strongly recommended the necessity of appointing an Aid-Major for each of the New-York battalions, to be paid by this State. The reason by them for this measure appears to us so cogent that we shall cheerfully consent to the expense, if it meets with the approbation of Congress."

Ordered, That a copy thereof be engrossed, and signed by the Vice President, and transmitted.

A draft of a Letter to General Washington, in answer to his Letter of the 16th instant, was read and approved of, and is in the words following, that is to say:

"Committee of Safety, November 23d, 1776.

"SIR: The Committee of Safety have the honour of your Excellency's letter of the 16th, which was immediately referred to the Committee for arranging the officers to serve in the four battalions to be raised in this State.

"The Committee are extremely happy to find that the measure adopted by the State of Massachusetts-Bay, for augmenting the pay of their troops, has been reprobated by the General Congress, as such a precedent must either have produced among the other troops a discontent and jealousy, which might have been attended with the most fatal consequences, or have reduced the Representatives of this State to impose further burthens on their constituents, many of whom are already impoverished by the havock and destruction of the present campaign.

"It is with equal pleasure that they have perused the alteration in the mode of inlistment, which will, in all probability, tend to expedite the completing of the levies.

"We are informed by the Committee of Arrangement that they have made these resolutions of the General Congress a part of their instructions to their recruiting officers.

"The Committee coincide in opinion with your Excellency, that the welfare of the United States is deeply interested in the expeditious raising of the new Army; and they lament the cruel necessity which has prevented the arrangement from being completed with the despatch they wished. Many causes have conspired to occasion this delay, which it may not be unnecessary to submit to your Excellency's consideration.

"Immediately on the receipt of the resolutions of Congress of the 8th of October, two Committees were appointed by the Convention of this State, the one to repair to the Northern and the other to the Southern Army, in order to confer with the General Officers concerning the characters of each of the officers as were fit to be employed on the new establishment. Soon after their departure from this place, an account was received of the destruction of our fleet on Lake Champlain; in consequence of which, it became necessary to appoint a Committee to coöperate with General Schuyler in calling for the Militia, in furnishing provisions to the Northern Army, and in curbing the attempts of our internal enemies on the frontiers, and to add to this Committee the gentlemen who composed the Committee of Arrangement.

"On their arrival at Albany, a large field of business was opened to their view, which necessarily detained them for a much longer time than was expected. To this cause, and to the extreme difficulty which the Committee of Arrangement found in discharging their trusts in such a manner as to give the least disgust possible to such officers of merit who, from the reduction of the quota of troops to be raised in this State, must necessarily be unprovided for, may be imputed the delay of the arrangement.

"I have now the honour of transmitting to your Excellency a copy of the arrangement of the four battalions to be raised by this State, together with a copy of a report of the Committee of Arrangement to the Committee of Safety, which has been considered and approved of.

"The Committee of Safety, agreeing in opinion with the Committee of Arrangement, that another battalion may be raised in this State, with advantage to the publick cause, and that the appointment of a supplemental officer, called an Aid-Major, to each battalion, at the expense of this State, will tend to perfect the troops in their discipline, have directed me to request your Excellency's interposition with the General Congress in getting those measures approved of, should the reasons urged by the Committee of Arrangement appear satisfactory with respect to the arrangement. We have only to observe, that we have been assured by the Committee of Arrangement that they have taken infinite pains in forming it, and that they entertain no doubt but that the troops under the command of the officers by them appointed, will serve with credit to themselves, with honour to the State, and with advantage to the great cause in which the United States are at present engaged.

"Your Excellency is deservedly entitled to the thanks of this Committee for your readiness to advance the quota of bounty necessary for the inlistment of our battalions; but as a sum of money has been appropriated by the Convention for that purpose, and is now remitted to the proper officers, we shall have no occasion to accept of this proposal.

"The delicacy which your Excellency has ever observed with respect to the civil power of this State merits their warmest acknowledgments, and will always induce them the more cheerfully and strenuously to coöperate with your Excellency in every measure that may be deemed conducive to the publick weal.

"The Committee are sorry to hear of the reduction of Mount Washington, and feel deeply for the loss of the gallant officers and soldiers who perished in its defence, or who are now captives. They trust, however, that the minds of the Representatives of this State can bear with fortitude this heavy blow, and even other calamities of greater weight; and that, under the influence of the councils of the General Congress and the auspices of your command, the liberties of the United States will at length be established upon a wise and firm basis.

"Lieutenant-Colonel Welsh, who commands a detachment of the New-Hampshire Militia which is stationed at this place, has informed the Committee that the term of inlistment of the men under his command expires on the 1st of December, and begs to know whether it is your Excellency's pleasure that they should return home or wait further orders. The Committee for detecting Conspiracies in this State have made such progress lately in removing the disaffected, that we shall not want their longer stay at this place, unless some event at present unforeseen should happen.

"We beg leave to inform your Excellency, that as the Convention of this State have no occasion for the services of the Continental Troop of Horse which your Excellency stationed here under their direction, and as they necessarily consume a great deal of forage which might otherwise be spared for the use of the Army, we submit to your Excellency's discretion the propriety of removing them.

"We have the honour to be your Excellency's most obedient and very humble servants. By order.

"To His Excellency General George Washington."

Mr. Newkirk—Tryon.

Major Webster—Charlotte.

Mr. L'Hommedieu, from the Committee to whom was referred the queries presented by Flores Bancker this morning, made a Report, which was approved of and agreed to, in the words following, that is to say:

"In Committee of Safety for the State of New-York, Fishkill, November 25th, 1776.

"Major Flores Bancker, in behalf of Colonel Johannes Snyder and sundry of the officers of his regiment, presented a number of queries in writing to this Committee, whereupon the Committee came to the following determinations:

"As to the first and second queries,

"Resolved, That the Deputy Treasurer of this State be appointed to pay the said Regiment speedily before they leave the service.

"As to the third and fourth queries,

"Resolved, That each Captain make and return a Muster-Roll of his Company to Colonel Snyder, and subscribe an affidavit, to be endorsed thereon and sworn to before the said Colonel, that the same contains a true and faithful list of the deponent's Company, in Colonel Snyder's Regiment.

"Resolved, That the Pay-Rolls be made out in common form, by the Captains of the Companies respectively, and attested on oath before the Commanding Officer of the Regiment, in manner following, that is to say:

"I, , do solemnly swear on the Holy Evangelist of Almighty God, that the within roll, by me subscribed, is a just and true roll of my Company, and that each of the officers and privates in the said roll named have been in service in the respective stations therein mentioned, at the fortifications in the Highlands, in pursuance of the resolutions of the Representatives of the Convention of the State of New-York of the 7th of September last, and that the time charged for each person respectively is the just and true time of his service, including one day for every twenty miles such person has marched from his house or home to the said fortifications; and that the sums charged in the said roll for pay and subsistence are justly and truly charged, and are justly due and owing to the officers and privates of the company therein named.

"As to the fifth query, a provision is made by a resolution of the Committee of Safety this day, to which you are referred.

"As to the sixth and seventh queries,

"Resolved, That the Officers are entitled to Continental Rations from the time of their march to their return, and the Deputy Treasurer will pay the money for those rations they have not or shall not receive.

"As to the pay of the Officers,

"Resolved, That the same commence from the time of their march, and continue to the time of their return.

"Resolved, That those who shall continue in service agreeable to the Resolutions above referred to, instead of one penny shall be allowed two pence, New-York money, per mile for their travelling expenses home."

Certain Resolutions reported by Mr. Duane, for continuing General Scott's Brigade and Colonel Snyder's Regiment in service one month longer, was read and agreed to, and is in the words following, viz:

Whereas the period of service of the brigade of Militia of this State, under the command of Brigadier-General Scott, as well as that of the detachment of Militia stationed in the Forts in the Highlands, commanded by Colonel Snyder, will soon expire; and whereas, from the invasion of this State in different parts, and the measures necessary for its protection and security, an unavoidable delay has been occasioned in the inlisting and raising the four Battalions of troops in this State for the Continental service; and whereas our merciless enemy, who have laid waste with unrelenting fury such parts of this State as unhappily became a prey to their vengeance and rapacity, have been encouraged by a season uncommonly favourable, and the hopes of the diminution of the Continental forces and the Militia, on account of the expiration of their times of service, to protect their military operations, and to proceed in spreading ruin and desolation throughout such parts of this injured country as they find defenceless and exposed to their barbarous incursions; and the further services of the said brigade and detachment of Militia being from these important considerations indispensable; and forasmuch as, from the present motions of the enemy, it is highly probable that all the Militia of this State will speedily be called forth into actual service; this Committee of Safety do therefore Resolve, That in their opinion the said Brigade and Detachment of Militia ought to continue in service until the last day of December, unless, from the situation of the enemy, they can sooner be discharged with safety, on the same pay and rations which have hitherto been claimed and provided for them.

And this Committee are persuaded that when they sincerely reflect on the situation of their bleeding country, the miseries to which their friends and families must be exposed by the further progress of their inhuman enemy, and the disgraces of deserting the service at so critical a period; when they consider that their retiring can procure them but a few days of ease, inglorious to the enjoyment and bitter in reflection, since it must invite their inveterate foes to pursue and seek them out in their very habitations; when they remember the righteous cause in which they are engaged in common with the whole Continent, and the inestimable value of the blessings of freedom and security, for which they contend; and when, finally, they contemplate the glory which must be acquired in bravely defending their country against the hand of tyranny and oppression, their fathers, their families, their relations, and their friends, from rapine, plunder and slaughter, and their families from indignities worse than death;—from motives so powerful; from every argument of interest, honour, duty and self-preservation, as well as from past experience of their courage and patriotism, the Committee entertains not the least doubt but that the officers and privates of the said brigade and detachment of the Militia will with the utmost cheerfulness and alacrity comply with the resolve, and continue to exert and distinguish themselves as brave, steady, and virtuous citizens and soldiers, and thus recommend themselves to the protection of Heaven and the regard and gratitude of their distressed country.

Resolved, That copies of this Resolution be immediately transmitted to General James Clinton and General Scott, and that the same be published at the head of every Regiment in General Scott's Brigade, and of every Company of the Detachment commanded by Colonel Snyder.

Tuesday morning, November 26, 1776.

The Committee met.

Present: Colonel Van Cortlandt, Vice President.

Mr. Contine—Ulster.
Mr. Newkirk—Tryon.

As Colonel Philip Van Cortlandt is at present at Ticonderoga, and not soon expected, and the raising of the troops may thereby be retarded:

Therefore, Resolved, That the sum of three thousand Pounds, ordered on the 21st instant to be paid to him, be paid to his Lieutenant-Colonel, Fred'k Wiesenfels, for the purposes and under the restrictions mentioned in the said order: the Treasurer deducting out of the said money the sums he has advanced for recruiting to any of the officers belonging to the Second Battalion.

The defence of Hudson's River being not only absolutely necessary for the security of this State, but also for the defence of the United American States, and keeping up a communication between the Eastern and Southern States,

Resolved, That the Committee heretofore appointed to obstruct the navigation of Hudson's River, or any three of them, be directed to report some form of a plan for perfecting the same with all convenient speed.

A Letter from Lieutenant-Colonel Johannes Hardenbergh, dated at camp near Peekskill, was read; he informs that a parcel of arms, cartouch-boxes, and belts, were delivered to him for the use of his Regiment, and requesting directions to whom to deliver the said arms and accoutrements. Referred to Mr. Duane to report a draft of an answer giving proper directions.

The Committee of Safety were informed that Lieutenant-Colonel Welsh has placed several sick in the house where William Barnes and two other poor families now reside; that it is necessary that some hospital be provided for his sick; and no place being considered so proper for an hospital as the said house,

Ordered, That Captain Theodorus Bratt do provide houses or proper places for the said families, and carriages to remove the said three families, that the said house may be used as an Hospital.

The Committee of Safety were further informed that part of a Regiment of Connecticut Troops are arrived here from Hackensack, many of them sick, and the whole destitute of provisions:

Ordered, That Mr. L'Hommedieu and Major Lockwood

* To the Honourable Convention of the Representatives of the State of New-York:

Humbly showeth: That your petitioner having been duly made by said Convention a prisoner as a subject to the King of Great Britain on the twentieth and seventh day of July last, and hath not, from that time to this date, ever received the least support from said States, and hath since that time been obliged to give his honour in pledge for payment of said maintenance; and your petitioner doth think himself duly entitled to the provision made by the honourable Convention for prisoners of war: And whereas your petitioner hath by no means any other resource from which he can be supplied, doth humbly beg the assistance of this Convention to assist me in my unhappy circumstances; and if it seem good to have the said arrears paid.

From your humble petitioner, Alexander Stewart.

Tuesday Morning, November 26th, 1776.

A Pay-Roll and a Subsistence-Roll of Captain Jacob Rutzen De Witt's Company of Rangers, raised in Ulster County, were delivered in for payment:

Ordered, That they be referred for examination to Mr. Newkirk and Mr. Contine.

A Bill of Credit of Rhode-Island, altered and changed so as to appear to be of a greater value than that for which it was issued, viz: appearing to be a bill of twenty shillings lawful, when in fact it is a bill of one shilling lawful, was laid before the Committee of Safety; and the Committee of Safety were informed that one Gilchrist, a soldier in Captain William Jackson's Company, at Fort Constitution, had passed the said bill to the wife of Isaac Schults, at New-Windsor, for twenty shillings lawful, and refused to receive the said bill and repay the money for the same:

Ordered, That the Commanding Officer at Fort Constitution send the said Gilchrist to the Chairman of the Committee of Ulster County; that the said Chairman take all proper examinations in the premises, and if it shall appear to him that the said Gilchrist knew, or had reason to believe, that the said Bill of Credit was altered, and not of the value of twenty shillings, lawful money, that he cause him to be committed to the jail in Ulster County, there to be kept in safe custody until he shall be thence delivered by due course of law.

Whereas there are several Accounts due from this State to the inhabitants of the State of Connecticut, on account of expenses accrued by reason of the removal of stock and the poor inhabitants from Long-Island:

Ordered, That be a Committee to collect and state those Accounts, together with the names of persons bought of, the quantity of stock, and the names of the persons to whom they belonged, together with the place of their present residence, and report the same to the Convention of this State as soon as possible.

Colonel Allison, Mr. Wisner—ORANGE.
Mr. A. Yates, Mr. R. Yates, Mr. Cuyler—ALBANY.
Mr. Newkirk—TRYON.
Mr. W. Smith, Mr. L'Hommedieu, Mr. Miller—SUFFOLK.
Mr. Contine—ULSTER.
Mr. Lockwood—WESTCHESTER.

A Letter from Major-General Heath, of the 25th, was read.

Ordered, That a Letter be written to General Heath, with the thanks of this Committee for his attention, and that Mr. Duane report the draft of such Letter.

Mr. Miller, from the Committee to whom was referred the Memorial of Alexander Stewart, and the case of William Metcalf, do report, that the said Alexander Stewart was committed to the keeper of the jail of Westchester County on the twenty-seventh day of July last, there to remain until further order; that about the twentieth day of October last, the said Alexander Stewart, with the other prisoners who were in that jail, were sent to Fishkill under guard, where the said Alexander Stewart has since remained without any allowance for support known to your Committee. That the said William Metcalf, after he was taken a prisoner of war, was sent to the care of the Committee at Poundridge; that to prevent his making his escape from thence, and for misbehaviour, he was, by order of the said Committee, on the 24th of September last, committed to Westchester jail, from thence he was sent to Fishkill about the 20th of October. That your Committee are of opinion that an allowance be made to each of them, the said William Metcalf and Alexander Stewart, of the like rations as the troops in the service of the United States, from the 20th day of October last: that is to say, in money at the rate of eight-ninetieth parts of a dollar per ration, or in provisions, at their election.

The Committee appointed to inquire into the circumstances of that part of Colonel Bradley's Regiment which is arrived from Hackensack to this place, report, that it appears that those troops being near Fort Lee, on the approach of the enemy, they were directed to retire out of their reach and join the first or nearest corps of the Army of the United States; that some of them are fit for duty, but that a number of them are sick.

Ordered, That the Lieutenant be desired immediately to repair to Peekskill with those fit for duty, and apply to Colonel Heath. That Doctor Graham take care of the sick at Continental expense until General Heath shall send a physician to take charge of them, or give directions concerning them, and that the Commissary at Fishkill supply them with provisions.

Resolved, That Mr. Robert Livingston be requested to repair to Peekskill and North-Castle, to confer with Generals Lee, Heath, and Clinton, on the situation of the enemy within this State; the passes necessary to be secured on both sides of the Highlands, and the means proper for that purpose; and also for obstructing the Hudson's River, near Pollepel's Island, agreeable to the plan recommended by General Clinton.

Resolved, That the navigation of Hudson's River be obstructed near Pollepel's Island, at the northern entrance of the Highlands, agreeable to the plan recommended by General James Clinton; and that the Convention of this State will exert every measure necessary for that purpose.

A Letter from John Campbell, one of the Agents of the Quartermaster-General, dated the 25th instant, and directed to Wm. Duer, Esquire, was read. Information is therein contained that there is a large quantity of Hay, to the amount of thirty or forty tons, on the east side of Van Cortlandt's Manor, belonging to persons who have gone over to the enemy.

Resolved and Ordered, That Mr. Duer, one of the Members, be and is hereby authorized to send proper persons to take the said Hay, and have the same valued and delivered for the use of the Continental Army, and that the price of the said Hay at its full value be deposited in the Treasury of this State, reserving so much as may be necessary for the support of the present stock on each farm; and if there shall be on any such farm a larger stock of cattle than is necessary for the support of the families of such persons who have so gone over to the enemy, that the parts of the said stock as is not necessary for the support of each such family be, together with such Hay, appraised by three respectable freeholders in the neighbourhood and sold to the best advantage, and the amount of the sales thereof deposited in the Treasury of this State.

A Letter from General Scott, dated the 26th instant, was received and read, and is as follows, viz:

"Haverstraw, November 26th, 1776.

"SIR: Upon some alarming accounts from Colonel Hay of a probability that the enemy would attempt a landing from their shipping, and of the defenceless state of the country, as well as the danger that many well-wishers would be reduced by fear to a submission, General Heath thought proper to send me over with my brigade. Upon my arrival here I heard a distinct firing, supposed to be at Acquacknock, where I am assured our Army was determined to engage the enemy this day. I am told the firing began early this morning. I hope to be able to communicate something agreeable to you, which, if in my power, I shall not fail to do by express.

"The sole design of this letter is most earnestly to request the interposition of Convention to prevent the disbanding of my brigade on Sunday next. I have sent an express to General Heath, with a request to send me two more regiments and a field-piece or two. But what will that succour avail if the service is to last only till Sunday? I hope my request will not be imputed to interested motives, when I assure you of my desire to serve my country one month longer without pay. I flatter myself the officers will be ashamed to refuse their service. If our Convention would think proper to furnish me with a bounty for the men, I think I can hold them. You cannot think, sir, of what infinite consequence it will be to this part of the country. Without some proper support, if our troops below should not succeed, the country below the mountains must submit to the enemy. If my views can be seconded by Convention, and General Heath should comply with my requisition, I flatter myself, that with the Militia of the County, numbers of whom I am sure will join me if we countenance those by some suitable support, I may fall on the rear of the enemy with two thousand men. You may easily judge that if General Washington keeps them well employed in front, the expedient I propose may be successful; at least, if I can be strengthened I am determined to risk it, if I should fall in the attempt.

"In short, sir, our cunctandos have put me out of all patience. Let me not forget to tell you that thirty men were inlisted last Sunday into the enemy's service; and can you think, sir, that two thousand men marched southward from this would not check the growing mischief? Be pleased, sir, to make my respectful compliments acceptable to Convention; assure them of my readiness to obey all their commands; reward the expresses, (I keep no account with the publick;) and believe me to be, sir, with undissembled respect and esteem, yours and the publick's, most devotedly,

"JOHN MORIN SCOTT.

"To the President of the Honourable Convention, State of New-York."

A Letter from General Heath, dated yesterday, and appearing to be wrote in the afternoon, was read in the words following, viz:

"Peekskill, November 26, 1776.

"SIR: The time to which the several regiments of General Scott's brigade stand engaged expires on Saturday next, as does that part of the garrison at Forts Montgomery and Constitution, and Colonel Tash's regiment of Militia from the State of New Hampshire, which is now at this post. I also expect that part of the other troops now here will be ordered to march southward. Should this be the case, a pass of vast importance, and now enhanced by the loss of Fort Lee and the enemy having the entire possession of the river up to the forts, will, I think, be much exposed. I think it my duty, therefore, to give you this hint; that if his Excellency General Washington has not wrote to the honourable Convention on the subject, such measures may be adopted as the honourable Convention may think proper. I think that if the several regiments whose time is nearly expired, could be prevailed upon to continue a little longer, it would greatly promote the service. But of this I despair, having been too often convinced that it is hard to persuade them.

"If any of the before-mentioned troops have received arms, accoutrements, or ammunitions, from the State of New-York, I submit it to you whether it would not be expedient to appoint some person or persons to receive them from the soldiery.

"I have not received any thing lately from the southward, either particular or interesting.

"I am, sir, with respect and esteem, your most obedient and very humble servant,

"W. HEATH.

"Honourable P. Van Cortlandt, Esq."

On motion of Mr. Duer,

Resolved, That the Treasurer of this State transmit the said sum of £1,500 to General Scott, taking his receipt for the same.

Mr. Jay dissenting to the granting and the order for the money.

Mr. Robert R. Livingston moved sundry Resolutions relative to obstructing the navigation of Hudson's River, and engaging General Schuyler in that service.

Ordered, That Mr. Duane, Mr. R. R. Livingston, Mr. Jay, Mr. Platt, and Mr. Robert Yates, be a Committee to consider the proposed Resolutions, and report thereon at five o'clock this afternoon.

"SIR: Your favour has been laid before the Convention and referred to a Committee; but the operations of the enemy at this critical juncture calling for the utmost attention and exertions of this State, there is no probability that it can soon be reported or determined upon. You are, for this purpose, to hire and, if not otherwise to be had, to impress boats, if practicable to bring them by water; otherwise carriages, the expense of which shall be defrayed by this State. I am further requested to direct you to give copies of this letter to the commanding officers of such of the battalions as have used any of the publick arms belonging to this State, and also to forward a copy to General Scott. This is intended as a general direction to all the commanding officers of such regiments.

"I am, sir, your most humble servant,

"By order.

Thereon is also endorsed a Certificate, in the words following:

The Committee to whom was committed the Resolutions moved by R. R. Livingston this morning, relative to the obstructing the Hudson's River, reported the same, which was read, agreed to, and approved of, and are in the words following, viz:

"P. M., November 27th, 1776.

"Whereas this Committee did, on the 26th instant, resolve that the navigation of Hudson's River should be obstructed near Poleple's Island, at the north entrance of the Highlands: And whereas the termination of the northern campaign hath probably given General Schuyler leisure to attend to other objects of publick use and importance: And whereas, from that gentleman's well-known abilities and activity, as well as from the advantages resulting from his military command, there is the greatest reason to believe that the business of obstructing the navigation of the said River will be successfully carried on and completed under his direction:

"Resolved, That a Letter be immediately written to Major-General Schuyler, informing him of the survey that has been taken of Hudson's River, at Poliple's Island, and requesting him to take on himself the superintendence and direction of such works as he may think necessary, either there or elsewhere, for the security of Hudson's River.

"Ordered, That a copy be engrossed and sent to General Schuyler.

"Resolved, That a Letter be written to the honourable the Continental Congress, informing them of the measures that have been pursued for obstructing Hudson's River; suggesting the necessity of more effectually securing the posts and passes in the Highlands, employing the Carpenters who are now discharged from the shipping in preparing Fire-Ships and whatever else may be thought necessary for the defence of the River and annoying the enemy on their passage up; and requesting that they will be pleased to put the management thereof under the direction of Major-General Schuyler, whose abilities, knowledge of the country, and military command, will give him great advantages in the execution thereof.

"Resolved, That a Letter be written to his Excellency General Washington, enclosing the above Resolves, and requesting his concurrence therein.

"Resolved, That if the gentleman appointed to confer with the Generals at Peekskill and North-Castle shall not receive sufficient information with respect to the number of men to be stationed for the defence of the passes in the Highlands, that in that case he be instructed to write to his Excellency General Washington, and obtain the necessary information from him."

November 27th, 1776.

An Inventory of personal Estate late belonging to Thomas Barclay, of Ulster County, was produced to the Committee of Safety. The said Thomas Barclay having some months since gone over to the enemy on Nassau Island, and the Hay, Forage, and Grain on the Farm late in his possession (the said Thomas Barclay) being necessary for the support of the American Army:

Resolved and Ordered, That William Duer, Esq., be and is hereby authorized to send proper persons to take all the Hay, Forage, and Grain on the said Farm, except so much as may be necessary for the support of the family and stock to remain on the said Farm, and have the same delivered for the use of the Continental Army; that the said Hay, Forage, and Grain, before its removal, be valued and appraised by James Hunter, Dirck Roosa, and James Howel, who are hereby appointed and authorized to appraise the same; that the price of the said Hay, Forage, and Grain, at its appraisement, be deposited in the Treasury of this State, there to abide the future order of the Convention of Representatives or future Legislature of this State.

Resolved and Ordered further, That all the Stock on the said Farm, except so much as the Commissioners hereafter named may judge necessary for the support of the overseer, his family, and the slaves on the said Farm, be sold at publick auction, to the best advantage, by James Hunter, Dirck Roosa, and James Howell, who are hereby appointed Commissioners for that purpose, and directed to return to the said Representatives an inventory of their appraisement and account of sales; that the said Commissioners give publick notice, by advertisements dispersed in the most publick manner, of the time and place of such sales, and take care that the moneys thence arising be deposited in the Treasury of this State, there to abide the further order of the Convention of Representatives, or future Legislature of this State.

Resolved and Ordered, That Fowler, the present Overseer of the Farm late in the possession of the said Thomas Barclay, continue to take care of the said Hay, Forage, Grain, and Stock, until the removal and sale of the same, and continue his care and charge of the other property on the said Farm until further order of the said Convention of Representatives, or future Legislature of this State.

A draft of a Letter to General Scott, to enclose the Resolutions respecting his Brigade passed this forenoon, was read and approved of, and is in the following words, viz:

"Sir: I have the pleasure to forward the enclosed resolutions of Congress, which took place in consequence of your favour of the 26th instant, together with the fifteen hundred pounds voted as a gratuity for the non-commissioned officers and privates of your brigade. The State is highly sensible of their past services, and have no doubt but the same virtuous principles which called them forth into the service of their country, will animate them to persevere with courage and fortitude to the end of the campaign. I hope, sir, the honourable testimonial which they give of your zeal and patriotism, in this critical juncture, will prove acceptable.

"I am directed to add, that frequent advices of the disposition of the enemy and the events of the campaign, will be singularly useful, as they are necessary to regulate our councils.

"The obstructing Hudson's River at Pollopel's Island, is this day concluded upon.

"I am, with great respect, sir, your most ob't humble servant.

"P. S. Be pleased to pass your receipt to the Treasurer for the £1,500, and return it by the express.

"To Brigadier-General Scott.

"Fishkills, November 27th, 1776."

A draft of a Letter to General Heath, commanding at Peekskill, was to enclose certain Resolutions relative to a part of Bradley's Regiment, were read and approved of, in the words following, that is to say:

"SIR: I have the honour to transmit you the enclosed resolution respecting a part of Colonel Bradley's regiment, who lately came to this place. Several of the members have taken the liberty to advise one of the Lieutenants to repair to Peekskill, with such of his men as are fit for duty. I presume he waits for a more formal command. We have directed a physician to take care of the sick until your directions are received. This small village is so much crowded that it is badly calculated for a hospital, and we fear the present mode of relieving the sick will be very expensive.

"I am, sir, with great respect, yours, &c.

"General Heath, Peekskill."

Mr. Newkirk, Mr. Moore—TRYON.

Colonel Van Cortlandt—WESTCHESTER.

Mr. Duer produced the Pay-Rolls of the Charlotte Rangers, to be paid. They are committed to Mr. Newkirk, Mr. Contine, and Mr. Adgate, to audit and report on the same.

Mr. Moore produced the Pay-Roll of Tryon County Rangers, to be paid. They are committed to the same Committee.

Mr. Robert Yates reported the draft of a Letter to General Schuyler, which was read and approved of, and is in the words following:

"Fishkill, November 28th, 1776.

"SIR: The measures pursued for obstructing Hudson's River have hitherto proved ineffectual; and the necessity of preventing the enemy's penetrating into the northern part of this State is obvious. The Committee of Safety have taken this matter into consideration, and entered into resolves, of which I have the honour of enclosing you a copy.

"They look up to you, sir, for the accomplishment of this work, sensible that your abilities and extensive command will enable you to devise a plan and direct such measures as will speedily effect it.

"General George Clinton, who has this point much at heart, has made a survey of the river opposite Pollepel's Island, with the soundings, at two different stations: a copy thereof I also herewith enclose to you.

"I am, very respectfully, yours, &c.

"Major General Schuyler."

Mr. R. R. Livingston reported a draft of a Letter to General Washington; which was read and approved of, in the words following, viz:

"Fishkill, 28th November, 1776.

"SIR: Agreeable to the directions of the Committee of Safety of this State, I do myself the honour to transmit the enclosed resolutions, and to request, if your Excellency should concur with them in sentiment, that you would, by uniting in, add weight to their application to the honourable the Congress.

"The enemy have long manifested an intention to possess themselves of this State; to which, indeed, its central and commanding situation very naturally invites them. Past experience, with the blessings of Heaven upon your Excellency's vigilance and skill, must ere now have convinced them that this is impracticable, unless by means of their Navy, against which every motive concurs in inducing us to guard. Your Excellency will easily conceive the reasons which influenced the Committee to wish that this business may be confided to General Schuyler, whose activity, aided by his knowledge of the country and its resources, together with the leisure afforded him by the retreat of the enemy from the northern frontier, gives him many advantages over any gentleman in whom those circumstances do not so happily unite; they cannot therefore but hope that the whole of the enclosed resolves will meet with your Excellency's approbation.

"If, unfortunately, they should be deceived in this hope, they will, when your Excellency favours them with your sentiments thereon, endeavour to render them conformable to your wishes.

"I have the honour to be, &c.

"To his Excellency General Washington."

A Muster-Roll of a part of Captain John Wisner's Company, from Orange County, in Colonel Nicoll's Regiment, was produced to the Committee for payment of the bounty, and committed to Mr. Newkirk, Mr. Contine, and Mr. Adgate, to audit and report thereon.

A Pay-List of men belonging to Colonel Nicoll's Regiment, who had, through sickness or otherwise, been prevented from joining the Regiment when mustered, was presented, and committed to the same Committee.

A Pay-Roll of a Detachment of the Ninth Regiment of Albany Militia, from the 5th to the 16th days of October last, while employed in hunting Tories in Kinderhook and King's Districts, amounting to £84 11*s.* 6½*d.*

A Billeting-Roll of the same Detachment, amounting to £18 7*s.* 1*d.*, was also produced, and committed to the Committee above-mentioned.

Mr. Wisner, from the Committee appointed for securing the Frigates, made the following Report:

"Your Committee to whom was referred the securing of the Frigates at Poughkeepsie, report the following Resolves, to be served on Captains Tuder and Lawrence respectively:

"1st. That they fit their respective ships Congress and Montgomery, with all the despatch possible, with so much rigging as is necessary to remove them from Poughkeepsie.

"2d. That they proceed up the river with the first fair wind after the ships are ready, as far as Rondout Kill or Creek, near Esopus Landing, where they are to be wintered, if, after carefully sounding the depth of the water on the bar at the mouth of the creek, they find they can be safely carried in.

"3d. If, upon strict examination, there is not found water enough safely to carry the said ships into the creek, then they are to proceed with all the despatch possible, (after taking on board the best Pilots they can procure,) to Clavcrack Dock, and there secure the ships in the best manner in their power.

"4th. That the quantity of lead in possession of the Convention of this State is so small, that there is none at present to be spared for any other use than musket-ball.

"HENRY WISNER, Chairman."

Resolved, That the Committee of Safety agrees with their Committee in the said Report, and that the same stand confirmed.

A Letter from Elihu Marvin, Chairman of Orange County, dated the 18th, was read; wherein he repuests the direction of the Committee as to what they shall do with Cornelius Thorp and one Murrie, who have altered Congress money bills, one of whom, Thorp, is in jail at Goshen.

Ordered, That the consideration thereof be deferred.

Resolved, That the Committee appointed to report the frame of a Constitution and Government for this State meet every afternoon at four o'clock.

Die Jovis, 4 ho. P. M., November 28th, 1776.

The Committee of Safety met.

Present: Pierre Van Cortlandt, Esq., Vice President.
Mr. Duane, Mr. R. Harper, Mr. Dunscomb—NEW-YORK.
Mr. G. Livingston—DUTCHESS.
Mr. A. Yates, Mr. Adgate, Mr. R. Yates, Mr. Cuyler—ALBANY.
Colonel Van Cortlandt—WESTCHESTER.
Mr. Miller, Mr. W. Smith, Mr. L'Hommedieu—SUFFOLK.
Colonel Allison, Mr. Wisner, Mr. Little—ORANGE.
Mr. Contine—ULSTER.
Mr. Newkirk, Mr. Moore—TRYON.
Major Webster—CHARLOTTE.

The Committee to whom were referred the Muster-Roll of Captain John Wisner's Company, and the Roll of other men belonging to different Companies in Colonel Nicoll's Regiment, who had not received their whole bounty, reported a stated account of the bounty of the whole Regiment, with a Certificate endorsed thereon in the words following, to wit:

"Your Committee appointed this day to audit the several Muster-Rolls of Colonel Isaac Nicoll, do certify that the sum of one hundred and eight Pounds is a balance due to the said Colonel Nicoll, for the bounty of his Regiment, agreeable to the within Account.

"MATTHEW CANTINE,
"MAT. ADGATE,
"BENJ'N NEWKIRK.

"November 28th, 1776."

The said Committee further reported, that the sum of forty-four Pounds, part of a sum of sixteen hundred Pounds advanced to the County Committee of Orange County to pay the first moiety of the bounty of that Regiment, remains in the hands of the Chairman and Deputy Chairman of the County Committee of Orange County, or one of them, unappropriated, which, in the opinion of the Committee, ought to be paid to Captain Nicoll, as part of the money due to him for the balance of the bounty due to his Regiment.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to Colonel Nicoll the sum of sixty-four Pounds, for the bounty of his Regiment, taking Colonel Nicoll's receipt for the same.

And Ordered, That the Chairman and Deputy Chairman of the Committee of Orange County, or one of them, pay to Colonel Isaac Nicoll the said sum of forty-four Pounds, in full for the bounty due to his Regiment.

Mr. Duane reported the draft of a Letter to John Hancock, Esq., President of the Continental Congress, which was read and approved of, in the words following, to wit:

"In Committee of Safety for the State of New-York, }
Fishkill, November 28th, 1776. }

"SIR: I have the honour to enclose you resolutions of the Committee of Safety respecting the more effectual obstruction of Hudson's River. No object appears to them of more importance when they consider either the safety of this State, the supply of the Continental Army, or the preservation of the communication between the Southern and Eastern States. Experience has evinced, that if the navigation had been rendered impassable opposite to Fort Washington, it must have been attended with infinite advantage; among which, even the security of the garrison and military stores at that fort is not the most considerable; indeed, it is no presumption to suppose, that after the fruitless attempt of the British Army to penetrate the country through the White-Plains, they must have closed the campaign, at least in this quarter, with disappointment and disgrace. Their success in reducing the fort revived their spirits; and the evacuation of Fort Lee, in consequence of it, opened a passage for them into the defenceless parts of New-Jersey.

"In projecting the obstruction between Anthony's Nose, on the eastern shore, and Fort Montgomery, we endeavoured to avail ourselves of the model of that which had proved effectual in the river Delaware, and were assisted by the advice and experience of Captain Hazelwood. But the great length of the chain, being upwards of eighteen hundred feet, the bulk of the logs which were necessary to support it, the immense weight of water which it accumulated, and the rapidity of the tide, have baffled all our efforts. It separated twice after holding only a few hours, A; and we have too much reason to despair of its ever fully answering the important purpose for which it was constructed. A like disappointment we are informed happened at Portsmouth; the chain intended to obstruct the navigation of that harbour proved equally ineffectual.

"These considerations have induced us to explore the depth of the river throughout the Highlands, in which a Committee of Convention have been assisted by General George Clinton. The distance and depth of water at the north entrance, which on this experiment is found to be the fittest place, will be seen by the enclosed plan B. It is proposed, with the approbation of the honourable Congress, to obstruct the navigation of this part by cassoons, which it is conceived will be very practicable. The Convention wish, on account of General Washington's distance from the place, and the multiplicity of business with which he is encumbered, that the direction of this work may be committed to Major-General Schuyler, who we believe every way qualified to insure its success. Timber and stones can be conveniently procured, and when the campaign terminates the troops cantoned in this part of the country may be employed in rotation to assist in the work. But no time is to be lost in preparing the materials, and we shall wait with anxiety for the determination of the honourable Congress on a subject which, in the opinion of the Committee, is of the utmost moment to the United States.

"If the enemy persevere in their plan of subjugating these States to the yoke of Great Britain, they must, in proportion to their knowledge of the country, be more and more convinced of the necessity of their becoming masters of the Hudson's River, which will give them the entire command of the water communication with the Indian nations, effectually prevent all intercourse between the Eastern and Southern Confederates, divide our strength, and enfeeble every effort for our common preservation and security. That this was their original plan, and that General Carleton, and General Howe flattered themselves with the delusive hopes of uniting their forces at Albany, every intelligence confirms. And it appears to the Committee that they will not give up this grand object until they shall finally relinquish the project of enslaving America.

"The Committee take the liberty to submit these reflections to the honourable Congress. If they are well founded, an early and vigorous preparation to oppose the progress of the enemy in this quarter must be indispensable, and the defence and security of Hudson's River a principal object of that preparation.

"We are informed that some merchants in the Eastern States are pursuing the scheme of transporting flaxseed to France, to be shipped, as is apprehended, from thence to Ireland. If it is necessary to make Great Britain feel the distresses of the war by obstructing the manufacture of linen, this project will demand the attention of Congress; and in the opinion of this Committee, nothing less than the entire prohibition of the exportation of flaxseed will afford an adequate remedy. Another very important advantage must arise from such a measure: it will encourage the linen manufactory in the States, to which, of all others, they are the most competent.

"However severe the sudden reverse of fortune which we have lately experienced; however melancholy the loss of our metropolis, sea-coast, and four of our Counties, and the aspect of that part of our State which has been plundered and desolated by a retreating enemy, barbarous beyond all description; and however great the number of our ruined friends who are left naked and destitute in an inclement season, and a country without commerce or the means of affording them clothing, I have the satisfaction to assure you that the fortitude of this State, and their zeal for the glorious cause in which we are engaged, is not abated; on the contrary, we are prepared to meet even severer misfortunes with a spirit of firmness becoming the generous advocates for liberty. Unhappy am I to add, that amidst all our sufferings the Army employed for the protection of America have not refrained from embittering even the calamities of war. At a time when the utmost resources of this State were laid open to their wants, and the members of Convention personally submitted to the labour and fatigue which were necessary on a sudden emergency; and after frequent losses of provisions and barracks, to supply too numerous armies, augmented by the Militia, with every article which they required, the Court-House and the remains of the village of White-Plains, which had been spared on the retreat of our forces, were, even after the enemy had in their turn retired, wantonly destroyed without the orders and to the infinite regret of our worthy General; besides, in spite of all his Excellency's efforts, wherever our troops have marched or been stationed, they have done infinite damage to the possessions and farms, and pilfered the property of the people.* I am directed, sir, to submit it to the honourable Congress, whether some effectual remedy ought not to be provided against such disorderly and disgraceful proceedings. The soldier who plunders the country he is employed to protect, is no better than a robber, and ought to be treated accordingly; and a severe example ought, in the opinion of the Committee, to be made of the officer who, without any necessity or his General's permission, set fire to the Court-House at the White-Plains: he is guilty of the crime of arson, and if he cannot be punished by the articles of war, ought to be given up to the laws of the land. If so glaring a violation of every sentiment of humanity should be passed over in silence; if the Army is not seasonably restrained from such acts of barbarity, the consequence must be fatal to the cause of a people whose exalted glory it is to be advocates for the rights of mankind against the tyranny and oppression of lawless power.

"The resolutions which the Committee of Safety have passed upon this subject are herewith transmitted.

"I have the honour to be, with great respect, sir, your most obedient and very humble servant.

"By order:

"PIERRE VAN CORTLANDT, Vice President.

"To the Honourable John Hancock, President of the Congress of the United States."

Mr. Duane produced the draft of a Letter to Major-General Heath; which was read and approved of, in the words following, viz:

"P. M., November 28th, 1776.

"SIR: The Convention of this State, impressed with a sense of your politeness and attention to them, have directed me in the strongest terms to return their thanks for your several favours—the intelligence communicated, the anxiety you express for the better security of this State, and the success of our common cause, by obstructing Hudson's River and preserving the important communication between the Eastern and Southern Governments.

"We have taken into consideration the plan suggested by Brigadier-General Clinton, for obstructing the river opposite to Pollepel's Island; and conceiving it to be practicable, we are determined, with the permission of Congress, to proceed

* DUTCHESS County, ss:

John Martine, of the Manor of Philipse, near the White-Plains, in the County of Westchester, State of New-York, Farmer, of full age, being sworn on the Holy Evangelists of Almighty God, deposeth and saith: That from the beginning of the present struggles he hath been a zealous and active friend to the American cause; that he has a son who hath borne arms in defence of the country in Captain Townsend's company; that after the enemy's army had penetrated into the County of Westchester, to wit, on or about the 28th of October last, this deponent, being at home, saw a considerable body of troops at a distance, advancing on their way towards his house, and form about three quarters of a mile thereof; that he took those troops to be part of the enemy's army, and therefore fled from his house; that in the night of the same day he, this deponent, returned to his house, and found it plundered, or almost all the effects he had left in it carried away; that before his return he had discovered the troops above-mentioned were of the American Army, namely, Colonel Brewer's regiment of Massachusetts, and Colonel Webb's of Connecticut, troops; that the next day he went to Colonel Webb, and complained to him of his having been robbed, as aforesaid, by his men; that Colonel Webb told him that if his men had taken any of his things, they should be returned to him, and gave verbal orders to the officers and soldiers about him to deliver to the deponent such of his goods as they might have taken from him, and told the deponent to go and look among them to see if he could find any of his goods; the deponent accordingly went, and soon discovered some of his beds and blankets, which he took; that he also found some linen hid under the encampment; that he complained also to Major Bacon, of Colonel Brewer's regiment, who gave orders that the deponent should search for his goods among his men, which he accordingly did, and found sundry of his goods upon them; that this deponent was engaged two days in looking for his goods as aforesaid; that the said regiments then marched to North-Castle, and this deponent, having regained but few of his effects, followed the said regiments to that place; that on his way thither, he found Colonel Brewer, then on his way going to Peekskill; that he made known his complaint aforesaid to him; that Colonel Brewer declined saying much about the matter, and went his way; that when the deponent came to North-Castle he again saw Major Bacon; that Major Bacon told the deponent (privately) that a thorough search should be made for his goods as well among the officers as among the soldiers, and that his chest should be first searched; that the deponent accordingly searched the Major's chest and baggage, without finding any of his effects; that the Captains Hilliard and Gale, both of Colonel Brewer's regiment, went with this deponent and Marmaduke Forster (who had also been plundered) to a room in which there were a number of chests and baggage belonging to the regiment; that they examined the said chests and baggage, and found considerable of their things; that they found a pillow belonging to the deponent in the chest of Captain Gale; that on the same day this deponent discovered on a baggage cart a green rug which he took to be his, and challenged it in the presence of Major Bacon; that the deponent called out, Who has taken this? that some of the soldiers said, it belongs to Major Bacon; that Major Bacon thereupon said it had been thrown into Colonel Brewer's tent with a bed, and that he and the Colonel had lain two nights upon it; that the next day the deponent went to the encampment of Captain Shaddock's company, of Colonel Brewer's regiment; that they complied of their treatment as aforesaid to Captain Shaddock; that Captain Shaddock paraded his men, and caused their baggage to be searched; that the deponent there found a considerable quantity of their effects; that among other things he found a quantity of tow cloth, which they had divided among them. And this deponent further saith, that the goods and articles mentioned in the list subjoined to this affidavit, and which he verily believes were taken from his house at the time and by the regiments aforesaid, are still missing, and that the prices affixed to them respectively do not exceed their true value. And this deponent saith that he hath often hospitably and kindly entertained many of the American officers and soldiers, as well of those regiments as of many others, and hath on all occasions endeavoured to promote the service of the American cause. And this deponent further saith that divers of the inhabitants of the country about this deponent have also been cruelly plundered by the American troops, and particularly that he saw in the possession of some of Captain Ford's men, of Colonel Brewer's regiment, bed curtains, which they confessed they had taken out of the house of Tolmon Pugsley, and that Captain Ford confessed to this deponent that he had got sundry things out of that house. And further this deponent saith not. JOHN MARLINE.

FISHKILL, in DUTCHESS County:

Marmaduke Forster, of the City of New-York, but of late residing in the Manor of Philipsburgh, near White-Plains, in Westchester County, in the State of New-York, Carpenter, of full age, being duly sworn on the Holy Evangelists of Almighty God, deposeth and saith: That from the beginning of the present struggle he hath been a zealous and active friend to the American cause; that he held a commission of First Lieutenant in Captain Samuel Johnson's company of Militia in the City of New-York, in the execution of which he exerted himself to the utmost of his abilities; that last May he removed his family, with most of his effects, to his father-in-law's, John Martine, in the Manor of Philipsburgh, in Westchester County, aforesaid; that on the next day after the first ships of war sailed up the North River, he procured a certificate and permit from the Committee of New-York, and removed himself to his father-in-law's aforesaid, where he continued to reside till on or about the 28th of October last; that about four o'clock in the afternoon of that day he was at the rear of his father-in-law's house, when his said father-in-law called to him and informed him that the enemy's troops (who some time before were landed in Westchester County) were with the utmost vigour to carry it into effect. The assistance you so cheerfully promise will be very essential, and we shall, from time to time, avail ourselves of it.

Colonel Van Cortlandt, Colonel Drake—WESTCHESTER.
Mr. A. Yates, Mr. Adgate, Mr. R. Yates, Mr. Cuyler—ALBANY.

On reading the Letter of Isaac Paris, Esq., Chairman of the Committee of Tryon County, dated the 13th instant, informing of the commitment of Captain John Winn to Tryon County jail, on a charge of having killed one of his men by a push of the muzzle of his gun into his belly,

Resolved, That the Committee of Tryon County have acted prudently, and as became guardians of the lives and liberties of their fellow-citizens, in committing John Winn to confinement for trial.

Resolved, That the said Captain John Winn be continued in confinement until he shall be tried in a regular court of justice.

Resolved, That the Committee of Tryon County be authorized and requested to appoint a Jailor pro tempore, to take charge of the jail of Tryon County and prisoners therein, until further order of the Convention of the Representatives or future Legislature of this State.

Ordered, That a copy of the above Resolutions be transmitted to Isaac Paris, Esq., Chairman of that Committee.

A Member informed the Committee that Captain *James Stewart is attending at this place, and complains that he is without a commission, and that Colonel Malcolm alleges that he cannot pay him until he settles with Convention for in sight and coming towards the house; that the deponent and his said father-in-law retired to some distance from the house, and where they had an opportunity of viewing the said troops; that from the dress and uniform of the said troops the deponent and his father-in-law believed them to be Hessians; that the deponent thereupon fled, as did also his father-in-law, to prevent falling into their hands; that the next day the deponent, on hearing that they were not the enemy's troops, attempted to return to the said house, but was stopped by the guards of the American Army by order of Lord Stirling; that the deponent then went back about three miles to a house where he had left his wife the night before. He there heard that his father-in-law had been to his house, from whence they fled on the appearance of the supposed enemy; that the troops which they had seen coming to the house when they left it were of the American Army, and that they had plundered and carried off every thing which was in the house, and that his father-in-law was at the White-Plains endeavouring to regain them; that the next morning the deponent went to the White-Plains and found his father-in-law there, who had got back sundry of his things and some books belonging to the deponent; that he was told immediately on his coming to the White-Plains, by some of the men of Captain Post's company of Artificers, that he must inquire among the men of Captain Ford's company, of Colonel Brewer's regiment, for his things, for they had seen many of his carpenter's tools among them which they knew; that the deponent went to Captain Ford's quarters, but could not find him, and then went to Captain Shaddock, of the same regiment, who told the deponent that if he could procure a written order and prove himself a friend to the country, his things should be delivered to him if any of them were in the possession of his men; that the deponent then went to Major Bacon, of the same regiment, and informed him that he had been plundered of his effects, and that some of Captain Post's men had told him that they had seen some of his carpenter's tools among the men of Captain Ford's company, and that Captain Shaddock had directed the deponent to the commanding officer for a written order to search for them, and that if he could procure such an order he should have them; that the Major did not give the deponent a written order, but told him he should have such of his things as were in the possession of any of the men in the regiment, and in a great hurry broke off; that the deponent then went to his father-in-law's house to see particularly what things were still remaining and what carried off; that he found his tool-chest broke open, the irons taken out of all his planes and carried away, together with his saws, chisels, and all his other tools; that the deponent then made his complaint to General McDougall, who referred him to Colonel Brewer; that on his applying to Colonel Brewer the Colonel promised him that the next morning the regiment should be paraded, and that such things as were found among them belonging to the deponent should be delivered to him, and that the deponent should call on him the next day and receive them; that the next day the deponent went accordingly, but the regiment was removed to North-Castle; that two or three days after the deponent and his said father-in-law, in going to North-Castle to inquire for the said regiment, met Colonel Brewer on his way to Peek's Kill; that the deponent told him he was returned to North-Castle; that Colonel Brewer did not incline to say much on the subject, but told the deponent that he must go to Major Bacon; that on the deponent's coming to Major Bacon, at North-Castle, the Major ordered his men's chests and baggage to be searched in the deponent's presence; that some bound books belonging to the deponent were found in some of the men's knapsacks, and a brass kettle hanging on a baggage cart; that the next day the deponent, with his father-in-law, went to Captain Shaddock's (of said regiment) encampment; that the said Captain ordered his men to be paraded, and to bring out with them all their things; that the deponent discovered in the possession of a Lieutenant of the said company a blanket which he, the deponent, claimed; that the said Lieutenant refused to deliver to the deponent the said blanket unless he would pay him five shillings and four pence for bringing it so far, which sum the deponent paid; that Lieutenant Hitchins, of Captain Pollard's company, has told this deponent that he had liberty to go out with the party on the day they went to the deponent's father-in-law's house, but on finding that their intention was to plunder, he declined going; that the said Lieutenant Hitchins's father told this deponent that he had heard that Captain Ford had sent off two men with plunder to New-England; that Captain Pollard told the deponent that the said Captain Ford has now in his possession a horse which he has plundered in Westchester County. And this deponent further saith, that the goods and articles mentioned in the list subjoined to this affidavit, and which he verily believes were taken from his father-in-law's house at the time and by the regiment aforesaid, are still missing, and that the prices affixed to them respectively do not exceed their true value. And further saith not.

Ordered, That the case of Captain James Stewart and his accounts be referred to Mr. Contine, Mr. Adgate, and Mr. Newkirk, to report thereon; and that they report their opinion whether it is proper to continue him in service.

Mr. Adgate gave notice that he shall to-morrow move to have the Resolutions passed on the 12th and 14th inst., appointing Mr. L'Hommedieu, Colonel Allison, and himself, a Committee to take care of the Poor, and giving them powers for that purpose, reconsidered.

The Committee appointed yesterday to examine the Pay-Roll and the Subsistence-Roll of a Detachment of the Militia of the Ninth Regiment of the Militia of Albany, ordered to hunt for and apprehend Tories in Kinderhook and King's District, in the County of Albany, from the 5th to the 16th day of October, 1776, inclusive, delivered back the said two Rolls, with an endorsement on each in the words following, viz:

"Your Committee appointed to audit the within Roll, do report, that they are not furnished with any proper vouchers for the calling out said Militia, therefore are of opinion they cannot properly audit the said Roll.

"MAT. ADGATE,

Ordered, That the said Pay and Subsistence Roll be returned.

Mr. Gilbert Livingston, one of the Secret Committee, requested an Order on the Treasurer for £2,000, to enable him to discharge sundry demands for money brought against the said Committee.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State advance to Gilbert Livingston, Esq., one of the members of the Secret Committee, the sum of £2,000, towards defraying the expenses incurred by said Committee, he to be accountable to this Commtittee, or Convention of this State, for the same.

On motion of William Duer,

A Letter from A. Hawkes Hay to John McKesson was read. Therein is contained an Account for Provisions due to Edward W. Keirs, amounting to upwards of £400, and an Account for Liquors, amounting to upwards of £155.

Ordered to be referred to a Committee to audit and report thereon.

Robert R. Livingston informed the Committee that he had, agreeable to their request, conferred with Major-General Heath and Brigadier-General Clinton on the subject of the resolutions of the 26th instant. That he had endeavoured, from the best evidence he could collect of the enemy's motions, to form some judgment of their intentions; that from this he was led to believe that they did not intend to make any attack on the Highlands, or at least not upon any other than the passes on the post-road, which they might possibly attempt by landing their troops at Peekskill; that all their forces appear to be drawn from Westchester County, so that they do not probably intend to march up to the White-Plains this season; that General Heath's division, including those of the Forts in the Highlands, consists of about two thousand men, without counting General Scott's Brigade; that it is the opinion of the Generals that, considering the strength of the ground, this will be sufficient to repel the enemy and maintain the pass till they can be reinforced; that Mr. Livingston had reason to believe that General Lee had already crossed the river with his division, to join General Washington, for which reason he did not think it necessary to go to the Plains, in one particular, as there was no apparent danger that the posts occupied by General Lee would be attacked, and he was able to obtain every necessary information from the Generals, with whom he conversed at Peekskill; that from them he collected that, after the removal of General Lee's division, there would remain under the command of General Spencer, about the White-Plains and places adjacent, about three thousand men, which, with the works already erected, and the natural strength of the ground, the Generals were of opinion were sufficient to maintain those passes; that they were also of opinion that the passes on the west side of the river were sufficiently secured; that they did not therefore think necessary at present to call out the Militia, but wished to have those of Ulster and Orange Counties put under marching orders. That, as Mr. Livingston was apprehensive of the enemy's being able to cross Hudson's River with much more expedition than our Army, he had inquired of the Generals what number of boats we were furnished with, and had the satisfaction to find that we had sufficient to transport one brigade at each trip.

Mr. Livingston further informed the Convention that he had conferred with Major-General Heath and Brigadier-General Clinton about obstructing Hudson's River at Pollepel's Island, (at which conference Mr. Machin assisted;) that it appeared to them to be extremely practicable, and that he had the pleasure of assuring the Convention that both Generals seemed strongly impressed with a sense of the importance of that work, but determined to give every assistance in their power to perfect the same, or rather to take it upon themselves, which his Excellency General Washington's orders on that head (which General Heath was so obliging as to communicate to Mr. Livingston) happily enabled them to do; that in this conference it was determined that five hundred men, under the command of Brigadier-General Clinton, should this day march for Fort Constitution, in order to begin the work on Sunday morning, in case they can be provided with three hundred axes by this Convention, all other tools having been furnished out of the Continental stores.

Mr. Livingston further informed the Convention, that having conferred with Mr. Machin about the chain, he had reason to believe that, with proper alterations, it might still be made very useful; that he had therefore taken the liberty to direct him to make the necessary alterations in the mode of fixing the same, and removing it to any situation where it can be most advantageously placed; of which measure, if the Convention approve, he begs some resolution to justify his proceedings therein.

That from the whole of the above conference, Mr. Livingston was of opinion that the following Resolutions were necessary, which he therefore begs leave to recommend:

Resolved, 1st, That Mr. Cuyler and Mr. Duer be authorized and required to employ such and so many persons as they shall think fit to purchase and collect three hundred Felling Axes; and that they have power to impress the same where there is more than one in a family, paying the full value or offering to return the same on or before the first day of January next; and that they advance such sums of money as they shall think necessary for the purpose, which this Committee will repay; that the Axes so obtained be delivered to General George Clinton, or his agent, taking a receipt therefor as so many Axes delivered into the Continental store.

Resolved, 2d, That the persons so employed set out on this business immediately, and return all the Axes they shall obtain this day to General Clinton, or his agent, at New-Windsor, by seven o'clock on Sunday morning or as soon after as possible; that in order to compensate their extraordinary fatigue, one shilling will be paid to each agent for every Axe by him delivered over and above his wages and expenses of carriage.

Resolved, 3d, That John Teller, John Elmendorff, Jeremiah Clark, and Nicholas Brewer, Junior, be appointed agents to collect, within one week, as many Boats, Scows, and Crafts as are fit for carrying Stone; that they have power to hire or impress the same, Ferry Boats excepted, permitting the owner of every Boat with sails to put one hand on board, if he shall choose it, and giving a receipt therefor, which receipt shall specify the hire agreed for; that the Boats be delivered to General Clinton, or to his agent, at New-Windsor, with all possible despatch; that on such delivery to General Clinton, they be respectively appraised by three respectable freeholders, and a similar receipt taken therefor by the persons delivering the same.

Resolved, 4th, That Mr. Gilbert Livingston cause the Spars and Timber purchased by the Secret Committee to be immediately rafted to New-Windsor, and delivered to General Clinton or his order, and that a receipt be taken therefor.

Resolved, 5th, That Gilbert Livingston, Esq., be empowered to cause three tons of Iron, of an inch and a half and one inch and three-quarters thick, bearing an equal quantity of each, or such other quantities and sizes as General Clinton may direct, to be delivered as soon as possible at New-Windsor.

Resolved, 6th, That Mr. Cuyler, Mr. Cantine, and Colonel Allison, be a Committee to supply such other necessaries as General George Clinton may apply for, in order to perfect the obstructions of the navigation of Hudson's River; and that they be empowered to draw on the Treasury for a sum not exceeding four hundred Pounds, to defray the expense thereof.

Resolved, 7th, That all the Troops of this State who are not, by the terms of their inlistments, confined to particular Counties, except those in the Counties of Charlotte, Tryon, Cumberland, and Gloucester, be ordered down to Fort Constitution, and be annexed to General George Clinton's Brigade, till the 1st day of January next; and that Letters be written to the Chairman of the County Committees where the Troops are under their direction.

Resolved, 8th, That the Militia of Orange and Ulster Counties hold themselves in readiness to march at a moment's warning, to oppose the invasion of the enemy on the west side of Hudson's River; that Brigadier-General Clinton issue orders accordingly; and that they march for that purpose on receiving the orders of Major-General Heath, provided such orders shall be given within one month.

Resolved and Ordered, 9th, That a copy of the last preceding Resolution be transmitted to Major-General Heath and Brigadier-Generals Clinton and Scott.

Resolved, 10th, That this Committee agree with Mr. Livingston in his Report in the preceding Resolution as amended.

Resolved, 11th, That Mr. Machin be requested and authorized to alter and fix the Chain intended for the obstruction of Hudson River, in such manner and at such place as he thinks best calculated to answer the purpose for which it was intended; and that this Committee will advance the money necessary to defray the expense thereof.

Ordered, 12th, That a copy of the preceding Resolutions be transmitted to Major-General Heath and Brigadier-General George Clinton.

Resolved, 13th, That the draft of the Letter to the honourable Continental Congress agreed upon by the Committee, and directed to be despatched, be altered [to conform] to the preceding Report and Resolutions, and that Mr. Duer be requested to prepare the and alterations.

Resolved, 14th, That a copy of the preceding Resolutions be transmitted, in a Letter, to Major-General Schuyler; and that he be requested to meet and consult with General Clinton on the plan for obstructing Hudson's River, near Pollepus Island; and that Mr. Duane prepare a draft of the said Letter.

A Letter was received from General Scott, dated at Haverstraw, on the 28th, representing the exposed situation of that part of the country, and the uncertainty of his being able to retain his Brigade in service a month longer, notwithstanding all his efforts. Whereupon,

Resolved, That a copy of such parts of General Scott's Letter of the 28th as relates to his present situation, of his dread of that part of the country, be sent to General Heath, and that General be requested to give such relief to General Scott as the particular circumstances of that part of the country may require.

Mr. Duer, pursuant to a Resolution of this morning, reported certain alterations he had made in the draft of a Letter to the honourable the President of the Continental Congress, agreed to on the 28th instant; which were approved of, and by which the following was substituted instead of that part of said Letter contained between the words "defenceless parts of New-Jersey," in conclusion of the first paragraph, and the words "however severe the sudden reverse of fortune," in beginning of the last paragraph, viz:

"In perfecting the obstruction between Anthony's Nose, on the eastern shore, and Fort Montgomery, we endeavoured to avail ourselves of the model of that which had proved effectual in the river Delaware, and were assisted by the advice and experience of Captain Hazlewood; but the great length of the chain, being upwards of eighteen hundred feet, the bulk of the logs which were necessary to support it, the immense weight of water which it accumulated, and the rapidity of the tide, have baffled all our efforts: it separated twice, after holding only a few hours.

"Mr. Machin, the Engineer of Fort Montgomery, is of opinion that, with proper alterations, it may still be of service in another part of the river; and we have, with General Heath's concurrence, directed him to make the trial. But we have too much reason to despair of its ever fully answering the important purpose for which it was constructed. A like disappointment, we are informed, happened at Portsmouth, the chain intended to obstruct the navigation of that harbour proving equally ineffectual.

"These considerations have induced us to explore the depth of the river throughout the Highlands, in which a Committee of the Convention have been assisted by General George Clinton. The distance and depth of water at the north entrance, which, on the experiment, is found to be the fittest place, will be seen by the enclosed plan. General Heath, on a conference with General Clinton, has been pleased to recommend the obstruction of the navigation in this part of the river by cassoons; and the Committee of Safety, after mature deliberation, conceiving it to be very practicable, have agreed to the further resolutions which are herewith transmitted. They wish, on account of General Washington's distance and the multiplicity of business with which he is encumbered, that the direction of this work may be committed to Major-General Schuyler, who we believe to be every way qualified to ensure its success. Timber and stones can be conveniently procured; and when the campaign terminates, the troops cantoned in this part of the country may be employed in rotation to assist in the work. If the enemy persevere in their plan of subjugating the States to the yoke of Great Britain, they must, in proportion to their knowledge of the country, be more and more convinced of the necessity of their becoming masters of Hudson's River, which will give them the entire command of the water communication with the Indian nations, effectually prevent all intercourse between the Eastern and Southern Confederates, divide our strength, and enfeeble every effort for our common preservation and security. That this was their original plan, and that General Carleton and General Howe flattered themselves with the delusive hopes of uniting their forces at Albany, every intelligence confirms; and it appears to the Committee that they will not give up this grand object until they shall finally relinquish the project of enslaving America.

"The Committee take the liberty to submit these reflections to the honourable Congress. If they are well founded, an early and vigorous preparation to oppose the progress of the enemy in this quarter must be indispensable, and the defence and security of Hudson's River a principal object of that preparation."

Ordered, That a copy of the said Letter as amended be engrossed and signed by the President and transmitted.

Sunday P. M., December 1st, 1776.

Mr. Duane, Mr. Dunscomb, Mr. Roosevelt, Colonel Lott—New-York.
Mr. A. Yates—Albany.
Mr. Moore, Mr. Miller, Mr. W. Smith, Mr. L'Hommedieu, Colonel Drake, Colonel Van Cortlandt.

Mr. Duane presented the draft of a Letter to Major-General Schuyler; which was read and approved of, and is in the words following, viz:

"Sir: At a late conference between Mr. Livingston, one of our members, and the Generals Heath and George Clinton, at Peekskill, the obstruction of Hudson's River, near Polopel's Island, was determined upon, and the necessary preparations are making, by impressing axes and boats, and drawing together a number of men, for carrying on the work with vigour and despatch.

"It is a favourite plan of General Clinton's, who is for the present permitted to attend to its execution; and we wish it may be in your power at least to give him the advantage of your opinion and advice. The disappointment of two attempts to obstruct the river at Fort Washington and Fort Montgomery increases our anxiety for the success of the present effort.

"It was discovered, to our great satisfaction, that General Heath's instructions from General Washington, which he willingly communicated to the conference, enabled him to proceed in this important work all at the Continental expense, without further authority from the honourable Congress. We are very sensible they would cheerfully have concurred in every expedient for the security of Hudson's River, on which the safety of this State, the neutrality of the Indian nations, and the communication between the Southern and Eastern Confederates absolutely depend; yet we foresaw that if their approbation had been essential, the preparations must have been suspended so long that the execution of the business might have become impracticable. I have the honour to transmit to you the resolutions of the Committee of Safety on this subject.

"I am, with great respect, sir, your most obedient, humble servant. By order.

"Major-General Schuyler."

Ordered, That a copy be engrossed and signed by the President and transmitted.

Mr. Duane reported the draft of a Letter to Brigadier-General Scott, which was read and approved of, in the words following, viz:

"Sir: Your favour of the has been laid before the Committee of Safety. Upon a late conference between Mr. Livingston, who attended for that purpose, and Generals Heath and Clinton, at Peekskill, the obstruction of Hudson's River, at Pollepel's Island, has been resolved upon, and the necessary preparations are making for carrying on the work with the utmost vigour and despatch. Orders are likewise given to the Militia of Orange and Ulster Counties to hold themselves in readiness at a moment's warning to oppose the invasion of the enemy on the west side of Hudson's River, and to march on receiving notice from General Heath, it having been concluded at the conference that this measure was preferable, and for the present sufficient.

"Your last despatches had not at this time come to hand. An extract on the subject of the reinforcement you think necessary, was therefore directed to be transmitted to General Heath. Some of the Continental regiments which have been employed to the northward are now returning; they have still a month to serve, and may, if General Heath approves of it, be sent to support you without increasing the publick expense and distressing the State by moving the Militia; but this is a measure out of our province.

"The Committee of Safety intended that £1,500 as a gratuity to your brigade for their past services. They leave the disposal and distribution of it to your judgment, agreeable to their former resolutions.

"I am, sir, your most obedient servant.

"Brigadier-General Scott."

A draft of a Letter to be addressed to John Teller, John Elmendorf, Jeremiah Clark, and Nicholas Brewer, Jun., appointed agents for collecting Boats, Scows, and Crafts, by the third Resolution passed yesterday for obstructing the navigation of Hudson's River, was read and approved of, in the following words, viz:

"December 1, 1776.

"Sir: The necessity of obstructing the navigation of Hudson's River, near Pollepel's Island, having been resolved upon as an object of the utmost moment to the safety of this State, the enclosed resolutions have been adopted.

"The advanced season of the year requires that the preparations should be made with the utmost vigour; and from an opinion which the Committee of Safety entertain of your activity and your zeal for the common cause in which we are engaged, they have unanimously appointed you to the trust mentioned in the said resolutions. They entertain no doubt that you will execute it with fidelity, despatch, and cheerfulness.

"I am, sir, your very ob't servant. By order."

Colonel Allison, Mr. Little—Orange.
Mr. Smith, Mr. Miller, Mr. L'Hommedieu—Suffolk.
Colonel Van Cortlandt, Colonel Drake—Westchester.
Mr. Cantine—Ulster.
Mr. R. R. Livingston—Dutchess.
Mr. Moore, Mr. Newkirk, Mr. Harper—Tryon.

A Letter from Henry Wisner, Esq., dated Goshen, November 30, 1776, relative to a drove of Cattle for the use of the American Army, was read and filed.

Ordered, That a Letter be written to the person who has the charge of the said drove of Cattle, directing him to apply for directions of the Commissary-General.

Ordered, That a Committee be appointed to write to Colonel Trumbull relative to Salt, &c., and that Mr. Duane, Mr. R. R. Livingston, and Mr. Cuyler, be that Committee.

A Letter from William Miller, dated Harrison's Purchase, November 28, 1776, relative to the Records of the County, and requesting the advice of Convention relative to his conduct as an executor to an estate, was read and filed.

Ordered, To be referred to the same Committee.

Mr. R. R. Livingston delivered in sundry Accounts which were put into his hands by Frederick Jay, Esquire, from the Committee of Westchester County.

Ordered, That they be referred to Mr. Adgate, Mr. Cantine, and Mr. Newkirk.

A Certificate, signed by Captain Abraham Swartwout, at Fort Montgomery, November 9th, 1776, certifying that there is due to Ensign T. Finch his inlisting money for ten men inlisted for Captain Swartwout's Company.

Referred to the above Committee.

A draft of a Letter to Stephen Gilbert, the person who has charge of the Cattle mentioned in Mr. Wisner's letter received and read this day, was read and approved, in the following words:

"Committee of Safety, Fishkill, December 2, 1776.

"Sir: Mr. Wisner informs the Committee of Safety that about four hundred and fifty cattle purchased for the use of the Continental Army, are now at Smith's Clove, under your care, and desires our opinion how they ought to be disposed of. We desire you to apply to the Commissary-General for his directions. We have not authority to interfere; and if we thought it advisable to have the cattle killed and put up, we have no salt. If the cattle are ordered to follow the Army, your own prudence will suggest the necessity of using such caution as will prevent their falling into the hands of the enemy.

"I am, sir, your humble servant,

"Pierre Van Cortlandt, V. Pres't.

"Mr. Stephen Gilbert."

Ordered, That the same be transmitted.

Colonel Drake delivered in the Report of the Committee relative to Cattle, Stock, &c., in Westchester County; which was read and recommitted, and Mr. Duane added to the Committee.

The Committee appointed to take into consideration the Memorial of Captain James Stewart, delivered in their Report; which was read, and is in the words following, viz:

"That on examining the muster and subsistence rolls of Captain Stewart to the time of his having joined Colonel Malcom's regiment, on the 22d of August last, as also what money was paid to the said Captain Stewart, they find a balance of £31 2*s*. due to him for bounty and subsistence for his company, and that as Captain Stewart has fully accounted for the money advanced to him by this State, he ought to receive his pay."

Resolved, That the Committee of Safety agree with their Committee in the said Report.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to Captain James Stewart the sum of £31 2*s*., in full for bounty and subsistence due to his Company until it became a part of Colonel Malcom's Regiment.

The Committee to whom was referred the Pay and Subsistence Rolls of Charlotte County Rangers, delivered in their Report; which was read and agreed to, and is in the words following, that is to say:

"Your Committee, to whom was referred the pay and subsistence rolls of Charlotte County Rangers, do report: On examining the said pay and subsistence rolls, we find that by the incorrectness of the original rolls that are signed by the Captains, they have been necessarily redrawn and corrected; and as the Captains have not signed and attested said rolls, we give it as our opinion that the said pay and subsistence rolls be sent to the Committee of Charlotte County, and that the form of the oaths, as directed by this House, be wrote on the back of each of said rolls, and signed by the Captains, that thereby proper vouchers may appear to said rolls, and returned to this Convention.

"And whereas great difficulties may arise to said men for want of said pay, we give it as our opinion that the balance of £434 3*s*. 5¾*d*. due on said rolls be sent to the Chairman of the Committee of the County of Charlotte, to be paid to said Rangers, with this particular resolution, that the officers, before they receive any of said pay or subsistence money, first make and subscribe the oath wrote on the back of said pay and subsistence roll; and that a letter be written by the Secretary to the Chairman of said Committee, enclosing a copy of this report, together with said pay and subsistence roll.

"Mat. Adgate,
"Benj'n Newkirk,
"Mathew Cantine."

Ordered, That the Treasurer pay to Major Alexander Webster the sum of £464 3*s*. 5¾*d*., to be transmitted to the Committee of Charlotte County, for the pay and subsistence of the Rangers, taking a receipt of said Major Webster for the same, and that the said Committee regulate themselves in paying the said money, agreeable to the resolutions of the Convention of the Representatives of this State, on the 23d day of July last, for raising, mustering, and paying the said Rangers, and the resolves and instructions of this Committee of the 21st of October, for the same purpose, and the resolutions of this Committee of the 12th November. That the Muster-Rolls be delivered on oath, as therein directed, by each Commissioned Officer of each Company making return, before it is transmitted to Convention, and that they do not advance any part of this money for any Rangers but such as armed and accoutred agreeable to said resolutions of the 23d of July last.

A Pay-Roll of Captain Isaac Belknap's Company of Rangers, raised in Ulster County, from the 10th day of October to the 8th day of November, 1776, both days included, was delivered by the Committee to whom it was referred. A Certificate is thereon endorsed in the words following, to wit:

"I do hereby certify, on the oath I have taken before the Committee of the County of Ulster, that this Pay-Roll is just and true. "Isaac Belknap.

"November 24th, 1776."

"We the subscribers, a Committee appointed by the Committee of Safety to audit this Pay-Roll, do certify that we have examined the same, and allow the sum of £92 13*s*. 3*d*. to be due to Captain Isaac Belknap therefor.

"Benj. Newkirk,
"Mat. Adgate,
"Mat. Cantine."

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to Captain Isaac Belknap, on his receipt, the sum of £92 13*s*. 3*d*., in full for the pay of his Company from the 10th day of October to the 8th day of November, both days included.

A Roll of Subsistence or Billeting of the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, and Privates of Captain Belknap's said Company, from the 10th day of October to the 8th day of November, both days included, was also delivered in, certified and audited by the same gentlemen, in a manner similar to the above-mentioned Pay-Roll, whereby it is certified that they allow the sum of £54 17*s*. 6*d*. to be due to the said Isaac Belknap for the billeting of his Company.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to the said Captain Isaac Belknap, on his receipt, the sum of £54 17*s*. 6*d*., in full for the billeting and subsistence of his Company from the 10th day of October to the 8th day of November, both days included.

A Pay-Roll of a Second Lieutenant, two Non-Commissioned Officers, and eight Privates, late part of Captain William Ludlum's Company, in Colonel Josiah Smith's Regiment, was delivered to the Committee of Safety. Thereon is wrote an affidavit of Ephraim Marston, the said Second Lieutenant, sworn before the Vice President, that the persons therein named are in such parts of this and the neighbouring States not in the possession of the enemy; that they served the time therein mentioned, to wit: one month and seven days. Thereon is also endorsed a Certificate in the words following, to wit:

"Your Committee appointed by the Committee of Safety to audit this Pay-Roll, having examined the same, do allow the sum of £44 12*s*. 4*d*. due to Lieutenant Ephraim Marston, and the persons therein-mentioned.

"Ben. Newkirk,
"Mat. Adgate,
"Mat. Cantine.

"December 2d, 1776."

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to Lieutenant Ephraim Marston the sum of £44 12*s*. 4*d*., in full for the wages due to himself and the other persons named in the said Muster-Roll, taking Lieutenant Marston's receipt for the same.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to Major James Abeel the sum of £25 0*s*. 6*d*., in full for his disbursements for subsisting sundry men under his command to Long-Island, for the purpose of apprehending a number of disaffected persons, by order of the Committee appointed for that purpose, agreeable to an account delivered in and sworn to by Major Abeel.

The Committee to whom was referred the Account transmitted by Colonel Hay, delivered in their Report; which was read and agreed to, and is as follows, to wit:

"Your Committee to whom was referred the letter of A. Hawkes Hay, report, that they have examined the account, that which was therein enclosed from the Precinct of Haverstraw, and find it unaccompanied by any vouchers, except one for £155 19*s*. 9*d*., for liquors. That by a certificate at the foot of the account, they find that A. Hawkes Hay, Esq., has in his possession vouchers for every article therein charged. That as the account is for a very considerable sum, they are desirous of having the vouchers with it, and therefore are of opinion that the following Letter be wrote to Mr. Hay, to wit:

"Sir: The account which you enclosed to Mr. John McKesson, from the Precinct of Haverstraw, for necessaries furnished the troops who guarded the shore in July and August last, has been laid before the Committee of Safety, but being unaccompanied by any receipts or vouchers, cannot well be audited. I therefore beg that you will send the several vouchers, which, by a certificate at the foot of the general account signed by you, I find are in your possession.

"I am, &c.

"Mat. Adgate,
"Mat. Cantine,
"Ben. Newkirk.

"A. Hawkes Hay, Esq."

Ordered, That the said Letter be engrossed, signed by the President, and transmitted.

Sundry Resolutions relative to burning the Court-House at White-Plains, were read and agreed to, and are as follows:

Whereas this Committee have been informed that sundry of the inhabitants of this State have been unjustly plundered of their property by the Troops of the Continental Army, and that the publick and private buildings at the White-Plains, in the County of Westchester, have been wantonly and wickedly burned by, as this Convention are informed, an officer and a party under his command, without orders from his superiour officers:

Therefore, Resolved, first, That the laws of the country are not suspended or superseded by the military code, or the presence of the Army.

Second. That in all cases where both the party offending and the party injured are not inlisted in the Continental Army, that the offenders are amenable to the laws of the country.

Third. That by the laws of this State the burning of Dwelling-Houses is felony, without the benefit of clergy, and punishable with death.

Fourth. That a letter be written to General Washington, requesting that the officer directing the burning of the Court-House and Dwelling-Houses at the White-Plains be delivered to this Committee or the Convention of this State, in order to his being tried by the laws of the State, and, if guilty, punished thereby.

Fifth. That the honourable Continental Congress be informed of these Resolutions, and requested to make such alterations in the military law as more effectually to prevent the robbery and plunder of the inhabitants of those States in which the Armies are, and to General Washington, asking his concurrence in such request.

Sixth. That this State will make every sacrifice necessary for the safety of the general cause of America. At the same time they will use their utmost endeavours to repress any or needless destruction of their country or violation of the rights of its inhabitants.

Ordered, That a copy be engrossed and transmitted to Congress, and that another copy be transmitted to General Washington; and that Mr. R. R. Livingston prepare and report a draft of a letter to General Washington to enclose the same.

A draft of a Letter to Congress was read and approved.

Ordered, That a copy thereof be engrossed and transmitted.

The Committee to whom was recommitted a letter from Mr. Hughes, Assistant Quartermaster-General in the Continental Army, respecting a quantity of Stock driven off by order of General Lee from the lower part of the County of Westchester to prevent their falling into the hands of the enemy, have, according to order, brought the same into Convention, and do report the following Resolutions:

Resolved, That the Stock lately removed from the lower part of the County of Westchester to the pasture of Colonel McDaniel, in Bedford, be put under the direction of Major Jos. Strong and Joseph Young, who are authorized to notify, in the most publick manner, the artificial marks of the said Stock, and that such of them as belong to the good subjects of this State will be delivered to the owners on a day to be prefixed in the said notice, and that the same shall be delivered accordingly. And that such parts of the said Stock as belong to traitors to this State who have joined the enemy, or fled, or are known to be inimical to the United States, or which shall not be claimed as aforesaid by the good subjects of this State, shall be disposed of to the best advantage by the persons appointed to take the care thereof, who shall keep a regular account of the marks of the Stock and the price at which each head so sold, and transmit the account and money to be deposited in the Treasury of this State, and be allowed a reasonable recompense for their trouble, provided that such parts of the said Stock as shall be delivered to the owners in pursuance of this resolution shall, if not immediately sold, be secured out of the reach of the enemy, and not returned to the place from whence they were removed by order of General Lee.

Ordered, That a copy of the preceding Resolution be immediately transmitted to Mr. Jos. Strong and Jos. Young.

Ordered, That two copies thereof be engrossed, and one transmitted to each of the Agents therein named.

A draft of a Letter to General Washington was read and approved, and is in the words following, to wit:

"Sir: Agreeable to the directions of the Committee of Safety, I do myself the honour to send your Excellency the enclosed resolutions, and to assure you that it is with extreme pain that they find themselves under the necessity of passing them. The singular wantonness and cruelty of the persons concerned in burning the publick and private buildings at the White-Plains, which even a barbarous enemy had left uninjured, has excited a general indignation, and may render many careless about the event of our cause, who may have reason to apprehend as great evils from the licentiousness of their friends as from the hostilities of the enemy.

"Other complaints have been offered against the rapine of the soldiers, who are accused of plundering a people who, from the unavoidable miseries of war, would, when most tenderly treated, be objects of compassion.

"The Committee are too well satisfied of your Excellency's benevolence and justice to think that any thing of this kind which comes to your knowledge will escape the punishment you are empowered to inflict, but which, unhappily, is in many cases far short of what the crime merits. To this they impute the frequency of offences; and have therefore troubled your Excellency with the request that you will be pleased to concur with them in representing to the honourable the Congress the necessity of making it capital for any officer or soldier to pillage the inhabitants, or, without your Excellency's command, to ravage the country, which they can with pleasure declare they have the highest reason to believe will never be given but when the interest of the community should require it. To this they flatter themselves their past resolutions have shown that they are not unwilling to venture every proper sacrifice. In the mean time think it their duty to declare that the presence of the Army does not supersede the laws of the country, and pray your Excellency's assistance in enabling them to execute them upon those who are immediately under your command.

"I have the honour to be, &c.

"His Excellency General Washington."

Ordered, To be engrossed.

A Letter from General Scott, of the 30th November, was read and filed, wherein he states, that from the Returns he finds the number of his Brigade who are willing to continue in service for another month are too inconsiderable to be retained.

A Letter from Major Lockwood, giving intelligence of the enemy in the Sound, was read and filed.

The Committee was informed that Colonel Lott is in advance a considerable sum as one of the Committee appointed to cause the Poor to be removed from the City of New-York.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State advance and pay to Colonel Lott the sum of one hundred Pounds, on account of the moneys by him advanced in causing the poor inhabitants to be removed from the City of New-York by order of the Convention of the Representatives of this State.

A Letter from Colonel Isaac Nicoll, dated at Peekskill, on the first day of December instant, and directed to Colonel Pierre Van Cortlandt, was read. He therein informs that there is a considerable quantity of goods and household furniture in stores near Orange-Town, belonging to Colonel William Bayard, and sundry other disaffected persons, who are now actually with the enemy; that there is a considerable amount of goods in and about the camp, and two horses, one yoke of oxen and cart, belonging to Joshua Barnes, which goods were taken on their way to the enemy; that he could have them secured for the good of the State, if directed.

Ordered, That Mr. Duane, Mr. Moore, and Mr. R. R. Livingston, be a Committee to consider of and report on the said Letter, and to devise an Ordinance for securing all estates and effects which are deserted by the owners, or which, though under the care of others, belonging to the enemy, or who have absconded.

Whereas the Committee of Safety are informed that Mr. Joseph Young has declined the trust reposed in him by the Resolution of yesterday for disposing of the Stock in Colonel McDaniel's pastures at Bedford,

Resolved, That Mr. William Miller be and he is hereby appointed a Commissioner in the place of Joseph Young, and that that part of the said Resolution passed yesterday which directs advertising the artificial marks of the said Stock, be dispensed with.

A Letter from Dr. John Bard, dated the 1st instant, was read. The Doctor therein mentions, that as teams appear at present much wanted at the Fishkills, he has taken the liberty to offer his for the publick service for a week, which he begs may be at his private expense.

A Letter to Doctor Bard was thereupon drawn, agreed to, and sent, in the words following, to wit:

"SIR: The Committee of Safety have received your polite letter and generous offer of the use of your team for the publick without reward. Mr. Duer, who has the direction of the Quartermaster's Department, informs us that he will be able to procure a sufficient number of teams for the service. The Committee of Safety have therefore desired me to give orders that yours be immediately returned, and to assure you that they entertain a proper sense of your regard for your country in the critical situation of our publick affairs.

"I am, with great respect, &c."

A Letter from Francis Lewis, Esq., one of the Marine Committee of Congress, dated the 27th ultimo, was read, and is as follows:

"GENTLEMEN: Upon the information given to the Marine Committee by Captain Patrick Dennis of the then state of the frigates built at Poughkeepsie, the said Committee desired me to inform you that it was their opinion those ships, being launched, should as soon as possible be sent up to Esopus Creek, to be there laid up for the winter, as there appears at present no prospect of bringing them into service for this year. And it is their opinion that a Lieutenant of Marines be appointed, with orders given him to immediately inlist thirty marines to guard those frigates during winter, and that all such stores that are remaining, together with those belonging to such vessels as were ordered to be sunk in the North and East Rivers be also put under the care of said Lieutenant of Marines.

"That Captain Dennis, who has at present the custody of all the rigging, &c., belonging to the vessels so sunk, be directed to deliver the same to said Lieutenant, furnishing him with an inventory of the particulars, a copy thereof to be signed by the Lieutenant and transmitted to the Marine Committee, who apprehend the stores aforesaid will be this winter wanted by General Schuyler.

"In regard to the destination of the frigates for the winter, if you see any likelihood of their being brought into use, they are submitted entirely to your direction. Upon your nominating the Lieutenant, his commission will be sent up to you, as you are more immediately upon the spot. In regard to the frigates, the Marine Committee refers it to your judgment to direct what may be necessary to be done with them, and desires you would advise them thereof.

"I am, respectfully, sirs, your very humble servant,
"F. LEWIS.

"Philadelphia, 27 November, 1776."

A Letter from Captain Samuel Tudor, dated at Poughkeepsie, on the 2d instant, was received and read, and is in the words following, to wit:

"Poughkeepsie, 2d December, 1776.

"GENTLEMEN: We have just received a letter from the Marine Committee, directing us in every matter to take your directions. We shall proceed with the ships as soon as wind will permit. When we leave the yard there will be a quantity of plank, timber, and stores left, which we beg your advice what to do with. We think it would be prudent to pile up the plank and timber, and lock the stores up in the shops. It may likewise be prudent to have a man to take care of them. It has been hinted to us that you intend building floating batteries; if so, we conceive our carpenters (the bulk we have just discharged) would be very useful to you, and may now engage, though some are daily going away. The sooner you let us know whether you want them the better.

"We are, gentlemen, your very humble servant,
"SAML. TUDER."

Ordered, That Mr. Wm. Smith, Mr. Rutgers, and Mr. R. R. Livingston, be a Committee to consider of the Letter of Francis Lewis, Esq., and Captain Samuel Tuder, and report thereon, with all convenient speed.

A Letter from General George Clinton, dated the first instant, was received and read, and is as follows:

"Fort Constitution, 1st December, 1776.

"SIR: I arrived here yesterday evening, with two regiments, consisting of about five hundred men, destined for garrisoning this fort, and obstructing the navigation of the river near Polopil's Island, agreeable to the resolve of the Convention. I immediately sent off the Engineer, with about one hundred men, to get timber for the purpose; but I am so unfortunate as not to have axes for the tenth part of the number, though I have used my best endeavours to procure as many as I possibly could. Axes, therefore, three or four light anchors and cables, drag-ropes, screws, scows and other boats for collecting of stores, I must beg the Convention will endeavour to supply me with as quick as possible; the business otherwise must in a great measure stand still. I have smiths employed making axes; and I shall make them work day and night, to replace those you may supply me with; and when General Lee's division passes the river, (and they are now at Peekskill,) we shall be able to get a number of boats from that quarter; but for the present we must be supplied by Convention if possible. I have about forty artificers, which are as many as can well be employed, and being furnished with the above articles only, I hope I shall be able to carry on the work without troubling your honourable House in some time for any other supplies.

"Captain Bedlow has hitherto acted here as a Commissary of Stores, and Mr. Lawrence as Clerk of the Check; and as there are no other persons appointed to take charge of the stores, tools, &c., or keep the accounts which will be necessarily multiplied by this new business, I am of opinion it will be best to continue them. I am sure if they do their duty, as I don't doubt they will, they will save ten times more than their wages, especially as it will be out of my power to do my own duty and attend particularly to that part of the business.

"There are three or four artificers who have been for some time past employed here, (though not belonging to the Army;) and as I am informed they are industrious, active men, I would wish to continue them, as I believe it will be of advantage; but I shall not engage any of them to remain in the service till I can have the advice of Convention.

"The bearer, Captain Bedlow, who will wait your answer, and bring down such of the wanted articles as you can furnish us with, will inform you of the scandalous manner some of the Militia left this place without returning the ammunition, or other publick stores they had been furnished with.

"Mr. Livingston gave me reason to hope I should have three companies of Rangers join me. I wish to have them, as we shall want all the aid Convention can give us, and I have a strong desire to work those gentry a little. If they should object against going out of their County, as I have heard they do, I'll fix them in it. They will be equally convenient to the work.

"I am, with due respect, your most obedient servant,

"GEORGE CLINTON.

"To the Honourable the President of the Convention of the State of New-York."

Ordered, That this Letter be committed to Colonel Allison, Mr. Cuyler, and Mr. Cantine, the Committee appointed to furnish such necessaries as General Clinton may have occasion for in the obstructing the navigation of Hudson's River.

A Petition of Phebe Oakley was read, and is in the words following, that is to say:

"To the Honourable the Representatives of the State of NEW-YORK in Convention assembled.

"The Petition of PHŒBE OAKLEY, of the Borough Town of WESTCHESTER, in the County of WESTCHESTER, and State of NEW-YORK, humbly showeth:

"That your petitioner, to avoid the depredations of a cruel enemy, who had then landed at Frog's Neck, sent divers of her effects to her brother-in-law, Talman Pugsley, at the Manor of Phillipse; that your petitioner hath been inhumanly robbed and plundered of her said effects by Captain Ford and his company, of Colonel Brewer's regiment; that your petitioner hath not as yet been able to recover any of her effects; for the particulars of which, and the manner in which the same were taken from her and divided among the plunderers, your petitioner begs leave to refer to the affidavits subjoined to this petition. That your petitioner hath been informed that such base and unmanly ravages are not countenanced by the regulations prescribed for the government of the American Army, but, on the contrary, hath been advised that the Generals of the said Army will, on application, deliver to the civil authority of this State all such persons as wantonly trespass against the laws thereof, and particularly in the cases of theft, robbery, and other felonies.

"Wherefore your petitioner humbly prays that this Convention, who are and ought to be the guardians of the rights of the people of this State, will be pleased to assert the same, by taking cognizance of the crimes committed by Captain Ford against your petitioner, and extending to him the laws for such cases provided. And further, that application may be made to the honourable the General Congress for a resolution to compel Captain Ford and his company to make restitution to the many unhappy sufferers whom they have basely stripped and pilfered. And your petitioner shall ever pray.

That this deponent continued at the Borough town of Westchester, with her brother's widow, till the enemy had evacuated that place. That then the deponent went to the Manor of Philipse in quest of her trunk and other effects, sent there as aforesaid; that on coming there she was informed by her said brother-in-law, Talman Pugsley, that he had received the said trunk and other things sent to him as aforesaid, but that while he was gone from home with some of his effects, and before he could return for another load, his house was plundered, as he was informed and believed to be true, by Captain Ford and his company, of Colonel Brewer's regiment of the Massachusetts, in the American Army, and that this deponent's effects aforesaid had been carried away by them; that her said brother-in-law further told her he had applied to Captain Ford for restitution of the said effects; that Captain Ford confessed that he had some of them, but would not deliver them up or let him see them; that thereupon this deponent applied to General Heath, who behaved to her as a gentleman and man of honour; that the General told her that he would put him under arrest; that this deponent has never received any of the said effects, but has heard that part of them were sold, and Captain Pollard told her he was informed that Captain Ford had sent off two or three men to Connecticut with plunder. never been able to recover any of them; that on his application to Captain Ford for the said effects, Captain Ford said he had some things, but did not believe they belonged to this deponent; that the deponent then described a suit of curtains, bed quilt, and other articles, and desired Captain Ford to examine with this deponent the things he confessed he had, to see if they were not among them; that Captain Ford replied, he would not show this deponent where the said goods were, or what they were, and gave this deponent a great deal of very abusive language. "Sworn the 2d day of December, 1776. Before me:
"PIERRE VAN CORTLANDT, V. Pres't."

On reading the said Petition and Affidavits,

Resolved, That it is the duty of this Committee to take proper means for bringing the said Captain Ford to justice.

And the Committee being informed that he is now under arrest at Peekskill for the crime specified in the said Petition and Affidavits,

Resolved, That a copy of the said Petition and Affidavits, and these Resolutions, be transmitted to his Excellency General Washington, with a Letter requesting that the said Ford be detained, to be tried for the said offences in a due course of law.

Resolved, That another Letter be written to Major-General Heath, requesting him to detain the said Ford in custody till an answer to the above application can be received from General Washington.

Resolved, That Mr. Duane, Mr. Moore, and Mr. R. R. Livingston, be a Committee to prepare drafts of said Letters.

Mr. Duane, from the above-mentioned Committee, produced the draft of a Letter to General Heath, which, being read and approved, is in the words following:

"SIR: A petition, supported by a number of affidavits, was this day presented to the Committee of Safety, complaining of depredations committed by Captain Ford and his company, belonging to Colonel Brewer's regiment, of the Massachusetts-Bay, and requesting the interposition of the civil authority. You, sir, have, we presume, but too much evidence before you of the rapacity of our troops, who seem to have conspired with a cruel enemy in increasing the misfortunes of those who have unhappily fallen victims to the calamities of war.

"From your known humanity and benevolence, you cannot but resent ravages which disgrace the arms taken up in the most virtuous of all causes with abhorrence.

"Called upon by numberless complaints of the suffering inhabitants of this State, it has become our duty to see that at least some of the principal offenders be brought to justice, that a stop may be put to such pernicious excesses for the future; and the Committee of Safety have accordingly passed suitable resolutions, which will be transmitted to his Excellency General Washington, with a request that Captain Ford be delivered up, in order to answer for his misconduct in a court of justice.

"In the mean time I am directed to request you to detain Captain Ford in custody, and to give orders for securing such of the plundered effects as may still be found.

"I have the honour to be, with great respect and esteem, sir, your most obedient servant. By order.

"To the Honourable Major-General Heath."

Ordered, That a copy of the said Letter be engrossed, and signed by the President, and transmitted.

Ordered, That Mr. L'Hommedieu be requested to draft a Letter to Colonel Henry B. Livingston, desiring him to transmit an account of the Families, Stock, and Effects, by him removed from Long-Island, and the manner in which they are disposed of.

Mr. L'Hommedieu, according to order, reported a draft of the said Letter; which was read and approved of, and is in the words following, to wit:

"SIR: The Committee of Safety have received accounts from different towns in Connecticut, with their demands for transporting stock and effects from Long-Island. Some are sent in by private persons as employed by you for that purpose. I am directed to desire you to send me as particular an account as you can of the stock and other effects you have brought off Long-Island, with the number of cattle, sheep, and other stock, the names of the persons to whom they belonged, and in what manner the same was disposed of, and to whom, with such vouchers for the same as you have taken. You will likewise inform us of the number of families brought off by your order, with the names of the heads of each family, as far as it is in your power; with any other particulars you may think necessary respecting the transportation and disposing of the same.

"I am, respectfully, sir, &c.

"To Colonel H. B. Livingston."

Ordered, That a copy thereof be engrossed, and signed by the Vice President, and transmitted.

A Letter from Brigadier-General James Clinton, recommending Captain I. Rosekrans to be continued in service, and provided for in the new arrangement of the Continental Battalions raising in this State, was read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the Committee of Arrangement.

A Letter from Benjamin Birdsall, Esq., dated the 12th instant, respecting his former services and an appointment in the Army, was received and read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the Deputies of Suffolk County and to Mr. Abraham Yates, to report thereon.

A Letter from John Gibson, Esq., Auditor-General, dated at Philadelphia the 21st November last, requesting that the publick Accounts of this State may be sent to Commissioners, was read, and is as follows:

"Treasury Office, Philadelphia, November 21, 1776.

"HONOURABLE GENTLEMEN: The Commissioners for adjusting the accounts of the Army of New-York and the Jerseys, under the command of General Washington, are now engaged in executing that business, and are in immediate want of all the accounts of advances made by the several States for paying or subsisting the said Army. I am therefore to request you to order an account of such advances by your State to be forthwith transmitted to the Commissioners, that the proper stoppages may be made, and the State reimbursed accordingly.

"When the accounts are prepared, you will please to order them to William Denning, Thomas Smith, and James Stephenson, Esquires, or either of them, at Head-Quarters, at New-York or the Jerseys.

"I have the honour to be, in the name of the Superintendents of the Treasury, honourable gentlemen, your most obedient humble servant,

"JOHN GIBSON, Auditor-General.

"To the Honourable the Convention of the State of New-York."

A Letter from the same Auditor-General, some time since received, dated the 31st of October, and directing the publick Accounts in the Northern Department to be laid before the Commissioners at Albany, was read, and follows, to wit:

"Treasury Office, Philadelphia, 31 October, 1776.

"HONOURABLE GENTLEMEN: As Commissioners have been appointed to liquidate and adjust the publick accounts in the Northern Department, and are now assembled at Albany for that purpose, it is necessary that they should be furnished by each State with an account of the several advances and payments to the officers and others who have been entrusted with publick money, to enable them to settle the accounts. We have therefore to request you would be pleased as soon as possible to order an account of such advances as your State may have made the settlement of which may properly fall within the Northern Department, to be drawn out, and forward them to the Commissioners by express, in order that, the proper stoppages being made, your State may be reimbursed by Congress. The names of the Commissioners are James Hillegan, John Carter, and John Wells, Esquires.

"I have the honour to be, in the name of the Superintendents of the Treasury, honourable gentlemen, your most obedient, humble servant,

"JOHN GIBSON, Auditor-General.

"To the Honourable the Convention of New-York."

Ordered, That General Scott and Mr. Duane be a Committee to take into consideration the two last preceding Letters, and report thereon.

The Committee to whom was referred the Letter of Mr. John R. Livingston respecting goods purchased by him in Boston for this State, and also the arms brought from Long-Island, report, that those goods are much wanted for the use of the soldiers to be raised in this State, and that it is necessary they be brought here from Boston with all convenient speed, for which purpose your Committee recommend that James Weeks be appointed to go to Boston and receive Mr. Livingston's order on Mr. for these goods; and that the sum of one hundred pounds be delivered to him by the Treasurer of this State, that he may be enabled to bring or hire teams for the transportation of those goods in the cheapest and best manner.

As to the arms brought from Long-Island to Connecticut by Colonel Livingston, your Committee are informed that Mr. L'Hommedieu will soon go into Connecticut, and take such measures respecting the same as the Committee of Safety direct.

Whereupon it was Resolved and Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to Jacob Cuyler, Ezra L'Hommedieu, and John Moore, Esquires, the sum of £100, on account, for the purpose of transporting the goods lately purchased by John R. Livingston, Esq., at Boston, on account of this State, to this place, and for the purpose of transporting the Arms belonging to the inhabitants of Nassau Island, and brought into Connecticut by Colonel Livingston to this place.

General Scott represented to the Committee of Safety that his brigade was disbanded except about one hundred and fifty men, who it is probable will continue in service fourteen days, under the command of Colonel Malcom; that the sum of £1,500, put into his hands as a gratuity for the non-commissioned officers and privates of the said brigade, has not been distributed:

Resolved, That the sum of six hundred Dollars of that money be, by General Scott, transmitted in such manner that it may be delivered to Colonel Malcom. And Colonel Malcom is hereby directed and authorized to pay to each non-commissioned officer and private who shall continue fourteen days in service under his command, four Dollars, as a gratuity for their past services, and as a testimony of the esteem this Committee entertains of their zeal and spirit in the service of their invaded and distressed country.

And in case any greater number than one hundred and fifty non-commissioned officers and privates shall so continue in service with Colonel Malcom,

Resolved, That he be, and is hereby requested to advance a gratuity of four Dollars to each of them, for which he shall be reimbursed by the Representatives from the Treasury of this State.

On considering the Letter from the Chairman of the Committee of Orange County, relative to Cornelius Thorp, confined in Orange County Jail for having altered and passed Continental Bills of Credit for true bills,

Resolved, That all persons who are or shall be charged with altering or counterfeiting the Bills of Credit of the United States, or of this or any other of the United States, or of passing the same knowing them to be counterfeit or altered, or with any other criminal offence, be confined in jail or secured, according to the nature of the offence, in order to take their trials in a due course of law. And that the Committee of the several Counties of this State be authorized to take effectual means for that purpose, and to appoint Jailers in the several Counties which they represent in Committee, and where they shall find it necessary, upon whose fidelity they can rely. And further, that such criminals and offenders be apprehended and maintained at the charge of the County where the fact shall have been committed, as heretofore accustomed.

Die Mercurii, 10 ho. A. M., December 4, 1776.

Present: Colonel Pierre Van Cortlandt, Vice President.
NEW-YORK—Mr. Harpur, Mr. Dunscomb, Mr. Roosevelt, General Scott, Mr. Duane.
ALBANY—Mr. A. Yates, Mr. Cuyler, Mr. Adgate.
TRYON—Mr. Moore, Mr. Harper, Mr. Newkirk.
SUFFOLK—Mr. W. Smith, Mr. L'Hommedieu, Mr. Miller.
ORANGE—Colonel Allison, Mr. Little.
CHARLOTTE—Major Webster, Colonel Williams, Mr. Duer.
WESTCHESTER—Colonel Van Cortlandt.

Resolved, That the sum of £100, which the Treasurer of this State did, on the 14th day of August last, advance to Captain James Stewart to enable him to disburse bounty money for inlisting his Company, and which £100, by the resolution of the Convention of the 26th day of July last, the said James Stewart was then entitled to receive of the Chairman of the Committee of Albany, be by the said Treasurer placed to the debit of the State on the said 14th of August, or at any time since; the Committee of the Representatives of this State who examined and reported on Captain Stewart's Muster and Pay-Rolls, having credited on his accounts for pay and subsistence of his Company the said sum of £100, and thereby fully paid and indemified this State for the same.

A Pay-Roll of Captain Nathaniel Scribner's Company, raised and imbodied in Dutchess County, agreeable to a Resolution of the Committee of Safety of this State, of the 9th of October last. The said Pay-Roll stating the pay of the individuals of the said Company from the respective times of their inlistment to the first day of December inclusive, was exhibited for payment.

A Billeting-Roll of the individuals of the said Company, agreeable to the said Resolution of the ninth day of October last, was also exhibited for payment.

Ordered, That Mr. Cantine, and Mr. Adgate, Mr. Newkirk, and Major Webster, be a Committee to examine the said two Rolls, and that they, or a major part of them, report thereon.

A Muster-Roll of a Company of the Second Battalion of Continental Troops, raised in this State in Anno 1775, and whereof George White was Captain, was exhibited to the Committee of Safety to entitle Captain White and his officers to the reward allowed by the Provincial Congress in that year to the officers for the men by them inlisted in the service:

Ordered, That the said Muster-Roll be referred to the Committee last above-mentioned, to report thereon.

The Committee to whom was referred the Letter from Francis Lewis, Esq., of the 27th of November last; and also, the Letter from Captain Samuel Tuder, of the 2d instant, reported certain Resolutions; which, being read by paragraphs, were amended and adopted, viz:

Resolved, That Mr. Victor Bicker, Jun., be nominated Lieutenant of Marines for the Ship Congress, and directed to inlist thirty Marines for the Ship Congress for the same term as the other Continental troops, whose duty it shall be during this winter to guard the Ships Congress and Montgomery, and such other vessels and stores belonging to the Continent as may be laid up with them. That they be allowed the Continental bounty, pay, and rations.

That Captain Patrick Dennis be furnished with a copy of the Letter from Francis Lewis, Esq., to the honourable the Convention, and be requested to deliver over the Continental Stores and Rigging in the custody to the said Lieutenant Bicker, who is directed to sign duplicates of the Inventory, and receipt therefor, and transmit them to the Convention of this State, in order that one of them may be sent to the Marine Committee of Congress at Philadelphia, and the other to remain with the Convention.

That the two Continental Frigates at Poughkeepsie be secured in the manner directed by the Resolution of the Committee of Safety of the 28th day of November; and that the other Continental and publick Vessels be laid up in the same place, if they can be accommodated; if not, that the Agents for the said Ships make an immediate report thereof to the Convention of this State, and suggest some place where they can find a secure harbour for them.

That all convenient expedition should be used by the managers, Messrs. Tuder and Lawrence, together with the Captains of the Frigates, to get the same rigged and their cannon mounted by the spring, as, in the opinion of the Committee, they may be of use in the defence of Hudson's River, which will most probably be exposed to the attempts of the enemy.

Resolved, That Carriages for the Guns be immediately begun by the Carpenters, if they can be supplied with seasoned stuff; and if not, that stuff be prepared for seasoning, on which work they may be employed till the Convention receive an answer to a letter written to the honourable the Congress, on the subject of fortifying Hudson's River, and building Floating Batteries, &c., thereon.

Resolved, That the managers take such measures as they conceive proper for the Plank and Stores that are left at Poughkeepsie, and direct one of the inhabitants of the said place to take charge thereof.

Ordered, That the managers of the said Ships be furnished with copies of the above Resolutions; that a copy thereof be transmitted to Francis Lewis, Esq., and that another copy be sent to Lieutenant Victor Bicker.

A Letter from Mr. Henry Quackenboss, enclosing an Invoice of Goods purchased by him for this State, pursuant to a Resolution of the Committee of Safety of the 9th of October last, and requesting that the amount of the said Invoice, together with his commissions thereon, should be paid to Mr. Cuyler, was read. Thereupon,

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to Jacob Cuyler, Esq., for account of Henry Quackenboss, of Albany, on receipt for the sum of £532 12*s.*, in full for the Goods purchased by him for this Convention, together with his commissions thereon, at five per cent., agreeable to his Invoice and Account thereof bearing date 19th of November last.

General George Clinton forwarded to the Committee of Safety a memorandum of Articles, viz:

"Wanted, by the detachment employed in obstructing the navigation of Hudson's River, near Pollopin's Island, viz: Six thousand bricks, for forges for blacksmith shops, and a few ovens to bake bread for the soldiers, as it is a great waste of time to bake in the ordinary camp way, especially when the business is such that all hands ought to be out on fatigue; as many boards as can possibly be spared, to cover blacksmiths' and other artificers' shops, and make temporary barracks for the men, as the weather is too cold for those who have to work in the water all day to sleep in tents at night.

"The logs at Poughkeepsie ought to be brought down; and we shall want (after all the supply of boats we shall be able to get at Peekskill) a number of scows for collecting of stone, &c. Indeed, some person in the Quartermaster's Department ought to be on the spot, as teams and many other articles will be daily wanted which ought properly to be supplied by him; and it is not doubted but was General Heath applied to on that head by Convention, he would order one of the Quartermaster's deputies this way. This would save Convention a great deal of trouble and bring things in their proper channel."

Whereas the Committee of Safety being informed that Major-General Heath, in pursuance of the authority vested in him by his Excellency General Washington, hath directed that further obstructions of the navigation of Hudson's River, near Pollipo's Island, and this Committee having the success of this salutary measure much at heart, and being disposed to contribute all in their power to its despatch, and by a resolution agreed to advance such sums as might be required for the purpose, on the credit of the United States; and a Sub-Committee is appointed to furnish such necessaries as General Clinton, who superintends the said obstruction, may require: And whereas, upon further consideration, it appears that, as the said obstruction is to be made at the Continental expense, it will be more proper that one of the Continental Assistant Quartermaster-Generals should be employed to collect and purchase the materials for the said obstruction than a Sub-Committee or Agent appointed by this Committee; and Major Taylor, one of the Acting Deputy Quartermaster-Generals in the Continental Army, being recommended to this Committee as an active and well-qualified officer, capable of executing that business with advantage and despatch; and Mr. Duer having been applied to, and declaring that he can have no objection against Major Taylor's being employed in this service, provided it should be agreeable to General Heath:

Resolved, therefore, That a Letter be written to General Heath, requesting that Major Taylor may be employed in the said department.

It was represented to the Committee of Safety that Mr. L'Hommedieu, some months ago, left a sum of Money in the hands of Gerard Bancker, Esq., which Money Mr. L'Hommedieu had received as a Loan Officer of Suffolk County; that by an order of on the day of last, Mr. Bancker paid that Money to Egbert Benson, Esq., Chairman of Dutchess County, for the publick use therein mentioned; that Mr. L'Hommedieu has given security as a Loan Officer of Suffolk County, and is apprehensive that his securities may be prosecuted for the same money; wherefore he conceives it equitable that he should be indemnified by this Convention, that the sum mentioned in the said order was not the sum by him lodged in the hands of Evert Bancker, Esq., and that the same facts are not well stated in the said Resolution:

Ordered, That Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Duane be a Committee to consider the said Order, and to report to this Committee such proper resolution or entry as may be expedient or necessary on that subject.

"Sir: The Committee of Safety having much at heart the plan of obstructing Hudson's River, near Pollepel's Island, cannot but be attentive to every thing which may contribute to its success.

"In their opinion the appointment of an active assistant Quartermaster immediately for this service will be highly necessary.

"Major Taylor being recommended as every way qualified for the department, the Committee have expressed their wishes to Mr. Duer that he may be employed, who has assured them that if he is agreeable to you, he can have no objection.

"I am directed, therefore, to request your approbation, and that you will be pleased, if it shall not interfere with the service, to give orders accordingly.

"I have the honour to be, with great respect, your most obedient servant.

"The Honourable Major General Heath."

Ordered, That a copy thereof be engrossed, and signed by the President, and transmitted.

A draft of a Letter to Francis Lewis, Esq., a Member of the Marine Committee, was read and approved of, in the words following, to wit:

"SIR: Your favour of the 27th of November has been laid before the Committee of Safety, who, in consequence thereof, have agreed to the resolutions a copy of which I am directed to transmit. You will be pleased to assure the Marine Committee that we shall be attentive to every thing which is required of us; and when the Continental vessels of war and the stores in this river are in a place of safety, shall not fail to give them information and transmit the inventory they require.

"Lieutenant Victor Bicker being recommended for his courage, activity, and integrity, they have nominated him to be Lieutenant of Marines to the Congress, and hope it will meet with approbation.

"Captain Hetfield, who commands a Continental brig purchased by General Mifflin, and now in this river, has still a few seamen who have the care of the brig. We are informed a Continental sloop is in the same situation. The Committee appointed to prepare the frame of Government, and sundry other Members of the Convention, having withdrawn, the remainder present proceeded to business as a COMMITTEE OF SAFETY, viz:

Pierre Van Cortlandt, Esquire, Vice President.
Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Dunscomb—NEW-YORK.
Mr. Adgate—ALBANY.
Mr. Rea, Mr. Cantine—ULSTER.
Mr. Miller, Mr. L'Hommedieu—SUFFOLK.
Major Webster, Colonel Williams—CHARLOTTE.
Colonel Allison—ORANGE.
Mr. Platt, Mr. Sackett—DUTCHESS.
Colonel Van Cortlandt, General Morris—WESTCHESTER.
Mr. Moore, Mr. Newkirk, Mr. W. Harper—TRYON.

A draft of a Letter to John Gibson, Esq., Auditor-General, was read by Mr. Duane, and approved, in the words following, viz:

"SIR: Your several favours of the 31st October and 21st November, respecting a settlement of the accounts of disbursements of this State for the military operations, have been laid before the Committee of Safety and duly considered. I am directed to assure you that they have the accomplishment of this necessary business much at heart, and that the publick accounts up to the 9th of November have been for some time, though from many difficulties not so soon as they wished, stated and prepared for examination.

"The mode which the Board of Treasury has been pleased to prescribe will, I fear, be attended with embarrassment. Your first instructions refer the audit of charges for the Northern Army to the Commissioners at Albany, and the last direct that such as relate to the Southern Army shall be adjusted by the Commissioners at Head-Quarters, either in New-York or New-Jersey. However desirous of giving the highest satisfaction to the honourable Congress, I must take the liberty to suggest the objections which lie in the way of this method:

"First. When the preparations began and the battalions were ordered to be raised, no idea was entertained that the expenditures for the service at the City of New-York and those for the Northern Army were to be separated and stated in distinct accounts. Whether such a discrimination is now practicable I cannot take upon me to determine, but if it is absolutely necessary, it must, however difficult, be at least attempted, although it would save a great deal of trouble and time if it could be dispensed with.

"Secondly. The vouchers to our publick accounts comprehend a multitude of charges, which not only relate to this State particularly but to both the military departments, and as they must necessarily be produced to the Commissioners, the accounts of one department cannot be proceeded upon until those of the other are adjusted; and if the first set of Commissioners should insist on declaring the vouchers complicated with the expenditures of both, no final adjustment can take place in the manner prescribed.

"Thirdly. Our Auditor-General and State Commissary, who have arranged the accounts and must occasionally be present at the settlement, cannot attend both sets of Commissioners at the same time.

"Fourthly. In the uncertain and fluctuating circumstances of our military operations, it may not be prudent to expose vouchers of great importance to this State as well as to the Continent to the danger of falling into the hands of the enemy, or of being lost by frequent removals.

"Upon all these considerations I am directed to express the wishes of the Committee of Safety that the whole accounts of this State with the Continent may be audited before the Commissioners at Albany, and their opinion that it will upon the whole be most advisable. You will be pleased, however, to assure the Board of Treasury that they will pursue with cheerfulness any practicable method which may be more satisfactory for the final adjustment of their publick accounts, if the reasons before assigned for referring them to the Commissioners at Albany shall not be thought conclusive.

"I am, sir, your most obedient servant.

"Fishkill, 6th December, 1776.

"John Gibson, Esq., Auditor-General of the United States, Philadelphia."

Nicholas Brewer, Jun., Esq., and Jeremiah Clark, two of the persons appointed to procure Boats and Scows for the publick service, represented that they find difficulty in procuring Men and Boats, from the exorbitant prices demanded, and praying that the Convention would establish regulations or grant them instructions relative thereto.

Resolved, That Messrs. Jeremiah Clark, Nicholas Brewer, Jun., John Elmendorf, and John Teller, who are appointed to hire or impress Boats and Crafts for the purpose of carrying on the obstructions in Hudson's River, near Pollepel's Island, be respectively, and hereby are, directed to agree for and allow twenty-four shillings per day for each good Sloop, of the burthen of forty tons or thereabouts, supplied with one active man on board of her and with a good Scow. That they agree for and allow in proportion, according to their best judgment, for Sloops of inferiour burthen, or those without a hand, or without a Scow, and that they agree and allow for Pettiaugers and other small vessels such prices as they may think a reasonable allowance.

And Resolved, That they be, and hereby are, authorized and respectively directed to impress the Vessels, Boats and Scows of any person or persons who may refuse to accept of such hire for the same, as above mentioned, having their value ascertained by appraisement, as heretofore directed by this Committee.

On motion, Resolved, That Colonel Allison, Mr. William Harper, Mr. Cantine, Mr. Cuyler, and Mr. Dunscomb, be a Committee to devise ways and means for procuring Salt for the relief of the back inhabitants of this State, who are greatly distressed for want of that article.

The Committee to whom was recommitted the Resolutions of yesterday, for procuring Cannon for the Ships in Hudson's River, report, that it is their opinion it would be imprudent to delay the casting of Cannon for the Ships, and therefore, that the resolution to have Cannon cast at Salisbury be reassumed.

The Committee appointed yesterday to examine the Pay-Roll of Captain Scribner's Company, raised in Dutchess County, delivered in the same, wherein is charged their pay from the times of their respective inlistment, to the 1st day of December, both days included. Thereon is endorsed an affidavit, sworn before Pierre Van Cortlandt, Esq., Vice President, and subscribed by the said Nathaniel Scribner, that the same is a just and true Muster and Pay-Roll of his Company for the time herein specified, containing the names of the officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates of the said company, and the times of their respective inlistment and service.

On the said Pay-Roll is also endorsed a Certificate by the said Committee, in the words following, viz:

"We the subscribers, a Committee appointed by the Committee of Safety to audit this Pay-Roll, do certify, that we have examined the same, and allow the sum of £127 7*s.* 4*d.*, due to Captain Scribner.

"MAT. ADGATE,
"BEN. NEWKIRK,
"ALEX'R WEBSTER."

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to Captain Nathaniel Scribner £127 7*s.* 4*d.*, in full for the pay of his Company to the 1st day of December included.

A Billeting-Roll of Captain Nathaniel Scribner's said Company, from the time of their respective inlistments to the 1st day of December included, was also delivered in by the said Committee, with a similar Affidavit endorsed thereon. Thereon is also endorsed a Certificate by the said Committee, in the words following, that is:

"We the subscribers, a Committee appointed by the Committee of Safety to audit this Billet-Roll, do certify, that we have examined the same, and allow the sum of £87 6*s.* 5*d.*, due to Captain Nathaniel Scribner.

"BENJ'N NEWKIRK,
"MAT. ADGATE,
"December 4th, 1776." "ALEX'R WEBSTER.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to Captain Nathaniel Scribner, on his receipt, the sum of £87 6*s.* 5*d.*, in full for the billeting expenses of his Company to the 1st day of December inclusive.

A Letter from John Elmendorf to the Vice President, dated the 3d December instant, stating that he cannot accept the trust of procuring Boats, &c., on account of the riots.

Part of a Letter from John Elmendorf to Mat. Cantine, Esq., dated the 4th instant, relative to riots about Tea, was read. Referred to the Committee above-named.

Resolved, That the Committee of Safety of yesterday be revived in the same words; and Ordered, That the Committee on Government retire to consider that business.

And they withdrew accordingly, and the remaining Members proceeded as a COMMITTEE OF SAFETY, viz:

In Committee of Safety, &c.

Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Harper, Mr. Dunscomb, Mr. Rutgers—NEW-YORK.
Mr. Contine, Mr. Ray—ULSTER.
Major Webster—CHARLOTTE.
Mr. Adgate—ALBANY.

Mr. Newkirk, Mr. Harper, Mr. Moore—TRYON.
Mr. L'Hommedieu, Mr. Miller—SUFFOLK.
Colonel Allison, Mr. Little—ORANGE.

William Duer, Esq., Chairman of the Committee appointed by the Convention of the State of New-York, for the purpose of inquiring into, detecting, and defeating all conspiracies which may be formed in the said State against the liberties of America, brought in the Report of the said Committee in the case of Abraham C. Cuyler, Esq., late Mayor of the City of Albany, which was read, and is in the words following, to wit:

"Captain Platt, from the Committee to whom the case of Mr. Abraham C. Cuyler, late Mayor of the City of Albany, was referred, applied to this Committee to know whether they should examine into the original cause of his commitment, or only inquire whether he had broken his parole; and if it should appear that he had, order him to be sent to Connecticut, or such other place of confinement as the Committee may think proper.

"Resolved, That if it shall appear that Mr. Cuyler has broke his parole in leaving Connecticut, that he be ordered by the Committee to such place of confinement as they may think proper; and that if he has reason to complain of hard treatment in his original commitment, this Committee will at their leisure inquire into it, and do him ample justice; but they will not authorize any persons, under pretence of obtaining a rehearing, to break their paroles, or contemn the power by which they were committed."

Resolved, unanimously, That the Representatives of this State, in Committee of Safety assembled, do agree with the said Committee for detecting and defeating Conspiracies, in their said Report.

A Letter from Henry Schenck, Esq., dated this day, relating to a quantity of Tar and a number of Tents belonging to the Continent, which are wasting and rotting on a wharf at Fishkill Landing, was read, and recommending Petrus Bogardus to take charge of the said articles.

Resolved, That Mr. Petrus Bogardus be requested and directed to take charge of the said Tar and Tents, and have the said Tar coopered and preserved from wasting, and the Tents dried and preserved in the best manner, until further order, or the person whose duty it is to take charge of them, and that a suitable allowance shall be made to him for his trouble; and the said Petrus Bogardus is hereby directed to obtain the best information in his power, and report to this Committee who brought and left the said stores at that wharf.

A draft of a Letter to General Heath was read and approved of, in the words following, viz:

"SIR: I am directed by the Committee of Safety to acknowledge the receipt of your favour of the 3d instant, and assure you that your offers of assistance, accompanied with General Washington's approbation of your generous aid in carrying on the obstructing of Hudson's River, and your attention to the passes of the Highlands, afford them the highest satisfaction.

"The sick of Colonel Bradley's regiment we had caused to be taken care of by a physician of this place until Doctor McKnight arrived; and be assured, sir, the non-attendance of a Doctor or Surgeon was not ascribed to any inattention of yours. Such parts of the unfinished Academy as are in any wise tenantable at this season of the year, were lately assigned for a distressed party of sick from General McDou- gall's brigade; but we are informed by William Duer, Esq., under whose direction the barracks between Peekskill and this place are, that those in the north entrance of the Highlands, and also that near Hoit's, intended to contain upwards of one thousand men, are nearly completed. Those who are sick of your division may now be made comfortable; and if the building of any other Hospital shall be necessary, you may be assured the Convention will be ready to afford every necessary aid in their power for that purpose.

Ordered, That a copy thereof be signed by the President, and transmitted.

The Committee to whom was referred the application of Doctor Hunlock Woodruff, for a place of cover for two hundred and thirty troops belonging to General McDougall's brigade, under the command of Captain Wildie, now lying at Peekskill, and also a letter received from General Heath, of the 3d instant, reported the following Resolve:

Resolved, That the sick Soldiers of General McDougall's Brigade, now lying at Peekskill, be permitted to occupy such parts of the Academy at Fishkill as are tenantable for an Hospital, until they can be otherwise provided for.

Mr. Miller, Mr. L'Hommedieu—SUFFOLK.
Colonel Van Cortlandt, Major Lockwood—WESTCHESTER.
Major Webster, Colonel Williams—CHARLOTTE.

A Letter from William Heath, Major-General, dated 6th December, 1776, respecting a Hospital, was read.

A Letter from General Schuyler, dated 2d December, 1776, relative to the obstructing of Hudson's River, was read.

Ordered, That Mr. L'Hommedieu and Mr. Wisner wait on Mr. Clinton, with General Schuyler's Letter, and General Arnold's Letter and Plan of Obstruction.

The Committee to whom was referred the Muster-Roll of a Company raised and inlisted in this State by Captain George White, as a part of the Second Battalion of Continental Troops, raised in the year 1775, brought in the said Muster-Roll. Thereon is endorsed a certificate of Gunning Bedford, Deputy Mustermaster-General, of his having mustered said Company. The said Committee reported thereon, that agreeably to a Resolution of the Provincial Congress, passed on the 1st day of August, 1775, they allow, as due to the said Captain George White and his subaltern officers, the sum of sixty-eight Dollars, for having inlisted a Company of sixty-eight non-commissioned officers and privates.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to the said George White, on his receipt, for the use of himself and the late subalterns of that Company, the sum of sixty-eight Dollars, in full for inlisting money for the said Company, pursuant to the Resolution of the Provincial Congress of the State of New-York on the 1st day of August, 1775.

A Muster-Roll of Captain Micah Townsend's Company, for the month of October, and a Pay and Billeting-Roll of the said Company, was brought in.

Ordered, That the said Rolls be committed to Mr. Adgate, Mr. Cantine, Major Webster, and Mr. Newkirk, to examine and report thereon.

Mr. Adgate moved, and was seconded, that that part of the Resolution of the Committee of Safety on the 12th of November, relative to the superintendence of the Poor, which directs a letter to be written to Governour Trumbull to send all the poor of this State which are now at the charge of Connecticut, into Dutchess County, in this State, be repealed and obliterated.

Debates arose thereon, and the question being put, it was carried in the negative.

Mr. Adgate then moved for the following amendment to the said Resolution, to wit:

That instead of the Committee writing a letter to Governour Trumbull for the removal of the poor, that the President be directed to write such letter; which was unanimously agreed to.

The Members of Tryon County informed the Committee that a Sergeant and twelve men of the Tryon County Rangers, who have been sent and arrived here, with sundry prisoners sent to this place by the Tryon County Committee, are destitute of either money or provisions to support them in their return home; that they have a considerable sum due to them for rations; and therefore requested that a small sum of money may be advanced in part of their billeting and subsistence money, to support them on their return home.

Ordered, That the Treasurer of this State pay to James Grinnell, or order, on his receipt, for himself and the twelve Rangers with him, three Dollars each, viz: thirty-nine Dollars, in part of their billeting and subsistence money, to support them on their return to Tryon County.

Ordered, That the clause in the Letter to Mr. Hancock relating to Flaxseed, be obliterated.

Colonel Van Cortlandt, Major Lockwood—WESTCHESTER.
Major Webster—CHARLOTTE.

A Pay-Roll of the late Company of Captain Micah Townsend, from the 2d of October to the 31st of October, both days included, and a Billeting-Roll or Account of the subsistence money due to the officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates of the said company, from and to the days aforesaid, both days included, were brought into the Committee. Thereon is endorsed an affidavit of the said Micah Townsend, sworn before the Vice President, that the said Rolls were a true Muster-Roll of his company for the month of October, containing the names of the officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates of the said company, and the times of their respective service since payment of their wages.

Ordered, That the same be referred to Messrs. Adgate, Webster, and Newkirk.

The Committee to whom was referred the said Pay and Subsistence Rolls, reported, that they had examined the same, and allow to Captain Townsend, on the said Pay-Roll, £119 12*s.* 10½*d.*; and also that they allow to the said Captain Townsend, on the Subsistence-Roll, the sum of £85 9*s.* 3½*d.*

Resolved, That Mr. Robert R. Livingston, General Scott, and Mr. Duer, be the said Committee.

Resolved, That a Letter be written to Major-General Schuyler, informing him of the intelligence we have received, and the steps we have taken, and requesting him to imbody and, if possible, clothe all the recruits arrived in the County of Albany, and send them down to this place, and put them under the direction of this Convention; suggesting the propriety of sending down as many of the troops as he can possibly spare from the northward, and of calling, at the same time, upon the Rangers of Tryon County to garrison the Fort.

Sunday morning, Fishkill, December 8, 1776.
SPECIAL MEETING.

A draft of a Letter to Governour Trumbull was read and approved of, in the words following, to wit:

"SIR: The confusion into which every thing has been thrown at Philadelphia by the enemy's rapid progress has, we suppose, prevented the Congress from applying to us or you for aid, much as at present they want it, of which you will judge when we inform you that General Howe is at Brunswick with ten thousand men; that General Washington is at Trenton, with an Army of about six thousand strong. We think it therefore our duty to mention these facts to you, and to entreat you, by that regard which you have hitherto testified for the glorious cause in which we are engaged, on this occasion speedily to exert your whole force.

"Should six thousand men cross into the Jerseys, where General Lee now is with two brigades, and unite themselves to him or General Gates, who is likewise on his march with some troops, the panick which universally prevails in New-Jersey would be removed, a considerable body of the Militia would probably flock in to your assistance, and the enemy, shut in between two armies, and having their supplies cut off, might dearly pay for their temerity.

"The fleet that has sailed up the Sound is evidently designed as a feint to draw your attention from the object that ought principally to engage it, and to keep any part of the force of the New-England States from acting where it is most manifestly wanted.

"Though this embarkation ought not to be neglected, yet as, from the number of the troops in New-Jersey, those that have gone up the Sound cannot be formidable, we cannot but hope that so fair an opportunity of distressing the enemy will not be foregone, especially as there is no telling what consequences may attend the enemy's uninterrupted progress through a country by no means free from disaffection.

"All that can be expected from us in our present weak and dismembered state, has and will be done. Nine hundred of our Militia, well armed and appointed, are already in the field, and occupy some passes at which General Washington has directed them to be stationed. The Militia of two Counties, under marching orders, are put under General Heath's command.

"You will be pleased to write immediately to the Eastern States on this important subject, and to let us know what number of troops you are like to collect, and whether we can give you any assistance in purchasing or forwarding provisions for them.

"Yours, &c."

Ordered, That a copy thereof be signed by the Vice President, and transmitted by express.

A draft of a Letter to Major-General Schuyler was read and approved of, in the words following, to wit:

"[Secret.] Fishkill, 8th December, 1776.

"SIR: An officer is arrived here who gives the following intelligence: That he left General Washington, at the head of between five and six thousand men, at Trenton last Friday; that General Howe was then at Brunswick, with about ten thousand of the troops; that there had been a skirmish near Brunswick, where the Hessian General who commanded at the taking of Fort Washington was slain; that neither the Jersey nor the Pennsylvania Militia had joined General Washington, who proposed, if not soon reinforced, to cross Trenton river; that the Congress had moved to Lancaster. General Lee marched the day before yesterday, with about three thousand men, in pursuit of the enemy; and there is a flying report that he has had an engagement with them, near Hackensack, in which they suffered greatly. General Gates is to march with some troops from the northward, to join him or General Washington. As it is of the utmost importance to encourage the Militia of New-Jersey, who appear to be dispirited, it will be necessary to march a body of them immediately to their assistance. A Committee, authorized to call out the Militia of Orange and Ulster, and to post them to the best advantage, is therefore gone over to New-Windsor, to confer with General George Clinton.

"The Convention have despatched an express to Governour Trumbull, with the above intelligence, strongly urging the propriety of imbodying six thousand men from the New-England States, in order to coöperate with General Washington, by falling on the rear of the enemy, who seem to act with astonishing temerity. A report prevails that seventy of the enemy's transports have proceeded up the Sound, whether as a feint to divide the American forces, or with intention to land at Rhode-Island, is uncertain.

"The Committee of Safety have, upon this intelligence, agreed to the resolution I have the honour to enclose. If this alarm had not happened, you would nevertheless have been requested to send down the recruits, to be quartered and disciplined at this place, where there are barracks for above two thousand men. They are there, too, under the eye of the Convention, and ready to defend the passes of the Highlands, on which the publick safety much depends. They hope the measures they have adopted will meet with your approbation. There can be no use in publishing this intelligence till we have it more authentick. It may discourage the weak and wavering at a time when all the vigour of the State is necessary.

"I am, with great respect, sir, your most ob't humble servant.

"By order of the Committee of Safety."

Ordered, That a copy thereof be signed by the Vice President, and transmitted.

An Inventory of the Real and Personal Estates of sundry persons in the Town of Salem who have gone over to the enemy, dated December 6th, 1776, and signed by Ezekiel Hawley, Chairman of the Committee of said Town, was read and filed.

Ordered, That Mr. Duane prepare a draft of a Letter to the said Committee.

Mr. Duane accordingly reported a draft of a Letter to the Chairman of the said Committee of Salem, which was approved of, in the words following, to wit:

"Fishkill, 9th December, 1776.

"SIR: Your favour of the 6th instant has this day been laid before the Committee of Safety, and I am directed to acquaint you that they highly approve of the conduct of the Committee of Salem, and of the prudent measures they have taken to ascertain and secure from waste and embezzlement the property of the disaffected who have joined the enemy. They request that you will continue your care of these effects, allowing a provision to the families who are left behind. The Committee have under consideration a report for the security and disposal of all estates under the like circumstances. It will not be long before you shall be furnished with these regulations.

"I am, &c.

"Mr. Ezekiel Hawley, Chairman of the Committee of Salem."

Ordered, That a copy thereof be signed by the Vice President, and transmitted.

A Letter from the Committee of Albany, dated November 28, relative to the abuse in the weight of Flour, and of the Estates of persons who have gone over to the enemy, was read and filed.

Ordered, To be referred to Mr. Morris, Mr. Yates, Mr. Roosevelt, and Colonel Allison.

A Letter from Mrs. Inglis, (the wife of the Rev. Mr. Inglis,) directed to Mr. Duane, requesting permission to go to her husband, who is in the City of New-York, with her family and effects, was read and filed, and committed to Mr. Jay, Mr. Morris, and Mr. Duane.

At a meeting of the Committee appointed by the Representatives of the State of New-York, in Committee of Safety assembled, agreeable to a Resolution of the said Committee of December 8th, 1776, Present: Brigadier-General George Clinton, Brigadier-General Scott, R. R. Livingston, Esq., Wm. Duer, Esq.

December 9th.—Resolved, That all the Militia of Orange and Ulster Counties be forthwith ordered to march, properly armed and accoutred, and with four days' provision, to Chester, in Orange County, there to receive further orders from General George Clinton for effectually coöperating with Major-General Lee and Major-General Gates, in harassing and distressing the enemy, who have entered the State of New-Jersey; that the said Militia shall be allowed Continental pay and rations, and one penny per mile in lieu of rations till they come to the place of rendezvous.

Resolved, That Brigadier-General George Clinton be empowered to make use of the Arms and Accoutrements belonging to this State, and now at New-Windsor, for the purpose of equipping such of the said Militia as are not armed.

Resolved, That Colonel Malcolm be requested and authorized to exert all the influence which he possibly can to induce the men under his command, and such others as he can procure, and engage in service till the last day of December; and that he be annexed to the brigade commanded by Brigadier-General George Clinton.

Resolved, That Brigadier-General George Clinton be empowered to give a gratuity of one dollar to each man of Colonel Malcolm's Regiment who will consent to remain in service till the last day of December.

And whereas, in the opinion of the honourable General Congress, and from the measures pursued by the enemy, the security of the United States principally depends upon preventing the passes of the Highlands, on Hudson's River, from falling into the hands of the enemy, yet it is the firm intention and the earnest desire of the Convention of this State to give every possible assistance to any of their sister States, or the United States in general, consistent with that grand object; and whereas the Committee of Safety have this day received information that Major-General Lee has taken post at Morristown, in New-Jersey, where he is assembling an army to act in concert with General Washington in opposing the enemy, who are marched towards Philadelphia; and whereas the security of the Highlands on the west side of Hudson's River, must greatly depend on the Militia of Ulster and Orange Counties, who for that reason ought not to be removed to so great a distance from the passes of the Highlands as to be unable to oppose any further designs of the enemy in that quarter:

Resolved, therefore, That General George Clinton, in coöperating with General Lee and General Gates, take especial care at all events to secure the said passes; and in case he shall not find it expedient to join the said Generals, he nevertheless march into the State of New-Jersey as far as he shall think serviceable, consistent with the preservation of the said passes; and that he exert himself to the utmost in collecting the Militia of New-Jersey, and raising their spirits, and in overawing and curbing the disaffected or revolted subjects of that State when called upon by the civil or military authorities thereof.

Resolved, That a copy of the above Resolutions be transmitted to General Heath, and that he be requested to give every necessary assistance to General George Clinton in carrying the same into execution.

Resolved, That the Regiments commanded by Colonel Huntindon and Colonel Tyler may with safety be put under the command of General George Clinton, as he will take care, from time to time, in case the motions of the enemy should require it, that the pass at Ramapough should be properly secured.

Resolved, That in case General George Clinton shall be permitted to draw off the above-mentioned Regiment from the pass at Ramapough, that he be empowered to supply their place with as many of the Militia under his command as he shall think necessary.

Resolved, That General George Clinton march, as a part of the Troops under his command, the Companies of Rangers raised in the County of Ulster under the command of Captain De Witt and Captain Hasbrouck.

Resolved, That General George Clinton should be supplied with two Field-pieces, forty-five thousand Cartridges, Tents for fifteen hundred men, and as many Small-Arms as shall be necessary for supplying the Militia who may stand in need of them, and that the same ought to be issued from the Continental Store.

Resolved, That a Deputy Commissary and one Assistant Quartermaster-General of the Continental Army should attend the Brigade of Militia under the command of General George Clinton.

Resolved, That the sum of six thousand Pounds be advanced to General George Clinton from the Treasury of this State, in order to defray any expense which may accrue in the execution of the above-mentioned Resolutions, and which is before unprovided for.

Resolved, That a Letter be sent express to Major-General Gates, enclosing copies of these Resolutions, and requesting him to forward copies of the same to Major-General Lee.
